And said bill having been read at length the third time and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, back some twenty-four years ago, this State inaugurated the system of administration of the Mothers' Assistance Boards. Those Boards were appointed by the Governor, and, as far as I have known, have uniformly, in each county, been composed of women of the most reputable character and the highest standing. I have not known of these Boards containing any Democratic personnel—at least, in the territory from which I come; but, nevertheless, the Boards have always been uniformly of a high character.

This present bill, as it was passed by the House and as it came into the Senate, provided for the same system of administration of the Mothers' Assistance Fund as has prevailed in this State since the inauguration of the Act. This bill as it has come from Committee and is now on the calendar marks a radical departure from the administration of the Mothers' Assistance Fund as it has existed in this State for more than twenty years. We see in this present bill the first attempt to plunge the Mothers' Assistance Boards into the arena of political maneuvering. If you will examine this bill as it appears on the calendar, you will find that the appointive power of the members of the Mothers' Assistance Boards is now shared among the Governor's office, the County Commissioners' office and the Courts of the Common Pleas of the respective counties. I think we can all take notice of the fact that there is a no more politically active set of public officers than county commissioners. Mr. President, from the very nature of their offices they must be politically active. I am sure that the distinguished Senator from Philadelphia County, Mr. Shapiro, when he introduced these amendments last night, was entirely cognizant of the fact that the county commissioners' office in Philadelphia County has been the most conspicuous political garbage heap in the State of Pennsylvania, and I am likewise confident, Mr. President, when the distinguished Senator from Allegheny County seconded the amendments, that he is entirely familiar with the county commissioners' office of Allegheny County for the two or three terms preceding the last advent of county commissioners in Allegheny County, and I submit that this is an unfortunate departure that we, in the Senate, are trying to bring about to change the administration of the Mothers' Assistance Fund. Certainly the members on the other side of this House take some pride in the way that this system has been administrated by even so politically-minded administration as was the last Pinchot Administration, and I appreciate that it will not add to the efficacy of these bills or these funds to throw the Mothers' Assistance Boards back into the arena of county politics, and, Mr. President, not only are these Boards thrown into the arena of county politics at general elections, but at every primary election of each party. Certainly there should be some institution, some form of administration in this State, that you can point to with some pride and say "Here is an administration which we want to keep clean, we want to keep out of the influence of county politics as they are played practically in every county in this State, and certainly conspicuous examples are in the counties from which the protagonists of these questions come.

Mr. President, not only do we plunge these Mothers' Assistance Boards back into the arena of politics, but we do more than that, we imperil the very existence of these boards and the administration of these funds which the distinguished Chairman of the Committee on State Government has rightfully taken credit for this morning. If we will examine the Federal Social Security Act, we will see that one of the terms, one of the "musts" for the State to do, the State plan must provide for the establishment, or the designation of a single State agency to administer the plan. Mr. President, those are the terms of this Act. We are at the deadline, so to speak, of the passage of this legislation, and why should we, for the sake of a political maneuver, prejudice the existence of this legislation at the present time? We are not only making a departure of two decades from our regular system of administration, we are not only throwing the whole system back into the arena of county politics, but we are prejudicing, by the form of this bill, the very existence of the system itself, and prejudicing not only the benefits to the mothers' assistance and to old age assistance and every form of assistance that this State might render unto the Federal Social Security Act.

MOTION TO GO INTO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Mr. President, therefore I move you that the Senate now go into committee of the whole for the purpose of considering the following special amendments, which are entirely in the nature of strike-outs.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I had not intended to speak on this measure, nor on the two measures which have preceded it. I note from the record of my vote on the two former bills that they were the only ones registered against their passage. I have no apology to make for those votes. My reason for having voted as I did was this: that I consider that a Senator who votes to spend the State's money should likewise be willing to vote to raise that money to pay the bill. As I do not intend to vote for the majority of the tax bills before this Legislature, I felt it my duty to be consistent and not to vote to spend the money unless I was going to vote to raise the money to pay the bills.

Mr. President, As to this bill now before us, I agree with the Senator from Centre, that up to the present Administration the Mothers' Assistance Fund was as nearly non-political as it was possible to be. Surely under the administration of Governor Pinchot that was true of Governor Fisher's administration of the earlier administration of Governor Pinchot that was certainly true, and it is a fact that the Trustees in my county at least, and I believe in other counties, were as far removed from the arena of politics as possibly could be. However, since the incoming of the present administration this has been entirely reversed, and in my county, at least, and I am sure in other counties, every member of the Mothers' Assistance Board was removed and replaced with Democrats. Not only that, but their whole system of functioning was changed, their employes, their investigators, their people who traveled over the counties so much, and their questionnaires, and the registrations, were all scrapped and new records and questionaires made out, and among those questionaires is the question "Are you registered Republican, or are you registered a Democrat?" If that is not placing the Mothers' Assistance in the arena of politics, I do not know what it is, and for those reasons which I have already stated, Mr. President, I intend to vote against this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am speaking against the motion to go into committee of the whole because, while I am in favor of Civil Service, and have introduced a joint resolution to amend the Constitution for the merit system, the day has not quite arrived, I am afraid, for such a counsel of perfection. So that these amendments offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, I believe in, and I would dislike to see them stricken out. If they do no other good they will at least clip the wings of the very sagacious politicians in Allegheny County.

I have an official statement here in my hand which states that in Allegheny County there are 65,000 persons on relief, and in Philadelphia County there are 67,000; and yet Allegheny County spent $400,000 more for relief than Philadelphia County did in the same period of time. That, it seems to me, is a good argument in favor of putting the brakes on these gentlemen. I can verify these figures, if anybody wants to see them.

Now then, in this set-up we shall receive $600,000 for administration—this money is to be used for personnel at Harrisburg and in the offices of the Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund in the sixty-seven counties of the State. In my opinion, $600,000 ought to be safeguarded.

And, as a final fling, I would like to say that it should be possible to amend these Old Age and Mothers' Assistance Acts to provide that the personnel in these services like the S. E. R. B., should be appointed on the merit system—without the necessity of political endorsement, for these services constitute a similar form of relief.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, and members of the Senate, although as has been stated, I was not the author of those particular amendments, I feel that in view of what has been said I should explain to the Senate what has dominated the thought of the Committee in bringing out this bill with the amendments, which are now under discussion.

I agree entirely with the statement of the Senator from Centre, that most of the Mothers' Assistance Boards in the past have not been dominated, so far as I know, by political influence in the administration of the funds. We are now, however, confronted with an entirely new situation. The very purpose of these bills is to secure additional grants from the Federal Government. The base of these particular boards, or those who come under them, is very much increased. The money coming into those boards will greatly increase, and under a new condition, and that is, that funds come from the Federal Government. In view of this fact, it was thought that it would be well to safeguard these boards, as far as possible, from political influence. Three of the members of these boards are appointed by the Court of the County, three, as now, appointed by the Governor, and it was felt that the very agency, namely, the county commissioners, which must secure in part the money, should make appointments to the boards to which the county funds come. That was the thought of the Committee and we expressed it in that way, and, therefore, I trust that this Senate will support this Committee, which gave the matter favorable consideration and recommended that the bill be passed in its present form.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I read the Mothers' Assistance Act before I read the one on the calendar today as amended, and I did not notice any such great concern about political activities of the members of the Boards, or the employees in the Mothers' Assistance setup, in the last fifteen or twenty years; and I am not so familiar with the activities in other counties—of the Mothers' Assistance Boards—but I have met all the ladies who are presently active in the Mothers' Assistance Board in Philadelphia County, and they are the same type, and the same faces, I have seen in Philadelphia for the last fifteen years.

I do not propose to vote for this bill, and that is the reason I am placing myself on record as to my reasons, which are: First, because nobody can tell me that in Philadelphia the appointment of three persons on this Board by county commissioners—with all due respect to them; and I am not casting any reflection on them as individuals—is going to improve the Board. I do not think that anybody who wants to be frank about this, and is not jockeying for position or playing for some other purpose, will deny the fact that not only is this situation not going to be improved but it is going to be injured by supporting the amendment which gives each of the county commissioners the right to place on this Board which gives each of the county commissioners the right to place on this Board an appointee of his own.

There has been some talk about calling a spade a spade, and I want the public to know that I do not believe, and I do not think that those who take this situation seriously can believe, that there is going to be any improvement in this way.

The Courts of Common Pleas do not want this job of making appointments to these various Boards. They have enough to do, and are sufficiently annoyed by political activities, not to want to take on any more activities which will bring them into such a public situation. Their function is not to appoint Boards of this kind but to decide questions of law that came before them, and I am unalterably opposed to increasing their burdens when their duties are not in conformity with those prescribed by the purposes for which they were elected.

I read this amendment with reference to political activities, and I say it is a shame to impose those restrictions upon any person who might be fit for the Board. It even goes so far as to prohibit a member of the Board from attending a Convention. If, out of curiosity or a desire to listen to the thoughts expressed at a public meeting of that kind, one of these members should happen to go into a convention, such member, according to this Act, is disqualified. In addition to this, these amendments appear to have been as hastily drawn as has been referred to by the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, with regard to another bill.

In Section 9 it says, "The maximum assistance allowed by any board of trustees shall in no case exceed eighteen dollars per month for the first dependent child and twelve dollars per month for each additional dependent child of the same family."

On Page 15 of the bill an amendment is offered which says, "The combined maximum payment allowed by any board of trustees shall in no case exceed twenty dollars ($20) per month for the first child and ten dollars ($10) per month for each additional child."

I do not understand those two, in my opinion, conflicting sections; and I think the bill in its original form was sufficient to take care of the situation. But I think the bill in its present form is capable of creating that situation which if it did not exist previously will exist in the future.

For these reasons I do not propose to vote for this bill. And so that there may be no misunderstanding or improper implications, to the effect that I am opposed to Mothers' Assistance, I place myself on record—this being a motion that the Senate shall resolve itself into a committee of the whole for the purpose of receiving amendments—I shall vote for that motion.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, at the risk of repetition, let me just again state that the amendments here calculate to strike out the amendments placed in this bill last week, providing that the Mothers' Assistance Boards be placed in the arena of county politics. The amendments offer to strike out those amendments in the bill. That was the purpose of these amendments, to maintain a high level in the administration of the Mothers' Assistance Boards.

Mr. President, last year, we held up our hands in holy horror in this Senate, when there was a bill in the Senate Committee providing for the ripping out of office of one goofy Mayor of Pittsburgh. Today we see the majority in this Senate fighting to rip out of office, approximately five hundred of the finest type of women in the State of Pennsylvania, and I challenge the Senator from Bucks, or from any other county in this State, to point out one instance where the Democratic administration has not appointed to these Mothers' Assistance Boards the very highest type of women available in the counties. Mr. President, this is the worst piece of ripper legislation that has ever been before the Senate of Pennsylvania that I know of. To think of it, to take out our little spite on the very finest type of women in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I appeal to you and to the members of this Senate to vote for this motion to go into committee of the whole to strike out these politically active members.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rather take the last remarks of the Senator from Centre to be, in effect, a question for me to answer. I would say to him, in answer to his remarks, that so far as I know, the Democratic members of the Mothers' Assistance Boards, those appointed throughout this State, are of high calibre, and I also say to him that the Republican members of those Boards that were removed throughout the State, were of equally high calibre.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion to go into committee of the Whole for amendment, and being special amendments, they will be read.

The amendments were read as follows:

Amend title, page 2, lines 4, 5, 6 and 7, by striking out the words "and for the appointment of boards of trustees in all counties jointly by the Governor, the courts of common pleas and the county commissioners"; also section 1, page 3, lines 18, 19, 20 and 21, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the words "three women residents, the court of common pleas shall app9oint three women residents, and each county commissioner shall appoint one woman resident who, together shall constitute"; also page 3, line 21, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before and after the word "seven"; also page 3, line 22, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the word "nine"; also page 3, line 24, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the bracket before the word "Except"; also page 3, line 24, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the bracket after the word "provided"; also page 3, line 24, by striking out with light-faced brackets the word "Such" and insert in lieu thereof such; also page 3, line 28, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before and after the word "The"; also page 3, line 28, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before the word "first" and after the word "trustees"; also page 3, line 28, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the bracket after the word "county"; also page 3, line 29, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the bracket before the word "shall"; also page 3, line 29, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the bracket after the word "two"; also page 4, line 1, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the bracket before the word "years"; also page 4, line 2, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the bracket after the word "succeeding"; also page 4, line 6, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before the word "unless" and after the word "Governor"; also page 4, line 13, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the words "until the first"; also page 4, lines 14 to 18, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets all the words in said lines, both inclusive; also page 4, line 19, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before and after the word "Governor"; also page 4, line 20, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the words "appointing power"; also page 4, line 23, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before and after the word "Governor"; also page 4, line 24, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the words "appointing power"; also section 3, page 6, line 29, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before the word "by" and after the part-word "Gov-"; also page 7, line 1, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the brackets before and after the word "ernor"; also page 7, line 2, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the words "as provided in this act"

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to state that this being a special amendment, a vote in the affirmative will carry with it the insertion of the amendment, a vote "no" will mean that the bill shall stand in its present form. And also, being a strike-out, the bill immediately afterwards will be subject to final passage by the Senate. A vote "aye" will be to insert the amendments, and a vote "no" will be not to insert the amendments.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and Mr. FREY, and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, In the regular session of 1933, when the distinguished Senator from the Seventh Senatorial District of Philadelphia made a motion to discharge the Committee from further consideration of a proposed amendment to the Pennsylvania Constitution, which, if adopted would have permitted or required Counties, Cities, Boroughs and Townships to contribute to Old Age Pensions, and inasmuch as 90% of the taxes so collected are paid by real estate I opposed this motion for the reason that I believed real estate was carrying all of the burden of taxation that it was possible for it to carry without confiscating peoples homes.

Notwithstanding the fact that I believe in Old Age and Mothers' Assistance and have supported every measure in the Senate providing for such assistance and have voted for every appropriation bill to provide money for such assistance, Metropolitan newspapers like the Pittsburgh Press have published grotesque cartoons and carried news articles intended to create the impression that everyone opposed to placing the cost of these worthy charities upon real estate were opposed to such charities. Members of the Senate, I now find myself to be in the position of the man who was between the proverbial devil and the deep blue sea. I intend to support this most worthy of all charities (Mothers Assistance) but I do not like to issue a mandatory order to all the counties of the Commonwealth to increase the taxes on real estate to provide their share of the money to pay for the same. In many counties of the state this is a mandatory order to increase the county tax millage.

Only last night I understood the Governor to say that 25% of the home owners of the Commonwealth were unable to pay their taxes and the distinguished Senator from Allegheny County was complaining that 90% of the tax burden had been placed upon real estate.

In fact the pages of the Legislative Journal are full of speeches about the tax burden on real estate but as Josh Billings says about the weather, everybody is complaining about it but nobody does anything.

The provisions of this bill seem to indicate that the waiting list is to be wiped out and all eligible applicants are to be provided for, but the Act may easily be interpreted by the Attorney General to provide that the counties shall pay a sum equal to the combined Federal and State contribution and if so the present tax on real estate of the counties for this purpose will be more than trippled.

Another provision of this bill may make it exceedingly costly to border counties for it will require them to provide for Mothers and children dumped into their confines from other States who do not have a Mothers' assistance act or who have a much lower standard and provide much less for such dependents than does Pennsylvania.

In other words this is an invitation for many states to send their dependent mothers and children to Pennsylvania for local taxpayers to take care of.

I regret that the cost of this very worthy charity must be so largely shared by taxes on real estate.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, before Pennsylvanians burst into a flood of tears over Governor Earle's prayer: 'God help the poor in New Jersey', it will be well for them to withhold the crying towels until a complete picture of decentralized relief in our neighboring state is presented by members of the Senate Appropriations Committee. In a resolution by Senator Frederick T. Gelder, Susquehanna, the members are directed to 'ascertain from official sources in New Jersey causes for the definite decline in relief cases and the cost of administration, together with information as to the methods used.'

The Governor's pathetic recital of isolated cases in New Jersey of the 'dying and starving' was presented to him in a report of preliminary findings by investigators in the W.P.A. His Excellency admits the names listed in his address to the joint session of the General Assembly Monday night are fictitious but alleges the facts are not.

His gratuitous insult of New Jersey that the situation in that state is 'revolting and barbarous' is a phase of his address that will doubtless be answered by responsible officials in that Commonwealth.

Late last month, Russell B. Porter, an experienced New York newspaperman made an exhaustive investigation of decentralized relief in New Jersey and his findings indicate that contemplated revision of methods here will result in reduction in the cost of unemployment relief. Officials in Newark and Jersey City, according to Mr. Porter expect that the legislators at Trenton will confer on a definite program for financing State aid for relief to those communities needing it. If New Jersey accords such help, they assert, the localities can administer relief much more economically than has been done by the State through the Emergency Relief Administration, which has just closed down.

Owen A. Malady, Overseer of the Poor in Newark, said that since he had taken over direct relief administration from the State ERA in April there has already been an encouraging decrease in the case load and in costs. He attributed this not only to a more careful scrutiny of relief applicants and to the elimination of certain extra services which the ERA had given, but also to the general improvement in business and employment and to the seasonal pick-up in employment that comes at this time of year.

In March, the last full month of ERA administration, Newark had 13,758 cases on relief, representing 42,548 persons. The cost was $405,868, of which the State paid $342,506 and the city of Newark $63,362. In addition, the State paid $37,475 in administrative expenses. On April 16, when the city actually took over, the load was 13,250 cases.

On April 30, Mr. Malady reported, the load was down to 12,386 cases, representing 38,117 persons. The cost for the second half of April, he said was $168,894.62, a saving of $19,927.73 as compared with the budget the ERA had estimated for the period. This was exclusive of administrative costs.

Mr. Malady said his plans for administrative reorganization and simplification, including a re-employment bureau, and for reforms in the granting of relief itself, led him to hope that inside of a year, if business improvement continues and if the WPA is retained, the case load and cost of Newark's direct relief program would be cut in half. Eventually, he said, Newark would have only 5,000 to 6,000 families—"the chronic poor"—on relief.

"And I believe this can be done," he added, "without any injustice to those who are really in need. We will gradually solve this problem, but, of course, until we get settled down into a municipal system and until conditions improve, we will continue to need help from the State.

"Mr. Malady called attention to the fact that in the future the social security program, old-age pensions and other specially financed forms of relief would take up some of the present load.

"We have had to float temporary emergency bonds to carry us until June 1, when we hope the State will have decided upon a program of State aid to municipalities', he said. 'Meanwhile, we have elminated many costly features of the ERA relief, such as medical, dental and nursing services, hospitalization, drugs and so on. Henceforth, relief clients will have to depend on our city hospitals, clinics and nursing services for such aid, as the poor did before the depression.'

"He said he had expected complaints from persons cut off from this kind of relief, and had been surprised at receiving "not more than half a dozen kick-backs."

"There have been no riots or disturbances' he went on, 'and the Communists and the Workers Alliance people have not bothered us. There seems to be a very sound philosophical viewpoint on the part of the majority of people on relief. They know that it was getting out of hand, and that something had to be done to save the man who pays the bills from ruin.

"Moreover, we haven't done anything drastic. We haven't dropped anybody from the rolls without cause. We haven't cut the essentials of relief. We are still giving the same food orders, milk, shelter, clothing, shoes, fuel, gas and electric service as ERA, making allowance for the change in seasonal needs.

"Jersey City officials asserted that they had made a large savings in their relief costs, compared with other cities in the State, before the ERA turned the administration of relief back to them.

"John F. O'Neill, Hudson County Supervisor, who has had charge of relief for Hudson County for more than four years, pointed out that administrative costs had been less there, even during ERA, because county and municipal officials, policemen, firemen and other employees worked extra without pay as relief workers, investigators and administrators, whereas elsewhere specially employed persons swelled the administrative costs.

"It was emphasized that in March Jersey City's relief load was about half that of Newark's, but its administrative costs were only about one-third. The figures were:

	Cases	Administrative Costs
Newark	13,758	$37,475
Jersey City	6,687	13,134

"Jersey City officials also pointed out that their average cost per case in March was only $21.23, compared with $29.43 in Newark. They explained that the main factor was that they had held reilief down to the essentials of food, clothing, shelter, fuel, gas and electric light. Medical, dental, nursing services, hospitalization, &c., they added, had been supplied when needed in the ordinary manner through the city hospitals and clinics."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I offer an editorial from the New York Times for the record, and I would like to read just a few lines:

A LESSON FROM NEW JERSEY

For some weeks the question of relief for the unemployed has been sadly muddled in New Jersey. Available funds were exhausted, and the Governor called upon the Legislature to lay new taxes in order to obtain the $3,000,000 a month required. But personal and party controversies have thus far prevented the raising of the money needed. The result has been to throw back, temporarily, upon the localities the work of caring for those out of employment.

Some of the consequences have been surprising and instructive. The numbers of those on the relief roll at once fell off. In Atlantic City they were reported to have fallen by fully a thousand. The Mayor of Rumson stated that many fewer persons were asking for relief when they found out that it would have to be supplied by their neighbors. Similar effects came to notice in various parts of the State.

Various explanations were offered. It is said by some that jobless men have left New Jersey. Others allege that more work has been found suddenly, or that the unemployed who had scorned casual and part-time jobe have now consented to take them. But the main cause seems clearly to have been the transfer of cases from general or Federal relief to local scrutiny and control. In small towns, particularly where everybody knows everybody else, work tests are apt to be more severely applied, and instances of malingering or imposture more readily detected. It is partly in order to secure this wholesome weeding out of the lists that the breaking up of the huge and sprawling Federal administration of relief has been urged, with an accompanying return of a part of the responsibility to municipalities and counties. What has occurred in New Jersey might be repeated in other States.

A man whom we should once have called a "sturdy begger" was recently overheard in a near-by village discussing the relative merits of Federal and local relief. He said:

> I never took any stock in this turning it all over to the counties and towns. You never can tell what they will do to you. People will look you over and ask all kinds of mean questions. But with Uncle Sam it is different. His check comes to me regularly without any bother at all about it.

The day may come, however, when these checks of Uncle Sam will no longer fall like the dew from heaven upon the just and the unjust alike"

I would like to have that inserted in the record.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Page 1, Section 1, Lines 4 and 5, by striking out after the word "of" the words and figures "sixty million two hundred forty-one thousand dollars ($60,-241,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000)

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is an important amendment. The proposal is that we increase the appropriation contained in this bill from $60,241,000 to $100,000,000. We have heard a great deal of talk during the past several weeks about how little was necessary for relief. We have heard practically nothing about how much is necessary. It seems to me that the leaders of both of the parties are more concerned with saving the taxpayers than they are with saving the needy of Pennsylvania. There has been a great deal of propaganda about the people getting too much and living better than they ever did before, and they could get along on a great deal less.

The Governor in his address last evening told us about how they are getting along in a neighboring State on less. I do not propose to go to New Jersey to discuss this situation. I expect to stay here in Pennsylvania and just give a few figures of what we have. I believe, according to the latest reports of SERB there are about one hundred seventy-three thousand people on relief at the present time. That is the lowest it has been for many, many months, in fact a couple of years.

The Governor told us that he has an agreement with the Works Progress Administration that they will take over thirty thousand of these, which I suppose will reduce it to one hundred forty-three thousand. Then, if we assume what is contrary to our experience for several years, that number is going to continue at that figure or else get less from now until the end of next January, the appropriation which the Governor proposes might possibly get by. When I say it might possible get by, I want to point out to you just what it means. Usually when we discuss relief figures we talk about so many million dollars, and that sounds very big, and we think we are being very generous in handing out a great deal of money and treating everybody fine. Let us see just what this really means if we do hand it out on a basis that the Governor suggests, and that the relief figures or the number on relief do not increase.

Let us take on a basis of one hundred forty-three thousand people. Fifty-five million dollars, to last from sometime after June 20 to January 31. Let us say that the present amount appropriated will last until July 1, although everybody says it won't. Let us assume that it will, then this appropriation will have to cover the period from July 1 to January 31, which is more than thirty weeks. Break down fifty-five million dollars to a weekly basis by dividing it by thirty, you have one million eight hundred and thirty-three thousand dollars per week, to be distributed among one hundred and forty-three thousand cases. You divide one hundred forty-three thousand into one million eight hundred thirty-three thousand and you get an average per case of $12.82 per week. The Relief Board tells us that there is an average of three and three-tenths persons per case, three and three-tenth persons to live each week on $12.82. Let us see what this means. Let us break it down further because it is very easy to say,, "oh, well, people can live on $12.82 a week for a family of three and three-tenth persons," although I doubt if very many members of this House would care to try it. But let us break it down further. We have to allow for administration costs, dental and medical care. Say that it takes something like one dollar and eighty-six cents per week for that, they allow one dollar and forty cents per week for milk, which means two quarts per day at ten cents per quart, although the price in a good many parts of the State is eleven cents a quart, but they only allow ten cents a quart for two quarts per day. They allow two dollars and fifty cents for rent and shelter. Those of you who are not particularly concerned about the unemployed may be more concerned about the landlords. I would like to know how many landlords there are in Pennsylvania who have tenantable houses that they are willing to rent for $2.50 a week, or $11.00 a month. I believe you are all aware that there is a great deal of housing shortage. In fact, we have just passed unanimously a resolution which so declares. There is no question but what houses for low-income families are very difficult to obtain Many landlords are positively refusing to rent to persons, who are either on relief or on the WPA. They are being vacated by the hundreds all over the State. Only this past week four or five families were evicted from the Bucks County Almshouse, relief or WPA workers with five or six children, who were unable to find any place else to go and were compelled to go to the almshouse, they were thrown out of the almshouse, and where they went from there nobody knows and nobody seems to care, Everybody disclaims liability. The relief board says that they do not have anything to do with it. The poor board says they can not take care of it. The WPA does not pay enough wages to permit them to rent, if they could get houses, and the landlords refuse to rent them because they say they do not know whether the WPA work will last one week or six weeks or six months, any they are not going to take any chances of getting a family in that may not be able to pay the rent, and then have the trouble of evicting them. That is the situation that you are confronted with all over the State. When you break down these figures and see just what they mean then you begin to realize that after all these charges of the State are not living so generously. Persons who are willing to work and are unable to find jobs are certainly entitled to decent treatment from communities. If we have a social system that is unable to provide employment for them, then we will have to take care of them in some other way. Personally I think that the system is a little bit crazy. This business of telling people that you cannot give them work, then being compelled to keep them,—there is certainly something the matter with it. We certainly would be much better off to let them do that, to work, and let them produce their own keep. You say you cannot do that because that would ruin business or probably ruin the entire competitive system. You do not do that. You tell them, they cannot work; you don't give them a chance, so you have to provide for them in some measure, and I say that measure should be adequate. We have ample evidence that we have the means of production; we have the wealth; we have the labor power; we have the machinery; we have the electric and steam power; we have the natural resources; we have everything necessary to produce plenty for everybody, except a social system that will permit the workers to use the means of production and distribute it among themselves so they will get enough to eat and the other necessities of life. If you are not willing to do that then you have to face the music and ask the people who have enough to take care of those who have not.

Let us go on with these figures and see what they lead us to. They provide 60 cents per week for fuel and heat,—60 cents per week for fuel and heat. How many of you would care to heat your houses and cook you meals on the immense sum of 60 cents per week? I think you probably would have a great deal of trouble to cook during the Summer months without providing any heat at all. 30 cents for light, or $1.30 a month, about. How much of any kind of light can you get for that? $1.65 for clothing for three persons per week. Figure it out for yourself. I think it figures out something like this, 50 cents per week per person. That certainly wont clothe them very generously. Those are the result of figures which you obtain when you break down the relief grant, and consider it on the basis of the amount allowed for each item rather than in a great big lump sum of millions of dollars, which sounds like a whole lot. Then you take those figures and add them together, the ones I have just read off, and you get a total of $8.31 per week for items other than food. The only food item in there being for milk—$8.31 per week, I have just figured out a moment ago that the total grant would be $12.82, and subtracting you get $4.51 per week for food for three persons, or $1.46 per person. Or if you figure twenty-one meals, you have 5 cents per meal. How many of you would care to live on 5 cent meals? Remember that these figures are figured out not only just for the Summer months, but are supposed to work out on that basis until January 31, 1937, which includes at least two of the Winter months, with all of the additional expenses that go along with it. I submit that even on the basis of the present number on relief, the grants are inadequate and insufficient to provide decently for the charges of the State.

Let us look at it from another angle. The Governor told us last evening that the WPA were to take over thirty thousand more from relief. Last year the Federal Government made an appropriation, if I remember correctly,—and I say if I remember correctly, because I tried this morning to obtain the correct figures from WPA headquarters and they say they don't know. It seems they don't know anything that you want to know. They say they don't remember what the total figures were, they don't have any figures as to what has been allocated to Pennsylvania. But if I remember the figures that were published in the press correctly, the total amount allowed was what sounded like a stupendous sum of four billion eight hundred million dollars. That included not only WPA but also PWA, CCC and a number of other items. I don't know how much of that has been spent, the WPA doesn't know that either, they don't know how much has been allocated to Pennsylvania. They do say that there has been over one hundred million dollars spent in Pennsylvania in wages alone, which does not cover nearly all of the items, that they are now spending something like four million dollars a week in wages. The appropriation last year was four billion eight hundred million dollars, and this year they will only appropriate one billion four hundred twenty-five million dollars. Last year WPA didn't get going in any real sense of the word until along in November. I believe the figures show that they only took something like one thousand two hundred ninety-six cases off relief in Pennsylvania in September, and about fourteen thousand six hundred sixty-one cases in October. Then it started to jump up in November and December and has been increasing every month since that time, until the present time it has gotten up to something like two hundred seventy-six thousand. If you add the thirty thousand to that which the Governor says they are going to take over, it will not make up for the forty thousand whom they took off a couple of weeks ago, most of whom have come back on relief, and there is no reason to believe that there will be anything like that number of jobs in private employment, nor has any consideration been given to the mid-Summer lag, which has been coming along regularly every year, nor the general falling-off in employment which takes place in the Fall of the year, nor has any allocation been made for the closing-down of the projects during the Winter months. It will probably mean the return of several hundred thousand to direct relief along in December and January because the projects which are now working in full-blast will either be completed or will be closed down on account of the weather conditions, which will make it impossible for them to go on. When you consider all of those things, I submit to you to make an appropriation that only allows just barely enough to skim by with the very meager kind of conditions, and using the figures which we have at the present time, which everybody admits are very, very optomistic, that to attempt to do that is surely invited trouble.

During the past five and one-half years we have had five special sessions of the Pennsylvania Legislature. We met in regular session in 1931. Some of us advocated a permanent relief program, which would make allowances for the conditions which were then plainly developing, and pointed to a need of increased rather than decreased relief. But the leaders told us, "Oh, there is nothing to worry about, prosperity is just around the corner, we will be back in good times again inside of six months, there is no reason why we should look any farther ahead." We did not look any farther ahead. We had a special session in November, 1931. Even then we refused to look ahead, even to the next general session, which would have been in 1933, with the result that we had to have again a special session in June of 1932. With that we managed to squeeze through to the regular session of 1933. Again we made the same mistake, we hadn't learned anything from our previous experience. We had to go back again in another special session for relief in November, 1933. Even then we didn't take care of it. We had to go back the fourth time in September of 1934. Then we had the regular session in 1935, and then we did not take care of it for the biennium. We said that it would certainly be sufficient, that it would all be taken care of, the Federal Works program or something or other would take care of all of the unemployed, private industry will revive, there is no need that we should provide relief for more than one year." Several of us pointed out that that was nonsense and we were inviting the taxpayers to stand the expense of another special session. And we didn't do it. In that respect the Democrats are not anymore farsighted than their Republican predecessors had been. We had to come back here again this May to take care of the situation until the next regular session. Now, we find ourselves providing on a basis that in my judgment at least, it totally inadequate, and is almost certain to result in another special session before the regular session of next year.

I ask the members of the House, do you want to do that, do you want to came back here and spend another half million dollars of the taxpayers' money in the expense of another extraordinary session, or are we going to take care of it now? Are we going to ignore experience entirely, or are we going to appropriate enough to take care of the situation? You say, "Oh, we don't need anything like one hundred million dollars." You have had some experience with the present relief administrator. I do not believe that you think he would go ahead and spend this amount, no matter how recklessly, I do not think that if you would give him one hundred million dollars that he would spend all of that, I do not believe so. He would only expend the amount that would be necessary and you would have the balance left. You might possibly be able to return some of it to the various funds that you have been borrowing from for the last five or six years, so you won't cripple all of your highway work and schools, and various other institutions, by borrowing money which should have been used for those purposes. Therefore, I submit that we should look at this thing on a longer range program, that we should look at it as statesmen rather than politicians, trying to pass the buck on the fellow that may happen to be in office a few months from now. We should look at it upon the viewpoint of the unemployed and take care of it in a sufficient and adequate way, and for these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I offer these amendments and ask the members of the House to vote for them, and Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll-call.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was reported from the Committee on Appropriations with the understanding that after it had passed second reading, it would be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations. Last night there was a committee of six appointed by the Speaker of this House to meet with the Governor for the purpose of ascertaining the exact requirements necessary for unemployment relief and the exact amount of taxes that would be required to carry out the program. In view of that fact, it would be unthinkable to tie the hands of this House or the hands of the committee by the insertion of these amendments on the floor of the House. I. therefore, ask the members to vote the amendments down, after which the bill will be referred to the Committee on Appropriations for further study.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOPES and Mr. YOURISHIN were as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me rather unfair to this House, immediately upon its being opened by the Speaker, for a poll of the House to be ordered, for this reason: during the past six weeks it has been the custom in this House to start the proceedings anywhere from three-quarters of an hour to an hour and a quarter or an hour and a half late.

You Democrats are in control of this House, and it is perfectly agreeable to us for you to recess to anytime you want, but when you recess to 5:00 o'clock, it is practically foolhardy under the system that has been in vogue in this House for the membership to report at 5:00 o'clock, because it is almost axiomatic that you won't start until a quarter of six. If you adjourn until 12:00 o'clock to-day as you did last night, it is ridiculous for the membership to come here at 12:00 o'clock, because you invariably do not start until 1:00 o'clock.

Now, if you ask the membership of the House, immediately when the Speaker approaches the rostrum, to be in their seats, then let us have a gentlemen's agreement that when we recess to a certain time we will start at that time.

I want to say, particularly, that I do not place the responsibility upon the Speaker; I do not think it is the Speaker's fault. If you men have conferences or if you have things to straighten out, arrange your time so that you can straighten them out, but when you fix a time for recess or for adjournment to come here it is ridiculous to waste the time of the members. I do not say this in a spirit of antagonism, because the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, has a perfect right to move for a poll of the House at a quarter to six. A great many of the members may or may not be present a little later, but they have every reason to believe, under the system that has been in existence during this session of the Legislature, that you may not start until twenty minutes after six.

Therefore, I ask your cooperation insofar as the times of recess and of adjournment are concerned. Let us start on time. Fix the time to suit yourselves, but once you fix it, let us start without waiting around here an undue length of time and wasting the time of the members.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia under his question of personal privileges will be spread upon the Journal.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 49

An Act to amend sections four and five of the Act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one thousand three hundred fifty-one) entitled "An act making appropriations to carry into effect the provisions of an act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) entitled 'An act providing for assistance to certain mothers providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth and for the appointment of a State Supervisor and assistants and fixing the salaries of such State Supervisor and assistant defining the powers and duties of boards of trustees including the power of appointing assistants and investigators and the distribution of funds at their disposal providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties and requiring counties coming under the provisions of the act to appropriate certain moneys and providing penalties' as amended" by providing for the payment to newly organized counties of amounts set aside for unorganized counties for both the first and second fiscal years of the current biennium.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title page 2, in last line by inserting after the word "biennium" the words "and suspending certain provisions of this act in case Federal aid for dependent children shall fail for any reason"

Amend bill page 4, line 3, by adding after the word "period" the following new section:

"Section 2 The purpose of this act is to qualify all counties of this Commonwealth under the Mothers' Assistance Law and thus to enable the Commonwealth to receive Federal grants for aid to dependent children under Title four of the Social Security Act

In the event that Title four of the Social Security Act shall be held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States or shall be repealed and Federal grants for aid to dependent children shall fail for such or for any other reason whatever then so long as Federal grants for aid to dependent children shall not be available to this Commonwealth no county shall receive any sum from the State under sections two and three of this act unless such county shall appropriate a like sum for such purpose The Department of Welfare shall have no power to determine that any county may appropriate any other amount in order to receive its allotment of the State appropriation To the extent of any inconsistency the foregoing provisions of this act shall in such cases be suspended so long as Federal aid for dependent children shall not be available to this Commonwealth and the provisions of this section shall be in force."

Amend Section 2, page 4, line 4, by striking out after the word "Section" the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "3."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have this day seen one of the most disgraceful exhibitions of petty politics being played in the State Senate in its entire history. We have had returned to us with amendments, House Bill No. 59, regulating the administration of Mothers' Assistance in the State of Pennsylvania. For more than twenty years, Mothers' Assistance has been administered by boards of ladies, appointed by the Governors of this State and confirmed by the Senate. Never, in this period of more than two decades, has there been an attempt made heretofore to take the administration of Mothers' Assistance out of the hands of these Boards.

Monday night, the Republican side of the Senate admittedly, for the purpose of executing a political maneuver, introduced amendments to House Bill No. 59. The amendments were offered by Senator John R. K. Scott, of Philadelphia, and seconded by Senator Frank Harris, of Allegheny County. These amendments, which are so highly objectionable to every person interested in the satisfactory administration of Mothers' Assistance, provided that in place of the impartial board of seven members, a board of nine members should be established; three of whom should be appointed by the Governor, three by the common pleas court of the county, and one by each of the three county commissioners.

This, Mr. Speaker, is admittedly a deliberate attempt to plunge the Mothers' Assistance Board into the arena of county politics.

Every member of this House knows that the County Commissioners of Philadelphia, for instance, is political in its very makeup. It is composed of majority and minority representation—two Republicans and one Democrat. It has for its main duty the supervision of elections. What a far cry from partisan politics to the sacred duty of the State's care for its unfortunate widows and dependent children. What member of this House will besmirch his vote here by degrading the Mothers' Assistance Board in this manner.

Even the last Pinchot Administration did not attempt to make thoroughly political the Mothers' Assistance Board, and while very few Democrats were ever appointed to these Boards, a high standard of personnel was usually maintained in each county. Today the State Senate, with calmness and deliberation, attempts to rip out of office nearly five hundred of the finest type of women in the State of Pennsylvania. This is done in the face of the fact that the Republican Floor Leader of the Senate, Senator Buckman, admitted on the floor of the Senate that the present Mothers' Assistance Boards, appointed by the present administration, are uniformly high type, conscientious, and efficient women. Are we members of the House going to sit here idly and allow a Senate, which has for weeks been doing nothing but playing petty politics with the underprivileged of this State, continue this policy of petty politics with an institution which has for two decades been held dear to the hearts of the people of Pennsylvania?

Tener, Brumbaugh, Sproul, Fisher, Pinchot—none of them had the temerity to suggest that these boards should become the victims of political circumstances for county elections; and yet our present Republican Senate not only throws the future of our Mothers' Assistance into the arena of general elections in each county, but even makes them issues in the primary elections in each county, inasmuch as each county commissioner is given the opportunity of appointing one member of the Mothers' Assistance Board, and, of course, this becomes an inter-party issue as well as an issue at the general election.

Mr. Speaker, I submit to accede to the petty politics of the Senate of Pennsylvania would be betraying the high trust that our constituency has reposed in us. I submit that we would be violating every good policy developed in this State over two decades.

We cannot, as conscientious servants of the people of this State, concur with the Senate amendments, and I ask this House, Mr. Speaker, to go on record as refusing to concur in the petty politics that the Senate of Pennsylvania is trying to thrust upon the people of this State as a whole.

On behalf of the widowed mothers and fatherless children of Pennsylvania, for the most part victims of the industrial oligarchy which has placed them on these pension rolls, I ask the membership of this House to vote to nonconcur in these vicious amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1936. No. 21.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1936

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised. Thy throne, O Jehovah, is forever established in Thy Holy hill. Other gods have sprung from the imaginings of human minds and have been formed by the hands of men. They have eyes but cannot see, ears have they but cannot hear. Thine eye is ever open and quick to see our every need; Thine ear is tuned to hear the faintest cry falling from the penitent lips of the humblest of Thy creatures.

As we are met today to discharge duties of public moment Thou art looking down upon us from on high. The wireless telegraphy of Divine omniscience will register our actions and even our purposes on the receiving set of Heaven. Grant unto us the submission of children who come to their father for guidance, knowing and trusting his wisdom and his love.

This prayer we make in the name of Thy Son. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

TELEGRAM FROM CRIMINAL JUSTICE ASSOCIATION

The PRESIDENT. The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication, which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary General

Philadelphia, Penna., June 16, 1936.

The President of the Senate, Harrisburg, Penna.

The investigation instituted by the Attorney General and the District Attorney of this county at the instance of this association led to an exhaustive investigation by a grand jury which occupied ten months' time and involved the hearing of approximately six thousand witnesses. The grand jury has made its presentment and finds a deplorable and disgraceful condition of false records abuses of process collusion oppression favoritism prostitution to political ends ignorance and carelessness. Recognizing that such conditions are almost inevitable under the present magisterial system the grand jury recommends remedial legislation of the general character provided for in the bill prepared jointly by the Attorney General of the State, the district attorney of this county and this association which failed of passage in the last legislature. In order that the next legislature may have it a bill prepared after study of this presentment and the bill submitted last year we suggest that the present special session of the legislature adopt a resolution for the appointment of a commission to prepare a bill for submission to the next legislature and earnestly request that you urge the adoption of such a resolution. We believe that a legislative commission would usefully supplement the work of the committee of thirteen suggested by the grand jury.

PHILADELPHIA CRIMINAL JUSTICE ASSOCIATION.
GEORGE W. NORRIS, President
CHARLES EDWIN FOX, Counsel.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

House Bill No. 82 (Senate Bill No. 86), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the thirtieth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 17, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives, as follows:

House Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief, work relief, and expenses; defining the purposes for which such monies may be expended; and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State Departments.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows:

Line 9 of the title strike out "moneys" and insert in lieu thereof the word "monies" Page 1 Section 1 lines 4 and 5 strike out "three million six hundred and thirty thousand dollars" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "seven million seven hundred sixteen thousand two hundred eleven dollars ($7,716,211) and any monies heretofore appropriate for unemployment relief purposes that remained unobligated and unexpended on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six are" Page 2 line 8 strike out the following: "for the month of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six." On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I think some one ought to explain the purport of these amendments.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the purpose of these amendments is to make the original bill, which called for $11,000,000, and was subsequently reduced to $3,630,000, carry out the provisions of the subsequent moral commitment of this Senate to grant the lapsed funds, which commitment was made here, I think, week before last. It was to cover $850,000, approximately, of one lapsed fund, and $4,063,000 agreed to be granted by your last resolution. So the total amount is some $7,760,000, which is indicated to be inserted, instead of $6,330,000.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—38

Aron,	Harvey,	Prince,	Shapiro,
Batchelor,	Howell,	Pytko,	Staudenmeier,

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 59

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has non-concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 59, entitled:

under the provisions of the act to appropriate certain moneys; and providing penalties," by providing for the appointment of a board of trustees for each county; changing the qualifications of mothers eligible for assistance; requiring all counties to appropriate moneys for mothers assistance, except under certain circumstances; providing for additional grants of State moneys in lieu of appropriations by counties unable to meet State appropriations; providing for cooperation by the Department of Welfare with the Federal Social Security Board; and authorizing the Department of Welfare to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States government for aid to dependent children.

THE SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 59.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insist upon its amendments to House Bill No. 59.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask if we are now voting on the amendments to the Brancato Mothers' Assistance Bill. I could not recognize the bill by the number.

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate is on the motion that the Senate insists on its amendments to this bill.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I voted for the amendments to this bill both in committee and on the floor of the Senate. I predicated my vote on the information that was given to me on the number of removals from the Mothers' Pension Board—of splendid women who have been earnest and conscientious in their work, and who have served without compensation for many years. If you will pardon a personal reference, I want to say that my interest in Mothers' Assistance has dated from the beginning of the fight for this splendid legislation, and I was treasurer of Allegheny County at the time it became operative, and signed the first check that went to the widowed mother in that county. I have been vice-chairman of the League for Mothers' Assistance for the last twelve years. I hope you will pardon me for mentioning this fact, but I merely mention it to show that I have a deep personal interest in the administration of this bill; and these good women, many of them throughout the State with whom I have personal acquaintance, were removed from these Boards.

Now, the argument might be made by our friends the Democrats that the new Administration coming in had the right to make these removals; but since the bill was passed each succeeding governor has waited until the expiration of the terms of the members of the Board before making changes they desire, and I believe that these wholesale changes, if it is true they were made—and I have it on the best of authority that they were—has caused a breakdown in the personnel and in the efficiency of the operation and administration of the Act.

The appointments, as I understand, by the Governor, are all splendid appointments—or, at least, in practically all the cases—and I have no complaint against any new member of the Board; I understand they are earnest and conscientious; but information also was conveyed to me that, taking advantage of the new members—and their inexperience—there have been a number of changes made in the personnel of the staff, and that the staff is not as efficient now as it was under the former Board. For that reason I believe there should be a new method of appointing these Boards.

Now then, there was another amendment, which provided—without going into details and having a protracted argument on it today—for the taking of employes out of politics. The bill was fashioned after a bill passed some years ago to prevent public employes from participating actively in politics; and I voted for that amendment.

Now, let us not go into a long argument about the merits of these amendments. They were discussed on the floor yesterday, and also in the House last night; and if it is necessary to discuss them, that is all well and good, but I do not think that is the point involved now. No matter what we think about the administration, there is something more vital than that to consider. The question is whether or not, with argument on these amendments, the bill will be so delayed that we will not be able to take advantage of the Act of Congress, and therefore lose this great amount of money that would otherwise go to the assistance of our widowed mothers. We all admit that if we pass this legislation in time, either with or without amendment, there would be 4,000 widowed mothers, now on the waiting list, who would receive grants; and for the first time in the history of the State—or since the Act has been in effect—the waiting list would be cleaned up.

Now, in our desire to have an efficient administration, let us not be blinded to the thing that, while it might have vital effect, would be a thing that could wait until such time as we could have full discussion, and have more harmony about it. We all know the mechanics of the operation of the Senate and House, and we all know this—that if we do not recede from our amendments there will be a conference committee appointed. And let us, for the sake of argument, say that the conference committee will not be able to agree—as, it is my opinion, it will not be; then the whole bill falls. I want to say to you that I am not going to be a party, even though I have an opinion on these amendments, and have so stated in public, and do not apologize for my position on them, and can justify my opinion—I will not be a party to the delay.

The time limit has been set at June 30th, and if this bill falls, by reason of our failure to act—because of what might be described as stubbornness on the part of both the Republican and Democratic parties, it will, to my mind, be laid at our door. I am willing to recede from these amendments, without sacrificing my opinion as to the action of those who have tried to put Mothers' Assistance in politics; I am willing to recede from the amendments that would cause delay and would cost millions of dollars, and might be the cause of not depleting the waiting list. I don't want to be a party to anything that would prevent 4,000 widowed mothers, and their children, from receiving support; and I am willing to vote to recede from our amendments—again I say, without sacrificing my opinion on these two amendments.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, whether there is anything in the Federal Social Security law which limits the time to June 30th or any other date, for the acceptance of the benefits from the Federal Act.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, so that I would be sure of my ground I telephoned to Washington and I interviewed the leaders of the P. C. A. I discussed the matter today, informally, with a representative of the Department of Justice, who informs me that June 30th is the absolute limit of time when we can take advantage of this opportunity. In case we do not, we are bound to lose the Federal payments for the first three months, provided for by Act of Congress.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I previously understood that the time limit was fixed as of June 20th.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I mentioned that fact to the representative of the Department of Justice, and he said it had been extended to June 30th.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, do I understand, then, from the Senator from Allegheny, that this time limitation is merely an arbitrary time limitation set by the Social Security Board, and not by any provision of the Federal Act?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am not informed as to whether it is in the Act or whether it is a man-made rule, an arbitrary decision by the Department.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, if I am wrong in my statement, I would like it corrected, but I have read the Federal Act very carefully and I find no provision therein which states that June 20th, or June 30th, or any other date as the time for the cessation of the Act. As far as I can see, this date is but an arbitrary requirement fixed by a Federal Bureau at Washington, without any authority in law. As I have stated, if I am wrong in that, I would like to have it corrected here on the floor. Unlike the Senator from Allegheny, in Committee I did not vote for these amendments. I am, however, going to vote at this time that the Senate do not recede from its amendments. It has been carefully considered in the Senate Committee, of which I have the honor of being Chairman. It was thoroughly considered on the floor of the Senate and adopted as amended, and I do not see any reason, therefore, why the Senate should recede from its position, change its attitude and stultify the course which it has already taken, merely because there has been an adverse vote from the House of Representatives.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to enlighten the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, by calling his attention to Section 403 of the Federal Social Security Act. There is a specific provision in the Act which deals with this matter, and makes it compulsory in order to take advantage of July payments, to approve the Act before July 1st. There is no abritrary rule or provision by the Bureau. I should like to read the section, Section 403—this is Title 4 I am reading from, which deals with Mothers' Assistance: "The Secretary of the Treasury shall pay to each State which has an approved plan for aid of dependent children, for each quarter, beginning with the quarter commencing July 1, 1935, an amount which shall be used exclusively for carrying out the State plan."

That applies not only to dependent children but to Mothers' Assistance and all those plans which have an actual appropriation for each year, and it is from the annual appropriation that these payments are made quarterly, and no payment can be made quarterly until there is presented to the Federal Government an approved plan. The reason for the difference in time between June 20th and June 30th is that the Department at Washington desired a few days' time to go over the plan and approve it. We have no approved plan yet; and they have said, informally, that they ought to have it by the 20th of June; but by an Act of Congress they have said definitely, "You don't get any payment unless by the first of July, and each quarter thereafter, you have an approved plan." We have no approved plan.

Now, I take the position on this subject and on this Act, that we have enough work to do now in this Session, enough work to make our laws conform to the Federal Security Act, or to decide if we should make them conform, without attempting at this time to change the plans under which we are now administering Mothers' Assistance and Old Age Pensions. Those plans—particularly for Mothers' Assistance—have been in operation many years. I don't think at this time this Senate should attempt to make a deadlock on an issue as important as this by insisting on these amendments.

Everybody admits, including those proposing the amendments, that the women who are at the head of the Mothers' Assistance Fund are decent, honest, respectable, high minded citizens, and just because the Governor happens to have disposed of those who preceded these people in a manner not to the liking of the Senate, or other people, is no good, valid reason for injecting an amendment into this bill now which, in effect, may cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania millions of dollars. That is why I voted against the amendments yesterday, because I knew, and every member of the Senate knew, the House would not agree to those amendments.

I do not think this is the time to change plans. I do not know whether the plan under operation is the best plan; I know it has worked, and worked well, in the hands of honest people; and if there are any defects, they can be corrected at the next session of the Legislature; but I agree with Senator Harris that this is not the time to correct them, and we should not at this time come to a deadlock over something which is not essential, and in so doing lose millions of dollars to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I just desire to say that in my conference with the representative of the Department of Justice, Adrian Bonelli, he said that on request of members of the Senate he would send any information they desire on this point as to the time, the zero hour, on which we must act to take advantage of the Act of Congress. He said it to me verbally, and that he would put it in writing and send it to the Senate, showing the reason that the Department at Washington gave for fixing the last day on which we could act, as June 30th.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am firmly of the opinion that administration of all forms of charity should eventually go back to the local communities, but I do not think this is the bill before this Senate that we ought to attach that plan to at this time. My opinion still is that this plan of creating a board in the various counties should be attached to the direct relief bill, and that bill should carry a provision creating a public assistance board in each county; and then at the next General Session to put into the hands of that board the administration of the mothers' assistance, the blind pensions and the old age assistance, but I do not think we should start with the mothers' assistance fund. That idea should be carried out at the next general session of this Senate.

I have made these remarks so that my vote on the motion before the Senate may be well understood. I vote "no" because I do not believe that this bill should carry with it the provisions for a public assistance board in the various counties for the administration of all the funds in the nature of charity.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, just to supplement the remarks of my colleague, Senator Harris, of Allegheny, I think it might be well for the Senate to remind itself that if they fear that the mothers' assistance operation has been brought into the political field, that while there have been many changes in the personnel of these boards over the different counties, there has been practically no change in the personnel of the administrative employes who have handled the administration of the functions performed by these assistance boards under the Mothers' Assistance Act.

There is no question that if these "ripper" amendments go through, that the administration of mothers' assistance will be very much disorganized when they take effect about the first of August, and I think it would be well for this Senate to try to raise itself above the level of partisan controversy in disposing of these amendments. The House set us a good example last night when they acted unanimously on these amendments. There was no difference of political opinion in the lower House over these amendments, and they voted unanimously in connection with the same, so, certainly I say, Mr. President, rather than take any chance in defeating the progress of this legislation, or impairing the mothers' assistance boards, we ought to recede from these amendments.

Now, in connection with the remarks of Senator Reed, just let me remind this Senate again, that we all know that the fiscal year of the Federal Government begins the first of July of each year, and this will be the first year of the operation of the Social Security Act. If we are to get the benefit of this Act, whether or not it is on the 20th or 30th of June, or what date it is, we must set up our machinery so that our plans can be approved, and we will receive this money before the beginning of the present fiscal year, which is July 1st, so if you are going to get money for the quarter beginning July 1st, we must act and act promptly.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I think it has already been mentioned that it will disturb the beginning of operations under the new Act to make any present change in the Boards. I know in my county there are hundreds on the waiting list. The present board has a record of that. If a change is made in the board at the present time, and Federal assistance is made available, it means that the new board will have to start and investigate those cases which have already been investigated, and I think that it is a waste of time, a waste of energy, in view of the fact that the present boards have an investigating record on these various applicants who will be placed upon the rolls with the use of Federal money.

The purpose of most of these amendments is very good, and I am sure that we will be willing to go along at a future time when it is not going to hold up the working of the Act, and possibly in the next regular Session, if not before, we can accomplish the purpose that was aimed at by these amendments, and I am going to ask the members on the other side to co-operate now and permit this legislation to be made effective, but let us give the present boards a chance in order to simplify matters.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, has the House rejected all the amendments which the Senate inserted in the bill?

The PRESIDENT. Yes, the House has not concurred in any amendment made by the Senate to this bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I had not intended to speak on this bill, but I cannot let go unchallenged two statements made by the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson. In the first place, he referred to this bill as a "Ripper Bill." This is not a "Ripper Bill.' ' This is a bill to show up the ripping out of the old boards.

The ripping out has all been done by the administration. So far as the personnel of the Mothers' Assistance Boards is concerned there are plenty of good women in your county and mine who can fill these places under appointment of County Commissioners and the Courts.

I also challenge his statement in reference to interference with the personnel of paid employes of these Boards. That is what was done at the very first meeting of the new Board. That was possibly the reason for throwing out these good women and putting in their places political women, in order to get that little bit of patronage. There is no doubt in my mind at all that that was the reason for throwing out those boards attendant on these unfortunate people. In my mind there is no reason at all. That is the reason these Boards were surreptitiously thrown out.

It comes from them with very poor grace to say this is a "Ripper Bill." This is proper legislation, the county commissioners pay their share of this money, and they should have some voice in the expenditure of that money; and, as far as these good women are concerned, they are in every county in this State, women who have had experience and have administered these funds for years, and could call upon the commissioners to help in this situation.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of information.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I want to understand clearly, what is the effect of these amendments? Did the House take out all the amendments which the Senate put into the bill or merely the provisions relating to the manner of appointment of the members of this Board?

The PRESIDENT. The message from the House states that the House has non-concurred in all our Senate amendments.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I certainly shall say, in view of that information, which I have not had until the present moment, that, emphatically, this Senate should refuse to concur in that action. Including among those amendments were certain amendments which I had authoritatively stated to me were necessary in order that this bill would be in compliance with the Federal law. If all the amendments go out, then I understand the bill, as the House of Representatives has passed it, is not agreeable to the Social Security Board.

The statement which has just been made shows conclusively that the Senate should take action definitely, and not permit this bill as it now is to become law before we go to a conference committee in order that these matters can be definitely and conclusively settled.

I have no fear about this June the 20th or June 30th or any other time limitation; whether it is passed finally today or next Monday, in my judgment, makes no difference whatever; but we want to be absolutely sure at this time that the action we take is correct. Therefore I ask that this Senate do not endorse the action of the House, and that we insist upon our amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The ayes and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and Mr. FREY.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the Roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, last week I made a motion to discharge the Committee on State Government from further consideration of my resolution authorizing the Public Service Commission to investigate the street car fares in the City of Pittsburgh, especially relating to children's fares. In the City of Pittsburgh, and in Allegheny County, the street car fare for children attending school is eight and one-third cents, and this amounts to $34.00 a year. For a family of three, going to school in Allegheny County, it costs over one hundred dollars in street car fares.

I wish to call the attention of the Senate to some rates in other cities: Birmingham, Alabama, two and one-half cents; Cleveland, Ohio, one cent; Dallas, Texas, three cents. These are for school children—all for school children. Los Angeles, California, three and one-half cents; Newark, New Jersey, three cents; Providence, Rhode Island, four cents; San Francisco, California, two and one-half cents; Chicago, Illinois, three cents.

Now, all this resolution proposes is that the Public Service Commission devote some of its time to investigating the question of street car fares in Allegheny County, as applying to children, and see if we cannot have a reduction of the street car fares in Allegheny County for the children at least.

I wish, therefore, to renew my motion, and ask for immediate consideration.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to inform the Senate that when the previous motion was made, which I believe was on last Monday evening, I stated that I would call a meeting of the Committee on State Government on the following day. Tuesday—that is, yesterday, I did call a meeting of the Committee on State Government. I brought up this bill for the consideration of the Committee, and by consent it was postponed for the present. At that time an effort was made to find my friend, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis. A Democratic member of the Committee came out here on the floor of the Senate and was unable to find him. Therefore, the Committee, having the bill before it, asked that it be postponed to a future date, so that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, could go before the Committee and give his reasons in support thereof. Just a few moments ago the sponsor of the bill came to me and I stated that if I could get the time in today I would call the Committee together to consider the bill.

These are the circumstances, Mr. President, and I announce now that if the Committee is not discharged I will somehow during this day have a meeting of the Committee on State Government, and I hope the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will remain on the floor, because I will now, publicly, notify him to come before the Committee and give his reasons for the bill.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, in support of what already has been said by the Chairman of the Committee on State Government, I would state that I was the Democratic member of the Committee who made an exhaustive search of the Senate Chamber in an effort to find the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, so that he might explain the merits of his resolution before the Committee.

I am sure that the Committee on State Government is desirous of acting on that resolution, if it is definitely well informed on the purport of the resolution. I would, therefore, request, in justice to the Committee, that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, recall his motion until the Committee on State Government meets and he has an opportunity of discussing the merits of the resolution with the Committee.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I will state I was in the Senate all day yesterday, and I never received an invitation to go before the Committee. I certainly would have been glad to appear before the Committee had I been asked. But, Mr. President, this is so simple a proposition that it is, to me, just a camouflage to ask that a hearing be held on this resolution. I have stated here the only reasons I had for this resolution. It is a most simple thing—it is asking the Public Service Commission—there is nothing compulsory about it—it is merely requesting the Public Service Commission to look into the situation in Allegheny County, and that is the whole thing. I don't see what other information I could give that Committee; and I hardly think the Committee is overworked; it has had the resolution for over a month. In the House that resolution was in the Committee just one day. It came out the next day. It has been over here a month, and I am sure the Senators on that Committee are not extremely overworked.

However, I do not wish to put any Senator here on the record, if he does not want to go on record; I am willing again to withdraw my motion and give the Committee a chance to study the resolution—take testimony, if necessary; and I will be glad to appear at any time before the Committee.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, withdraws his motion. Will the seconder of the motion withdraw his seconding of it?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

RECESS

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am about to make a motion that the Senate take a recess until five o'clock, but before doing so I think there ought to be a Committee of Senators appoined to escort the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, to the meeting of the Committee on State Government, in order that he will be sure to get there. I now move that the Senate take a recess until five o'clock.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE SENATE TO HOUSE BILL NO. 53

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 53, entitled:

PRAYER

Reverend WARNER BROWN, pastor of the Mount Zion Baptist Church, Steelton, Pa., offered the following prayer:

O God, Our Father who hast called our nation to a place of trust and responsibility throughout the world, we humbly thank Thee for all the ways in which Thou hast blest and guided us into this day. We confess before Thee with shame all that has been evil in our history and all that even now makes us unworthy to be called a Christian Nation. Take from us, we pray Thee, all pride and greed and injustice, and grant to us the spirit of unselfish service which alone can make us great. And may the love of Christ be so truly shown forth among us that His name may be glorified among all nations. We pray Thee, O God, that a wise and humble spirit may prevail in all the councils of our Nation; that those who bear the rule may be delivered from unscrupulous ambition, selfish rivalries, and false judgments that parents may train up their children in right ways and that children may be taught to face and grapple with the evil that is in the world; that they may grow up a generation to love and praise Thee.

We beseech Thee to hear us, O Lord, that men of wealth and ease may not miss the true end of life; that men of poor and humble lot may keep their self-respect and be preserved from misery and bitterness of soul that social life and industry may be so ordered that one man's good may not be another man's hurt and that all may have their fair share of wealth and freedom. That men and women may eagerly respond to every call to sacrifice and service so that the ends of the earth may be Thy Salvation.

May this Assembly be guided by Thy Spirit in all of its deliberations. Guide the Governor of our Own State in the right way.

We beseech Thee to hear us, O Lord. Amen.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 46, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the purpose of repairing existing dikes and river bank protections and building and constructing new dikes and river bank protections along the Delaware River at Matamoras and Milford Pike County

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise in support of this bill, which I deem very meritorious.

Just as a brief explanation, I point out to the members of the House that this bill is intended to appropriate money to repair the dike system near the borough of Matamoras, which was restroyed or badly damaged in the recent flood and also for the purpose of extending that particular system. The same explanation also applies to the borough of Milford. Both of these boroughs are located in the county of Pike and both boroughs find themselves in a financial condition where they are unable to make the necessary repairs or to do any construction work, and in the event of a succeeding flood both boroughs would be very seriously damaged as a result.

I am, therefore, urging the members of the House and particularly my Democratic colleagues to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

STATEMENT BY MR. COHEN

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the necessities with which the House is confronted insofar as the enactment of Social Security legislation is concerned, make it necessary for the House to stay in session to-day and convene to-morrow morning at 12:01 for another legislative day.

We are confronted with the problem of passing immediately the act which would amend our old age pension law so as to conform with the requirements of the Federal Social Security act. The act has just passed second reading and will be susceptible for final enactment at 12:01 A. M. the next legislative day. We are also confronted with the possibility of a Committee on Conference on the Brancato Bill, which changes the basic law relative to the availability of securing the Mothers Assistance Fund. We yesterday non-concurred with the amendments of the Senate. As I am informed, the non-concurrence will be transmitted to the Senate and the Senate will convene at 2:00 o'clock. There is a great probability that the Senate will not concur in our non-concurrence or will not recede from their amendments, which will confront us with the problem of appointing a conference committee. It is absolutely necessary, in order that the conference committee may function that this House remain in session, so that a conference committee can be appointed and so that the differences existing between the House and the Senate can be ironed out.

In view of that fact it will be necessary that this House during this legislation day remain in continuous call, and I therefore ask the membership of this House to apply themselves diligently to their legislative duties and be in attendance in the House, so that they can be ready at any call to exercise their duties, either in the appointment of a conference committee or the enactment of a bill or whatever steps may be necessary in order to effectually pass this legislation.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and memebrs of the House, speaking particularly to my Republican collegues. I am not going to ask you to attend to your legislative duties diligently, because I assume that to be a fact at all times, I know it to be a fact at all times. I merely want to call your attention to the fact that what the gentleman from York has said is correct, insofar as attendance being necessary for the session to-day and to-morrow, in order to vote on the old age and mothers' assistance bills, and those of you who want to be recorded upon these important pieces of legislation I will ask you to be present.

I may say to you, and I retiterate to my good friend over there, I am not going to lecture you as to what your duties are. I don't think I have the right so to do,—even my Democratic friend on the other side, or even my good friend, Mr. Hoopes, of the Socialist Party. He is waving at me now. I don't know whether he is going this way or that way. You don't have any place to go anyhow,—most of you went out last night, so hang around and have a good time. I want to apologize for being four minutes late this morning.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE WITHDRAWN

Mr. ROBINSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to withdraw my request for leave of absence.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, earlier in the day I requested the membership of this House to remain in session in an effort to pass the Brancato Bill for Mothers' Assistance and the Frey Bill for Old Age Assistance, so that those acts would conform with the Federal Social Security Act. We have been informed, and we still rely on the fact, that it will be necessary to have those bills in Washington by the twentieth of this month. The necessity of those acts being passed by this House by the twentieth is due to the fact that the Federal Social Security Administration will have to be given an opportunity to go over the acts and analyze them and see that they conform with the Federal Social Security Act, so that we will be in a position by June 30th to have our plans and our bills approved by the Social Security Administration and thus participate in these benefits.

However, the Senate has adjourned and it would be useless for us to stay here, due to the fact that the Frey Bill requires a message to the Senate informing them that we have passed that bill without any amendments on our part, and in view of the fact that the conference committee report must be presented both to the House and to the Senate for approval. Consequently there is now nothing that this House can do except to adjourn, but I do feel that the membership should be complimented on their diligence in staying around, in an effort to do something that is necessary.

I, therefore, move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 22, 1936, at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6:01 P. M.) the House adjourned until Monday, June 22, 1936, at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

SENATE

MONDAY, JUNE 22, 1936

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven, when Thy servant David sinned against Thee he returned to Thy side, acknowledged his guilt, received Thy forgiveness and anew experienced the joy of Thy salvation. We, too, have transgressed Thy law and disregarded our obligations to Thee and to one another. Like David may we confess our misdoings and exclaim "Against Thee and Thee only have I sinned and done this evil in Thy sight." None of us can hold up clean hands before Thee. We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God. May two facts stand out before our minds: the fact of sin and the fact of love. The sin is ours—the love is Thine. Because of Thy love forgive our sins. The law of Divine love will solve all problems perplexing the world and bring all factions in state and church together in harmonious union.

May this law rule all our hearts forever more. We ask it in the name of Thy Son. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE STATE TREASURER

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Office of Sate Treasurer, Harrisburg, June 17, 1936

Honorable John G. Homsher
President Pro Tem of the Senate
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. President:

I am in receipt of a copy of the Resolution adopted by the Senate June 17, 1936, requesting the State Treasurer to furnish information to the Senate setting forth the reasons why payments to State-aided Hospitals are not being made as contemplated by the Legislature when the appropriation to such hospitals were made.

I have the honor to advise the Senate, in this connection, that these appropriations have not been paid for the reason that they fall within he classification of non-preferred appropriations, as laid down by the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the case of Commonwealth vs. Liveright, et al., 308 Pa. 35.

In that case the Court held that it was the duty of the fiscal officers to safeguard the ordinary current monthly expenses of government, as preferred appropriations, to be paid prior to those of the non-preferred class, which includes payments to State-aided institutions.

The need, particularly in the case of the hospitals, is acute, and I have on several occasions pointed out the condition of the General Fund, which has made it impossible to pay these appropriations. For some months past we have been unable to meet the requisitions on the General Fund for the payment of preferred obligations, with some $4,901,660 still due the common schools, not to mention many other preferred obligations due and unpaid.

Our situation was intensified this month by the necessity of setting aside $3,000,000,000 of Sinking Fund requirements in connection with the sale last year of 50 million Tax Anticipation Notes. In order to meet this payment and our payroll of June 15th just passed, it was necessary for some weeks to hold up payment of all bills then in the Treasury.

It appears that we will close business on June 30, 1936, with approximately $10,000,000,000 of unpaid bills in the Treasury, plus the other obligations of the General Fund represented by the transfer to it of some $20,000,000 from Special funds of the Commonwealth.

Therefore, under the law, and until such time as the Treasury Department has reasonable assurance of sufficient moneys to meet our preferred appropriations, it is the clear duty of the Treasury Department to safeguard the ordinary current monthly expenses of government. If funds become available no difficulty will be experienced, since no requisitions remain in the Treasury Department more than a few hours, when funds are available for the payment of the same.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES A. WATERS,
State Treasurer.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Office of State Treasurer, Harrisburg, June 22, 1936.

Honorable John G. Homsher
President Pro Tem of the Senate
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. President:

Under date of June 17, 1936, I submitted to you the information requested in the Resolution of the Senate of the same day, with respect to payment to State-aided hospitals.

Subsequently, on June 19 1936, on requisition of the Governor, a transfer of $1,000,000 was made from the State Stores Fund to the General Fund for the purpose of making available sufficient funds to pay the State-aided hospitals and homes. The Treasury Department has accordingly paid the February quarter due the State-aided hospitals and homes, leaving unpaid for the February quarter the payments due State-aided colleges and other miscellaneous institutions.

The payments on account of the above transfer amounted to approximately $730,000, and we now have due the May quarter for all institutions, in addition to the money due State-aided colleges and miscellaneous institutions on the February quarter.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES A. WATERS,
State Treasurer.

Whereas, It is to the best interest of the people of Pennsylvania that such a practice should cease and that employes now on a per diem basis either should be placed on regular salary or dismissed, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate of Pennsylvania, that the Budget Secretary is hereby requested to inform the Senate at the earliest possible moment the number, names and addresses of persons on the payrolls on June 15, 1936, on the per diem basis and the amount of such per diem pay according to the departments in which such persons are employed, and be it further

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, at the session last Monday night, I made the announcement that there will be a meeting of the Finance Committee this Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The meeting was held and it was decided unanimously by the Committee that all bills be postponed for the present and until such time as a subcommittee of the Committee on Finance could arrive at the amount of revenue necessary to be provided at this Session of the Legislature.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BEAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Montgomery will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BEAN. Mr. President, I see by the newspapers today that another Democrat—a 100 per cent. New Dealer on the Federal payroll—has taken a walk. He has taken a walk from Governor's Earle's inflated $55,000,000 direct relief tax program—the one that was $70,000,000, until it was cut down because the Republican majority of this Senate refused to let it pass.

The Democrat I refer to is Mr. Edward N. Jones, State WPA Administrator, close associate of the Governor and the very right arm of Senator Joseph F. Guffey.

Even Mr. Jones has finally renounced the relief program which the Democrats have been trying to force upon the people.

He frankly and openly admitted that the Republican leadership of the Legislature has been justified from the beginning in fighting the Governor's relief estimates. He admits we never needed any $70,000,000 in new taxes and that we don't need $55,000,000 today.

He admitted—what the Republican majority in this Senate has maintained from the very first—that the 175,000 cases on direct relief in Pennsylvania should not be there. He admitted that "in a very short time"—I quote his words "in a very short time"—WPA could take all of the employables from the direct relief rolls and leave only the 22,000 cases of unemployables.

Let me quote in some detail from Mr. Jones's statement because it is the best support of the Republican position that has been made so far. And, because it comes from Mr. Jones, no one can cry it down as a mere Republican defense or alibi.

I quote this from Mr. Jones:

"Had SERB cooperated with WPA, there could have been effected a better distribution of WPA employment which would have been reflected in the reduced cost of direct relief.

"The direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables in a very short time, if there were some State organization that would conscientiously cooperate with WPA."

Do you hear that?—"The direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables, in a very short time."

From the first, the Republican majority in this Senate has been insisting that this very thing could be done, that it should be done. We have pointed out that, as soon as it was done, the State's direct relief burden would fall to almost nothing and that we would not need $70,000,000 in new taxes. No, nor $55,000,000, nor half of that sum.

And what happened?

Democratic members of this chamber took the floor on points of special privilege to charge that, because we were trying to save the taxpayers from unnecessary new burdens, we were vicious, heartless monsters.

The Democratic House assailed us. Democratic spokesmen rose all over the State to shout that we were keeping bread from the mouths of the needy. Democratic newspapers took up these hysterical, unfair cries.

Yes, even the Governor of Pennsylvania attempted to lay the blame upon the Republican Senate majority for what he described as wrecking his greatly needed relief program.

And now Mr. Jones—your Mr. Jones, the Democratic Party's Mr. Jones, Senator Guffey's Mr. Jones and Governor Earle's Mr. Jones—Mr. Jones, the WPA Administrator, high federal employe and New Dealer, comes forword to state: (I quote him again)

"The direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables in a very short time". That is from a New Dealer who knows.

And Mr. Jones is so obviously anxious for this Legislature—which is considering the Governor's relief program—to know that this Earle-demanded appropriation is unnecessary, that he has sent a copy of his statement to every member of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Of course, because Mr. Jones is a strong Democratic partisan—he didn't stop there. He went on to try to blame the Republican Party because the Democratic Federal Administration and the Democratic State Administration have not done their promised job of removing the employable jobless from the direct relief rolls to WPA.

He went on to claim that the Republican Party controls the State Relief Board and that (I quote him again) "sabotage and non-cooperation" by this SERB are responsible for the failure to transfer about 150,000 cases from direct relief to WPA.

It is a strenuous effort that Mr. Jones has made to blame the failure of WPA upon the Republican majority of the Senate.

He has certainly done the very best he could for the Democratic Party. But it isn't very convincing to anybody—least of all to the taxpayers upon whom the Democrats attempted to foist $70,000,000 in new, unnecessary relief taxes.

I think there are a few things to be cleared up here.

First and foremost, if the direct relief rolls can be cleared of all but the unemployables "in a very short time"—and I agree with Mr. Jones that they can be and should be—then why have not efforts been made to clear them.

I am certain that Mr. Jones and Governor Earle are on speaking terms. In fact, I would venture to say that they are quite friendly and that, if Mr. Jones knew something as important as the way to clear the relief rolls, speedily—"in a very short time"—of some 150,000 cases, he probably took the matter up right away with Governor Earle.

There can be no doubt that he took this matter up with Governor Earle at least two months ago—before this Special Session of the Legislature convened. I think we have a right to know why the Governor suppressed this information and why the Governor failed to bring about cooperation between his State Emergency Relief Board and the Federal WPA.

Why didn't the Governor, at that time, do something about removing these 150,000 employables cases from direct relief? Why, instead, did he try to foist $70,000,000 in new taxes upon the people of Pennsylvania?

Why does the Democratic Party want $70,000,000 when its leaders know the amount is not really needed for relief?

Why did the Democratic leadership of the House, which must also have known the truth from Mr. Jones, go ahead and steamroller through the Governor's relief program? Why didn't these Democratic leaders try to save the taxpayers unnecessary expense by working toward the smooth coordination between SERB and WPA which would have removed some 150,000 from the relief rolls?

And, getting close to home, why didn't the Democratic leaders of this Senate take steps to save this money for the taxpayers when it could have been done—as Mr. Jones points out—"by some State organization which would conscientiously cooperate with WPA"?

I fear there is something going on underground in the Democratic leadership—there is something very wrong, when this leadership will conceal information such as Mr. Jones has just made public, and when this leadership will attempt to gouge the people of $70,000,000 in new taxes.

In striking contrast, I must point out the record of the Republican majority in the Senate.

Had the Senate followed the lead of Governor Earle and the Democratic legislators, there would have been a short relief session in which $70,000,000 in new taxes would have been loaded upon the backs of our citizens. There would have been no reduction to $55,000,000. There would have been no 30,000 new WPA jobs. And, most important, Mr. Jones probably never would have revealed the true conditions—that "the direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables, in a very short time."

But the Republican majority demanded the facts.

And now, finally, we are getting them.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I had hoped that further discussion of the relief matter would have been avoided here tonight because some progress has been made towards settling the question. I do want to point out, however, just at this time, the fact that Mr. Jones does say many other things that have not been quoted, that there are 175,000 cases in Pennsylvania on the relief roll, 600,000 people, and the Senator from Montgomery does not point out how these 600,000 people are to be taken care of except as they are being taken care of now. It is well enough to say that these people could have been taken care of had they been put on the WPA, but after all we have a condition here to meet, and that condition is the relief situation in Pennsylvania, the relief set-up, and had the Senator quoted further he would have said that Mr. Jones stated that as a matter of fact the controversy, while it does involve the Democratic Party, literally it is a battle between two Republican subsidiaries of big business of Pennsylvania. On the one hand we have the Republican Senatorial bloc representing the utilities and manufacturing corporations and the great gasoline trusts fighting any and all kinds of relief taxes, and on the other hand the Republican controlled direct relief organization striving to hold together its army of social workers, with which it expects to take over all welfare and unemployment insurance and other State relief activities.

That is the situation we have in the State. Governor Earle's administration came in with the relief situation in the hands of the Republican Party,—it is still there—the head of this relief organization in Pennsylvania is Republican, his predecessors were Republican, and as has been said by Mr. Jones in the same speech, "the State Emergency Relief Administration was created by a Republican Governor and has always been under the direction of a Republican administrator; second, on all local relief boards the majority of members are Republican; third, a majority of the district directors are Republican in Pennsylvania, and, fourth, the entire SERA has consistently opposed" President Roosevelt's policy of relief as against the dole.

That is the situation we have in Pennsylvania, and had the Governor relieved this Republican head and put a Democrat in his place, undoubtedly here tonight we would have been charged with having a Democratic set-up, a political set-up. After all, we have on our side of the House here to battle with the Republican set-up in the relief organization in Pennsylvania, and it is that organization which I understand Mr. Jones is attacking. It is true, and he does say, had he received cooperation from that organization he could have taken over a great many of these people, and in due time perhaps all of them, but he does say at the same moment that there are at the present time 600,000 people in Pennsylvania who are in need of support, and it does seem to me that it does not come with good grace that after having been here for two months and nothing having been done by the Republican side of this Senate, and no real effort having been made to raise any money except $7,000,000, that it does not come with good grace, it seems to me, from them, when after all they control this situation—they control this set-up in every county in Pennsylvania—to say that now we need no money because Mr. Jones in another Department says that we do not have to have the sum that is desired. Had this Republican Senate proceeded to the appointment of the committee that was asked for by the Governor to meet jointly with a committee of the House, and a meeting of the committee had last week, it seems to me some progress would have been made towards relieving the situation. The Senate did not see fit to do that, but rather to come back this week and proceed along the same lines. The only new thing we do have as I see it tonight, is the statement made by Mr. Jones,—we have no more facts before us—plus the statement made by Mr. McClure, from Delaware, that a joint committee has been appointed for the purpose of studying the situation to determine the amount of money necessary and how to raise the money. It seems to me that if the two sides will cooperate in working out or in support of the committee appointed by the Finance Committee, we can arrive at a conclusion with respect to the kind of taxes we need to impose here and the amount that is necessary.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Republican members of the Senate seem to be more familiar with Mr. Jones than I. A few weeks ago they were calling him "Eddie," but tonight "Mr. Jones." I noticed last week and the week before there was rather a harsh tone used toward Mr. Jones; anything he said was not accepted, his statements were bandied about here in the Senate as if "Eddie"—as they called him—was a high-binder and had no business in the State. Tonight the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Bean, is rather anxious and willing to make his political position that of Mr. Jones's. He says to-night that Mr. Jones knows.

There is only one way to prove whether these statements tonight are made for political purposes or are made in sincerity. I suggest to the Republican members, if they believe sincerely the statements Mr. Jones made, if they feel these statements were made by him after careful consideration of all the facts, that, first of all, they made a mistake in spending the money of the State of Pennsylvania for the months of May and June; they should be charged with having been spendthrifts—they having, in their resolution, recited, "Whereas there is necessary for the month of June $4,063,000, we, the Republican Senators, pledge ourselves to pass legislation." And the people of Pennsylvania should charge them with the $4,000,000 they unnecessarily spent last month. They should also charge them with the $3,000,000 they unnecessarily permitted them to spend in the month of May.

And they should go further, and I challenge them to do it,—and that is, to take the position now that Mr. Jones's statement,—take it literally as they are doing now—means that no more money is needed in Pennsylvania for relief. And they can pass a resolution—they certainly know how to draw and pass them; they have the majority vote—in which they would say, "Resolved, That it is the sense of this Senate that there is no more money needed for relief; and we, the Republican Senators, place ourselves on record that we will not vote one penny for relief." If they believe that statement of Mr. Jones's, then that is the position they should take, consistently. I say they have not the courage to do it, because they do not believe the statement.

There are men here from Luzerne County, one county, who know that in Luzerne County there are 8,000 cases today that under no circumstances could be taken over by WPA,—because there are no projects in that county; and I cannot help what Mr. Jones said when he wrote that statement,—I am not interested in statements but in facts.

The Republican Senators have, for two-and-a-half months, been saying we do not need $70,000,000. I never said we did; I said there is evidence that $70,000,000 might be necessary; and I have said before, and I repeat again, I am prepared to vote, upon any statements that are based upon facts, for any amount that the Republican Senators will be good enough to give to the citizens of Pennsylvania who need help; and if these Republican Senators have known so much about the facts, and have been investigating, for two months, how much money is necessary, how much will they give? Do they believe that nothing is necessary? Then they should have the courage of their convictions, and stand guard, as they say they are, for the people of Pennsylvania, and place themselves on record.

This is nothing more than mere talk again. We have had it for two months, and will have it for two months more unless these gentlemen come down to an honest and real search, and decision on the matter. There are people in Pennsylvania who need help,—how many I do not know; the figures are set at 175,000. If these gentlemen can cut the figures down, and have the facts, let them produce them.

If the Republican Senators believe the statements they have made, then I challenge them to act on them, and show they have the courage of their convictions—or show they are convictions—and place themselves on record and say, "We will not vote any money." Then we can go home, and they can take the responsibility.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Last year, at the regular session of the Legislature, the Legislature made and the Governor approved a special appropriation of $50,000.00 to the Department of Mineral Industries in Pennsylvania State College. I think if we were cognizant of the work that has been done in research exploitation of Pennsylvania's mineral resources by this Department with this very meager appropriation, that we would all feel proud of the opportunity, for the first time in the history of this State, of having to vote for money to carry out such research.

I have before me a progress report of the expenditure of the major portion of these funds for the first year of the biennium, together with a brief summary of the work that has been done by the expenditure of these funds, and I would ask unanimous consent, Mr. President, that the report of the expenditure of this appropriation be incorporated in the Journal of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Does that pertain to State College?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, it does.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to this report being inserted in the Journal? The Chair hears none.

The report will be printed in the Journal.

PROGRESS REPORT ON COOPERATIVE MINERAL INDUSTRIES RESEARCH PROGRAM UNDER A SPECIAL APPROPRIATION OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE FOR THE BIENNIUM 1935-1937

The 1935 General Assembly of Pennsylvania enacted Senate Bill 1382 making an appropriation of $150,000 to the trustees of The Pennsylvania State College for the specific use of the School of Mineral Industries during the biennium 1935-1937. The Bill was approved in part by the Governor on July 22, 1935. The only item allowed was Part IV in the bill, appropriating the sum of $50,000 for mineral industries research during the biennium or such fraction thereof as may be required to match moneys received from industry for the same purpose.

During the first year of the biennium, research contributions amounting to $38,382.92 have been received from or pledged by industry. The balance of the $50,000 will be over-subscribed during the second year. The distribution of contributions to date is as follows:

Coal	$14,399.29
Petroleum	7,928.34
Natural Gas	2,786.52
Ceramics	9,100.00
Metallurgy	2,479.87
Miscellaneous	1,638.90
Total	$38,382.92

Five associations, representing the coal, petroleum and natural gas industries and fifteen individual companies are participating in the work.

The cooperative research program has been eminently successful. Substantial progress has been made in the fields of ceramics, fuel technology, metallurgy, mining and geophysics, and petroleum production.

Certain groups in industry are calling upon the School more and more for research and advice on technical problems.

Relations with the cooperating groups always have been cordial and have accomplished two very important results. In the first place, the research grants have enabled the School to render a greater service to the Commonwealth than would otherwise have been possible with the meager research funds available. In the second place, through meetings and research conferences, many industrial leaders have been brought to a sounder appreciation of just what constitutes research and what results may be expected from it.

Pennsylvania, although but thirty-second in size among the states, ranks second in population, wealth, and productive industry. This position is due largely to her mineral industries, a fact so well known as hardly to warrant repetition. However, a few figures may not be amiss.

In 1928 the capital investment in primary mineral industries in Pennsylvania was $2,780,000,000, 41 per cent of the total investment in productive industries.

In 1929 the value of the annual production of the primary mineral industries was over $1,700,000,000.

In 1929 more than 610,000 productive workers were employed in the primary mineral industries of which approximately 300,000 were engaged in coal mining. The dominance of these industries in Pennsylvania extends far beyond the industries themselves. The products of the processing plants are raw materials for many other industries. Some of these make machinery to be used in mining and processing minerals and hence are doubly tied to the mineral industries. Scarcely less dependent are certain types of manufacturing plants, such as the silk mills of the anthracite region, which rely upon the excess of female labor available in mineral industries regions.

However, the influence of these industries in Pennsylvania is by no means limited to mining and manufacturing. Railways depend upon coal for their power, while minerals constitute over three-fourths of their tonnage. Agriculture is affected because the workers in mineral industries constitute a large consuming element of the State's population. Wholesale and retail trade are similarly affected, and so is nearly every other economic activity. Mineral industries are the heart of Pennsylvania's economic development.

Attention is called to the rapid increase in mineral use in the World, and, particularly, in the United States, within the past several decades. This increase has been markedly less within the last five years and there are indications that the rate of increase will, even after the present depression is over, continue less than it formerly was. The alarming factor in this trend is that Pennsylvania's proportion of the United States total for many of the mineral industries is decreasing. and with the decrease is also going the wealth of the State. A comparison of the 1919 and 1929 figures for value created by the principal mining and primary mineral processing industries represented in the State is illuminating in ths regard. In the period referred to the value created by this group of industries in Pennsylvania declined about 5 per cent.; the value created by this same group of industries in the United States as a whole increased about 26 per cent. The State is apparently suffering more of a decline in its mineral industries than is the nation as a whole, and this decline is going on in almost every one of the State's mineral industries, excepting perhaps ceramics.

Since Pennsylvania depends extensively upon her mineral industries, the fact that she is losing ground in her relative importance in these industries in the United States is a serious matter. Without her mineral industries Pennsylvania would be but a minor state, since there would be little reason for the development of other manufacturing industries, and since much of the State's area is unsuited both by topography and by soil for the development of high-grade agriculture. It seems clear, therefore, that attention should be focused on the mineral industries, and that they should be accorded the treatment which their importance to the State justifies.

The Commonwealth is paying the penalty of pioneering. With many of her mineral resources the higher quality and more easily recoverable deposits are being depleted. In order to maintain her position she must make up in inventive genius and intelligence of operation what she is lacking in natural advantage. Research is, therefore, imperative.

Additional funds are urgently needed for many fundamental research problems that are of paramount economic importance to Pennsylvania. Among these are such long range projects as involve ultimate recovering of more petroleum from the ground, hydrogenation of coal to increase its sphere of utilization, deformation of metals at high temperatures, benefication of iron ores and clays, study of building stones and slates; and search for new, deep seated deposits of useful ores by the new methods of geophysical prospecting. Research of this character will aid future planning and should lead to new industries.

As pointed out before, the natural mineral resources are the basis for Pennsylvania's present prominent position in the industrial world. Enough of these resources are still left, if they are properly utilized, to insure the State's maintenance of a leading position for many years. How many years she will maintain this position, or how much actual prosperity Pennsylvania will derive from her natural gifts, are matters which lie in the hands of her people.

Mr. Van Sickle asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. ACHTERMAN for the week on account of death in the family.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Bernhard, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in last Tuesday's Harrisburg papers appeared an article which I would like to read, the title of which is, "Legislator obtained free hospital service for sixty-nine persons, Pennington says."

The article then goes on to say as follows:

"Charges were made today by Secretary of Welfare John D. Pennington that a Republican legislator, Frank Bernhard, Carbon County, had received free service at the Hazleton State Hospital for sixty-nine persons.

Secretary Pennington suspended Delilah M. Wagner, revenue agent of the hospital, accusing her of having authorized $2239.50 worth of hospital service for the sixty-nine patients.

Assemblyman Bernhard, according to the head of the Welfare Department, had written letters in each of the sixty-nine cases, calling attention to the need for hospital service without charge on the ground that the patient was unemployed or had only a small income. The Secretary said that Miss Wagner made no investigation of the ability of the patients to pay for hospitalization after receiving the Bernhard letters.

The institution, known as a "miners' hospital," is supported by the Commonwealth. Pennington said a large part of the cost of the treatment of the cases referred to the hospital by the Carbon legislator could have been collected from the patients had the attempt been made. He directed the board of trustees of the hospital to investigate the matter at once and take action.

The Hazleton Hospital is the fourth to be affected by the checkup of alleged maladministration in State institutions, ordered by Governor Earle. Secretary Pennington has previously ordered the dismissal of the superintendents of the Shamokin and Philipsburg State Hospitals and the chief surgeon of the Blossburg State Hospital for irregularities."

After my Republican friends read that article they jokingly remarked to me, "You must have some kind of a drag with the Democratic Administration in which you are able to get sixty-nine Republicans into a hospital for free hospitalization."

I want to disillusion my Republican friends and I would also like to enlighten my Demorcatic friends on the situation.

After serving the Hazleton State Hospital faithfully for a member of years in the capacity of Revenue Agent, Miss Wagner has been discharged by Mr. Pennington, Secretary of the Welfare Department. The reason given with the view to justifying his action is that Miss Wagner authorized free service for sixty-nine cases "at the request of Bernhard, Republican Representative for Carbon County." Mr. Pennington contends that, if Miss Wagner had investigated the cases, a large part of the money could have been collected.

In assuming such an attitude, Mr. Pennington has committed a colossal blunder, which evidences the fact that he does not practice what he preaches. Why did not he himself make a thorough investigation before dismissing her? In fairness to Miss Wagner, why did he not give her a hearing? Was she not entitled to a hearing, and was he not honor bound to give her a hearing? This, however, he did not do, but resorted to political tactics of the most petty variety by stressing the point that free service was authorized "at the request of Representative Bernhard, Carbon Republican." His sole purpose apparently was to influence the public to believe that the patients involved were Republicans. Had Mr. Pennington—the advocate of investigation—been in possession of all the facts, he would never have dared to give this matter such publicity, and would have hesitated before dismissing Miss Wagner on such flimsy pretext. He would have waited until he had something more tangible.

For the information of Mr. Pennington, and for the enlightment of the public, I would state that practically all of the sixty-nine patients were Democrats; that they were either unemployed or had a small income. I would further state that some of them were recommended by a clergyman who is a loyal Democrat; that others were recommended by physicians who are staunch Democrats, but that the vast majority of them were recommended by an outstanding leader of the Democratic Party in Carbon County who has expressed his willingness to testify in this matter. These loyal Democrats had a perfect right to intercede for needy people, and I, a Republican, regard it as my bounden duty to intercede in behalf of suffering humanity regardless of whether they are Democrats or Republicans. I took the word of a Democrat clergyman; I took the word of Democratic physicians; I took the word of an outstanding leader of the Democratic Party for Carbon County—all of them reputable gentlemen—and passed that word on to Miss Wagner, and she was discharged by Mr. Pennington for accepting it. Think of it! Miss Wagner was discharged by a Democratic Secretary of Welfare because she accepted the recommendation of prominent Democrats in behalf of poor, needy, suffering Democrats, at the request of a Republican representative. There was nothing wrong in my accepting the word of these prominent and reputable Democrats especially where human suffering was involved; there was surely nothing wrong in Miss Wagner accepting my word in this matter; but there was something wrong in the action by Mr. Pennington in dismissing Miss Wagner under such circumstances.

At the beginning of this session, Governor Earle took the word of Dr. DeSchweinitz which was to the effect that $70,991,000.00 would be needed for relief. He now finds that only $55,000,000 is required for such purpose—a difference of merely $16,000,000. Did Governor Earle dismiss Dr. DeSchweinitz because the doctor did not go to Washington at the beginning of the session to make a thorough investigation with the view to ascertaining if 30,000 people could be put to work? Certainly not. It would have been absurd to do so. Yet Mr. Pennington cold-bloodedly dismissed Miss Wagner for not investigating the sixty-nine cases, practically all Democrats, in which not $16,000,000 were involved but the trivial amount of $2239.50. This surely is a case of "straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel."

Why do we have State Hospitals? For what purpose were they brought into being? Was it not to minister to the physical needs of suffering humanity? Was it not because we regard the health of our citizens as our greatest asset? Was it not to give hospitalization to those in urgent need of it regardless of their ability or inability to pay?

Miss Wagner, who served the Hazleton State Hospital with the utmost faithfulness for several years, was dismissed by Mr. Pennington without just cause. He had to give a reason for his action and the reason he gave is a grave reflection upon the character and reliability of prominent and reputable Democratic leaders. The fact of the matter, however, is that Miss Wagner was discharged so that her position could be given to a Democrat. Such a procedure is now regarded as general under the present Democratic regime. Service, ability and character evidently mean nothing when Mr. Pennington goes scalp-hunting. Both he and his colleagues have presumed to inject petty politics into institutions that Americans hitherto regarded as sacred. The Coaldale State Hospital is one of the most outstanding examples of such despicable tactics.

I would like to read to you an editorial on that same question to bring to your attention what I have in mind. This appeared in the Allentown Morning Call, and was written by Dr. Shifferstine, of Lansford, Pennsylvania. The article is as follows:

"Editor, the Morning Call.

Every institution is the elongated shadow of one man. A political system may displace that man, but his shadow will always be reflected in the institution.

As our politicians saw fit to release our Dr. E. E. Shiffenstine as the head of the Coaldale Hospital, which he managed since its inception, the writer desires to give the doctor full credit for the great work he has accomplished and the good work he did during the quarter century of his service. It is to be regretted that, not only at Coaldale but in many other parts of the state, politics have entered institutions that heretofore were free to go forward uninterruptedly in their missions of mercy.

As the career of Dr. Shifferstine has been such an outstanding one, in which his very life was wrapped for the success of the Coaldale hospital, let me here recount how he gradually achieved even more than he had started out to do. A graduate of the Tamaqua High School in 1891, he matriculated in the University of Pennsylvania in 1895. This was followed by his serving an interneship in the Ashland hospital where he also served as assistant surgeon from 1900 to 1903. After a year of studying in Germany, he returned to Tamaqua and began the practice of his profession.

He quickly recognized the needs of the community. Before him was a community of some 7200 people who had no direct hospital service. The idea soon grew into action and gathering a responsive people about him, they began the erection of a thirty bed hospital. Those were interesting days when miners, business men and professional men and women as well as laborers all joined hands to establish an institution which meant so much too for the health of their people. The first hospital building was valued at $32,500. Then there were three nurses. The value of the buildings today is estimated to be about $700,000; there are over one hundred beds, twenty-two nurses and a directress.

In his capacity as superintendent and head surgeon, there was a distinct saving, for he had supervised the enlargement and improvements from time to time and conducted it in a frugal yet progressive manner. A dollar had to do its full duty under him and he even accumulated a substantial fund for special purposes in the hospital.

In 1914, plans were made for enlarging the building and in 1932 the new nurses' home was completed. The physiotherapy department was remodeled in 1933 and the general standard of the hospital kept it in the front ranks of the hospitals in the State. That the work of the doctor was recognized throughout the State is evidenced by the honor paid him by his co-workers from many sections. As a member of the American College of Hospital administrators, he contributed substantially and his counsels were sought. He also did a valuable service for the hospitals of the State. As the head of the hospital association he visited over a hundred hospitals bringing back the new things he had learned and used them at his hospital. His association with the Lehigh Valley Medical association of which he was honored with the presidency gave him fine contacts. His address at the dedication of the Good Samaritan hospital at Pottsville was an outstanding production.

His remarkable work along surgical lines in the Coaldale Hospital is history. The very growth of the hospital is the best evidence of his remarkable career. He had done a full man's job and more during the year he served the hospital and saved money for the community and the State. As an administrator and a surgeon he has established himself in the minds and hearts of the people of his section and equally so as their friend. He served unselfishly and accomplished much. His name will always be held in high esteem and he will always be remembered as the founder and the builder of our hospital and the one whose shadow will always be reflected there. He has accomplished a life work, but being still in his prime let us hope he may continue his practice right here in his old home town where he won his laurels.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that is exactly where he is today, where he started. After building this hospital, and serving in the capacity as administrator and surgeon, he is back to where he started thirty odd years ago. That is the story of the Coaldale State Hospital.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the first time I have been on the floor of this House, and I hope to have you bear with me for a minute longer. I want to read to you an article that appeared in last week's paper, dated June 18th. This article appeared in an edition of the Philadelphia Inquirer and reads as follows:

"Governor Earle's own appointees to the Board of Trustees of the Shamokin State Hospital have charged political interference with the institution by the State Administration.

The charges, aimed directly at Commander John D. Pennington as Secretary of Welfare, accuse him of being "inhuman" and "dictatorial" and moved by politics in the shake-up of the hospital's staff which Pennington recently ordered.

The accusations are made in a resolution in which the Earle appointed Democratic trustees of the institution demand the Governor investigate Pennington.

The protest to the Governor was made at the insistence of Judge Herbert W. Cummings, Sunbury, Democratic jurist whom Governor Earle elevated to the Northumberland County bench last year. Judge Cummings as a member of the Hospital Board of Trustees, to which Earle also named him, sponsored the resolution which was seconded by J. Paul Garrett, another trustee. Jacob E. Leisenring, chairman of the board, also a prominent Northumberland county Democrat and was a candidate for State Senate in the April primary.

The trustees' protest is the result of the Welfare Secretary's recent action in forcing resignation of the hospital's superintendent, Dr. George W. Reese, and dismissal of the superintendent's son, Dr. George G. Reese, and ordering them to vacate their living quarters in the 60-bed hospital. When the trustees objected to the action, they said Pennington curtly told them to submit or he would have the Governor oust them and name a new board.

The trustees, instead of bending the knee, appealed to the Governor themselves, and demanded Pennington's action be investigated. Instead of waiting for Pennington to get the Governor's ear first, the trustees sent their own version to Earle in a resolution which contained this meaty paragraph:

"It is plain to the board that John D. Pennington, Secretary of Welfare is inhuman and does not have the interest of the patients at that institution at heart, but he is moved politically without consideration of the welfare of the institution; that he has taken a dictatorial position and has advised members of the Board of Trustees that in the event of their failure to act in accordance with his dictatorship he would have the Governor dismiss the board and a new board appointed; that we as a board condemn the action of John D. Pennington, Secretary of Welfare, and request the Governor to cause an investigation of the action of John D. Pennington, relative to said hospital."

May I say, in the joking manner of today, "I will say, 'Flash, Flash, investigator being investigated.'" That tells you the story of the two hospitals. It would seem to me that Mr. Pennington, the advocate of investigation, is the one who should be investigated. He should be compelled not only to reinstate Miss Wagner but to tender to her an apology for his unwarranted action. Justice demands it, and any fair-minded gentleman would humbly, readily and gladly offer it.

Had Mr. Pennington investigated the case, he would have learned that the request of Bernhard the Republican was in reality the request of prominent Democratic leaders made solely in the interests of poor, needy, suffering Democrats, as was also the action of Miss Wagner, and the probability is that he would have acted with greater caution and prudence. However, by injecting petty politics into this picture, Mr. Pennington has broken down a few more palings in the political fence which the Democratic State Chairman will find difficult, if not impossible, to repair. "With what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again." "The harvest is surely coming, you'll reap whatsoever you sow."

Mr. Pennington sought to make political capital at the expense of Bernhard the Republican legislator from Carbon County, but in doing so the truth has been revealed and the fact established that Bernhard (unlike Pennington) gives sympathetic and just consideration to the needs of all the people in the County of Carbon which he has the honor to represent and without regard to their political affiliation.

May I add in conclusion, you will note that Judge Cummings has sent his resignation to Governor Earle, because even good Democrats cannot stand that kind of treatment. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The remarks under this question of personal privilege will be spread upon the record.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED ON DEATH OF GROVER C. TALBOT

Mr. NOTHNAGLE offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

In the House of Representatives, June 22, 1936.

Whereas, There come to the membership of this House of Representatives from time to time, men, who by their unusual ability, their magnetic personality and their sympathetic understanding of the problems of their fellow members rise to unusual heights in their lifetime and thereby reflect great credit to this body and to this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The grim hand of the Great Reaper frequently and without warning snatches from our midst these distinguished comrades before they have yet reached the pinnacle of success, thereby depriving the Commonwealth and its communities of the useful services of such men; and

Whereas, On December 21, 1935, there came to his untimely death our former colleague, Grover Cleveland Talbot, who brought to this House unusual honor through his services both as a member and as Speaker; and

Whereas, There shall ever remain in the memory of the Members of this House who were his comrades, the unusual character of Grover C. Tabot; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives express its deep and sincere sorrow for the death of Grover C. Talbot and direct the Chief Clerk to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the mother and other relatives of our deceased brother who will always be remembered as a man of great understanding and sympathy, whose motto was:

"Let me live in a house
By the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by
The men that are good
And the men that are bad
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorner's seat
Nor wield the scepter's ban
Let me live in a house
By the side of the road,
And be a friend to man."

STATEMENT BY MR. YOURISHIN

Mr. YOURISHIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was indeed surprized to hear my good friend, the gentleman from Carbon, read the statement that he did, with reference to the Hazleton Hospital, and especially the statement concerning Miss Wagner. Whether or not the gentleman from Carbon has submitted sixty-nine letters, asking for free treatment, the fact still remains to one who has been going into the Hazleton Hospital for the past fifteen or twenty years knowing that Miss Wagner all the time she has been there and especially in the past seven or eight years, has shown favors, not only to Republicans but to Democrats as well, so long as they were her particular friends. I dare say while it is a miners' hospital, I know of specific cases where men were taken in there from the mine injured, barely able to make a living, and when they came out of the hospital Miss Wagner insisted that they pay their bill. I also know of specific cases where people were taken to the hospital, who were able to pay, well able to pay, but who were friends of Miss Wagner and never paid their hospital bills.

Whether or not Doctor Pennington has fired Miss Wagner just for the reason that the gentleman from Carbon has submitted sixty-nine letters,—whether or not,—God knows I have submitted one hundred sixty-nine letters and that plenty of patients have received free treatment. But I do know that Miss Wagner has been very partial in the Hazleton Hospital, and if she has been fired, so far as I am personally concerned, I think it is the best thing that has ever happened to the Hazleton Hospital.

STATEMENT BY MR. BERNHART

Mr. BERNHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't know Miss Wagner. I have been in the Hazleton Hospital twice in my life. But it seems to me peculiar that out of all of the thousands and thousands and thousands of free cases that have been handled in the Hazleton Hospital, I should have been singled out for these sixty-nine cases. That is the peculiar situation that I am faced with. Am I the only one, or it is just because I am a Republican? I cannot understand it, and out of fairness to Miss Wagner, certainly she should have been given the courtesy of a defense, which was not granted to her in this particular situation in which she finds herself, because Dr. Pennington, and I wont even say Dr. Pennington, Commander Pennington did not investigate these cases. I want to reiterate that had he investigated the cases, he would have found out that even the Democratic County Chairman concedes that eighty percent were Democrats and I am sure he would not have been so hasty in dismissing Miss Wagner.

RESOLUTION

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution, and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk for the information of the House as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 22, 1936.

Whereas, it was estimated by the State Emergency Relief Board that six million, eighty-six thousand, two hundred eleven dollars ($6,086,211), in addition to the sum of eight hundred forty-five thousand dollars ($845,000), estimated to lapse on the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, out of prior funds available for unemployment relief would be necessary for unemployment relief purposes for the month of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, and

Whereas, the General Assembly by Resolution Serial No. 13, approved by the Governor June 2, 1936, made available to the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes, the sum of four million, eight-six thousand, two hundred eleven dollars ($4,086,211), and, in addition, any prior funds appropriated to the board for unemployment relief purposes that remained unobligated and unexpended on May 31, 1936, and

Whereas, it now develops that the funds made available to the State Emergency Relief Board as aforesaid will be exhausted on or about the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six,

Therefore, be it resolved (if the Senate concur), that the General Assembly hereby authorizes the Governor and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth to transfer to the General Fund the sum of two million dollars ($2,000,000) from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund and the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) from the Liquor License Fund, and hereby makes available to the State Emergency Relief Board the aggregate sum of three million dollars ($3,000,000) for unemployment relief purposes, and

Resolved, that the General Assembly hereby pledges that it will pass at this session of the General Assembly appropriate legislation (1) validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making the transfers authorized by this resolution, (2) appropriating to the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes the sum of three million dollars ($3,000,000) and (3) providing revenue by taxation or otherwise to repay moneys transferred by authority of this resolution from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund and the Liquor License Fund.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the resolution states: "Whereas, it now develops that the funds made available to the State Emergency Relief Board as aforesaid will be exhausted on or about the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six." Does the gentleman have any figures, accurate figures, to tell us just how much money has been used to date and how much money still remains in the State Emergency Relief Board.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, last Wednesday, prior to the adjournment, there was in preparation at that time this identical resolution. Due to the adjournment on the part of the Senate, it was impossible to pass the resolution and there was no necessity to have the resolution introduced at that time, it being a concurrent resolution.

However, the amount of money that has been expended for the month of June so far amounts to approximately four million nine hundred and sixteen thousand dollars. Those moneys were expended begining with the first of June and will expire on June 23, 1936, or tomorrow. At the expiration of June 23rd, there will be no moneys left in the State Emergency Relief Board with which to conduct its functions.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the figure of four million nine hundred sixteen thousand dollars to be the figure submitted by Dr. De Schweinitz to the gentleman in connection with the amount of moneys that shall have been expended up until the twenty-third of June, 1936?

Mr. COHEN. That figure, Mr. Speaker, represents the actual transfer by resolution No. 18, in the actual sum of four million eighty-six thousand two hundred eleven dollars, plus the unexpended balance of approximately eight hundred fifty thousand dollars. Those figures added together and the figures that I have indicated represent the amount of moneys expended during the month of June, 1936.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, this resolution that has been introduced refers in its preamble to the month of June and then subsequently refers to an additional appropriation of three million dollars. Is it the thought of the gentleman that that three million dollars is for the balance of the month of June?

Mr. COHEN. It is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, what is the gentlemen's thought.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, it is my thought that the three million dollars will be utilized by the State Emergency Relief Board in the same manner that the four million nine hundred thousand dollars plus was utilized by the State Emergency Relief Board as long as it will go. It has been the recommendation of the entire State Emergency Relief Board that the sum of six million dollars be appropriated for the functions of the board. However, it is becoming gradually more difficult to find funds that are susceptible of transfer, and as the result the resolution, as it is now presented, was presented in the sum of three million dollars rather than six million dollars. This three million dollars will be utilized by the State Emergency Relief Board both for the remaining days of June and as far as it will go into the month of July.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose this resolution in its present form for this reason: whereas the gentleman from York states that the three million dollars is to be appropriated to the State Emergency Relief Board for as long as it lasts, nevertheless his statement does not conform to his resolution, and whereas his statement is a perfectly justifiable one, his resolution does not bespeak nor support his statement, because it very specifically provides, at the very beginning of the resolution, that we are legislating for the month of June. He argued so himself on the floor of this House, and should time permit I could quote from his arguments, because when the Senate had a resolution amended in exactly the same form, he argued that the sum for unemployment relief was limited to a particular month, so that the gentleman now asks for three million dollars, in my judgment, in this resolution for the balance of the month of June, although his explanation is contradictory.

Now, let us examine the figures. In the short time that has been given to me, we've endeavored by quick arithmetic to get the facts. The facts are these: I computed upon the basis of a figure of four million nine hundred thirty-one thousand two hundred and eleven dollars, and I divided it by twenty-three days. The result was two hundred fourteen thousand four hundred dollars per day that was expended for the month of June. That figure would have to be cut down considerably, because of spending four million—I withdraw that—not "considerably" but "somewhat", because the gentleman's figures are five hundred sixteen thousand and not nine hundred thirty-one thousand—it doesn't make much difference. There are seven days after the twenty-third of June, and if by simple arithmetic you multiply two hundred and fourteen thousand four hundred dollars by seven for the balance of the month of June, you reach the figure of one million five hundred thousand eight hundred dollars, more or less by a few pennies. What is the net result? We are now asked to transfer three million dollars when, according to the expenditures that are being made per day, we would only need for the balance of the month of June approximately a million and a half dollars. It is quite simple to see the reason for this particular figure: because if you put in a large figure then when you cut it down, you cut it down less, and I have doubt that the gentleman feels that if he asks for three million dollars and then it is amended, it will go down to the figures that he wants.

The peculiar part about the whole thing is this: that the Emergency Relief Board itself does not ask for this figure, even upon the gentleman's own statement, because the figure for the month of June submitted to us in May totalled six million nine hundred thirty-one thousand two hundred and eleven dollars as computed by taking the six million eighty-six thousand two hundred and eleven dollars and adding thereto ninety-eight hundred and forty-five thousand lapsed funds.

Now, they come along and say, we don't want six million nine hundred thirty-one thousand two hundred and eleven dollars, but we want seven million nine hundred thirty-one thousand two hundred and eleven dollars, because the figure already appropriated of four million nine hundred thirty-one thousand two hundred and eleven dollars plus the three million contained in this bill, would increase the appropriation for the month of June to seven million nine hundred thirty-one thousand two hundred and eleven.

I listened with a great deal of interest last week to His Excellency, the Governor, telling us how much better things were getting. He made what I considered a national political Democratic speech at a joint assembly of this House and the Senate. He told us that times were getting so much better, that, thank God, we could cut down on the amount of money necessary for direct relief. So, the way to cut it down is simply to add three million dollars more than what is needed in May of 1936. These are inescapable facts, and figures don't lie.

I don't know who is right in the controversy that is now existent between the Federal WPA Administrator or our State Emergency Relief Director. I do hope that when they both get done finding mistakes in each other's methods of administering both direct relief and WPA, we may get the truth. I marvel at Mr. Jones. I don't take sides with Doctor De Schweinitz, but I do say, as a fact, that the only criticism that I have found or heard against the State Emergency Relief Board has been its large and overwhelming administration costs, upwards of nine hundred thousand dollars per month it costs us to administer relief, but I have heard considerable criticism concerning WPA. At least Doctor De Schweinitz has never refused or never failed to give this House information concerning the workings of his department. He is an Earle appointee, he is part and parcel of the Democratic State Administration. Mr. Jones nor none of the other Democratic chieftains can divorce him by words from the Democratic Administration at Harrisburg. He is their baby, so to speak, and they have to hold on to him. But I say, in all fairness to him, he has not concealed the facts.

Mr. Jones cannot brag about the same thing. He has concealed them and he has fought it—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, will state his point of order.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe there is anything contained in this resolution that has anything to do with the WPA. It is a transfer of funds to the State Emergency Relief Board, and I think the gentleman should leave the WPA out of it. That is a Federal affair and not a State affair.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken and the Chair will read from Jefferson's Manual:

"Freedom of speech and debate in the House of Representatives should never be denied or abridged, but freedom of speech in debate does not mean license to indulge in personal abuse or ridicule. The right of the members of two Houses to criticize official acts of executive officers is beyond question."

Therefore, the point of order is not well taken and the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, what the gentleman has very correctly stated in raising his point of order is what I am complaining about; leave the WPA out of it. That is the howl and the cry of every Democratic chieftain in Pennsylvania. However, in arguing that a certain amount of money is too large an amount for appropriation, it is well to stop and think and to ascertain whether or not direct relief is being properly administered.

I do not know the facts, because it is so difficult to get the facts, but Mr. Jones, whether he is right or wrong, says this:

"Weeks ago SERA was told that a superficial investigation by WPA had indicated that there were over 50,000 WPA cases that could be exchanged for larger family units on direct relief with a resultant saving to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania of $2,500,000 per month.

But SERA was not interested.

Weeks ago, SERA was notified that there were tens of thousands of WPA workers from families in which several other members had secured employment in private industry.

SERA was told that if they would investigate these cases and request it, these workers would be dropped and their places filled from the direct relief rolls.

But SERA was not interested."

Now, members of the House, I am frank to say that I do not believe Mr. Jones, because I can't believe a man who won't give facts; I cannot put credence in a statement of a gentleman who refuses to give us the necessary information, but I do say that where there is smoke there is fire or where there is smoke, fire is more likely to eminate from that smoke. So, I suggest to the gentlemen of the Federal Emergency WPA administration and the Director of the State Emergency Relief Board that they get together and give us the facts.

If Jones is right, then we have been appropriating and wasting millions of dollars in Pennsylvania. If Jones is not right, then of course, Dr. DeSchweinitz would at least be vindicated insofar as his administration of direct relief is concerned, because you can't escape the fact that the proper administration of WPA is directly connected with the proper administration or direct relief, because the more people taken off direct relief and put on WPA, the less people in Pennsylvania will we have to supply direct relief to. So, if you Democrats will spend more of your time in endeavoring to bring this controversy to an issue—

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Schrope, will state his question of information.

Mr SCHROPE. In view of the fact, Mr. Speaker, that we have heard this speech on five Monday nights in succession, is it not possible, Mr. Speaker, to declare a recess for the House and have the gentleman from Philadelphia speak to the gallery?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia is entitled to be heard. The question before the House is the adoption of the resolution. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not blame the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Schrope, for making that statement. It has no basis of sense, but I don't blame him for making it, but when several of the Democrats here show that they can think no better by applauding it, then I say I am astounded. However, that is not the question. I am perfectly willing to stop these speeches on one condition. I will stop them when and only when they open up the bag, the concealed bag, and let out the facts. When they do that, then I will not be able to yell about concealment, fraud, debauchery, trickery, and the endeavor to fool and bewilder the taxpayers of Pennsylvania. Until then, God having given me the power of speech, I will use it to your discomfort, because I see many of you wriggling in your chairs.

I say, very courteously, to my Democratic colleagues that if an endeavor to stop the effect of what I say concerning direct relief and WPA is going to be made by your making a noise, or hissing, and you want to indulge or engage in a hissing contest, we eighty-eight members on this side of the House can yell just as loud when you get up, and they will take themselves down on a football field and vie with you even at that, but you are not going to stop what I have to say if I have to stay here all night.

Now, members of this House, to those of you that are capable of understanding and those who are not, may I say this: that when you give us the facts, you will find that you are wasting the taxpayer's money. You know you are wasting it but at the present time you don't seem to be able to do anything about it, the reason you don't seem to be able to do anything about it, in my judgment, is because you don't stop to give it the proper deliberation of your own free will and accord. If you did that, you should be agreeing with me. In your hearts I know you agree with me. I dare say that most of the Democratic members in this House believe that concealment of facts from a legislative body is something that ought to be looked upon with askance. You know it. If you don't, you ought to know it.

Now, Jones and De Schweinitz are arguing. While they are arguing, we are here to appropriate money. The Republican minority of this House wants to appropriate every dollar of relief necessary. We want to feed the hungry and the starving. We have just as much humanity within our hearts and within our souls as the Democrats do. You are making political capital out of it. We are making political capital out of the fact that you are extravagently wasting money. Your own Democrats are saying that you are doing it. Jones has indicted De Schweinitz and says that he is wasting two million five hundred thousand dollars a month. Laugh all you want; ridicule all you want, but the Federal Administrator of the WPA, of the United States Government, appointed by President Roosevelt, says that you are wasting two million five hundred thousand dollars per month and indicted your State Emergency Relief Director. You ought to ascertain in his defense whether he is wasting that two million five hundred thousand dollars or whether he is not wasting it. If he is wasting it, he ought to go, and if he is not wasting it Jones ought to go. One of them must go. Which one shall it be. Get the facts and then you can make the proper decision. You won't know until you get the facts. I now charge that the man who stops the facts from coming to light is the man who makes the accusation, and it ill becomes the man to accuse, to hide behind legal technicalities, as you would call them. He ought to come out in the open and indict those people who ought to be indicted for malfeasance or misfeasance in office.

In conclusion, I want to say that insofar as the figures are concerned, in my judgment, three million dollars is not the proper amount. I do not know what is the proper amount, but we should not go beyond the request made by the State Emergency Relief Board, and if that request is complied with, it would be one million five hundred thousand eight hundred dollars, and we have no right to appropriate three million by resolution or otherwise.

The day will soon come in the State of Pennsylvania when Pennsylvanians will rise and say that they are sick and tired not in hearing me for five Monday nights but that they are sick and tired of this waste, that they are sick and tired of the insinuations of the administrative pot calling the kettle black, although in that statement I do not mean to refer to Doctor De Schweinitz, because the only charge I have to make and have found against him is that the administrative costs are much too large, that the nine hundred thousand dollars a month ought to be cut down. If the indictment is true, then he should be asked to go. If it not true, then he should stay.

I ask the members of this House to vote down this resolution, because it appropriates much more money than should be appropriated, and because we, the Republican minority, want to give the people of Pennsylvania what they need to feed the needy and the hungry and not a penny to waste extravagantly, to build up a political machine, and to that end we will continue to fight as long as this session lasts and even after that.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia relative to his factual remarks in distinction to his political remarks. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia explain for the benefit of the House where in this resolution it is stated that these funds are appropriated for the month of June, 1936, in contradistinction to the appropriation for an indefinite period of time?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in doing so, I will use the argument of the gentleman, when he was arguing the same way I did. In the first paragraph there is a preamble that refers to $6,086,211 for unemployment relief that would be necessary for the month of June, 1936. Then the gentleman goes on, and in the third whereas clause he says, "Whereas, it now develops that the funds made available to the State Emergency Relief Board as aforesaid will be exhausted on or about the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six." I take it that the words "as aforesaid" refer distinctly and definitely to the month of June, although in the final clause you use the words "For unemployment relief purposes" without specifying the time. And nevertheless a document, as the gentleman knows and ought to know, has to be taken in its entirety, and in its entirety it become very plain and evident that it is the intention of this House, if it passes this resolution, to appropriate $3,000,000 for the balance of the month of June, and I may recall to the gentleman from York, if I am not incorrect, that he used the identical argument and used the same language here when the Senate amended one of his bills.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has cited the third whereas clause and the appropriation of funds "as aforesaid," referring to the first paragraph. On close reading of the third whereas clause, does not the "as aforesaid" refer to the moneys that were made available under Resolution Serial No. 18, which appears in the second whereas clause and not in the first whereas clause?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would have to be a Houdini to be able to differentiate as to whether the "aforesaid" refers to the first or second paragraph. The word "aforesaid," as I understand the English language, refers to anything that goes before it, and the two paragraphs going before refer to $6,086,211 and to $4,086,211, so that "aforesaid" must necessarily, by the use of Webster's dictionary, refer to one or both of the first and second paragraphs.

Mr. COHEN. My Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia in which paragraph, the first or second whereas clause, the money is made available.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would say that in the first two paragraphs the money is made available, because the first paragraph speaks of the estimate of the State Emergency Relief Board, and the second paragraph speaks of an appropriation in a lesser sum, but you have here in the first paragraph "out of prior funds available for unemployment relief," and I call your attention to the fact that the moneys were made available, $845,000 was made available even before the month of June, before the month of May, so that your available clause refers to the $845,000, which is made part and parcel of your whole sum.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if his objection to the resolution, relative to the time of limitation of the appropriation would be removed by striking from the resolution the entire first paragraph?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would answer that by saying that it would be less acceptable. In other words, I believe this: that when we appropriate for the month of July, we ought to have before us some data for the month of July. I am opposed at this moment to appropriating money for the month of July, because I do not have as yet—you may have it—information as to the cost for the month of July. I do not know whether it has been furnished to the membership of this House; I believe it has not, and the State Emergency Relief Director ought to give us something to show us what we need for July, because if what Governor Earle has said in his speech is true, we will hardly need any money because business is getting better and we won't have to appropriate half as much.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, then do I understand that the objection of the gentleman from Philadelphia to this resolution is because there is supposedly a time limitation, and if that time limitation were removed he would still object, because there was not a definite time limitation; is that correct.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I apologize to the gentleman from York for not hearing his question, but I was interrupted and I did not hear it. May I ask the gentleman to repeat it?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to repeat it. I understand from the argument presented by the gentleman from Philadelphia that he objects to the resolution on the grounds, one, that it does contain a definite time limitation for the month of June and if that time limitation is removed he still objects to the resolution, because it does not contain a definite time limitation, is that correct?

Mr. WITKIN. Well, Mr. Speaker, the question, in my opinion, is unusual in that it does not make sense, but nevertheless I will try—I do not say that disrespectfully, I say it because I can't understand it, because I am unable to intelligently understand it, but I say this to the gentleman: I am in favor of appropriating money for unemployment relief for the balance of the month of June, and I am in favor of a resolution appropriating money for the month of July, and when I am doing that, I want, before I appropriate for the month of July, the facts, I want to be able to get the information. If you can give me the information necessary for the month of July, I am ready to appropriate for unemployment relief that much. Failing in that, I am willing to appropriate for the seven days, for the balance of the month of June, although the figures of the State Emergency Relief Board for the month of June, the highest even under their own estimate you can reach is $1,500,000, and if this resolution is amended to read $1,500,000, I would be willing to vote in favor of the resolution for the balance of the month of June. So that is my answer to the gentleman as to his question at the present time, as to the time I am willing to vote for a resolution for a particular time for a particular sum. The particular time: seven days or thirty-seven days depending upon whether you can give us the information for the month of July, because in the month of June if I read Mr. Jones' statement correctly, he says that the direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania will be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except unemployables in a very short time, if there was some State Administration that would agree to cooperate with WPA. So, I say to the gentleman from York, if you would use your good offices as the majority leader of this House and get that cooperation, the chances are that for the month of July we will need much less money, thereby meaning much less taxes, and I will go along on this resolution if you will reduce the amount for a particular time, and I hope that answers the gentleman's question.

Mr. COHEN. It does, Mr. Speaker. If my memory does not fail me, this is approximately the third time the membership of this House has been confronted with the necessity of making relief appropriations. And each and every instance the membership of this House has found objection from the other side. In one instance they objected to the amount, the second time they objected to the time provision, and in this instance they are objecting both to the amount and because there is no time specified.

The question that I asked the gentleman from Philadelphia, which he indicated was nonsensical on my part, was purely a question with a view to ascertaining how this resolution could be presented to this membership so it would meet with the accord of the minority side of the House. Covering the appropriation for June, the Democratic membership of this House presented an appropriation bill which we estimated would meet the requirements for the month of June. The Republican minority objected and the membership of the Republican Senate, if my memory doesn't fail me, reduced that amount to a four million plus figure. The House objected to the reduction, the time limitation was stricken out, and the four million dollars plus was the amount that the State Emergency Relief Board found necessary to take care of their demands.

At that time it was understood and the conferees so reported that the moneys which we appropriated would be utilized as long as they lasted. They lasted and they are still lasting, but on June 23rd those sums of money will be entirely consumed, and again we are here confronted with the necessity of making an additional appropriation.

How much shall we appropriate? Should we utilize the figure as recommended by the gentleman from Philadelphia, $1,500,000 and appropriate money for the seven days or should we at one stroke appropriate $3,000,000 so that by Monday night this House will not again be confronted with the necessity of presenting an appropriation resolution or a transfer resolution?

Follow the chain of thought indicated by the gentleman from Philadelphia and carry it out to its extremity, he is now desirous of appropriating to the Emergency Relief Board on a weekly basis, and to carry it out further, he might at some time desire that the appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board be placed on a daily basis, and to carry it to its absurdity, he might require this House and Senate to remain in continuous session, so that we could make appropriations to the State Emergency Relief Board on an hourly basis.

He admits and says that the minority would go along on an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the balance of the month of June. This resolution does not have any time limitation. This resolution is a resolution transferring and appropriating $3,000,000, one and one-half million dollars which possibly might be used in the month of June, the balance of the month of June, the balance of one and one-half million dollars might possibly take care of the first week of the month of July.

Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, does the minority desire, that this House remain in continuous session, making continuous appropriations, presenting continuous resolutions, and consuming the time of this body performing an act that can be performed at the present time for at least two weeks by the enactment of this resolution?

I ask the entire membership of this House, in view of the statement made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the entire membership of this House vote in favor of a resolution which will appropriate for at least two weeks to the State Emergency Relief Board.

Mr. WITKIN. I am yielding to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the majority leader, the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York whether he can cite any opinion, any decision of the courts or any opinion of the Attorney General establishing the validity of resolutions appropriating funds of ths Commonwealth for any particular purpose.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I can not cite any opinion of the court or any opinion of the Attorney General, but since 1933, the first session which I attended as a member of this House, transfers and appropriations have been made in this manner, and during this session transfers of appropriations have been made in the very self same manner. Apparently no objection has been found thereto by the fiscal officers of our Commonwealth nor have any objections been found thereto by the Department of Justice. I dare say that this being a nation founded on the common law, wherein precedent plays a great part in determining our actions—I dare say that the courts in view of the long established precedent of making transfers in this manner would undoubtedly, if the question were raised, decide that it is a constitutional procedure.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. It is true, Mr. Speaker, that in 1933, in order to meet an emergency, funds were transferred and appropriated by resolution. It is true that subsequently emergencies have periodically recurred and funds have been appropriated by resolution.

The gentleman from York knows and every lawyer in this House knows that the method is absolutely unconstitutional. The gentleman from York knows and every lawyer in this House knows that no set of precedents established by this House can over turn the constitution. If there was to be any end of the emergency, Mr. Speaker, I would not arise, but I say to you and I say to the members of this House that if they are establishing a precedent they are establishing a most dangerous precedent for a parliamentary body. If you can transfer and appropriate $3,000,000 by resolution you can appropriate and transfer $30,000,000, and if you can transfer and appropriate $30,000,000 by resolution you can transfer and appropriate $90,000,000, and it is not within the purview of the constitution that this House by a single act, by a resolution passed even without a recorded vote should appropriate money.

The gentleman from York, the majority party, the administration knew a week ago that we would be at this point and if they wanted to transfer money there was abundant opportunity to bring in an appropriation bill and do the thing in a legal manner.

I would not arise tonight to protest if I did not think that next week we would be doing the same thing.

Now, this being a parliamentary body owes it to itself, owes it to its tradition, owes it to its knowledge of the law to proceed in a constitutional manner and appropriate money by a bill, read three times in the House and concurred in legally by the Senate.

I don't care what action this House takes. I only want to get right myself from the parliamentary point of view and, therefore, Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order that this resolution is out of order and that it is clearly and unmistakably unconstitutional.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. My point of order deals with the point of order just raised by the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. Speaker, I want to raise the point of order that the point of order of the gentleman from Cambria is not properly presented to this House, because under our rules it requires four seconders and the gentleman has not had his point of order in raising a constitutional question properly seconded.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is not well taken. The Chair read the rule for the information of the House.

POINT OF ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, withdraws the point of order raised by him.

POINT OF ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the point of order raised by me.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, withdraws the point of order raised by him.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the minority floor leader may be consistent in his arguments on these transfers for relief that we have made from time to time, but after listening to these arguments the four different times we have made transfers, I find it pretty hard to believe that he is. We made a transfer of 13 or 14 million dollars in September at the Special Session called by Governor Pinchot. At that time the Democratic block stood solid for enacting the necessary tax measures to furnish that relief, but the Republican majority hurriedly enacted transfer measures and went home, because the election, I suppose, was nearly at hand. At that time I heard the present minority floor leader state that he felt that the next regular session of the Legislature would adequately provide for the relief needed at that time and also refund those transfers. But the Session met in January, and all through January, February, March and April the Senate played in a dilatory manner—you will remember it,—for weeks at the beginning of that session the Senate met on Monday night and then adjourned on Tuesday forenoon. April came and a relief crisis was imminent, and the deadline was set for the cessation of Federal Relief at April 15th, and something had to be done. Again I recall the minority floor leader advocated transfers of money. It had to be done, of course, but why? Then, the Senate, instead of providing for the amount of relief for the time that it should have been, provided for one year's relief, which made this special session necessary. And we meet again in May and we find that the Senate again dallies and refuses to enact the necessary tax measures. Then the last of May comes along and we need another transfer of money. This time the minority floor leader opposes the transfer.

We now come to another time when a transfer is necessary and this time again he opposes it. The other two times he favored the transfers. Of course, these two times he says that it is not the transfer he objects to, but the amount and the time of the amount. He always has a reason, whether it is a good reason or not. How long are we going to keep up this transfer of moneys? How long is the Senate, with the cooperation of the minority in the House, going to make it necessary for us to make these transfers, I would like to know? We would not need to talk and talk and talk and fill pages and pages and pages of the Journal for political purposes if the thing was done that should be done, and that is enact the tax measures necessary to furnish this relief before it became necessary to make transfers.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, whether or not he has ascertained that there will be additional transfer resolutions presented to this body?

Mr. ANDREWS. I cannot answer that question, Mr. Speaker, but I can tell the gentleman that I shall do everything in my power to discourage any more transfer resolutions.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I merely want to take a few minutes to reply to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, and the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Brownfield. May I first state very frankly to the gentleman from York that in the statement I made referring to his question, that it does not make sense, I did not intend in any manner to belittle the gentleman from York. I did mean as to me I could not understand the question, and I did not intend that the gentleman should feel that I was endeavoring to ridicule him by calling his question non-sensical.

I do want to say, however, in answer to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, that he criticized our weekly or monthly appropriation. I want to say in answer to him this: that if the monthly, weekly, or hourly transfer of funds is the means of saving millions of dollars to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, then I am for such appropriation, because the expense of our sitting in legislative assembly cannot possibly be much compared to the saving that apparently we have already made, and that I feel certain we will make in the future.

When his Excellency the Governor, gave us his figure of $70,000,000, had the Senate and the House immediately bowed to his will, had we immediately appropriated that money, had the Senate been a proper stooge for the Governor had the House in its entirely been a proper stooge, we would have immediately retired to our respective chambers, we would have immediately appropriated $70,000,000 of the taxpayers' money and we would have adjourned long before the Governor found out that business conditions had changed so that we could drop sixteen millions of dollars from the burden of taxation upon the people of Pennsylvania. I say that as the Senate dallies so save we money to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, and as far as I am concerned I hope they continue to dally until we get the facts, because if we do, we may save sixteen million dollars more to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania. So much for the continuous session.

I also want to say to the gentleman from York that I said I was willing to go along with the resolution, if it were a million and a half. I won't admit, nor do I concede, that that is the proper figure that we need for seven days, but in view of the exigency I was willing to go along and still am. No statement has been presented by Dr. De Schweinitz, giving us any figures. The gentleman from York has given us figures and I have no doubt they are correct to the best of the gentleman's knowledge. But we ought to have accurate figures, we ought to know where we stand.

I merely want to say to the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Brownfield, that what I have replied to the gentleman from York in respect to the dallying, is in answer to his argument about the dilatory manner, but there is one thing that I want to add, and that is this; when we appropriated $60,000,000 during the last session, Washington told us that they were going to give us money up to June 30, 1936. Washington broke faith with us, they broke their agreement, because if they had kept their agreement they would have continued to provide the direct relief for the State of Pennsylvania, which pays more money in taxes than most any other state in the Union, and we would not be in the position of being short of money. They broke faith with us by stopping direct relief to the State of Pennsylvania in December of 1935 so that the responsibility for our being convened in extraordinary session is due to the faith breaking and the breach of agreement on the part of the Federal Government with the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House the gentleman from Philadelphia apparently desires some facts and I will be glad to give them to him. We are confronted here with an appropriation of $3,000,000. They are not my figures, they are not his figures; they are the figures that were determined by the Emergency Relief Board. They were the figures that were recommended not in the sum of $3,000,000, but in the sum of $6,000,000 by the State Emergency Relief Board. They were the figures that the State Emergency Relief Board, composed of the two fiscal officers, two Republican fiscal officers Mr. Waters and Mr. Baldwin, recommended for passage by this House. The State Emergency Relief Board recommended. as I indicated before, an appropriation transfer of $6,000,000 for a definite period of time. On account of the necessary transfers it has become increasingly difficult to find the funds at hand available for a transfer of $6,000,000, and as a result those figures were cut down for a limited period of time by necessity to $3,000,000. They are not my figures; they are the figures that hav been recommended to this House by the State Emergency Relief Board, concurred in and recommended also by the Republican members of that body, and I assure you that this House can do no better act this evening than pass this resolution.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have been debating this resolution here for considerably over an hour. They seem to be talking about everything except the needs of the unemployed of Pennsylvania. If I understand correctly, the funds that have been appropriated will be exhausted tomorrow. So, we are confronted with the fact whether or not we are going to provide relief for the unemployed beginning tomorrow or whether we are going to haggle and talk politics and pass charges back and forth between the majority and the minority, and let the needy starve. I am sometimes tempted to think that at least some members of this House are more concerned with making a political point than they are with feeding those who are without the means to live in the State of Pennsylvania at the present time. The only thing that they seem to be concerned about is saving taxes for the wealthy taxpayers of this State. The minority floor leader has just told you if he has succeeded in saving $16,000,000 he is well satisfied. Apparently it does not matter whether the unemployed are adequately taken care of or whether they are taken care of at all. The main thing is to save the taxpayers money. I think it is about time we are stopping this thing of talking all the time about saving for the taxpayers and consider what it means to the unemployed. What does it mean to be continually confronted with deadlines, beyond which no relief has been provided, and beyond which they don't know whether there will be any relief provided or not?

Members of the House, how would you like to be in a position where you would have a relief voucher due on Wednesday, but the funds are exhausted on Tuesday, and the Legislature at midnight on Monday has not as yet provided for the funds so that you may know whether you are going to get your voucher on Wednesday or not. That is the situation in which hundreds of thousands of people in Pennsylvania find themselves today. They don't know whether their next voucher is going to go through or not; they don't know what is going to happen. They know that they are getting so little that they cannot possibly stretch it beyond the time they are getting it. Right here I think something should be said about the statement that was issued by Mr. Jones of the WPA, today or yesterday, in which he stated that if there were some fifty thousand WPA cases that could be exchanged for larger family units on direct relief, you would save the taxpayers two and a half million dollars a month. But he does not tell us if some of those larger family units on direct relief were transferred to WPA they would get often less than they are getting on direct relief. I do not think that anyone who has analyzed these figures or allowed it through in any way is prepared to say that they are getting so much on direct relief that they ought to get less on WPA. Yet that is the implication with the larger family units on the wages that are being paid by WPA at the present time. Certainly I believe in work relief. Certainly it is better for those who receive the relief to have to work for it, but by all means they should get an adequate wage for the relief when they work for it. They should not be compelled to take less than they get on direct relief. Figures have been presented which I briefly summarized last week, and as some of the other members of the House make a speech every week, it seems to me it would be proper to again call your attention to what these relief figures mean to the unemployed. I pointed out that time that on the appropriations that were allowed there is only $1.86 per week for administration costs, dental and medical care, the average case consisting of three and three tenth persons; that only $1.40 is allowed for milk, which is only two quarts per day, at ten cents per quart, and milk cannot be purchased in all parts of the State at ten cents per quart; that only two dollars and fifty cents per week is allowed for rent and shelter. I again call your attention to the fact that if you are not concerned about the unemployed, how about the landlord who is asked to rent premises that are tenantable at $2.50 per week? How many of you know landlords who are anxious to do that? How many of you know landlords that have evicted people, both those on direct relief and on WPA, because the allowances for rent are not sufficient to pay the taxes and interest and upkeep on the house which they occupy, with the result that the landlords cannot afford to keep them. We cannot blame the landlords, at least from an economic viewpoint, for not wanting to keep tenants at less than it costs them. Nevertheless that is all that is allowed. What are they to do on $2.50 per week, which is all that is allowed for a family of three and three-tenth persons, under the schedule of direct relief in the State of Pennsylvania at the present time? Whether all of you know it or not, it is practically impossible to find a landlord who will take a tenant or who will rent premises to a person who is either on direct relief or working for WPA, because he does not know how long it is going to last, with the result that thousands of them are being evicted. Only week before last four or five families with several children were thrown out of the Berks County almshouse, where they had gone after being evicted from private homes. Where they went from the almshouse nobody knows, and unfortunately nobody seems to care very much.

That is the way the thing has been going on. Are you going to do anything about it? Are you going to keep on arguing on a basis of political advantage to one side or the other? Sixty cents allowed for fuel and heat, sixty cents a week for a family. Go home and look at your electric light bill or your gas bill or whatever you use for cooking and see how many of you are getting by with sixty cents a week for cooking alone. To be sure at this time of the year you may not need any heat, but this allowance applies to winter months as well. These are the sort of allowances that some of our friends are talking about cutting down and reducing, getting lower and lower and lower in order to save the taxpayers, regardless of what happens to the unemployed. How long are we going to continue that? Thirty cents for light, $1.65 for three and three-tenth persons for clothing per week. Well now, if you take the total of those figures you get $8.31, and as I pointed out to the House last week the allowances for the present time total only about $12.82, which only allows $4.50 a week for a family of three and three-tenth persons for food. Food costs have increased seventeen percent during the past year. Clothing allowances have been cut twenty-five percent, still you talk about reducing, cutting, and lessening the expense of relief.

To be sure, nobody wants to waste the money, but in all this talk and propaganda on both sides of the House and in the Senate and in the newspapers, about continually cutting down and saving for the taxpayer, it is about time, if we are going to do so much investigating, if we are going to find out how much money is being wasted and all that sort of thing, it is about time we are finding out how much money is needed to maintain a decent standard of living for the unemployed Pennsylvanians. That is the way this problem should be treated. Do not continually make the unemployed the football of politics; you should consider their needs seriously. Let us deal with it on a definite, long term basis. This thing of compelling them every week to wonder whether or not they are going to get their voucher for the following week, even though they deserve it in every way, because there has been no appropriation made, why should we do this thing every week? Why should we be here for six weeks and still have made no provision beyond tomorrow? Are we going to keep this up indefinitely? Are we going to stay here until Labor Day or until after election, when they kick us out, or are we going to really solve this problem in a statesmanlike manner and take care of the unemployed on a decent basis? That is the problem, that is what they are expecting us to do. I think it is time that we get down and consider this problem and stop this bantering back and forth, trying to have political advantage, one over the other, with a scheme of saving money for the taxpayers, regardless of how much pain and suffering may be involved for the unemployed of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BURKE and Mr. MORAN.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 71, Printer's No. 118, on page 3 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WEISS,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 71, entitled:

An Act to promote the construction of flood control works and improvements by providing for the appropriation of certain waters of the Commonwealth to the Commonwealth and incidental thereto to secure the use thereof for the benefit of the people declaring void certain condemnations and appropriations of waters by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons providing for ascertainment of the validity and the recording of certain condemnations and appropriations of water by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and appeals therefrom conferring jurisdiction on the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County in relation thereto providing for future condemnations and appropriations of waters by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and compensation therefor and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Water and Power Resources Board.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose the passage of this bill in the form in which it is now presented to the House. This bill purports to be a flood control bill, although I have been unable to discern in reading the bill what relation it could have to the question of flood control. This is an extremely important measure and a far reaching measure, and one that will have great effect upon the affairs of many of the people of this Commonwealth and upon the affairs of many of the municipalities of this Commonwealth. It provides for the taking over of the streams in the Commonwealth by the State, and provides that except those that now have rights upon streams by reason of prior condemnations, that henceforth, if they desire to condemn the land along any stream for the purpose of taking water, they must first apply to the Department of Forests and Waters and receive a permit before they can take any of the waters. It provides that if there has been any condemnation started in the past, under the laws as they have existed on the statute books for a great many years that unless the actual taking is performed within the next two year period, they shall not be allowed to proceed with their condemnation, and thereafter must go to the board for a license. If that license is granted by the board, it can be granted under such rules and regulations as the board may determine, and the board may require that the company, or the municipality, or the individual that is taking the water shall pay a license fee that shall range from one to five dollars per million gallons of water taken. There is no restriction upon the board as to the classifications that shall be created. There is no restriction upon the board as to any discrimination that it may make between those that are to take the water. The question of a million gallons of water may seem to you like a large amount of water, but I made a quick survey in my own county among some of the manufacturing concerns and others located along the Delaware River, and I found that, for instance, the water that is being used in one of the plants in the oil industry—and we have some five or six,—used one million gallons of water a day, which it does not take from the stream and use up; but merely passes it through the pipes for condensing purposes and returns it to the stream without any loss. I found that an electric company had a power plant on the Delaware River that likewise uses about one hundred million gallons of water a day for cooling purposes, which is again returned to the stream, and yet a charge would be made of anywhere from one to five dollars per million gallons for water used by those two organizations, who merely pass it through the pipes and return it to the Delaware River. I found that almost every industry along the Delaware River uses large quantities of water, ranging from four million gallons of water a day to as high as twenty to twenty-five millions of gallons of water per day. I was told by one industry that it would cost them twenty-five thousand dollars a year, on the basis of the five dollar charge, for the water consumed by that one industry. This is an added tax. You have already passed bills here to increase the taxes on industries. The Federal Government has already passed stringent measures to enforce further taxation, and very heavy taxation upon corporations, mostly industrial corporations, and this is but adding to the burden of industry in this State. I know that there are many men here who are not concerned with what burdens are put upon industry, but I want to sound a warning note to you men that industry in this State is looking elsewhere for places to go. When I called upon one of the plants in our community, a plant that has kept in continuous operation, with three shifts a day throughout the depression, a plant that pays good wages to its people, a plant in which many of our people seek employment, the treasurer of that concern said to me, "You may believe it or not, but sitting across the desk from me at this time is a man from another state, and that state offered to us a free plant site, and the sum of one hundred thousand dollars with which to build a unit and ten years free taxes. If this condition continues in Pennsylvania,—"if this concern that sells a product that is sold world-wide and must meet all kinds of competition, that sells on a very small margin of profit," —if this concern is further burdened in Pennsylvania with a continuation of taxation, we must to preserve our own concern look elsewhere than the State of Pennsylvania for any further extension of our industry."

I was told by the superintendent of another plant the other day, whom I met, that they had a plant in East St. Louis, and he said if the situation continues in Pennsylvania,—we have lost $12,000,000 in the last few years running our plant, employing seven hundred men—if this condition continues we see no other alternative than to close this plant here and to throw all our work into the East St. Louis plant.

I could go on telling you experiences in my own community, and I wonder if you men who here upon this floor are continually pleading for the workers, who are continually talking about labor, I wonder if you are considering the conditions that you are creating in Pennsylvania, and the work that you may take away from the very people for whom you are pleading. So much for industry.

There is another angle to this bill. This bill would compel municipal water plants to be placed in the same position as privately owned water companies. Last week I attended the convention of the League of Boroughs of Pennsylvania. At that convention were representatives of some six hundred boroughs in the state of Pennsylvania. That convention passed a unanimous resolution opposing this measure. Why did they do it? First, because of this question of charge, and, secondly, because they know that in the future, should they condemn a private plant they would then have to come to the Department here for a license and would have to pay this fee, which would have to be added to the rate that the taxpayers and the rate-payers of the community were paying for their water. Therefore, when this question was raised upon the floor, there was an immediate resolution passed, urging this Legislature to refuse to pass this bill.

Then, there is just another angle to this bill. It is absolutely unworkable. Those plants, those private corporations, that are taking water from streams at the present time, and have lands which they have condemned, could not be affected by this bill, but those that come in the future will be. Not only those that are upon large bodies of water, but this bill would affect every kind of an industry and every kind of an individual who took water from the smallest kind of a stream in Pennsylvania. As to the talk about taking water from the flowing streams, I want to say to you men from the coal regions, that I have no doubt that this bill will affect the waters in the coal mines of the State of Pennsylvania. In addition to that, I think there is a very grave question whether this bill could affect those industries along the Delaware River, because the Delaware River is an interstate stream, it is a navigable stream that is controlled by the United States Government. How are we going to determine that the water taken from the Delaware River is Pennsylvania water, when it flows from between the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey?

The only plea that can be made for this bill is that in the future, when the State of Pennsylvania may want to do something about flood control, there may be some conditions existing where some companies may say that they have condemned lands along streams, and therefore the State of Pennsylvania might have to pay something for the land that was taken for flood control. That is the remote question under which they are trying to bring it under flood control, because they know that that is a popular issue at the present ime, for they know that is something that will appeal to the members of the Legislature, and that is the only way that this bill can come under the call of the Governor at the present time, and therefore I urge the members of the House to vote "No" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Mr. REED (Dauphin), from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, the following resolution:

In the Senate, June 22, 1936.

Whereas, It is common report that numerous persons have been appointed to departmental positions in various departments of the State Government under the Governor on a per diem basis and are now enjoying such employment on such a basis and that many of these per diem employes have been connected with the State Government service for months; and

Whereas, It is to the best interest of the people of Pennsylvania that such a practice should cease and that employes now on a per diem basis either should be placed on regular salary or be dismissed; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate of Pennsylvania, that the Budget Secretary is hereby requested to inform the Senate at the earliest possible moment the number, names and addresses of persons on the departmental payrolls on June 15, 1936, on the per diem basis (other than persons customarily employed on a per diem basis like those in field work) and the amount of such per diem pay according to the departments in which such persons are employed; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the opinion of the Senate of Pennsylvania that employment of persons on a per diem basis, except in the case of emergency, should be discontinued as speedily as possible.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires resolutions reported from Committee to lie on the table one day, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the Resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution will lie over.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I would like to inquire whether or not Senate Resolution No. 3 has been printed, in accordance with the instructions of the Senate last evening.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, that Senate Resolution No. 3 has been printed.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, Senate Resolution No. 3, which has to do with an inquiry into the affairs of the Indiana State Teachers College, at Indiana, Pennsylvania, is now in shape to be called up for consideration; but in view of the fact that a request was made by the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Bennett, who is ill, and confined to his home at the present time, I have agreed not to press for action on the resolution here this morning.

This resolution simply aims to make a fair, impartial and thorough investigation of the very persistent rumors that have been going around that there has been interference with the orderly procedure of affairs in this Teachers College in Indiana; and I want to say that, although I do not intend to press for action this morning, I think the resolution is fair and should be passed, and I want to serve notice now that it is my intention to call it up for consideration on Monday evening next.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, under what provision of the Governor's Proclamation for this Special Session does the resolution fall?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, it is my understanding that a resolution would always be in order when the Senate is willing to entertain it. I might add that the Senate has so ruled in connection with the resolution authorizing the appointment of a Committee to Investigate the Functioning of WPA.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I reluctantly rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I say I reluctantly rise to a question of personal privilege. The fact is that I have become somewhat jealous of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. I do not like him to monopolize this well known doctrine of free speech. Unlike the Senator from Philadelphia, I am perfectly willing to speak when the galleries are not crowded.

The Democratic Party is always threatened by dissension. The Democrats may be deserving sometimes, but always they are disagreeing among themselves. It may be the hangover from that ancient Irish spirit of being "agin the government". Witness the civil war now raging, Earle vs. Guffey; de Schweinitz vs. Jones; SERB vs WPA. At the moment of the Roosevelt Convention when all Democrats are lifting their hats and voices for their Doctor of Letters; when all Democrats tried and true are contracting water on the knee from their complete adoration of their peerless leader; at this auspicious moment of apparent unanimity, what does Mr. or Eddie or WPA Jones do but start a fight right out in front of the united front of the new and spendthrift democracy. The Republican leaders can well afford to confer upon Mr. Jones the honorary degree of M. D., Master of Discord.

"Leaders of the Republican Party" suggest the question, who are they? I have never met the Mellons, I have never met the Pews. I have met Senator Grundy, a delightful gentleman, but he has never solicited my vote for any social security legislation. There must be leadership somewhere or we would not be so safe and sane. It must be these progressive advanced thinkers in the Republican leadership who teach us that statesmanship consists in making haste slowly.

The Chairman of our committee on Constitutional Changes confided to me that the Republican leadership does not want any constitutional changes. They do not want any changes. They do not want any changes except a change in Administration. They would like to change an accidental Democratic Governor, who will perhaps know how to be Governor at the end of four years, for a well-seasoned Republican statesman who will be motivated by their progressive spirit of whatever is, is right (excepting always the Democratic Party); That good old Constitution under which we are enjoying virtue, liberty and independence; that Constitution of 1776, or perhaps it was 1873; that sacrosant document, according to them, is a perfect expression of perfect men and closed a perfect day, a day which they all know so well and never want anything different.

The Republican leadership in this "make haste slowly or let us take a walk backwards" statesmanship blind their eyes like the Bourbons of France, and may keep their eyes blinded until their necks are under the more progressive knife of Dr. Guillotine.

I do not wish to associate the distinguished Senator from Tioga, the progressive Chairman of the Constitutional Changes Committee, with the guillotine. I hope he will never lose his head. I do, however, protest against our prevailing custom of committee meetings at midnight in Mr. Boyd Hamilton's little room to the left. I have long noticed that it is so little that there is no room for any air, and that the proponents of any progressive measure generally find themselves badly "left"; therefore, the appropriate name of the little room to the left.

Last night we amended the Constitution safely and sanely by rejecting two amendments, namely a graded income tax and civil service. There was no debate, and when it came to a rising vote it was difficult for the weary members of the committee to even rise. They were too tired to rise; that may be the reason that we lost both amendments.

The Senator from Bucks, depending entirely upon his 1873 subconscious mind, remarked from mere habit, "I move to indefinitely postpone this bill." The Committee rose joyfully for adjournment. The Chairman, having displayed his sympathy with all advanced movements, declared that there would be no further meetings of the Committee on Constitutional Changes, that we had changed it enough at this epoch-making meeting of Monday midnight.

The pity of it is that this regressive band of 1873 will sometimes, after a good night's sleep and in the clear light of early morning, admit that we ought to have the right to graduate inheritance and income taxes; they will even admit that we ought have enacted civil service under a Republican Governor, so that all our Republican employees around the Capitol need not be fired—that is, in the bright light of the morning. At midnight they react, revert and renig.

We now have a perennial conference committee conferring on Wednesdays and Mondays and Tuesdays and Wednesdays. They have become fast friends, they are so fast they cannot separate. The pity of it is that all this fast friendship could have been avoided if we could have had civil service. Perhaps the Senator from Lackawanna and the Senator from Dauphin enjoy talking to Miss Brancato —she certainly has charms—and I fear our rock-ribbed Republican conferees may yield to Miss Brancato.

I, therefore, appeal to our progressive 1873 Chairman to call a daylight meeting of the Committee on Constitutional Changes. I appeal to our distinguished floor leader, the Senator from Bucks, to bring his subconscious mind a little forward to practice enough self-denial to inhibit his habit of "postponing this bill indefinitely." I ask all statesmanlike Republicans to remember that we are now in the thirty-seventh year of the twentieth century.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to preface this question by saying I am in sympathy with any investigation that will take politics out of an educational institution; but I am sure the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, does not want to first condemn and then investigate, and I would like to call his attention to the first recital clause of the resolution, particularly the words "stamp out radicalism and the teaching of dangerous and un-American doctrines, notably the University of Pittsburgh and the Indiana State Teachers College," and ask him whether the same result could not have been accomplished in this resolution by eliminating those words from the recital clause, so that we will not be first condemning and then investigating. With the exclusion of those words I should be very glad to vote for it; with the inclusion of them I should hesitate to vote for the resolution.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I would answer the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, by saying I am perfectly willing to have those words stricken out of the resolution; I believe the same purpose can be obtained by having those words eliminated.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is not under consideration at the time.

Mr. THOMPSON (Center). Mr. President, I move that Senate Resolution No. 3 be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of amendment.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution not having been called up for consideration, a motion to recommit it is out of order.

MOTION TO CALL UP SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 3

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Resolution No. 3 (Printer's No. 15).

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

SENATE EDUCATION COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE STATE-AIDED EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

In the Senate, June 3, 1936.

Whereas, Reports have reached members of the Senate that active attempts are being made to interfere with the orderly management of educational institutions which have been receiving financial assistance from the people of this Commonwealth and which have been striving to stamp out radicalism and the teaching of dangerous and un-American doctrines notably the University of Pittsburgh and the Indiana State Teachers College and

Whereas, These attempts are construed as merely the beginning of systematic efforts to debauch the educational system of Pennsylvania long distinguished for attainments made possible by complete freedom from political restraint and

Whereas, The selection of executives instructors teachers and employes of State Teachers Colleges of this Commonwealth has from the very beginning been free from partisan political consideration to the great benefit of the educational system and

Whereas, Dictation of the appointment of members of a faculty of a State Teachers College is only one step from dictation of what shall be taught bringing forcibly to the attention of every resident of Pennsylvania a threatened menace to the free public school system heretofore so sacredly safeguarded therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate of Pennsylvania that its Committee of Education be directed to conduct immediately a searching investigation of the situation in order that members of the Senate may be informed of the truth of the reports and the extent and character of the abuses alleged and be it further

Resolved that the Committee on Education shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall willfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases be it further

Resolved, That the Committee on Education shall report as speedily as possible to the Senate now in Extraordinary Session the results of its inquiry.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move to amend by striking out, on page 1, line 5, the words "and which have meen striving to"—

The PRESIDENT. The amendment offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, should be in writing.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I assume a strike-out may be made a matter of record without a written motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move to amend, page 1, line 5, by striking out the words "and which have been striving to stamp out;" and, in line 6, the words "radicalism and the teaching of dangerous and un-American;" and, in line 7, the word "doctrines;" and I shall present the Recording Secretary with a written motion embodying this amendment.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will lie over for printing.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported, excluding the names of J. Buell Snyder and Ephraim S. Tyler.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—46

Aron,	Harvey,	Prince,	Shapiro,
Batchelor,	Howell,	Pytko,	Sones,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the nominations of J. Buell Snyder and Ephraim S. Tyler, just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations, with a negative recommendation.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The question is: Shall the recommendation of the Committee be sustained, or shall the names be confirmed notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee? A vote "aye" will sustain the recommendation of the Committee, and a vote "no" will confirm the names notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, one of the men involved in this negative recommendation comes from my district. However, I intend to vote "aye" on the recommendation of the Committee for the reason that heretofore I have been advised that it has been the custom not to appoint any member of the Legislature to any of these Boards, and following that rule, I feel that a Congressman should come under the same rule. At this time Congressman J. Buell Snyder is running for re-election to the office of Congressman and I am also interested, as the Republican side of this House is to keep politics just as far away from our educational institutions as it is possible, and it is for that reason that I intended to support the negative recommendation of the Committee.

MOTION TO RE-REFER

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I move that the names of J. Buell Snyder and Ephraim S. Tyler, reported negatively from the Committee on Executive Nominations, be re-referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, the object of this motion. These names have been before the Committee on Executive Nominations for a number of weeks, they have been acted upon and reported out, and I would like to ask why they should not be disposed of by this Senate.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, replying to the interrogation of the distinguished Senator from Buck Mr. Buckman, I think you will agree with me that there is some provision in the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania which prohibits persons from holding office of public trust, under both the State and Federal Government, is that correct?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I understand that to be true.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, perhaps you may find a line of distinction between them. I would suggest that the Governor be given an opportunity to with draw these names, if there is a substantial objection against them, rather than have the names turned down by the Senate, I think the Governor has withdrawn institutional names before where there were objections to them, and I think, if substantial objections exist, that probably the Governor would do the same thing in this case.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, whether he is afraid to vote against these names, notwithstanding that the Senator from the district that the nominees come from is against their confirmation, merely because the Governor has sent them over.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, no, I am not afraid, but I think if there were objections to a person nominated from my district, I would first go to the Governor and ask him to withdraw the nomination rather than ask the Senate first to vote them down. If he would not withdraw the nomination and if there were a substantial objection then I would support a negative recommendation.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to call attention of the Senator from Centre to the fact that the Governor cannot recall these nominations without the consent of the Committee on Executive Nominations. If his motion prevails the nominations will then be in the hands of the Committee and the Governor cannot recall them wothout the consent of that Committee.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Senator from Bucks to the fact that the Governor, at the last regular session of the Legislature, did withdraw the name of a nominee for Trustee of Pennsylvania State College, I think that was acquiesced in and I think it will be extending courtesy to the Chief Executive to return these names to the Committee to give him the same opportunity.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I want to be very clear on this proposition. I am not voting to sustain the recommendation of the Committee because I think that either Congressman Snyder or Mr. Tyler are not capable intelligent and fair men, but I am voting to support the recommendation because, as I have stated, I do not think that a Congressman should be appointed to a Board and at the same time deny that same privilege to members of the General Assembly in this State who vote for appropriations to these State institutions, and who are vitally interested in them and should be when he represents his constitutents at Washington, D. C.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Fayette Mr. Cavalcante, have any objection to the confirmation of Mr. Tyler?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, if that is because he holds an office in some political division?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, he is receiver of quite a number of closed banks in my county.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette neglected to state his objection to Mr. Tyler. I think we ought to get those on the record too. I was afraid the objection to the one man might have a bad effect on the action on the other man.

I should like to ask the question whether or not it is possible to vote on these nominations separately.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that it is possible.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move you that in taking this vote we vote separately on the nominations.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre will state his point of order.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the question before the House is a motion to re-refer these nominations to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair sustains the point of order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, before voting on this motion to re-refer these nominations I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, assure the Senate that these names will be withdrawn by the Governor and these men not be re-appointed if we permit the re-reference of these names to the Committee on Executive Nominations?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I cannot speak for the Governor; that is, the Governor himself must, in the last analysis, make the decision as to what should be done with these names, but I am quite sure that the Governor would extend the member of Congress a degree of consideration at the request of the Senator from Fayette or from any other person in the Senate that had objection to the confirmation of these names and will withdraw them.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, whether that will hold good of trustees of other State Teacher Colleges, because I can point out to him that in my district also there have been trustees appointed who the people feel are making political institutions out of the State Teachers Colleges. If there is going to be objection to the names being withdrawn I think the Senate ought to have that information now.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, again my answer is that I cannot speak for the Governor, he must speak for himself, in the last analysis, on this situation and I think, if the Senator from Tioga agrees, this might be a way to find out just what the Governor will do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to ask some member of the Executive Committee to inform the Senate whether or not objections to these gentlemen have been made known to the Governor, that we might know whether or not the Governor had an opportunity to act upon them.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am not authorized to speak for the Chairman of this Committee, but I am a member of this Committee and we do our own work.

The Constitution says it is our function to advise and consent to these nominations and we do not ask the Governor anything about it, we either confirm or we do not confirm, or at least recommend to the Senate that they shall confirm or not confirm. Therefore, when a Senator from a district requests that we do not confirm, as in this case was done, they are sent out with a negative recommendation. Our function is to advise and consent, not to ask the Governor whether he wants to withdraw or not.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then I raise the same objection as I did last year. I said the Governor was appointing without the advice and consent of the Senate. Now I raise the objection that the Senate is refusing to reject them without advising the Governor. In other words, I accept the statement of the Senator from Bucks that these appointments are made by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Therefore, I suggest that we should not place ourselves in the position we complained about last year. And I disagree with the Senator from Bucks that we do our own thinking. We have a constitutional prerogative not to consent but we also have a constitutional duty to advise, and we should advise the Governor that we object to these names for the following reasons. It is quite possible that the Governor, who makes appointments throughout the State, may not be informed but the Committee, who makes the recommendations, they should advise, and if they do not advise him they should not criticize him when he makes the appointment.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I am glad the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, got up and made the statement for the Committee, and I will assure the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if he wants to take the trouble and the time to ask the Governor that if he advises the Executive Committee on the names that he presented, that we will be glad to advise him what we were going to do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that may be funny but I think that there is a serious situation here, and while I have a sense of humor and can appreciate it, I cannot appreciate the sense of humor of some people who take the names of public-spirited citizens into the public eye and condemn them without a hearing on their part. I am quite sure that no one in this Senate would like to have remarks and statements made about them and insinuations made about these two men, of whom I know nothing, without having an opportunity to be heard, and there is a duty on the part of the Governor, which he has fulfilled; he has advised this Committee that he appoints these men, and he has done his full duty. There is nothing in the law which requires the Governor to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations whether he should appoint X Y or Z, but there is something in the Constitution and something in decency which requires the Executive Committee, before they bring a man's name before the public to be criticized, that gives him an opportunity to be heard, and there is nothing funny about what I have been saying or about that situation so far as these men are concerned.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, it seems to me that this is a little bit different from the ordinary case. Here is a case involving a Congressman of the United States, and the other man a Receiver—I have learned here—of Federal Banks. Now, they are not criminals—from what I know they are good men—Congressman Snyder was elected twice in the district. It seems to me that this Senate owes enough courtesy to refer these names back to Committee and advise the Governor of its objection. It may be that the Governor did not know that there is some provision in the Constitution. These objections may never have been raised before, and perhaps it would not occur to him, but it does seem to me that before we slam a Congressman or slight him in any way, we ought to have an opportunity to refer these names back to the Committee and save them this humiliation, if possible. I think we owe this to the Congressman.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to restate the motion. The motion is that the nominations which were reported negatively by the Committee be re-referred to that Committee. A vote "aye" will be to refer the nominations back to the Committee on Executive Nominations, and a vote "no" will be against referring them back to the Committee.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON and Mr. FRY and were as follows, viz:

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

House Bill No. 135 (Senate Bill No. 94), entitled:

An Act appropriating to the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief all restitutions and overpayments collected by and for said board.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. COYNE, from the Committee on Executive Nominations re-reported with favorable recommendation the following nominations made by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 4, 1936.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate, the following:

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF CALIFORNIA STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE.

J. Buell Snyder, Perryopolis, from March 2, 1936, for the term of four years, and until his successor is qualified.

Ephriam S. Tyler, Point Merion, from March 3, 1936, for the term of four years, and until his successor is qualified.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I am re-reporting from the Committee on Executive Nominations with favorable recommendation the names referred to, and state at the same time that the only interest I have is what the Senator from that district has said, but it seems that a majority of the members want them confirmed, and for that reason we have changed our recommendation and ask to have them confirmed.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, before the vote is taken, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, be interrogated.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, if these nominations are from his district, whether he wishes to have them confirmed or not.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have already declared myself, and I hope that I will be quoted correctly in the Journal. I was in favor of upholding the recommendation of the Committee, and if the Committee, without any visible reason for the consideration of their recommendations, feel that the persons recommended should be members of that Board, in view of the reasons stated by me, I shall vote to support their recommendation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, again I suggest that this is not a joke. Again I point out that there have been statements made on the floor of this Senate which are derogatory to the reputation of people of character, and these men, it has been stated, that the Governor did not consider the Committee when he made the nominations, that the Committee does its own investigating, and has its own duty and knows what should be done, and if the objections to these men were of so slight a nature that within two minutes after having been referred back to the Committee on Executive Nominations, the Committee can re-report these same nominations favorably, then it is a sample of the kind of work we are doing here, and should be criticized by the public and the people who send us here to do our work. I want to place myself on record as objecting to that kind of procedure, particularly when it concerns and reputation and character of men of standing in the community.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I want to state as the Chairman of the Committee, that we do not go any farther than the Senator from the district where the nominations come from. So far as our recommendation of these people is concerned, we are contented with just consulting the Senator from that district, and whatever he says, that we go by. I find that a majority of the members of the Senate are for the confirmation, and for that reason they were reported out with a favorable recommendation to the Senate for confirmation.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it seems to me that this can be ironed out if we have another day's time to do it. I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his point of order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that the nominations may not be voted on today. The rules of the Senate provide that they must lie over for one day.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to suspend Rule 38, that the Senate resolve itself into executive session.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. The motion to suspend Rule 38 is withdrawn.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I move that the report of the Committee of Executive Nominations lie on the table until next Monday evening at 9:30 o'clock, and that it be made a special order of business at that time.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, after listening to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, I desire to interrogate him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, state whether he made the negative recommendation on the names of these two gentlemen because the Senator from that district requested it?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, yes, the Democratic Senator from Fayette, not a half Democrat, just a regular Democrat from Fayette.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President if I am here long enough I will be a regular Democrat.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I have not taken any part in this debate, but in view of certain statements that have been made in this debate, I desire to state my position. It is my belief, under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, that it is the duty of the Governor of the Commonwealth to nominate, and not his duty before making a nomination to come before the Senate, or any committee of the Senate, to procure its approval or disapproval. After nomination is made, under the Constitution it is the duty of the Senate to deliberate. We have for years had a Committee on Executive Nominations, to which all executive nominations are referred. That Committee has performed its duty. An objection to these nominations has been made, as has been said by the Senator from that district, and the Committee, acting upon that suggestion, reported these nominations with a negative recommendation.

I have always taken the position that when this Senate properly gives to the Committee on Executive Nominations the right and duty to pass on the fitness of the nominee, that this Senate should follow the recommendations of that Committee, and for that reason, believing that this Committee has acted properly in securing the advice of the Senator from Fayette, under those circumstances I was prepared to vote against their confirmation, even though I know nothing of these men personally as to their fitness or qualifications. But I simply make this point to emphasize what I believe have been statements as to our duties as Senators in acting upon executive nominations, and I say that it is not the duty of the Senate, after a nomination has been made, to confer with the Governor. It is our duty, under the rules, to act on the nomination, and I propose now that as the Committee on Executive Nominations has made a favorable recommendation, as soon as I have an opportunity, to vote for their confirmation.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, it is true that the Governor does not consult us about any appointments, and it is just as reasonable that we should not consult him when acting on these nominations. That is the only reason why I made that remark.

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL NO. 14 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 14, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating assistance to, and the burial of, certain aged, indigent persons and the administration of this act by the Department of Welfare and the boards of trustees of the mothers' assistance funds of the several counties; authorizing the Department of Welfare to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons; authorizing the appointment of trustees for certain persons; providing for the recovery of moneys expended for assistance in certain cases; certain cases prohibiting political activity by employes of the board providing substitute provisions in case Federal grants for old age assstance shall fail for any reason; providing penalties; and repealing inconsistent acts with the information that the House has passed same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21 which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar be in this case dispensed with and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows:

Page 10, line 23, by inserting after the word "convention" the following: "as an employee or in any official capacity;" also line 27 by inserting after the word "his" the words "or hers"; also line 28, by inserting at the beginning of the line the words "use his or her position to"; also page 11, line 8, by inserting after the word "travel" the following: "No member of the board and no investigator clerk or other employee of the board shall directly or indirectly demand solicit collect or receive or be in any manner concerned in demanding soliciting or receiving any assessment subscription or contribution whether voluntary or involuntary intended for any political purpose whatever."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

QUESTION OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his question of legislative inquiry.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to be advised whether or not this bill as amended is printed and on the Senators' desks as required by the Constitution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, that it is printer's number 11, file of the Senate No. 14.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to call to the attention of the members of the Senate that the only amendments which the House has inserted occur on page 10 and page 11 of the bill. If the Senators will refer to the last draft, that is, printer's No. 11, I call your attention to the following amendments as being the new amendments inserted by the House of Representatives:

On page 10, line 23, the words "as an employee or in any official capacity" were inserted by the House; also line 27, by inserting after the word "his" the words "or her"; also, line 28, by inserting at the beginning of the line the words "use his or her position to"; also page 11, line 8, by inserting after the word "travel", the following: "No member of the board and no investigator clerk or other employee of the board shall directly or indirectly demand solicit collect or receive or be in any manner concerned in demanding soliciting or receiving any assessment subscription or contribution whether voluntary or involuntary intended for any political purpose whatever."

I have checked over the bill carefully and so far I can find these are the only amendments inserted by the House of Representatives, and I am informed by the members of the House that my finding is correct.

In the committee of conference on the Brancato bill, these amendments were discussed and were agreed to for the Brancato bill, and, therefore, Mr. President, believing that these amendments only perfected the provisions which the Senate wrote into the bill, I trust the members of the Senate will concur to the amendments as inserted by the House.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, as sponsor of this bill, I desire to state that these House amendments are entirely satisfactory, and I ask the Senate to concur in the House amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—46

Aron,	Harvey,	Prince,	Shapiro,
Batchelor,	Howell,	Pytko,	Sones,
Bean,	Huffman,	Rankin,	Staudenmeier,

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I think, from the action of the Senate this afternoon, that it is quite obvious that the Democratic side of this House is not afraid to stay in session, whether there is a National Convention on or not, and do the work that it should.

Two weeks ago, when the Republican Convention was on, in defiance of the Constitution and laws, and everything else, we adjourned this Senate on Tuesday evening, in order that anybody that wanted to might get to the Republican Convention. I think that we have gotten to about the lowest depths from the standpoint of public opinion, when we try, as has been attempted here this afternoon, to put the question of relief in Pennsylvania on the basis of a weekly meal ticket. The resolution as it came from the Resolution Committee, and which the Republican side of this Senate refuses to have amended, provides relief on the standard that the Republican side of this Senate sets for just exactly one week. In other words, the people of Pennsylvania are being given by the Republican majority in the State Senate a weekly meal ticket. Now, this exists in face of the fact that for almost two months we have had had in this Senate and its committees appropriation bills and finance bills, which we have received from the lower house, which can adequately dispose of this relief problem—whatever the disposition of it may be.

Now, certainly there is not anybody who is going to know a bit more about the merits of this relief question Monday night than they do this afternoon; because everybody—on the Republican side of the Senate, at least—seems to be in a hurry to go home, and does not want to admit it.

I think the time has about come when we will have to quit transferring funds; and I think the time has come when the Democratic Party, as a party, in this Senate and Legislature, have got to say this foolishness is over; that the position of the weekly meal ticket is ridiculous; either that we appropriate money or we do not appropriate money; either that we are going to pass tax bills or that we are not going to pass tax bills. As the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, said last night, let us have the courage to do one thing or another. Let us not potter around over this situation like some missionary society, or something like that. We have bills in committee—Goodness knows there are plenty of bills in the Committee on Appropriations; Goodness knows there are plenty of bills in the Committee on Finance; and if the Senate wants to act on them, it is here to act on them. The House has already acted on them.

I want to say, Mr. President, that I, for one, will not vote for any more transferring of funds. Any more transferring of funds is absolutely inexcusable. And it is obvious, from what we have seen here today, that the Republican majority of the State Senate never intends to bring any tax bills on the floor of the Senate, or appropriation bills on the floor of this Senate, to dispose of this relief problem. If we are going to have relief in Pennsylvania, if we are going to provide these people with money, we have had too much time—and have not done it. If we are not going to do it, let the Republican side of the Senate come out and say, "We will not do it." If the Republicans want to give money for relief, the bills are there and can be brought out at five minutes' notice. Mr. President, I say, anybody who thinks about this situation and wants to do anything about this question of relief in this State, from now on there is no justification for voting any further transfer of funds.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think I ought to make some explanation of the position I have taken in this question. I think a few figures will convince the members of this Senate, if they want to be convinced and are fair, that the attempt to postpone the relief question until next Monday night creates an emergency such as they will not want to tolerate or incur.

I call the attention of the members of the Senate, particularly the Republican members of the Senate, to the fact that we appropriated $4,063,000, plus approximately $850,000, or a total of approximately $4,900,000 for relief in Pennsylvania as far as it will go. In the Committee on Appropriations, today, we were told that Dr. de Schweinitz and the Relief Board had suggested and said that that money would expire tomorrow. That means that in 23 days there has been spent the sum of $4,900,000. With just a little arithmetic the members of this committee will know that 23 into $4,900,000 will mean $213,000 a day. From now until the 29th of June it will require $1,491,000 to meet the relief rolls, if there are no depreciations in the number of people that have to be taken care of.

Now, I contend that a Senate body has no right to meet a situation of this kind half way, and pass an arbitrary resolution for $1,000,000 when there was presented to this Senate a resolution for $3,000,000 for the purpose of using that fund as far as it will go—not for the balance of June, not for the first week in July, but as far as it will go. We have had examples here in the Senate; the Senate appropriated a specific amount for the previous month, and Dr. de Schweinitz informed us he had spent $350,000 less than was appropriated. Surely he is not going to put the money in his pocket; and surely the argument that was given here before—"Do not give them more money, because the more you give them the more they will spend" has been refuted by the actual facts. No one can tell me, irrespective of my personal desires, or the desire of anyone in this Senate, that it is right for us to go home and leave this situation in that condition.

There is not a man on this floor that will deny those figures. Each day at $213,000 a day, and seven times $213,000 is $1,493,000. If those are the facts, then there can be no criticism upon whether you call it the Democratic side of the House or the Republican side of the House, which is supposed to vote against the amendments which you have made. I have never said that I am sure $70,000,000 is necessary, or $50,000,000, but I have insisted that it is our duty to see those who believe what is necessary, to tell us how much is needed, and to appropriate money for it. I call your attention to the fact that the treasury of the State has not had money enough to pay hospital bills and institution bills, appropriations specfically made at the 1935 session, and that it was necessary to transfer a million dollars last week. The government exceeded its rights to transfer a million dollars to keep the institutions open. Today in order to meet the three-million dollar emergency appropriation suggested by the resolution, it is necessary to transfer one million from the Liquor Tax and two million dollars from the Liquid Fuel Tax. No one wants to vote for a transfer of these funds if he knows the facts, and that is, that there will be no more money to transfer, because the State is not in a liquid condition to do it, and secondly, that the transfers already made at the previous Session have not yet been paid.

There is an issue here. There is a question. If those members what the Senator from Montgomery said last night, and what was in the papers, and I make this statement upon a literal statement referred to in the newspapers, that there is no money for relief in Pennsylvania—and I say again, if those members in the Senate who referred to that statement believe in it sincerely and have the courage of their convictions, then they should not vote a million dollars for relief, they should not vote one penny, and if they had in the back part of their minds the thought, they will find out in a very short time what the true situation is, and then will take care of it, then they should be sensible and fair enough to provide for a sufficient length of time that is commensurate with the relief situation. That is why I voted against that million dollar resolution, and that is why I propose to vote against any resolution that is based upon conjecture and based upon jockeying for political position. I do not care what Mr. Jones said, and I do not care what somebody else said, but anybdy who undertakes to criticize must not only destroy, but he must substitute and build up. If the Republican members of this Senate say that fifty-five million dollars is too much, then they have had time enough to make up their minds as to how much is necessary, and they have bills enough and good judgment enough to propose such tax legislation and send to the floor of this Senate such of the tax bills as they have and are in favor of, as will begin to raise funds, because you must have in mind that almost all tax legislation sent over here are taxes which will not bring in funds until the beginning of 1937, and I may say to the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, that there is no gallery now, and I am not talking any more than I was last night, and I did not send my remarks last night to the newspapers before I made them, but I made them in answer, and I am making my statements today on the same basis. I protest against this kind of action, and I think my friends on this side of the House will agree honestly and sincerely among themselves if they want to attack the problem they must attack it fairly.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, some few weeks ago Mr. De Schweinitz appeared before the Committee on Appropriations. His manner and the information he furnished the committee on Appropriations convinced all the members of the committee, I think, that he was a sincere and earnest gentleman and had a full knowledge of the amount of money required for relief. I heard the thought expressed by many of the Republicans that they had absolute confidence in Mr. de Schweinitz. I think, perhaps, in a sense, it is a blessing in disguise that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, raised the technical questions he did—he will keep us here tomorrow. I think we have had time here now to decide whether a million dollars will be required or a million four hundred ninety-three thousand will be required.

Mr. President, if I am in order, I move that Mr. de-Schweinitz be requested to furnish us by tomorrow morning, before we vote finally on this resolution, his estimate of the amount of money that he believes will be required to provide for relief until the last day of June.

If we still have confidence in Mr. de Schweinitz, then we will accept his figures; if we have not, then we will remain steadfast on the amount of one million dollars. Personally, I am willing to take Mr. de Schweinitz's judgment on this matter; and if a million dollars is not enough, and he says we need a million four hundred ninety-three thousand, I am perfectly willing to vote for that amount for relief until the end of this month.

MOTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM MR. DE SCHWEINITZ

I now move, Mr. President, that this information be requested from Mr. de Schweinitz.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will be very pleased to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, has not Dr. de Schweinitz already conveyed that information to this Senate?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, Mr. de Schweinitz has asked for three million dollars, which will be more than what will be necessary up until the end of the month.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, has not Dr. de Schweinitz already given to this Senate his figures as to what is necessary for the month of June?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I only know that Mr. de Schweinitz asked for three million dollars, which would be more than enough for this month.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I still insist to know whether or not Dr. de Schweinitz has given to the committee on Appropriations of this Senate the exact figures of how much relief, in his opinion—relief money, will be needed for the month of June. And was not that included in the original resolution sent over to the Senate some weeks ago?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the answer to that question is in the resolution; and, if the resolution is read, it will explain it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate my friend, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will be very pleased to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I know that the Senator is trying to be fair, and I would like to recall to his mind the question I am about to put to him—whether he does not know as a fact that in the early part of May—rather, in the early part of June, Dr. de Schweinitz, through the House, sent the resolution which was based on figures furnished it by Dr. de Schweinitz, asking that this Senate appropriate six million nine hundred thousand dollars, approximately, for relief for June, and that the committee on Appropriations arbitrarily reduced that to four million nine hundred thousand dollars on the belief that that would actually see us through the month of June.

Then, I ask the Senator the second question: whether it is not true now that we have evidence from Dr. de-Schweinitz that six million nine hundred thousand is primarily what was required, and that the amount allowed is not sufficient. Is the gentleman satisfied that the amount appropriated is not sufficient to carry us through the month of June?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, The cut was based on the fact that Mr. de Schweinitz over-estimated the amount required for the first fifteen days in June, and that he did not require all he had asked; and I think the figures will show that he returned eight hundred and some odd thousand dollars of the money asked.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is the lapsed money, but is not the gentleman satisfied now that the $4,900,000 is not sufficient for the month of June?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is evident by the figures.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am going to ask the gentleman the third question—I don't know whether he knows it,—but does the gentleman know whether it is not true that at the meeting of the State Emergency Relief Board Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Waters voted for an emergency request of $6,000,000 until—instead of three, which Dr. de Schweinitz estimated was sufficient to enable the Senate to complete their investigation?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have no knowledge as to how they voted on that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to call to the attention of the members of the Senate that at the meeting of the Relief Board it was concluded, by the vote of Mr. Waters and Mr. Baldwin, that $6,000,000 be asked of this Senate; and, by Dr. de Schweinitz, that $3,000,000 be asked without limitation; and a resolution was framed to that extent.

I see no reason—while I will vote for the resolution, I suggested to the gentleman who made the motion that no good could come of it, because we have either got to accept his figures or wait some more time until we got a repetition, or reiteration, of his information which we received at the beginning of the month.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman if the amendment is changed which now provides for $1,000,000. If there is an amendment drawn providing for $1,493,000, will that besufficient money to take care of the relief until the end of June?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would say—I can only answer that by saying, according to the amount already spent for the previous twenty-three days that would be sufficient, or maybe a little bit more than necessary. It would depend on two factors; One, how much more unemployed labor will be taken over; and, two, how much WPA will take over. With those two suggestions,—over which neither you nor I have any control, nor about which have we any information—I would say that $1,493,000 would see us through—not until the end of June but until the end of seven days, which, as I figure it, will be the 29th of June—until next Monday night—from the 22nd seven days.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I intend to vote against this resolution, because no information has been furnished me that we need more money than we have already appropriated for the month of June. The last report of the State Emergency Relief Board gave us the weekly amount of expenditures for relief grants from March up until June 13th, and, taking the last four weeks, ending June 13th, I find that the amount expended for relief grants is $4,972,790.

When we made the last transfer I thought we had made it plain to Mr. de Schweinitz that we wanted him to practice economy, and to cut down as much as possible the expenditures for this relief. He has not done so. There was a time when I thought there was only a moderate amount of chiseling among those who are on the relief rolls. I now think there is a very, very great great amount of chiseling; and I think that the practices of the State Emergency Relief Board encourage it rather than attempt to cut it down.

I know that the Auditor General's Department has been making some investigations into this matter. The Joint Investigating-Relief Committee created by a resolution of the House and Senate at the last regular session of the General Assembly called before it a member of the Auditor General's Department who was concerned with some of these investigations, and it appeared there, in one instance, that nine hundred and twenty-seven cases were investigated in a certain district in one of the counties, and of those nine hundred and twenty-seven cases one hundred and sixty-two were found to be wholly ineligible, mainly on account of the earnings which they were receiving from work in the mines; twenty-two other cases were receiving too much under the rules of the State Emergency Relief Board—under the budgetary deficiency system; so that, on those cases which were investigated in that one district of that one county there was being paid over $1200 a week too much.

These investigations, I am informed, are continuing; and it shows that a considerable number of those who are on the relief rolls have no business to be there.

Now, there is another feature which the State Emergency Relief Board does not seem to be considering at all. I have a report here showing the commodity distribution for the nineteen months ending March 31, 1936, and it shows that in addition to the regular grants by the State Emergency Relief Board there were 56,000,000 pounds of commodities distributed throughout the State. These include 150,000 bushels of potatoes, 28,300,000 pounds of canned beef, 3,300,000 pounds of rice, nearly 1,000,000 pounds of butter, 600,000 pounds of cheese, 700,000 pounds of sugar, nearly 4,000,000 pounds of evaporated milk, nearly 1,500,000 pounds of canned mutton, nearly 1,500,000 pounds of canned veal, and other commodities. In the City of Philadelphia, or in the district of Philadelphia, for the month of March there were 41,000 bushels of apples distributed.

Now we might as well come to the crux of this situation. The former Secretary of the Department of Welfare said, "We now recognize that in order to take care of the individual in trouble we must have a larger vision than that of the borough or township official, whose primary concern has been to spend as little as possible." In my opinion, this viewpoint, together with the fact that lavish funds have been furnished in the past, is what makes this relief load so high, and we have to get this relief distribution out of the hands of these people down here who have a social welfare complex, and have no regard for the taxpayer; and until we do that we are going to pay an enormous amount of relief, and load the people with taxes which they cannot stand.

And this has a very bad moral effect all over the state. These men who are on this WPA—a considerable number of them, as Mr. Jones says, have no business to be there; they ought to be out getting their own employment. I am told that in a certain town a lot of the WPA workers simply refuse to pay their debts. A doctor told me that he was informed by the manager of a State Liquor Store that on a certain WPA payday there was over $500 worth of liquor sold, mostly to WPA employes; and on that day he was able to collect only $2.00 of the bills which were owed him by these WPA men, and another doctor could only collect $1.50. This doctor who was telling me this situation said he had had 35 confinement cases with the WPA families, and of the amount due him for that large amount of work which he had done he was only able to collect $5.00.

These people are going to live off the taxpayers as long as we permit it, and we have got to cut down on this relief; and we have got to change this system of distribution, and we should do it at this Special Session of this Legislature.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, said there were 873 chiselers on relief—is that correct?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the figures of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, are wrong, as usual.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will ask the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, to give them to me; and we will see.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I stated that out of 927 cases investigated, in the area of a certain county—perhaps one-fifth of the county—that 162 of those cases were found to be wholly ineligible, and were taken off the relief rolls whenever the reports were made to the local administrator; and 22 other cases were found to be getting too much relief under the rules of the Board.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that happened to be in Somerset County?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that is true of that one area, but the same thing is true of every other county.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, said at one time, he thought the relief chiseling was very small. Now he says he finds 168 cases were chiselers. I would ask him also what month that investigation was made.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the rules of the Senate provide that no Senator shall speak more than twice on the same subject. I think the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has spoken six or eight times on this motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am asking questions, I know of no rule to stop interrogating another, except his right to refuse to answer.

The PRESIDENT. It is impossible for the Desk to get information as to what is going on unless the rules of parliamentary practice are enforced. The Senators will please, when they make an inquiry, and it has been answered, wait until they are recognized before making another inquiry. It will help very much to expedite matters, and will enable the Desk to get it properly in the Journal.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, yes, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am interested in the figure $4,900,000 which the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, said was spent in the past four weeks. Will he please state where he got those figures, and how they are made up?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I have the report of the "State Emergency Relief Board, Karl de Schweinitz, Executive Director. This material is released to the Press for use Monday, June 22 to Sunday, June 28, 1936."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator let me see it?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia doubt it?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, no, I don't doubt it.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that was last summer, but I am told that the same thing holds true in Fayette, Mercer, Lycoming and other counties at the present time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the Senator from Somerset in possession of the figures as to number of cases on the relief rolls by months? I have figures as follows: 4385 in May, 4617 in June, 4562 in July and 5178 in August.

Now, on my "usually wrong figures", can the Senator correct them?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, what year?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, 1935.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, what about it?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call his attention to the fact that if there are 162 cases out of 5178, the chiseling is not so much.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I stated to the Senator that this was only in the one area in which these cases were investigated. I have no doubt the same thing would be true in the area of Philadelphia or any other county in which the investigation was made.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator also state where he got—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I do not think the two gentlemen are discussing the motion that is before the body.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think this is perfectly proper in connection with the motion. The motion is that we ask Dr. de Schweinitz to give us some figures. We are all discussing the necessity of those figures.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have been asked by the Desk to reduce my motion to written form, which I have done; I think it was seconded by the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Harvey. My motion read as follows:

In the Senate, July 23, 1936.

I move that Mr. de Schweinitz, Director of the State Emergency Relief Board, submit immediately the amount that will be required to adequately take care of relief, up to and including June 30, 1936.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELDER, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 48 (House Bill No. 68), entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Forests and Waters to make a survey and investigation with respect to flood control and water conservation and the coordination of any Federal and State flood control program and making an appropriation.

Also from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 83 (House Bill No. 46), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the purpose of repairing existing dikes and river bank protections and building and constructing new dikes and river bank protections along the Delaware River at Matamoras and Milford Pike County.

Also from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 49 (House Bill No. 69), entitled:

Also from the Committee on Appropriations reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 84 (House Bill No. 60), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for the purpose of rehabilitating and replacing real and personal property of free public nonsectarian libraries Pennsylvania State Library public nonsectarian libraries and public school libraries damaged or destroyed by flood and providing procedure to ascertain the amount of damage.

MOTION TO RECEIVE REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I observe Dr. deSchweinitz in the rear of the Senate Chamber.

I move you that the Senate do now receive the report of Dr. de Schweinitz in answer to the request contained in the motion of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, request that the Senate recess in order to hear Dr. de Schweinitz? The Chair submits that it will be against parliamentary practice otherwise.

RECESS

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, in order to hear Mr. de Schweinitz.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO SUSPEND RULE 39 REQUESTED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in view of the information received from Dr. de Schweinitz, that $1,000,000, supposed to be transferred by the legislation now before this Senate, is sufficient until June 30th, I now ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions favorably reported from committee to lie over for one day, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 39

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move you that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions favorably reported from committee to lie over for one day, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to say that I made a similar motion, asking for immediate consideration, and it was voted down by my friends from the Republican side. I propose to vote for this motion to suspend the rule and allow this resolution to be considered immediately, but I am going to vote against the resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Wil lthe Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, while I seconded the motion for the immediate consideration of this resolution, I did so because of the fact that we had the information before us which we were awaiting, from Dr. de Schweinitz, and for the lack of which we were deferring consideration of the resolution until tomorrow morning. At the same time, Mr. President, I want to say that I will not vote for the resolution.

I think it is childish to the extreme to expect a man to conduct a business largely in excess of a million dollars a week and, as I said here a little while ago, just do it on a weekly meal ticket basis. The gentleman whose information we have respected by acting immediately after he has given us the information has recommended that we appropriate $3,000,000 for temporary purposes. We should, in accordance with his request, appropriate a sufficient sum so that all this monkeying and delaying and postponing without any rhyme or reason, or without any purpose, that has been going on here be ended once and for all. I say to you again, let us get down to business and settle this thing. This matter is just dragging out interminably in this Senate.

As to just what is going to be the disposition of this relief question, I do not see why we do not have courage enough to provide for relief or shut it off. If the Republican side of this Senate does not want to vote for relief, let them shut it off; but let us not take one week, or two or three weeks, and then the Committee on Finance, the chairman of which I notice is not here to hear this discussion—let them get out their tax bills; or the Committee on Appropriations, if they want to appropriate money for relief, let them put the appropriation bills on the floor.

You know and I know, Mr. President, that from the time we adjourn this Senate to the time we reconvene next Monday night practically nothing will be done as far as the consideration of these measures is concerned. There may be meetings here next Monday night, but you and I know from past experience that there will be practically nothing done until next Monday night at 9 o'clock as to the reporting out of these bills from the Committee on Finance and the Committee on Appropriations.

Now I say to the members of this Senate that in its present form, for $1,000,000, I will not vote for this resolution. If we want to appropriate, if we want to transfer, enough funds to tide us over for a reasonable period, to give these committees a chance to act further—in spite of their two weeks' delay, I say "Well and good"; but when we are just throwing this thing into a position that nobody knows what will result, I say there is no good purpose in it; and, Mr. President, I say to you that we in this Senate should vote down this resolution in its present form.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GELDER and Mr. HARRIS.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified, and was as follows:

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GELDER and Mr. HARRIS and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Buckman,	Lanius.	Rankin,	Shapiro,
Ealy,	McGreesh,	Rice,	Thompson,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Roberts,	(Centre)
Huffman,	Miller,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his point of order.

Mr. THOMPON. Mr. President, in view of the fact that this is a resolution committing the Senate to appropriate funds, I submit that it has not been passed by a constitutional majority—26, and that in reality it has been defeated.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I think this is a very poor time to adjourn the session of the Senate for any length of time that is absolutely unnecessary. We have got a problem right on our hands now—we have got this relief baby in our lap—and we have got to settle it. We might just as well come back here after supper and settle it as to adjourn to tomorrow morning. I will oppose any motion to adjourn this Senate to later than half-past eight this evening.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Centre. I have the greatest sympathy in the world for these gentlemen in the rear who would like to go to Philadelphia tonight; but, friendly as I am to them, I think we ought to stay here and transact the business for which this session was called.

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to adjourn.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, believing that a full stomach will probably give us a little more time, and put us in better humor, I move that the Senate do now recess until 9 o'clock this evening.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and Mr. HUFFMAN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—6

Lanius.	Pytko,	Roberts,	Woodward.
Law,	Rice,

NAYS—30

Aron,	Gelder,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Miller,	Sordoni,
Bean,	Harris,	Owlett,	Staudenmeier,
Buckman,	Harvey,	Pierson,	Thompson,
Cavalcante,	Howell,	Rankin,	(Westmoreland)
Chapman,	Huffman,	Reed,	Trainer,
Coyne,	Mallery,	(Dauphin)	Homsher,
Ealy,	McCreesh,	Rupp,	Pres. Pro., Tem.
Frey,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, since we have decided to stay in session, there is no question but what we ought to do something about settling this problem about getting money for relief. We certainly have the wherewithal right here in our committees to do it.

Mr. President, in order to provide money for this relief without any more of this monkey business of transferring or anything of that sort, I offer the following motion:

I move that the Committee on Finance of this Senate be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 20 House Bill No. 21), so that the same may be returned to the floor of this Senate for constitutional consideration.

Mr. President, that is the Chain Store Tax, and that tax will raise enough money to settle this problem that we have been wrestling with unconstitutionally this afternoon.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would just like to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that we have already passed a tax bill of $7,500,000 known as the Liquor Store Tax Bill; and if the Senator from Centre is so anxious to get $3,000,000 I suggest that he arrange to issue tax anticipation notes, which he will be able to do on any of these bills in order to raise money.

I also wish to call attention to the fact that the Committee on Finance unanimously agreed to ask the Democratic and Republican members to defer action on this and other bills, at a meeting held yesterday; and I think it is most inappropriate for a member of this Senate who has not been before the Committee on Finance, who has made no attempt before the committee to get this bill or any other bill out, to now come here and ask, in the absence of the chairman of the committee, for the discharge of the committee.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Tioga, let me state that the Chairman of the Committee on Finance is not present here this afternoon and is not aware of the emergency that has been created by the action of this Senate; and I think that if the Chairman of the Committee on Finance does not choose to be present, he cannot complain of what is done in his absence.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre how quickly we could hope to get any money from this Chain Store Tax if it were enacted into law, and whether that would help in the present emergency.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, it will help in the present emergency in this respect: That if we pass the Chain Store Tax we will then not have to make these transfers of funds. Then we can go ahead and appropriate money for which taxes are being levied, we will not have this uncertainty, we will be starting to work out a legislative program, we are not on the spot continually from day to day—as we are under other haphazard method of doing business; and the funds can be made available as soon as the machinery, the method, is provided for them. And as Dr. de Schweinitz says, the people who are doing business in our State with the Relief Board, when they know the money is coming through legislative action, will take care of the necessities of the Relief Board.

QUESTION OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, will state his question of legislative inquiry.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I was not in the Chamber yesterday when the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, referred to this matter, but I was told that he had stated he had appointed a sub-committee of three Republicans and three Democrats, of the Committee on Finance, to discuss all the revenue-raising bills before the committee.

Now, if that is correct, I would like to know it; and it seems to me this matter should be deferred until that committee has had time to act.

The PRESIDENT. The Secretary will read Rule 42, which has been adopted since the rules were printed.

The Secretary of the Senate read Rule 42, as follows:

"No committee shall be discharged from consideration of any measure within ten calendar days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate, or after such ten-day period except by majority vote of all members elected to the Senate."

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I did not get the rule that was being read.

The PRESIDENT. The rule will be reread.

The Secretary of the Senate reread Rule 42, as above.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, being a member of the Committee on Finance, and knowing what took place this week, at which time I think more progress was made than at any other time during the session, or perhaps during the entire period up until this week; and in view of the arrangement made—or the talk had before the committee—that all these bills be considered—and we had a two-hour session this afternoon—I think it is untimely and improper to present a resolution at this time to discharge the Committee on Finance from the consideration of any bill. It does not follow that because the majority here have wasted a great deal of time—which I think they have—that at this period, when we have made some progress—and considerable progress concerning the raising of money, and agreeing upon the bills that shall be sent out—that because we are in an uproar today, advantage should be taken of it to condemn or discharge this committee.

I do not feel that I want to vote for that kind of motion at this time, though I shall vote for the Chain Store Tax when it comes before us on the floor, and I shall vote in the committee to send it out; and I hope that this resolution will not prevail.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, not long ago we moved to stay in session. I did not hear the Senator from Monroe or any other Senator make any plan, offer any plan or suggestion, to solve the perplexing problem that is before us. I recall very definitely, on the question of the discharge of this same committee on the same sort of a bill last year, that the Senator from Cumberland spoke about this question of keeping bills in committee as "the rat in the statute." Now, certainly, if we have a job here to do this week, to provide money, no matter what the Committee on Finance has done, if we are faced with an emergency in our legislation here, the rat in the statute certainly should not keep us from fulfilling our legislative duties.

The PRESIDENT. On the motion to discharge the Committee from further consideration of the bill, those Senators voting "aye" will be voting for the discharge of the Committee; those voting "no" will be voting not to discharge the Committee.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—9

Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Pytko,	Thompson,
Harris,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	(Centre)
Kahle,	Miller,

Present and not voting: Mr. Frey, Mr. Lanius, Mr. Rice, Mr. Roberts, Mr. Shapiro.

So the question was determined in the negative.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. THOMPSON (Centre).

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—23

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to,
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a State planning bill. A number of the states have similar bills, but, mark you, all of them have been established in the last three years while we have been doing things by expiramentation. These bills are just in their infancy. Their function and their power have not been tested, and where they have had such a board in the different states there have been many objections. For instance, the State of New Jersey and the State of Missouri have passed negative bills, stating that the board must not interfere with the highway department of the State.

This bill calls for nine members to constitute the board, the nine members to be appointed by the Governor, four of them from the departments of the State and the other five from the citizens of the State. Those five members are the only ones that will be paid, and they are not to be paid more than five hundred dollars per year which would make twenty-five hundred dollars. So, you see, there is $22,500 according to this bill, which now asks for an appropriation of $25,000 to be spent for rooms that are to be furnished, and also for secretaries and for a secretary who is to be the advisor of the board. His salary is not fixed in this bill but will be fixed by the Governor and the members of the board.

Now, members of the House, I think this is an unnecessary bill. First, I object to it because I cannot see where it comes within the scope of the Governor's call. Second, the money that would be spent under this bill I think would be a mistake to spend at this time. We heard last night quite a talk about how the people on relief needed money, and you know that we need money for the school districts, the distressed school districts of the State, the hospitals, old age pensions and for other things which are much more worthy than this bill.

This bill calls for a State master plan, and in order to carry out the state master plan it is necessary to begin with the units at the bottom, hence it would go into the municipalities and work up through them, and I object to taking from the people of the municipalities the power that belongs to them. I am for home rule, I am for encouraging the people in my county and I know many of you are also, because when we take those things away from our people we injure the community in which we live. So, I say to you that I think this is an unnecessary bill at this time and that it should not be passed.

Mr. HARMUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am the sponsor of this bill and I think at this time it is very necessary to have a planning board in the State of Pennsylvania. This board will be set up and will have a lot to do in regard to controlling the flood waters of this State, particularly in the Pittsburgh district where we have planned a lot of work to be done in that respect. As far as spending dollars are concerned to set up this board, I feel that we will be more than repaid eventually, and it is going to be an advantage for everybody in the Commonwealth.

We also have the question of our streams which are polluted, I will say, to the extent of almost ninety percent in this State. This bill has jurisdiction over them, and it will also plan for bridge approaches and dikes along the rivers, which I believe is also very important at this time, and I want to ask each and every member to go along with me on this bill. In the 1933 session a like bill passed both houses and the Governor at that time did not sign it. In the last session I sponsored a similar bill, and I want to urge you people to vote for this bill.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 108, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for the adjustment and payment of certain claims

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask one of the sponsors of this bill to explain its object.

The SPEAKER. Will one of the sponsors of this bill explain its purposes?

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill has been prepared and presented to the members of the Assembly to correct a condition that existed during the year 1932 in the county of Northampton. During that period of time people receiving relief from county organizations were compelled to perform work on the highways in the county of Northampton and in return for that work which they performed, they received regular slips from the Highway Department setting forth the number of hours that they had worked, the rate of pay, and containing this notation: "This is a record of wages earned by ..... (the name of the party) during the pay period ending ..... (giving the date) with the Pennsylvania Department of Highways and should be retained until your check has been received."

In addition to that there was an opinion by the Attorney General under date of March 19, 1932, from C. K. Reinsmith, the superintendent of District 505, to the Family Welfare Association, 450 S. New Street, Bethlehem, Pa. Attention of Miss Fish.

"Dear Madam:

Kindly be advised that an opinion from the Department of Justice makes the Department of Highways responsible under the Workmen's Compensation Act for any injuries resulting to laborers furnished by the Welfare Department and used on highway work in the counties involved."

This shows knowledge on the part of the state of Pennsylvania that they were actually receiving this work. However, no checks were received by the men who performed the work. As a matter of fact the state of Pennsylvania received this work without paying one cent of compensation. This present bill was introduced in order that those men who actually performed this work could be compensated by the state of Pennsylvania for the work which the state of Pennsylvania has received.

You will notice that in the last paragraph of the bill it says, "Payment from said appropriation shall be made after the filing of proof of claim and an inspection of the records of the State Highway Department in such manner as the Executive Director of the State Emergency Relief Board may require." In other words, the necessary safeguards have been thrown around it, so that no one will receive money who is not entitled to the same. It is simply asking the members of this House to place their approval upon a bill whereby the state of Pennsylvania will pay its just debts.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finaly?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

STATEMENT BY MR. JONES

Mr. JONES asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we will have to decide, as I understand, in the next couple of days a bill which to me has been one of the most important measures of any legislation that I have supported during the ten years I have been in the Legislature. That is the Mothers' Pension. Members of the House, when I came to the Legislature I had a picture in the back of my head. When I was fourteen years old my dad died and I was the oldest of a family of four. He left just a small amount of insurance, and by my going to the breakers at that time and adding a few dollars to what he had left, we were able to keep our little family together. Now, we are confronted with the situation where we might take care of every mother who needs mothers' pension in Pennsylvania. I have told many a mother back home, who is waiting for us to pass this law, that it looked like we were going to pass it and they would get their pensions. It is all right, men, to talk about playing politics, but now you are going to play with the misery of women and little children if we do not pass this bill. As far as I am concerned, I am not concerned whether the Governor of this Commonwealth appoints the Mothers' Assistance Board; I am not concerned whether the Common Pleas Courts of the different counties appoint the Mothers' Assistance Boards; I am not concerned if the County Commissioners appoint a Mothers' Assistance Board, nor am I concerned if all three together appoint the boards. That doesn't matter to me. I will vote for any board that is appointed by any crowd, even Edward Jones.

Now, ladies and gentlemen of this House, the other day the lady from Philadelphia made the statement that the Senate was trying to play politics with the Mothers' Assistance in the state. I want to tell the membership of this House in all of my time in Luzerne County that is one board that politics was not played on. I will show you the board that was there for many years, and only one lady on that board ever was interested in politics, and her father, when he died, donated the Sutton Home to Wilkes-Barre for old people, and it shows that she and her family had the welfare of the people at heart. In our county they are playing politics with Mothers' Assistance because sometime ago His Excellency, the Governor fired our whole board, which was non-political, and most of them had been there very many years, and never any complaints about them. He appointed a board, all of whom with the exception of one lady were absolutely politicians of the first water, and every one a Democrat. I will read the names of the board in our county who were appointed Mrs. Mary V. Joyce of Pittston; Miss Isabelle L. Finn of Sugar Notch; Mrs. C. F. Netzel of Larksville; Mrs. Elizabeth Stroh of Wyoming; Mrs. Theodosia Kolenda of Nanticoke; Mrs. Margaret Kennedy Corrigan of Hazleton; Mrs Mary Conlon Mundy of East End, Wilkes-Barre.

Now, ladies and gentlemen of the House, the reason I am making this speech to-day is because I am one member of this House who would like to see politics kept out of the Mothers' Assistance, because it is very dear to my heart. I just want to relate one case that happened back in my county. A lady by the name of Mrs. Roberts was on Mothers' Pension about eight months ago and had been on for some time. Her son-in-law who was working about two days a week and had a couple of children and didn't have enough money to pay his own rent, came to my house and asked me if I would intercede for Mrs Roberts for her Mothers' Pension, which had been taken away from her. She did not live in my district, she lived in Mr. Roan's district, but her son-in-law did live in my district, and he stated the case. I went up to see the Mothers' Assistance Board, of which Mrs. O'Toole was the Executive Secretary at that time, and one of the very finest educated and qualified women to administer that board. She said, "Mr. Jones, if you will kindly sit down I will explain the situation here: Mrs. Roberts as well as some one hundred and four other mothers, representing about four or five hundred children are dropped off of the Mothers' Assistance Fund." She said, "You know our appropriation has been cut in Luzerne County sixty thousand dollars which made it necessary to knock off one hundred and five mothers, and as I said before, representing between four and five hundred children.

Members of the House, I think the worst thing that could ever happen to any little family or big family is when the father of the family is taken suddenly ill and dies, or in an accident and gets killed, and the family wakes up and finds out that the bread-winner and daddy has passed on. As I said before, I think that is the worst thing that can happen to any family in this whole Commonwealth except one. There is one other thing that is worse than that, and that is that the father is laid away in his grave, that they find out that he did not leave any insurance and they have no money; the mother is sorrowing for her helpmate and the children are sorrowing for daddy, and they find out that after this feeling that mother has that the children are torn away from her and put in homes. To me that is worse than the man dying.

Listen, I am not just saying this for a jest, and I don't see where it is funny. If that doesn't shut you up I wish at least you would keep quiet while I am telling my story because I mean everything from the heart.

That same little mother, Mrs. Roberts, when she told me about that case, lo and behold, when I went over the next day, she had a letter from the Kirby Health Center to go over the next day for examination and operation, and they found that she had abscesses of the stomach, which sometimes is cancer, and I want to tell you men if you were in that little family like I was and had seen Mrs. Roberts when they told that her Mother's pension, every dollar that she had in the world to support her family, was taken from her, and then get the message that she was to be operated on,—she had been losing weight, she only weighed eighty-five pounds,—men, every word I am telling you, I will take you to investigate and show you that every word is so. I want to tell you that is a thing that stirred my blood. Men, we appropriated the last session just as much as we did the session before, and I want to tell you when the Democratic administration cuts our Mother's pension up there $60,000,—it is not only Republican women but it is Democratic women that they are taking their pensions from. Men, that is playing politics with human miseries. You cannot deny that. Are we going to sit here and continue arguing? I voted for it, and the Governor played politics and gave us a political board, and yet I voted for it, and I will vote for it again if it comes in like that. But, men, are you going to sit over there and let the leaders over there tell you that you dare not vote for it because it takes away from th Governor the power of appointment. Don't you have any confidence in your Courts of Common Pleas? Don't you have any confidence in your County Commissioners? We have up in our county; we have confidence in the two Republicans and the one Democrat, and the Democrat was Johnny Riley, a good old Al Smith supporter.

Men, here is the situation, as the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, said, we have this forepart of the week to pass it, we are either going to pass that and give the rest of those mothers that which I promised them in Luzerne county,—they ar either going to get that pension or I am going back to tell them that the Democratic party of this House refused to go along because their leaders wouldn't let them, because they are afraid to buck their leaders,—they know it is right but still they dare not vote for it. I wish you would holler for the mother's pension the way you are hollering now. You are going to get a chance, Democratic members, not only to holler like that, but you are going to get a chance to turn the mother's pension down just because His Excellency, Governor Earle, can't appoint the boards. You don't like that, do you?

Now, I am going to show you another thing.—all right, keep hollering, we have lots of time and I don't mind it. This is an article from one of our daily papers, by which I can prove we have a Democratic board up there. The headline is a follows: Mothers' Fund Board Hires 4." The article goes on as follows: "Appointments announced by Mrs. Netzel were Miss Isabelle Finn, of Sugar Notch, a junior investigator." She is a daughter of one of the newly appointed members of the board, Mrs. Finn. That is politics. Another one was Miss Blanche Hinchcliffe, of Pittston, a stenographer. She is the daughter of one of the newly appointed members. Another appointment was Miss Helen Campbell, of Hazleton, a junior investigator. She is a daughter of a big Democratic leader down in Hazleton, who owns the Hazleton Brick Works, and is also a sister of a Democratic committeeman down there. Another appointment was Miss Joyce, of Pittston, a relative of one of the political leaders in Pittston.

Men, do not say that the Senate is trying to play politics with the mothers assistance, when it is you people who are doing so. Surely, the Courts of Common Pleas are fair, surely the County Commissioners in some counties are fair; surely, we will say that Governor Earle is fair. Do not hide behind politics when you are playing it. We want the mothers assistance so that you and I can go back and tell those mothers back there that we were bigger than the leaders over here, we put it over for them, and every one of them is going to get the mother's pension.

STATEMENT BY MR. REISING

MR. REISING asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, after hearing the wonderful remarks, from the gentleman who has recently spoken, with his great humanitarian tendencies, I am inclined to think that if he, who is a recognized Republican in the county from which he comes, and a Republican in this House, that if he would go into Beaver county and announce himself as a Republican, they crucify him because they would think it was the second coming of Christ, for this reason, that our Republicans control Beaver county. They repudiated and set aside mother's assistance because they said it was better to save money for the rich taxpayers than it was to take care of our human beings.

RESOLUTION No. 21

Miss BRANCATO asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up Resolution No. 21, Printer's No. 129.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1936.

Whereas, At the last regular session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, there was passed an act entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to allow members of the fire departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week, except in emergency cases," said act having been approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 639); and

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia has not exercised the powers granted in the above said act; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania request and urge the City of Philadelphia to exercise the authority granted to it under the act, approved the tenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 639), and that if a compliance is not possible at this date, that the said City of Philadelphia shall, at the earliest possible moment, give this matter its earnest consideration so that the firemen of the City of Philadelphia shall be enabled to enjoy twenty-four hours a week rest from their public duties.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Brancato.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Brancato, permit herself to be interrogated?

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Miss Brancato, is it not a fact that the police and firemen in Philadelphia now receive twenty-four hours off in accordance with the Act of Assembly?

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, they do not. The police only.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to say that I have no objection and shall not oppose this resolution. The gentleman from Philadelphia finds it most difficult to oppose anything that the charming lady from Philadelphia, Miss Brancato, wants. However, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that we have in Philadelphia a mayor who is on all fours with the policemen and firemen getting twenty-four hours a week off, and I know that without this resolution the Mayor of Philadelphia would so do. The police are now getting twenty-four hours a week off, and I have no doubt that if it is possible the firemen will get the twenty-four hours a week off as soon as possible. However, in view of the fact that the lady from Philadelphia would like to have this resolution adopted, I urgently urge that my Republican colleagues give their unanimous consent in order that the lady from Philadelphia can go back to Philadelphia and show to the firemen what she did for them.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

COMMITTEE GRANTED PERMISSION TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. YOURISHIN asked and obtained consent for the Committee on Labor to meet during the session of the House.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess for fifteen minutes. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess for fifteen minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

The time of recess having expired the House will be in order.

The Clerk of the House of Reprsentatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bills of the House of Representatives as follows:

House Bill No. 91 (Senate Bill No. 95), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the purpose of building and constructing new dikes, levees and river bank protections along the Delaware River at Morrisville Borough, Bucks County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

House Bill No. 118 (Senate Bill No. 96), entitled:

An Act abating accrued penalties and interest on certain delinquent taxes levied by counties, cities, boroughs, towns, townships, school districts and poor districts, where such taxes have heretofore been paid in full at face.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

House Bill No. 149 (Senate Bill No. 97), entitled:

An Act to amend an act, approved the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Act No. 3, entitled "An act abating certain tax penalties and interest of county, city (except city of the first class), borough, town, township, school district (except school district of the first class), and poor district taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period; and preserving certain tax liens, and providing for the extension thereof," by adding thereto a new section to be known as section six and one-tenth; providing for the compensation of delinquent tax collectors, their employes and expenses for the collection of delinquent taxes in cases where such compensation and expenses have heretofore been paid out of the penalties accrued and collected on such taxes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 4, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is a return practically to the poll tax. While not calling it a poll tax, it is a required payment of a county tax for exercising the right of franchise. When you read of this tax requirement, it sounds worse than it really is. It means a man must pay fifty or sixty cents in county taxes in order to vote. We have had a poll tax for many years, so no particular hardship would be incurred.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I think that the payment of a tax in order to vote, especially at this time, during the depression, is a hardship and is wrong. If the voter paid the tax himself, it might not be so bad. Our experience in the City of Pittsburgh, at least in Allegheny County, is that people who are poor and cannot afford to pay any tax, the "machine" pays the tax for him, and if they pay the tax for him they have got a lien on his vote; so that the small tax that may be required to vote does not mean so much so far as the treasury is concerned. It is a method, to my mind, of a political machine, whether it is a Democratic or Republican, to pay the taxes for the poor and then have a mortgage on their votes. I am going to oppose it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, under section four of this Act, I wonder how many people of Philadelphia would be able to vote even if they paid the tax.

Section 4 provides "if twenty-one years of age and upwards, he or she shall have paid within two years a county, municipal or school tax which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election."

There is no provision in our law at the present time to do either of those two things.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I did not hear how the Senator from Allegheny voted.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I will answer that question. I was not in the room when my name was called, and I do not desire to vote after coming in half an hour late. I thank the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, for his interest.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I call for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—16

Batchelor,	Harvey,	Owlett,	Thompson,
Bean,	Howell,	Pierson,	(Westmoreland)
Chapman,	Huffman,	Reed,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Law,	(Dauphin)	Homsher,
Graff	Mallery,		Pres. Pro. Tem.

NAYS—21

Aron,	Kahle,	Rankin,	Shapiro,
Buckman,	Lanius,	Rice,	Staudenmeier,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Roberts,	Thompson,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	(Centre)
Gelder,	Prince,	Scott,	Trainer,
Harris,	Pytko,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commnwealth of Pennsylvania."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I would like to make a brief explanation of the purpose of this amendment. This is an amendment to Article 18, relating to future amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and how made. The amendment contains the exact language of the present provision of the Constitution except in this particular: It strikes out the last words of the present provision, which reads: "but no amendment or amendments shall be submitted oftener than once in five years. When two or more amendments shall be submitted they shall be voted upon separately."

In view of the language I have just read, an amendment will be submitted at any general or municipal election, but no amendment which has been submitted and has failed of approval shall be again submitted within a period of five years thereafter. When two or more amendments shall be submitted, they shall be voted upon separately.

The present provision has been in the Constitution for almost one hundred years. It was contained in the Constitution of 1838 and re-enacted in the Constitution of 1874. However, under the adoption of the Constitution of 1874, there were no amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania until the year 1901, and a further set of amendments were passed in 1909, and at that time the Legislature of Pennsylvania and the executive officers construed that provision, the five-year limitation, as only relating to amendments which had already been rejected.

This question came before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of Armstrong vs. King, reported in 281 Pa., 207, and the Supreme Court held that the language applied to all amendments, that under the language of the Constitution, the amendments could only be submitted every five years. I am not going to take the time to read he opinion of Mr. Justice Simpson, except one paragraph, which clearly states the historical fact which I have stated. Mr. Justice Simpson said:

"The present Constitution was amended in 1901, 1909, 1911, 1913, 1915, 1918, 1920 and 1923, those of 1911, 1915, 1918 and 1920, being amendments to Article I section 8, relating to municipal indebtedness. It will be noticed that the untimely submissions were in 1911, 1913, 1918 and 1923. Had injunctions been sought at an appropriate time, against their then present submission, doubtless they would have been enjoined. No such action was applied for, however, the people gave their approval to the amendments, and to this day no one has challenged the fact that they are properly a part of the Constitution. The affirmative action of two successive legislatures, the form of submission, the approval by a majority of the electors, and all other steps necessary to give the amendments validity, were duly and properly taken; only the dates of submission were mistakes. It is now too late to directly attack the amendments on this ground, and they cannot be collaterally attacked for any reason."

The decision which I read was handed down in 1924, and since that time the rule has been strictly enforced that constitutional amendments can be submitted every five years, consequenly amendments were submitted in 1928 and 1933, and this legislature at the present moment can pass amendments to the Constitution. The next ensuing legislature, which meets in January, may pass the same amendment, but under that rule, submission to the people cannot be made until 1937, but deferred until 1938.

This amendment makes no change whatever except to provide that where an amendment passed one session and the ensuing legislature passes the same amendment, it shall go directly and promptly to the people. I can see no reason, Mr. President, for the enforcement of this five-year rule. While this legislature, or two successive legislatures, have adopted an amendment, why they should arbitrarily delay submitting what has been decreed as the will of the legislature to this arbitrary limitation. That is the only purpose and that is the reason. It is the only change which is sought in the present constitutional provision. If the legislature seeks to propose an amendment which has been rejected, the five-year limitation will remain apply. This will bring this provision in the Constitution into harmony with what was regarded as the practice in the Commonwealth between the years 1911 and 1924, when this decision of the Supreme Court was rendered.

I presented this in the belief that when two successive legislatures enact a constitutional amendment, that it not be delayed, but it should go directly to the people. Therefore, I hope this amendment will have favorable consideration of this body.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, for the purpose of information, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, if two successive legislatures should propose an amendment and the amendment had been regularly submitted to the people and the people defeated the amendment, will it be possible under this bill for the two successive legislatures to propose the same amendment and submit it to the people before the expiration of five years?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). I believe that that could be done, that is, if the two legislatures should act on the amendment but its submission to the people would be delayed for a period of five years.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, then the proposed legislation in this bill does not any way change the present provision that you can submit an amendment to the Constitution every five years?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, no, I cannot agree with the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante. Let us assume that this amendment is now in the Constitution, it would be possible for this session to enact an amendment, and if the session of 1937 enacted that amendment, it could be submitted promptly to the people in 1937, whereas, at the present time under the five-year rule, according to the Supreme Court, it could not go to the people until 1938.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, but if that particular amendment is defeated by the people, it still could not be submitted to them within the five year period?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, that is right, on the theory that the legislature could not force the people every two or three years to vote for the proposition.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the purpose of this bill maybe proper, but heretofore I have felt that the Constitution of this Commonwealth does not need a piecemeal breaking down and rebuilding. I am certainly of the belief that the Constitution of this Commonwealth needs a revision from top to bottom, and in order to act consistently with that belief, I intend to vote against this bill. I am of the opinion, as I stated, that the Constitution should be revised from top to bottom, and any time any legislation is proposed in the Senate—if I still have the honor of being a member of it—I shall vote for a revision of the Constitution, but I will not vote for any bill that permits the breaking down of the Constitution piece-meal and then building it up again.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand the intent of this resolution is that if any session of the legislature would fail to adopt a set of proposed amendments, that the next session of the legislature could act on it again to submit it to the people, but if the two branches voted in accordance with this amendment and approved it, then submit it to the people to approve it, that it could be acted upon again in five years. I think it is a good suggestion and a step in the right direction, but I am asking only for information, because I am not so sure that the use of the words which have been inserted here carry out the intent. I should like to call it to the attention of the sponsor of this bill. "No amendment which has been submitted shall be again submitted within a period of five years." It seems to me it might apply to a failure to approve by the legislature. In other words, my position is if the words "no amendment which has been submitted to the people and failed of approval" would clarify that and leave no question of doubt, old or present constitution, but with the amendment here, I am not so sure that those words may be as clear as they should be under the circumstances. I am quite sure that the intention should be made clear.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

An Act authorizing the Department of Forests and Waters to make a survey and investigation with respect to flood control and water conservation and the coordination of any Federal and State flood control program and making an appropriation

Whereas Numerous projects have been proposed in the Commonwealth for flood prevention and flood control involving the construction of storage reservoirs dykes and other forms of stream channel improvement and

Whereas It is of utmost importance that such projects be studied and correlated so that they may form part of a properly developed plan for flood control covering the entire Commonwealth and

Whereas A study should be made to determine how much projects may be constructed primarily in the interest of flood control and at the same time develop the uses of water for public water supply hydroelectric power development navigation increase of dry weather flow sanitation and other forms of water conservation and

Whereas A survey and investigation should be made to determine the locations where additional storage reservoirs may be built for flood control and at the same time provide for water conservation including estimates of cost and economic justification and

Whereas The construction of flood control works by the Federal Government with or without the financial cooperation of this and adjoining states should be carefully reviewed by some Commonwealth agency to the end that such projects may be most advantageously coordinated with any State program for flood control and water conservation therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Forests and Waters is hereby authorized and directed to make a survey and study of the various watersheds of the Commonwealth for the purpose of determining for the benefit of this Commonwealth and the Federal Government where reservoirs may be built for flood control and the manner in which such developments may be combined to best advantage with other forms of water conservation and for the further purpose of determining where and in what manner flood control may be secured by the construction of dykes and other forms of stream channel improvement

Section 2 The Department of Forests and Waters shall make a complete report of its investigation and flood control survey to the next General Assembly convening in January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven not later than February first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven so that the General Assembly may be fully advised in order that appropriate legislation may be enacted with a view of adopting a comprehensive flood control and water conservation program

Section 3 The sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Forests and Waters for the payment of the salary compensation and wages of engineers experts clerks assistants and employes deemed necessary in making the investigation survey and report authorized by this act for the payment of postage traveling expenses mileage charges to the Department of Property and Supplies for the use of automobiles telephone toll charges telegrams expenses of operating and maintaining automobiles and other motor equipment for printing and for all other incidental expenses necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of this act

Whereas the continued efficiency of any water impounding dams which may be constructed by the State or Federal Government as flood control projects is dependent upon reducing to a minimum the silt deposited in them and

Whereas A forest cover with its honey-combed soil and thick humus bedded surface is the most effective agent known to prevent soil erosion and the silting of streams and dams and to retard the water run-off and

Whereas There are upwards of two million three hundred thousand acres of submarginal idle and abandoned farm lands in this State located largely on the upper river water sheds which are subject to serious soil erosion and rapid water run-off which constitute a growing menace during flood seasons and are of little value for reforestation and

Whereas The rate of fire damage on private unmanaged and unattended wild lands is six times that on State-controlled forest lands and such burned-over lands constitute an additional menace from soil erosion and water run-off therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Forests and Waters is hereby authorized and directed to make an investigation and reforestation survey with flood control as the objective of all private forest lands and all abandoned farm lands and submarginal lands their location availability for purchase and their approximate purchase prices together with all lands in any of the above classes on which the taxes imposed by political subdivisions are delinquent or which have been sold to counties because of insufficient bids at tax sales

Reverend FRANK W. RUTH, a member of the Senate, offered the following prayer:

Most gracious Lord and God, we come to Thee this morning with a deep sense of gratitude for the many gifts, the many blessings which Thou hast bestowed upon us, especially for the blessing of health and strength which Thou hast so graciously given to us.

We pray Thee, Father, Thou wilt bless each one of the members of this House today and the members of their families. Those who may be in illness or distress, may the cooling hand of Thy presence be placed upon them and restore them again to full health and strength. Help us each morning to dedicate ourselves to Thy service and to the service of mankind, so that we may so do our work and lead our lives that if it should be our last day upon earth, we may enter into that reward which Thou has promised to Thy children with a feeling of satisfaction that we have done the best that we could.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO HOUSE POST MASTER

Mr. CARSON offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted.

In the House of Representatives, June 24, 1936.

Our genial, courteous and efficient postmaster of the House of Representatives has just become a grandfather;

Another Smith has arrived upon this earth to prolong the unbroken lineage of our friend through whose untiring efforts we are assured of the prompt receipt of our official mail; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends it warmest congratulations to Robert Francis Smith, postmaster of this House, on the occasion of the birth of his first grandson, the son of Thomas Smith, a principal of schools in the County of Washington, Pennsylvania; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of this House to Mr. Robert Francis Smith.

RESOLUTION No. 2

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 2, Printer's No. 46.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1936.

Whereas Information is given to the public emanating from Washington that at least one million aliens are illegally within the borders of the United States and

Whereas If this information is correct and appreciable percentage of these will be found within this Commonwealth and

Whereas It is believed that much of the money spent for unemployment relief is expended for the maintenance of aliens illegally within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the State Emergency Relief Board and those in charge of the administration of unemployment relief in this Commonwealth be instructed to refuse to grant any unemployment direct or work relief to any alien who is known to be illegally within this Commonwealth

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board by the Chief Clerk of this House

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Brown.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Brown, to explain the fore part of this resolution, the first "whereas" clause. What does that mean, "are illegally within the borders of the United States"?

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I mean those residents of our country who have come in across the border without the proper papers. It is estimated that there are a million such persons in these United States. The United States Senate, really, has just passed a similar resolution a few days ago.

I feel that charity begins at home. There seems to be a shortage of funds, and we have no obligation to take care of citizens of other lands who come in here illegally. If they do come in legally, if they have their first papers and come in legally, we are taking care of them. We are taking care of the blind, even though they may not be citizens of the United States, but there is no obligation upon us, when we are short of money for relief, to take care of those who have come in illegally.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my reason for asking that question of the gentleman from Washington was due to the fact that at the present time in the State of Pennsylvania, there is a great number of aliens that were admitted to this country, not illegally, but legally. Yet they are aliens, they have families here that were born and reared and educated in this country. I was just wondering whether this resolution would not apply to them. If a man is admitted illegally to this country, I do not think the relief authorities will grant any relief to him, and if he is found out he is deported immediately at the present time.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I consider this a very dangerous resolution. Many arguments can be made against it. In the first place, aliens, of whatever vintage, are human beings, and while they are here something must be done to prevent them from starving. I don't believe that any one here would want to see them turned out to starve. There are plenty of laws to take care of those who are here illegally, once they are discovered, and I think they provide for their immediate deportation to the country from whence they came. There is no reason why, if there are such aliens, known to be in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that they should continue indefinitely on our relief rolls. But while they are here, certainly we are not going to starve them just because they were unfortunate enough not to be born within Pennsylvania or even the United States. A more dangerous feature of this resolution, however, lies in the fact that you are going to open the door to a sort of heresy hunt against every alien in Pennsylvania, and a lot of people who are not aliens. All that will be necessary will be for some gossip to go around and whisper that so and so who is on relief is an alien and is here illegally. Under this resolution a relief board would probably feel they would be bound to cut off relief from that person until they proved that they were here legally. That is going to result in all sorts of hardships and discrimination, and I don't think that any member of this House wants to impose upon the people on relief in Pennsylvania any such burden because they are subject now to enough hardship without adding to them. I hope the members of this House will vote against the resolution, and, Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that the first "whereas" clause, stating that there are many aliens illegally in this country, is correct, but, nevertheless, I think we must also agree with the gentleman from Berks that we should not starve them, so, therefore, the "resolved" clause should not be to refuse them direct or work relief, but the "resolved" clause should be that they be reported to the proper authorities in order that they may be deported from this country. That would be the only reason that I would vote against this resolution because I feel the first "resolve" clause is wrong.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not subscribe to the proposition that the State should support those people who are in this country in violation of the immigration laws, nevertheless, I wish to point out to the members the third "whereas" clause, which reads as follows: "Whereas it is believed that much of the money spent for unemployment relief is expended for the maintenance of aliens illegally within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania".

Members of the House, I do not think the sponsor of this resolution really believes that that "whereas" clause is sound. It really connotes that a big percentage of the money which is expended for unemployment relief is given to people illegally in this country, and if the first two "whereas" clauses are correct, I do not think that the percentage would be any more than three or four or five. I can not support a resolution which on its face is so manifestly incorrect.

RESOLUTION RECOMMITTED

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think the proper thing to do with this resolution is to recommit it for further consideration. Therefore, I move you that Resolution No. 2 be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for further consideration and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I can only say that I ask the support of this House. It is a Democratic principle, it is a principle of the WPA in Washington. Mr. Hopkins,—one of his purposes is to eliminate WPA payments to aliens known to be illegally within the United States. Of course, you may do as you please, but it is a Democratic principle from Washington. If you Democrats do not want to support it, it will be all right.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not in sympathy with using the taxpayers' money to support persons who are illegally in this country or in this Commonwealth, but I am certainly not in sympathy with starving them to death for the purpose of eliminating them from our relief rolls. So, until such time as the Federal Department of Welfare and other departments, including the Department of Justice, takes care of the illegal admission of aliens into this country, I say we should feed them. I ask the members to vote down this resolution.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose the motion to recommit. I can see no reason why the membership of this House should not kill this resolution on the floor. It has been brought before us, it has been put on the spot. There is no purpose whatever in sending it back to committee and handling it that way. Let us do it openly on the floor of the House. I ask you to vote against this motion and then afterwards to kill this resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appear to have it, whereupon, a division was called for, eight-four members voting in the affirmative and thirty-two in the negative the motion was agreed to and the resolution was recommitted.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. O'KEEFE from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported as amended, House Bill No. 105, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by authorizing the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to issue package retailers' licenses for the sale of malt and brewed beverages in limited quantities for consumption off the premises where sold; imposing license and filing fees, and providing for the collection and distribution thereof; regulating and restraining the traffic in malt and brewed beverages by such licenses, and restricting the use, ownership and interest in licensed places; imposing duties upon the court of quarter sessions and the Department of Justice; and providing penalties.

Mr. PFAFF, from the Committee on Labor, reported as amended for Mr. Shepard, House Bill No. 138, entitled:

An Act limiting the hours of employment and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the members of this House from Cambria County have received the following letter from the local officials of the Sun Oil Company:

"Resolved: That the following employes of the Sun Oil Company at Johnstown, do hereby go on record as being irrevocably and unalterably opposed to any increase in the tax on gasoline and any increase in truck license fees.

"That we are also opposed to the diversion of Motor License or Liquid Fuel Tax Funds to other uses than highway construction and maintenance.

"That the vote of our representatives or senator on the above matters, which are of vital interest to our industry, shall govern our vote in the next general election."

There we have a declaration, Mr. Speaker, that the special interests of the Sun Oil Company are to be made a governing consideration in the political activities of the employes of that company. The members from Cambria County are notified that although they may vote right upon ninety-nine per cent of the propositions that come before this House that if they offend the program of the Sun Oil Company in one particular, they shall be marked for opposition.

On this basis, Mr. Speaker, the members from Cambria County welcome the opposition of the Sun Oil Company and we hope that some of us may be able to return to the hall of this House to enact legislation which will make threats of this kind a criminal offense.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, in these amendments we are only transferring one million dollars for the balance of June and a second million dollars which can not be used until July, is that correct.

Mr. COHEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if one million dollars will be sufficient to carry on for the month of June.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, according to the estimate of available funds that can be utilized for transfer to the State Emergency Relief Board, those funds plus the million dollars, which is included in this appropriation, will be sufficient to carry relief until the end of June, 1936.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, JUNE 16, 1936.

Pursuant to a resolution unanimously adopted by the House on June 8, 1936, memorial services as therein directed were held in the Hall of the House on Tuesday, June 16, 1936, at three o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) Presiding.

The SPEAKER. Ladies and gentlemen, we are here this afternoon to conduct the memorial services for the late Speaker of the House and for three other members who are deceased. This is a very solemn occasion. It is our duty to honor and pay tribute to these members.

At this time I will turn over the Chair to the Chairman of the Committee for these exercises, the gentleman from Berks, Honorable Mahlon F. LaRue.

Mr. LaRUE, Presiding.

The CHAIRMAN. This being the hour set for the memorial services for four of our deceased members, this House will come to order.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, a member of this House, Reverend Marshall L. Shepard, who will offer the prayer.

PRAYER

Reverend MARSHALL L. SHEPARD, a member of the House offered the following prayer:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee that it is our privilege to be co-workers with Thee. We thank Thee that in the course of our duties we associate with men whom we esteem very highly, men whose lives touch ours. We know that we are made better because of this very happy association.

We thank Thee for the late Speaker, Wilson G. Sarig and the other members of this House, who have gone on to their eternal reward. We are grateful for the inspiration and encouragement that we have received from them. We thank Thee for the rich values in fellowship that were ours because our lives touched theirs. Now, may we hallow their memory, may we emulate in our lives those fine qualities that made them such a blessing to their day and generation. Guide us through the remainder of this service, and may everything that is said and done redound to Thy Honor and Glory. In His Name and for His sake, Amen.

HONORABLE WILSON G. SARIG

The CHAIRMAN. We will first proceed with the memorial services for our late lamented Speaker, Wilson G. Sarig.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Honorable Ellwood J. Turner.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, and fellow members of the House, I arise with a sense of pleasure, if one may say that one may have pleasure in speaking on an occasion like this. I deem it an honor and appreciate the fact that the committee asked me to speak in reference to our late beloved Speaker, and my own personal friend, with whom I served so many years in this House. In the prayer we have just heard, the Parson spoke of the happiness of service and the happiness of association with others in this work of the Legislature. I remember when I came to the House in 1925 that Mr. Sarig at that time was one of the outstanding members, one of that little band, that little handful at that time, of Democrats in this House, who firmly, believing in the great principles and traditions of that party notwithstanding the fact that they were submerged by the great majority of Republicans, were nevertheless willing to stand and to fight for those things which they believed to be right. Such a man must always win one's respect, whether you differ with him as to his reasoning and as to the principles for which he stands. As time went on it was my pleasure to know him in a broader sense, to know that beneath what at times seemed to be a very solemn mien, was a great well of humor, a great well of fun, that while he attended studiously to his duties in this House, and was always attentive to those things that were passing before us in the way of legislation, at the same time could see the fun and could enter into the spirit of gaiety that occurred in the House from time to time. I think that none of us will ever forget those sallies of his, those poems of his, that he read from time to time in the session of 1931. When the time came that the Democratic party had mustered a majority in this House, even though we regretted it, of course, and disliked to take a back seat, and to know that there was going to be a Democratic majority to control the affairs of this House, I think that to those of us who had served and had known this man, there was a tremendous amount of pleasure in the thought that the man who carried the banner, the man who, when the cause was not popular, the man who when the ranks were thin and very small, had stood in the front and fought what to him was the good fight, was at last to be recognized and placed on the rostrum, a great position, an honored position, a position which carries with it the traditions of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the history making legislation that has been enacted in these halls.

So, I can not today be mournful, as much as I regret that we do not have him with us, because there is too much in his life that was fine, and there was so much in his life that looked upon the bright side of things.

I regret that he is gone from among us, but I believe that in leaving us here behind he contributed a great share to the life and the culture and the well-being of the people of this State.

The other day I read in a little bulletin published by one of our departments, that the rocks of Pennsylvania were a billion years old. A billion years is almost impossible to conceive. We think of time in hundreds or thousands of years when we study history, but a billion years is beyond the comprehension of most of us. In that article it said that the building of these rocks is comparable to the waves washing upon the shore and gradually piling up the little particles of sand, gradually building infinitesimally at first, almost imperceptible to the eye, gradually building and building and building.

So I would like to think of the life of a man such as our lamented Speaker; forty-five years in instructing the youth of the Commonwealth, forty-five years as a teacher, but no conceding that as his sole work upon the earth, but also taking unto himself another task, contributing his part to the political and economic life of our people. Perhaps history will not inscribe his name on its pages. It is only given to a very few in the millions that play a part in history to have their names indelibly inscribed on future generations, but I believe that the man who in his daily life, who in his profession, who in public life contributes the best that is in him, who has vision, honesty, and integrity, who inspires the best that is in other men, is like those little grains that have gradually made these rocks, made these great piles of what we call mountains, that inspire us all as we stand and look upon them,—the green hills of Pennsylvania with their mineral wealth, molecules and little vegetable and animal life, almost invisible to the eye, have year by year accumulated to build a great Commonwealth.

So have men like the little molecules, like those infinitesimal bits of animal and vegetable life contributed to the making of civilization, and to the making of a state, to the building of happiness for a people, and opportunity of a future for its youth, that there may be offered to the world a great nation like America, the hope of all mankind.

So, I would like to say, Mr. Chairman, in closing, that I believe that our late Speaker was one of that sort of men. I believe he has left his mark and influence upon our time.

Though the people of Pennsylvania never erect to his memory a great shaft such as that which stands in Washington; although no bronze statute ever be erected to his memory; though in the Hall of Fame there be no bust of Wilson G. Sarig, yet I think those of us who are his friends, and those of his family can be proud of the fact and can have a deep sense of satisfaction in their hearts that this man built a fine statue for himself, and a fine monument of more imperishable material than any bronze or marble, an imperishable monument that is builded in the hearts of men and in the minds of the people, when a man has been a good servant and his work has been well done.

The CHAIRMAN. It has fallen to my lot to speak more especialy in memory of one of Pennsylvania's greatest sons, the Honorable Wilson G. Sarig, former beloved Speaker of this House. Mr. Sarig was my friend, and while no words of mine can add peace to his ashes or sweetness to his sleep, I beg to place on record my tribute of affection and esteem.

With him citizenship was a sacred trust as well as a privilege, and in the discharge of its responsibilities he exercised the most conscientious care. He was a politician in the sense that he was a student of the science of government, and a successful Legislator in that he endeavored to put into effective law the principles in which he believed. He possessed all the characteristics of the statesman. He reasoned out each proposition that came before him with a singleness of purpose and a desire to know the right.

Our hearts are burdened with grief as we realize that one whose voice and form, for many years so familiar in this Legislative Hall, is no longer in this life to be seen and heard and greeted by us.

We rejoice in the noble life he lived, in the high ideals which directed him in all of his activities and for the wholesome influence of his life upon others, whether as student, teacher or as a legislator.

The Hon. Wilson G. Sarig was born in Lenhartsville, Berks County, on March 7, 1874. The son of a stone mason and in modest circumstances, he worked his way through Keystone State Normal School at Kutztown, Pennsylvania, by living at a farm near the school and doing chores for the farmer. Part of his course was taken in "spring terms" when he would teach in a country school and at the close of the term go to normal school from which he graduated in 1894.

Because of his early struggle for an education he was always interested in making it possible for children to receive an education regardless of the financial status of their families. In 1933, as the oldest member in point of service on the Educational Committee of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, he was instrumental in defeating an attempt to abandon the Keystone State Teachers' College. From 1891 until the date of retirement from service on his sixty-second birthday, March 7, 1936, he taught in the public schools. Since 1899 he had been a teacher in the schools of Temple, his home town.

The Hon. Wilson G. Sarig was an outstanding member of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania. At the age of 21 he was elected as delegate to the County Convention from the Borough of Lenhartsville, which, because of the fact that it controlled as many delegates as wards in Reading with ten times its population, had become a political hotbed. Resigning his post in Temple as Justice of the Peace which he had held since 1900, he served his first term in the State Legislature in 1915. Thereafter he served eight more terms, five of them as minority floor leader in the House of Representatives, an honor which naturally followed his having been named the minority candidate for the Speakership.

On January 1, 1935, the ideal of this man was realized when he was elected Speaker of the House. With the aid of his key men he carried through Governor Earle's program without the loss of a single measure in the House, a record of which he was pardonably proud. That he was impartial and fair as Speaker was emphasized at the close of the session in June, 1935, when members of the three parties represented in the House paid him honor at special ceremonies for that purpose. The same keen sense of humor that endeared him to his pupils helped him through situations that might otherwise have been tense in connection with his duties as Speaker. Mr. Sarig was the first Berks countian to hold this position in 79 years and the first Democrat in 52 years.

He was a Liberal, especially opposed to an ever-increasing centralization of power. In regard to an attempt to take away local government of schools, of which he was very much in favor, he said: "God forbid that our schools should be made a political football." As an expression of appreciation of this attitude, and his professional services to the general public, the new grade school in Muhlenburg Township, Berks County, will bear the name of Hon. Wilson G. Sarig.

Mr. Sarig will be remembered on Capitol Hill for the colorful similies and quips he would inject into his speeches, and one of those phrases that still rings in my ears is: "And also the following." One of his most frequent targets was former Governor Pinchot, with whom he had nothing in common politically. Once he said: "Here lies the Pinchot Administration. It died of a mania (for power)." Realizing that he could say nothing derogatory on the floor of the House, Mr. Sarig prepared resolutions commending the Governor for certain acts, which because of their irony caused quite a bit of amusement to the members. The fact that these resolutions never were adopted did not bother their sponsor; he would prepare another one, just as ironic, and introduce it on the following Monday evening.

In 1924 he was elected County Chairman of Berks

County, but resigned this post to become a candidate for the Legislature. In 1932 he was the Democratic candidate for Auditor General, but was defeated with the rest of the ticket in the State. In 1920 he was defeated for a seat in the State Senate from Berks County by the late Senator James E. Norton.

Mr. Sarig was well known for his oratory. He delivered many addresses throughout the State, particularly in the eastern and central sections. His speeches played an important part in the fight for Constitutional Revision.

Governor George H. Earle said of him at his death on March 14, 1936:

"I can not find words to express my sorrow upon the death of Speaker Sarig. His deep and sincere devotion to the public welfare, his rugged personal virtues of loyalty, honesty and faithfulness to duty, endeared him to everyone. There are few men in public life today who will not mourn for him, few who will not feel the loss of his wise and prudent counsel.

"His death is a tremendous loss to my administration. The success of the great humanitarian program passed by the House of Representatives at last year's session is a tribute to his generalship and his devotion to liberal principles of government.

"His family and his friends and neighbors in Berks County may well be proud of Speaker Sarig. His career has been one of unselfish service to mankind. In his passing I feel a deep sense of personal loss, the loss of a dear friend and a trusted adviser. His work is done, but his labors through the years have helped to make Pennsylvania a better place to live in—and the good that he has done lives after him."

May the grief of Mrs. Sarig and his two daughters be made less oppressive as they think of the splendid life of the one taken from their midst.

Instead of mourning, let us look up and address him in the words of the poet:

"Thy day has come, not gone;
Thy sun has risen, not set;
Thy life is now beyond
The reach of death or change,
Not ended—but begun
O, noble soul! O, gentle heart! Hail, and farewell."

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Berks, the Honorable Darlington Hoopes.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Chairman, I am not a memorial speaker and I feel really unable to say anything worthy of note on an occasion such as this, but I feel I would be remiss in my duty if I did not pay a tribute to the late Speaker Sarig. As a new member in 1931, I found him ever ready to offer advice or to help me in any way that he could. As Speaker of the House, I found him always fair, always willing to recognize me, although he knew very well that what I was going to say would certainly be contrary to what he believed. A man who could do that, a man who served the State as long and as ably as he did is worthy of the tribute that has been paid him and I deem it a great honor on this occasion to add my feeble words to what has already been said in praise of him.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Berks, the Honorable Lloyd M. Schaeffer.

Mr. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, having been elected as a successor of Wilson G. Sarig in the Fourth Legislative District in the County of Berks, I would be remiss in my duty as a Legislator if I would not say a few words at this particular moment. Little did I realize when I came into these halls, of the esteem, of the honor and of the glory that was bestowed upon Mr. Sarig in his life time. Coming from his home district, residing only a few miles away from his home town, we there perhaps did not realize and could not preceive the high honor that was bestowed upon this man in this hall. Mr. Sarig, as known to his constituents, was of a high-strung type, a loving, esteemed and kind friend, but a bitter and relentless foe, especially in political life. Mr. Sarig had his faults and his defects, but with all I realize that the people of Berks County are just beginning to appreciate the high standing of Mr. Sarig in the community, in the State and in the nation.

Mr. Sarig started humbly as a teacher, taught for forty-five years, I believe, in the schools, worked upon the plastic minds of the young, and the impressions that he there created in the minds of the young will stand for some time to come. Being grounded and interested in politics and being a great student of history, he became impressed with the Jacksonian principles of democracy and was one of the greatest admirers of Andrew Jackson and of Thomas Jefferson.

I might say in conclusion this, that the forensic ability that he acquired in his day started in small debating or literary societies of the county of the kind that were common in those days and which were even common in my youth. Mr. Sarig stood high in the political limelight of this country and of the Democratic party as a whole. May it be said in this demise the Roosevelt administration has lost one of its most ardent admirers, the Democratic party one of its greatest campaigners, the State of Pennsylvania a noble and eminent statesman, the County of Berks a noble son, the Borough of Temple, his home town, its most eminent citizen, and his wife and children a kind husband and loving father.

Mr. Chairman, I have a resolution at this time that I wish to present.

RESOLUTION EXTENDING SYMPATHY ON DEATH OF HONORABLE WILSON G. SARIG

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1936.

During the interim between the adjournment of the Regular Session of the Legislature of 1935, and the convening of this Special Session, the Members of the House of Representatives were saddened by the news of the death of their beloved Speaker, the Honorable Wilson G. Sarig.

A native of Lenhartsville, Berks County, he attended the public schools, graduated from the Keystone State Normal School at Kutztown, taught in the public schools more than forty years, served his community as a justice of the peace, and his legislative district and his State as a Member of this House of Representatives for eighteen years, being honored at the Session of 1935 with election to the office of Speaker.

He was a leader of the Democratic party, attending its conventions as a delegate, acting as its floor leader in the House of Representatives, was honored with his party's nomination for the office of Auditor General, and was ever active as a campaign orator in all parts of the State for many years.

During all of his years of activity, his public and party service were marked by fairness, loyalty, sincerity and square dealing. In his service and his leadership he displayed at all times that rare ability with which he was naturally endowed and imparted to others that sound education which he obtained by hard work and sacrifice.

He delighted in the companionship of his many friends and loved the association of the members of his family in his home.

The passing of this illustrious son of Pennsylvania removes from official life one whose services were particularly needed at this time.

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives reverently extend to the wife and daughters of the Honorable Wilson G. Sarig their most profound sympathy, and that a copy of this resolution, duly engrossed, be sent to the family by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

HONORABLE ALEXANDER R. WHEELER

The CHAIRMAN. Are there any other members who wish to speak on behalf of the late Speaker, Wilson G. Sarig? If not, the Chair will take up the memorial services of the late Alexander R. Wheeler, a member from Forest County.

The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Forest County, the Honorable William W. Serrill.

Mr. SERRILL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I consider it a privilege to be accorded at this time the opportunity of expressing, to some extent, the respect, admiration, and appreciation which I feel for the late Honorable Alexander R. Wheeler, of Forest County. My feeling for Major Wheeler is not based upon any political connection nor upon the fact that I am completing his unexpired term, but upon my personal friendship with him and my knowledge of the value of his life to his community and his country. For, a versatile, keen-minded, well-educated man, he chose to unselfishly devote the greatest part of his whole mature life to public service; it is for this reason that I, and all who knew him, feel that the loss caused by his death is inexpressible.

Born at Tidioute, Pa., Major Wheeler made his home for nearly all of his life at Endeavor, Forest County. After attending the public schools there, he attended Yale University, where he was graduated in 1911. His education was further completed by his receiving an M. A. degree from Oxford University.

From this time on, his life was one of unstinted public service. Joining the French Red Cross in 1915, he served with them until the United States entered the Great War. After our entrance he served in the American Army throughout the whole war, acting in the capacity of First Lieutenant and Battalion Adjutant of the 312th Infantry, and Captain of the 78th Division Headquarters of the American Expeditionary Forces.

In 1923 he received further military honors by being commissioned Major of the Infantry Reserve. His interest in the Red Cross during and after the war was exceptional, and his contributions to its support extremely generous. The confidence and esteem in which Major Wheeler was held by authorities is attested by his being appointed a member of the Czecho-Hungarian Armistice Commission in 1919.

Returning to his home at Endeavor after the war, he was elected in 1922 to the House of Representatives by the voters of Forest County. His activities in this body are doubtless much better known by you who were his colleagues here. Suffice it to say that during his work here he served on the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission, the Pennsylvania Tax Commission, and many of the most important committees of the House.

The high regard in which his constituents held him is shown by the fact that he was re-elected to the House for each consecutive term from 1922 until his death Indeed, his courage and spirit of service caused him to carry on his work and give the benefit of his experience and influence long after he was physically unable for such exertion.

And so it is that the passing of the soldier, scholar, and statesman causes to the State, his family, and all who knew him, a sense of irreparable loss, for it is seldom that a man of such ability and wisdom is willing to give himself so wholeheartedly to the call of service as has our late friend, Major Wheeler. And now it is with sincere sorrow that I offer my deepest sympathy to his family in their bereavement.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Luzerne County, the Honorable J. Gordon Mason.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Chairman and my fellow colleagues, family and friends of those in whose memory we are here this afternoon, after the eloquent eulogies so ably presented I hesitate somewhat to add my own few feeble remarks. The former speaker, Mr. Serrill, the gentleman from Forest, has thoroughly covered the life of our former colleague, Alexander R. Wheeler, and in doing so he has mentioned the past military record of my late colleague. Major Wheeler has indelibly inscribed his record of patriotism upon the war records of our national government. I would like to repeat that war record so that some of the members and some of the friends who are here might realize what he has done.

At the age of twenty-six he became a member of the French Red Cross, and stayed with them in active service for the years 1915 and 1916. In April, 1917, when the United States entered the World's War, Major Wheeler immediately offered his services and enlisted in the American Army. He was commissioned as a First Lieutenant and served as Company Adjutant of the 312th Infantry Overseas Force. Later he was promoted in rank to that of Captain and as such was assigned to the Division Headquarters of the 78th Division of the A. E. F. In 1919 because of his diplomatic record during the World War he was appointed a member of the Czecho-Hungarian Armistice Mission, and when his work was completed there he returned to his home country. His last record in the military line may be found in 1923, when he was commissioned as a Major of the Infantry Reserves. The spoken word itself, the printed sentence, cannot tell us of the four years of hardship, sacrifice and suffering that he went through. I can only say that he would share with us our legislative debates at this present time, had he not valued his country and its liberty more than his own life.

I speak these few words so that we can perpetuate on the pages of our own Commonwealth's history the record of Major Wheeler, and so that the future generation will know what manner of man stood in the legislative hall with us. I speak these few words not as a colleague but as a comrade, in behalf of two score comrades who shared legislative work with him, and likewise for the thousands of comrades who marched shoulder to shoulder with him in 1917 and 1918. Major Wheeler is gone. He will no longer answer a legislative roll call. He will await that last roll call of the dead. But we who know him, know full well that his memory and his spirit will eternally linger on through these legislative halls. I can only say, in conclusion, that he has done his work, his tasks have been accomplished full well. May he have peace and eternal sleep from now on.

The CHAIRMAN. Are there any other members who wish to speak on behalf of the late Honorable Alexander R. Wheeler? If not the Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Lebanon County, the Honorable Miles Horst.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Chairman, fellow colleagues and friends, I join with you in honoring the memory of these men who served well in this House. Mr. Alexander R. Wheeler followed in the footsteps of his father in the interest of government, particularly in the legislative branch. His father served for a number of years as a representative of his district in the halls of the Federal Congress. Mr. Wheeler, while a member of this House, took a very active interest in the affairs and the business before this body. He served as a member of a number of important committees of this House, being a member from time to time of the Ways and Means Committee and the Committee on Appropriations. He served also as a member of the Committee on Military Affairs. He was active in various other interests, as has already been mentioned by those who spoke about him before me.

Mr. Chairman, I offer the following resolution, and ask for its adoption.

RESOLUTION EXTENDING SYMPATHY ON DEATH OF HONORABLE ALEXANDER R. WHEELER

The resolution was twice read considered. and unanimously adopted by a rising vote, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1936.

Forest County lost its most illustrous son in the passing of the Honorable Alexander R. Wheeler.

He was educated in the public schools and at Yale and Oxford. During the World War, he served with the French Red Cross. Later he joined the American Army, in which he held the following ranks: Lieutenant, Battalion Adjutant, and Captain. He was a member of the Czecho-Hungarian Armistice Commission. After the war, he held the rank of Major in the Infantry Reserve. His entire was record in the French and American service was an outstanding one.

He was honored by his constituents with election to seven successive terms in the House of Representatives, where, during his years of service, he displayed rare qualities of statesmanship. He was a leader in road, tax and military legislation. As a member of the Pennsylvania Tax Commission, he displayed his sound knowledge of economics and aided to a great degree in the formulation of the policies of that commission.

He was the father of the Drake Well Memorial Park, commemorating the drilling of the first oil well in the world, and was also a member of the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission.

His span of life was relatively short but his usefulness was great.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend to the family of the Honorable Alexander R. Wheeler its profound sympathy in the loss they have sustained, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

HONORABLE SAMUEL B. HART

The CHAIRMAN. The House will now take up the memorial services for the late Samuel B. Hart, a member from Philadelphia. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Honorable John J. McDevitt, 3rd.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, members of the General Assembly, friends and relatives of our deceased members:

At this moment when there is a temporary lull in the proceedings of this House, in the midst of a particularly strife-torn Special Session of the Legislature of this great Commonwealth, we the members of the General Assembly now pause and as it were, step out of character. We have obliterated party lines and set aside partisan feelings. We now meet as men and women intent only upon eulogizing the accomplishments and memoralizing the men who served in the 1935 Session of the Legislature with us, but have now been called upon by their Maker to render an account of their stewardship.

One was honored by this House with highest honor in its power to bestow—the Speakership. In retrospect one must recognize as a fact that his untimely end was, no doubt, precipitated by his intense loyalty to party, sense of responsibility and tenacious will to do that which mere man has decreed he must do. His constituents, the Commonwealth, and the General Assembly have suffered an irreparable loss.

As a member of the memorial committee and a Philadelphian, I shall direct my remarks specifically to the deceased member of the Philadelphia Delegation—our colleague, Samuel Beecher Hart.

Sam Hart was born in Philadelphia in 1863. His early education was received in our public schools. Subsequently he attended Emlen Institute at Warminster, Bucks County, and Mrs. Lloyd's Night School, Gloucestershire, England.

Our deceased colleague thereupon commenced a long and successful career as a newspaperman and publisher. In the course of his career in that field he served as editor of numerous publications.

To we who knew Sam Hart it is readily understandable that he would enter the Pennsylvania National Guard. In that organization as well as in the various other fields of his endeavor he gave his best. As a result he rose from the rank of private to that of Captain—an unusual accomplishment and tribute to his ability.

In 1924 our late colleague first answered the call of his constituency and was elected to the General Assembly from the 6th Legislative District of the city and county of Philadelphia. Subsequently, his ability and valuable services then recognized, he was renominated and elected successively in 1926, 1928, 1930, 1932 and 1934.

During the 1935 Session I sat beside Sam Hart and had a first hand opportunity to observe his manner and demeanor, and gain some insight into his true character.

In his every thought and action Sam Hart was sincere, upright, and honest. He gave his very best at all times as a member of this House.

He was fully cognizant of his obligation to the Commonwealth, his constituents, and to the Republican Party. Sam Hart believed implicitly in his party. He was a Republican and proud of it. No expenditure of physical energy was too great in order to perpetuate the life of that great party.

In the early morning of March 24, 1936, Sam Hart quietly passed from this world. Happily he lived to see enacted into law many of the measures he fostered and fought for. The 1935 Session marked the passage of the Equal Rights bill, sponsored by his colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, and his own measure, Act No. 104, P. L. 248, providing for the organization of two colored National Guard battalions and appropriating the sum of $150,000 to properly equip and quarter them.

Samuel Beecher Hart is no longer a member of the General Assembly from the sixth Legislative District of Philadelphia, nor longer engaged in worldly pursuits. However, Mr. Chairman, I say in conclusion, as a member of this House and a colleague from Philadelphia, that his name and accomplishments are indelably inscribed upon the hearts of his people and the archives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

May his soul rest in peace.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Honorable Hobson R. Reynolds.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. McDevitt has very clearly stated the life history of the Honorable Samuel B. Hart. I am sure that his colleagues from Philadelphia would like to say just a word in order that the people of the Commonwealth may know that we feel proud of his having passed through this House. I feel, as Mr. Turner said, when speaking of Speaker Sarig, that his life should be an inspiration to all underprivileged groups.

Sam Hart was born in 1863, a year in which this country was in a great turmoil. During the Civil War, privileges and advantages for his racial group were very few. It was very hard for a Negro to get any public attention. But Sam Hart went through the public schools of Philadelphia, the Emlen Institute, a home for colored boys at Warminister, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and by his record there he drew to him friends, who financed his further education in England. He often said during his life's career that his trip abroad endeared his home land to him, and upon his arrival back in this country he immediately enlisted in the National Guard of this State, where he served as private, and by sheer ability and application to duty he was promoted from private to captain, and at one time he was in charge of the Gray Invincibles of the First Brigade. Sam Hart's career in this House stands unblemished. He was loved by all who knew him. As Mr. McDevitt said, he always took a great interest in trying to show around the House the young men who came behind him. Mr. Turner informed us of the time when Mr. Sarig came, there were few Democrats, and he made it possible for others to follow in his footsteps by the very fine record he made here.

When Sam Hart first came to this House there was only one Negro here, but by the fine record he made the people realized that his was a group of people to be proud of, to be proud that they were Americans and Pennsylvanians. Philadelphia has sent four Negro representatives and Pittsburgh has also sent one. We feel that in Pennsylvania Sam Hart's reputation stands out as an inspiration to all.

As a former National Guarsman he realized the advantages to be derived from the same, and he fought courageously during his entire career in the General Assembly to have the Negro youth admitted in the State Militia. A right he insisted should not be denied any worthy Pennsylvania citizen.

He built his own monument. In Fairmount Park there stands a monument erected through his efforts, at a cost of fifty thousand dollars to commemorate the colored soldiers who fought in the great World War, and if any of you who live in the other parts of the State ever visit Philadelphia do not miss the opportunity of passing along the main trunk Belmont Avenue one of the main driveways, and see that great monument of which Sam Hart supervized the construction, at an expenditure of fifty thousand dollars furnished by the State, without any discrepancy or any marked criticism.

I feel in his passing this country has lost a valuable soldier, this state has lost a wonderful statesman, and his race has lost a real leader.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chairman now recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Honorable Richard A. Cooper.

Mr. COOPER. I arise at this time to offer a resolution, and in so doing I wish to say, speaking of Mr. Hart, that his record in this House is the same record that he made in the City of Philadelphia.

It was about the year 1907 that I first came in contact with him as a newspaper man, and from that day up until the day he died we were bosom friends.

In every campaign no matter whether city, state or national, he was a man to take the lead. It was he that everybody consulted, it was he who gave the advice, it was he to celebrate the victory when the victory was theirs and to console his fellow men when defeat was their portion.

Having come here to take his place, I feel that I have assumed a very great responsibility, and not being acquainted with the affairs that go to make up the sum total of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I shall bide my time and learn what I can learn from the proceedings transacted in this House from time to time, and when I have finished my term here, I shall be satisfied if I am spoken of in the same high manner and be held in the same high regard that you hold my brother, Hart.

His death is regarded by the people who knew him as a serious loss to the Republican party, as he was looked upon by them as the leader and inspiration of the Republican workers in his district.

He will no doubt be remembered by the people at large as the leader in the movement for the erection of a monument in honor of our colored soldiers and also for the enactment of the law creating two Negro battalins of infantry in the Pennsylvania National Guard, both of which will, I am sure, be a source of great inspiration to the youth of his race.

I now take this opoortunity to present this resolution and ask, Mr. Chairman, for its immediate consideration and adoption.

RESOLUTION EXTENDING SYMPATHY ON DEATH OF HONORABLE SAMUEL B. HART

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1936.

Honorable Samuel Beecher Hart was born in Philadelphia, educated in the public schools of that city, Emlen Institute, a home for colored boys, and at Mrs. Lloyd's Night School, Cheltenham, England.

He served in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, rising from private to captain, and at one time was in command of the Gray Invincibles.

He served as a law clerk and held various public positions in the City of Philadelphia. He was honored and beloved by his constituents who elected him for six successive terms as a member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend to the family of Honorable Samuel Beecher

Hart their sincere sympathy for the loss they have sustained in his death, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

HONORABLE EDWIN R. SPANGLER

The CHAIRMAN. Are there any other members of the House who wish to say anything on behalf of the late Honorable Samuel B. Hart? If not, the House will now take up the memorial services for the late Honorable Edwin R. Spangler, a member of the House from Lancaster County.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster County, the Honorable Harry E. Trout.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Chairman, members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, it is with a sincere feeling of gratitude that I am permitted in this memorial service to pay tribute to the Honorable Edwin R. Spangler, my friend and colleague.

The Honorable Edwin R. Spangler was born in Ephrata, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, on April 21st, 1893. He was the son of Dawson and Stella, nee Royer, Spangler. His entire life was spent in the town of his nativity. He was graduated from the Ephrata public schools in 1910, completing a post graduate course in the same school in 1911. Following his graduation he entered the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science graduating in 1914 with the degree of Doctor of Pharmacy. The following year he completed a course in Bacteriology at the same college.

Following his professional education he was associated with the G. S. Royer Pharmacy in Ephrata where he continued in active business relations until 1930 at which time he resigned because of ill health. During 1931 and 1932 he took special courses in Economics at the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, following which he entered the Insurance field continuing until the Spring of 1934.

In 1917 he entered the United States Army. His war record and later activities in the American Legion will be elaborated on by another member of the House.

Mr. Spangler was a life member of the Kappa Psi Fraternity and the Ephrata Alumni Association, a Thirty-second degree Mason and a member of the Rajah Temple Shrine, Reading. He was also a member of the Ephrata Chamber of Commerce, an honorary member of the Lion's Club, a member of the Young Republican Club, of Lancaster city, County Committee of Lancaster County, County Chairman of the Young Republican County Committee of Lancaster County, a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and of the Lancaster County Fish and Game Protective Association.

In early childhood he was confirmed as a member of Trinity Lutheran Church of Ephrata by the Reverend J. W. Smith. On September 14, 1918 he was married to Miss Clara Bell Chidester, of Illinois, who survives as do also two daughters, Martha Lorraine, aged 13 and Eleanor Virginia, aged 11.

Mr. Spangler passed to the great beyond on October 15, 1935 and was buried in Bowman's cemetery, Ephrata. It was Reverend Smith's unusual privilege to have confirmed Mr. Spangler, and officiated at his funeral service.

Mr. Spangler was elected a member of the House of Representatives from the second legislative district of Lancaster County in November, 1934. He took his seat in this House on January 1, 1935. Immediately following the first day's session he was stricken with penumonia which necessitated an absence of approximately three months. Upon his return to the House he sponsored a bill appropriating $10,000 for the preservation of the Ephrata Cloisters, which to him was the outstanding accomplishment of his short career as a member of the House.

During his entire life Mr. Spangler was a leader in his community. He was actively engaged in all civic movements. His advice and council was sought by his neighbors and friends. He sacrificed his time and his health for the benefit of his people. His service to his comrades cannot be described by words. His entire aim was to do good to the people of his community. He was loved and respected by all and in the words of the poet, it can truly be said of the Honorable Edwin R. Spangler—"None knew him but to love him; none named him but to praise."

The CHAIRMAN. The Chairman recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery County, the Honorable William Ellis Zimmerman.

Mr. ZIMMERMAN. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, it is a privlege for me to make a slight contribution to the visible memorial that we are erecting to-day. It is a further privilege to speak of a man with whom I served in the late World War, he being a member of the division called the 79th. At this time it is not my intention or purpose to review the events of the World War in which he served except to say that he was a sincere and a good soldier. It cannot perhaps be said honestly that his service in the World War was outstanding, nor was it spectacular, but at the same time he, in his quiet devotion to duty, represented that service that was given to the country by hundreds of thousands of men. He served in the Verdun sector and in the Meuse-Argonne and he served at a time when the 79th Division took the very spectacular place called Monfaucon, that high hill overlooking Verdun, from which, deeply imbedded in a concrete basement, that brave soldier, the Crown Prince of Germany, viewed through a high powered periscope the battle of Verdun. So into that marvelous event of the World War came the service that was rendered by Comrade Spangler. He in his quiet way, devoted ever to duty, contributed to the success. Then later he became a member of the 26th Engineers and also the 109th Engineering Corps, that branch of the service that works day and night. It repairs roads and keeps the arteries of travel open for munitions going to the front and for that doleful spectacle of the wounded and the dead being returned to the rear, and to that hospitalization that will either make their death an easy one, or restore them to duty in a fighting unit. At the close of the World War his service did not end, for it is impossible to find one with that fine devotion to duty limited to just a short span of time. So after the war he took up again the interests of those in whom he was so vitally interested, namely the disabled veterans of the World War, continuing as Post Commander of the Cloister Post of Ephrata, and again in his quiet and unassuming way, through his own efforts, and at a cost of vitality rapidly waning, he continued to serve those less fortunate than himself, and through his Post in Ephrata his activities became acknowledged by the Department of Pennsylvania of the American Legion and his services were called then to the Rehabilitation Committee of the Department of Pennsylvania, in which he served as Chairman, and to which he gave the experience and the knowledge and the quiet thought that made his service valuable to the entire Department. He continued to serve, and I remember, speaking of his retiring attitude, his forgetfulness of self, in a convention that took place at the Delaware Water Gap, in which a citizen of his county was sponsored for the post of Eastern District Vice Commander of the Legion, a man who was later destined to become a member of this House. Comrade Spangler was interested in the nomination of this gentleman, and because of that, when the time came to make the nominating address, which was an occasion to have brought him to the forefront, before the convention and the entire Department, he first of all accepted, and then just before that gentleman's name was placed in nomination he called together a group of men and said that he felt that he was not qualified to do the honor, that he felt that someone that could do the job better should do it, and therefore he declined.

When they asked him why he was willing to forego an opporunity to place himself squarely before the people of Pennsylvania he said, "I am not interested in myself. My cause is to see this comrade is elected to the office that he deserves." Such was his retiring manner, such was his devotion to duty, as he saw it. Later, as he plainly saw death quietly overtaking him, with that same simplicity and with that same serenity he approached death the way William Cullen Bryant said all of us should do, and that is: "To so live that when thy summons comes to join that innumerable caravan which leaves to take its place in the silent halls of death we go not like the quarried slave scouraged to his dungeon cell but serene and calm just as one gathers the draperies of his couch about him and lies down to peaceful dreams."

Comrade Spangler has stacked his arms in the eternal bivouac of the dead. Nothing is left of him now but his memory which we revere today, and to perpetuate that memory and the life that he lived for others and the life yes, that he gave to his country, it is my honor and my privilege to present this resolution.

RESOLUTION EXTENDING SYMPATHY ON DEATH OF HONORABLE EDWIN R. SPANGLER

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1936.

Honorable Edwin R. Spangler was born in Ephrata, Lancaster County, educated in the public schools, was a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, and was for many years associated with the pharmacy business in his home town. Due to ill health he ceased his connection with this business in 1930, and later took a special course in economics at the Wharton School of Finance, thereafter engaging in the insurance business.

He entered the army in 1917 and served during the World War with distinction. He was honorably discharged with a fine war record.

He was vitally interested in matters concerning his home community and was connected with many community organizations and clubs.

He was for many years actively interested in the success of his political party and was elected to represent it in the Legislature in the year 1934.

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives extend to the family its sincere sympathy for the loss they have sustained in the passing of Honorable Edwin R. Spangler, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

The CHAIRMAN. Ladies and gentlemen, in behalf of the Memorial Committee, I wish to thank the members of the House for their attendance at these services, for the splendid attention you have given the several speakers, the respect shown the deceased members, and your general cooperation with this committee. This meeting now stands adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 29, 1936. No. 25.

SENATE

MONDAY, JUNE 29, 1936

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O God, we live in a changing world. Even our ideals, social customs, moral standards and religious rituals change as time moves on. Men are here today and gone tomorrow. We stand in confusion amid the shifting scenes of existence, wondering in what to put our trust for this life and that which is to come.

Thou, O Lord, dost answer our questioning and allay our doubting by declaring in Thy word, "I am that I am." "From everlasting to everlasting Thou art God." With Thee there is neither variableness nor shadow caused by turning.

Help us, our Father, to build our life structures on Thee, the unchangeable God and on Thy eternal Word. In the Name of Thy Son and in behalf of this Senate, we ask it. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. ROBERTS asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the present Special Session of the General Assembly convened on Monday, May 4th, and we are here today in the ninth week of this Extraordinary sitting. During the last few weeks, by administration leaders in the Senate and by Department heads, as well as by the Governor himself, the charge has been repeatedly made that nothing has been accomplished. The Republican members of this Senate are accused of retarding the work for which the General Assembly was summoned to Harrisburg by the Governor.

May I take a few moments, Mr. President, to calmly analyze the events that have taken place since May 4th, that we may determine whether this charge is well founded. This Session was called, as everyone knows, primarily for the purpose of meeting the relief problem in our State. We were advised that the funds appropriated at the 1935 Session of the Legislature for direct relief were exhausted and that there were still 576,625 persons, largely employables, remaining on direct relief. This in spite of the huge Federal Works Progress Administration program initiated by the Federal Government under Mr. Eddie Jones last year and started with the promise that all employables would be taken off the relief rolls. The Governor in his message to the General Assembly on May 4th demanded that this Legislature levy in new taxes for relief purposes against the people of Pennsylvania in addition to the huge tax program enacted at the last Regular Session, the tremendous sum of $70,000,000. While this sum may have seemed small to the New Dealer accustomed to talking in billions, to the average Pennsylvanian this amount was appalling. Immediately it occurred to every right thinking citizen that the time had come to consider the interest of the forgotten taxpayer, as well as the interest of those in our midst who are really in need of assistance. Having before us the knowledge that the taxes imposed by the last Regular Session had placed upon the people of Pennsylvania a greater burden than was being borne by our competitive industrial States and having nothing before us to justify the demand of $70,000,000 of new and additional taxes other than the bare statement of the Governor and Mr. de Schweinitz that it was necessary, the Republican members of this Senate immediately began to ask questions. We asked why WPA hadn't taken care of the employable relief cases as President Roosevelt and Mr. Hopkins had promised would be done. We asked why the cost of administering relief in Pennsylvania was continually mounting. We asked what progress was being made in the collection of the special taxes levied at the last Session of the Legislature. We asked what economies have been made by this Administration in the regular cost of running the State Government. We asked why the farmers of Pennsylvania are unable to get help on their farms with all this supposed unemployment in our midst. We asked why the industries of Pennsylvania which have been trying to give employment to our people in spite of the New Deal handicaps and New Deal taxes, are being further attacked by this Administration. We wondered why the handsome Secretary of Revenue was away from the State Capitol so much instead of being on the job gathering in the money from the taxes already imposed. Knowing how the WPA funds allocated to Pennsylvania have been used, we naturally asked whether this demand for $70,000,000 of new taxes was merely an attempt to increase by that amount the Democratic Campaign Fund for 1936.

Mr. President, I submit that not one of these questions has been answered. At the time of the appointment of the Special Committee of this Senate to investigate the WPA, we were told that WPA had nothing to do with relief. The Democratic leaders in this Senate, including the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, consumed much of our time explaining that there was no connection between the WPA and the Pennsylvania relief problem. They tried in every way to block the passage of the resolution. Last week Mr. Eddie Jones, the impetuous head of the WPA, suddenly admitted that if things had been different he would have had all the employables on the relief rolls employed on WPA projects. Just what we have been contending from the start could be done. We wonder now whether his vicious attack on Mr. de Schweinitz isn't evidence that Eddie can't take it. Isn't it pretty clear that Mr. Jones is trying to place the horns of a goat on Mr. de Schweinitz to take from his shoulders the blame for the mess that is WPA in Pennsylvania?

How can the Republican Senators be blamed for at least questioning the sincerity of this Administration and wondering whether they are really as interested in the hungry and the distressed as they profess to be.

Up in Corning, New York—not Corning, Pennsylvania, but Corning, New York—is an old crony of Governor Earle's who goes by the name of Billy Gorton. He is a candy manufacturer. I have a letter stating that this gentleman from the State of New York has been brought down to Harrisburg and Eddie Jones, under direct orders from Governor Earle to give him a good job at good pay, has made him head of the women's sewing division of WPA at $3600 a year or $300 a month. Remember, that this WPA money was sent to Pennsylvania for the purpose of giving honest employment to Pennsylvania's needy. Is it any wonder that we question the Governor's sincerity when he tells us how his heart bleeds for the hungry?

Is it true that Mr. Jones has given to the candidate for the State Senate who ran against Senator Bean, Miss Gertrude Ely, a $6000 a year job in the WPA? Is she among those in Pennsylvania in want? How many good jobs to the needy of Pennsylvania would be furnished with the salaries given to these two people alone?

Now, I take it, Mr. President, that every Republican Senator in this Senate knew at the commencement of the Session that if he opposed in the slightest degree any demand of Governor Earle, there would be opened against him the usual New Deal attack. He knew he would be accused immediately of being a representative of intrenched greed and he knew that the guns of the character assassins would be turned on him. We have stood here and taken it and we are going to continue to take it until we get the information necessary to act intelligently on the relief problem. Already, Mr. President, we have forced the Governor to reduce his exorbitant demands from $70,000,000 to $55,000,000, an outright saving of $15,000,000. Already we have forced the head of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania to admit it is possible to take care of our unemployed persons with the WPA projects. Already we have given an insight to the people of Pennsylvania of the political horrors involved in WPA. We were told by none other than President Roosevelt himself in an address to the people on April 28, 1935, at the commencement of the WPA, I quote: "The most effective means of preventing evils in this work relief program will be the eternal vigilance of the American people themselves. I call upon my fellow citizens everywhere to cooperate with me in making this the most efficient and the cleanest example of public enterprise the world has ever seen. It is time to provide a smashing answer for those cynical men who say that a democracy cannot be honest and efficient. If you will help, this can be done. I therefore hope you will watch the work in every corner of this Nation."

Does anybody wonder that the thinking citizen of this country takes with a grain of salt the demands of the New Dealers in the face of what has happened in Pennsylvania following this insincere statement by the President himself. In line with the very demand of President Roosevelt for the eternal vigilance of the people, this Senate instituted an investigation of the Works Progress Administration. The Committee called on President Roosevelt's own Secretary of Labor to furnish it with information. The Committee subpoenaed those in Pennsylvania handling the program and what happened? Did President Roosevelt welcome this investigation? Did Miss Perkins or Mr. Hopkins cooperate with this Committee? Has any information been furnished the taxpayers? You all know the answers. All the big guns of the Administration in Washington were turned on Harrisburg to block this investigation. The Administration itself, in other words, employed the eternal vigilance of which the President spoke to prevent the light of day from shining on the facts of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania. Not only in Pennsylvania but in Washington has the Administration blocked an investigation of this arm of the Federal Government. From time immemorial it has been the inalienable right of the people under a democratic government to have complete knowledge of how its money is being spent. The accounts of every school district are audited and advertised by local auditors. The accounts of every Board of Township Supervisors has the same public scrutiny. How long would a county or municipal administration be permitted to function who said to its citizens "No. You shall not know what is being done with your taxes. This is our money. We will spend it as we please. If we wish to use it to build up a political machine, it is none of your business." The answer to it all will be in the ballot box next November.

Never before in the history of this country has money wrested from the people in taxes been turned over to individuals without the necessity of accounting and with the sole direction that it be used to perpetuate the control of a ruthless political machine.

We are accused of delay, Mr. President. Two weeks ago we passed a bill bringing the Mothers' Assistance Act in line with the Federal statutes. We provided for a nonpartisan board to administer these funds for this most worthy object. No right thinking person will dispute that with the evidence of the political use of relief funds in Pennsylvania by other agencies, we are justified in seeing to it that the dependent mothers of this State shall not be compelled to sell their inalienable right of suffrage for bread. It is reported that Mr. David L. Lawrence, the Democratic State Chairman, has issued orders to the Democratic members of the Conference Committee now holding this bill, that nothing short of the appointment of all members of the Board by the Governor should be accepted by them. Mr. President, if the Federal funds for the relief of the distressed mothers in Pennsylvania are lost to them, the blame must be laid at the door of the present New Deal machine in this State.

I submit, Mr. President, that the Republican members of the Senate and House have already accomplished much for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania at this Special Session. I submit, that if there has been any delay in concluding this Extraordinary Session the delay is due solely to the Administration and their failure to furnish this Legislature with the facts upon which it can intelligently act. We would, indeed, be derelict in our duties as representatives of the people of this State if we blindly imposed on our people one cent in unnecessary taxes. I venture to suggest that there is not one member on the Democratic side of this Senate who believes for one minute that even $55,000,000 is necessary. There is no one in the Senate who does not know that with the proper functioning of the Works Progress Administration and the proper investigation of the cases on direct relief, we would be required to levy nothing more than a nominal amount of new taxes

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The PRESIDENT. The hour of 9:30 having arrived the Chair lays before the Senate the following report of the Committee on Executive Nominations, which was made special order of business for this time:

Mr. COYNE, from the Committee on Executive Nominations re-reported with favorable recommendation the following nominations made by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 4, 1936.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate, the following:

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF CALIFORNIA STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

J. Buell Snyder, Perryopolis, from March 2, 1936, for a term of four years, and until his successor is qualified.

Ephraim S. Tyler, Point Merion, from March 3, 1936, for the term of four years, and until his successor is qualified.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the foregoing nominations reported from Committee on June 23rd.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise not to attempt to influence the vote of my colleagues for or against the adoption of the committee's report on these Executive appointments.

For weeks, during this Extraordinary Session, we have heard the condemnation of all practices that inject the hand of party spirit into the various agencies of our government.

We have, with patience, and with a receptive frame of mind, endeavored to extend ourselves beyond the pale of partisan spirit in an honest effort to keep unsullied our conception of the proper way to come to grips with measures that deal, like these nominations, with matters of the highest concern to our people.

We have endeavored to gauge our utterances with a due regard to the limitations accepted as legitimate within the structure of the Constitution and the rules and courtesies of parliamentary bodies. When we felt the Constitution forbade certain measures, we raised our voice in protest, and then acquitted the obligation of our oath by voting against the measure. In this regard, let me say that the sinister or public motives that prompt a member of this Senate to vote for or against a measure are proper subjects of inquiry for other members of the same Senate. For example, if the gentleman from "X" has come to the positive evidence that the gentleman from "Y" has surrendered his speech and vote to the service of a master other than the people of this Commonwealth, it is the sworn duty of the gentleman from "X" to promptly and publicly expose the gentleman from "Y" on the floor of this Senate; or, if the gentleman from "X" is reliably informed that the gentleman from "Y" is studiously deceiving the people by conveniently straddling vital measures, it is the sworn duty of the gentleman from "X" to similarly expose the gentleman from "Y". The art of thimbler rigging should be left to the circus lover while that of straddling should be left to the jockey of the race track whose success largely depends upon his ability to straddle conveniently one way or the other as the occasion requires.

I make these utterances on the occasion of this special order of the day because the vote that shall affirmatively or negatively grant the consent and approval of this Senate to these Executive nominations will attest the sincerity of our position in matters that have previously merited our attention.

I shall not be different in this matter than I have been in previous matters. I shall not permit the childish threats of timorous men to deter me in my resolute hobby to call a spade a spade, whether it be on the floor of this Senate or elsewhere.

The knowledge of the Constitution, the obligation of the oath which makes us members of this body and the mandate of the people whom we represent, all unite to repel the prevalent attitude of many members of this Senate that newly elected members are subject to a probationary period of schooling under the accepted masters of oxcart philosophies before assuming the constitutional prerogatives and obligations imposed by the oath.

No, Mr. President, the childish threats of timorous men shall not deter me. Nor will I submit to probationary schooling under masters of the old order.

In the consideration of the Executive nominations now before us as well as in all other functions of this Senate, I intend to be guided by a desire to speak and vote, not as a ward of any other member of this Senate, but as a full-fledged member whose primary loyalty is to the people and their public institutions.

Last week, when these nominations were reported negatively by the committee, it became my duty to advise all my colleagues upon certain reasons which I regarded as substantial and justifying the report of the committee. At that time some of my colleagues held the notion that the nominations should be recommitted to the Committee and His Excellency, the Governor, should be permitted to reconsider them. This notion was embodied into a motion regularly adopted and the nominations returned to the Committee. This course was gentlemanly and a credit to the dignity and courtesy required of this parliamentary body to the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth. The conduct of the chairman of that committee, however, who, without cause or reason, and in direct rebellion against the deliberations of this Senate, hurled the nominations back on the floor of the Senate without a meeting of his committee, may be regarded ungentlemanly and discreditable to the dignity and courtesy of this Senate.

Congressman J. Buell Snyder and Ephraim S. Tyler are both respected and substantial citizens of my county. While the former is a member of Congress the latter is a receiver for a number of closed Federal banks. Both these gentlemen are of the same political faith as myself. If I was amenable to unbridle partison spirit, I would close my eyes when a door is opened through which my brand of partisan politics could enter to enlarge the field of political patronage. But, this I shall not do. To vote for these nominations is to nullify all the efforts of this body to, at least, guard against the possibility of partisan politics in the school system of our Commonwealth. In addition to this nullification, the confirmation of these nominations may place us in the hypocritical position of first consenting and approving appointments of this character and then condemning His Excellency for making them. If this Senate did not retain its confirming power of appointments of this character for the purpose of checking the creation of conditions similar to those alleged to exist at Indiana State Teachers' College than were it not proper for this Senate to fully surrender the appointive power to the Chief Executive and hold him to the full degree of responsibility?

If the appointment of a member of this Senate or House of Representatives to a board of trustees of any of our State Teachers' Colleges is fraught with the danger of partisian politics, I cannot, in my mind, note the difference between a State Senator, a member of the House or a member of Congress. If any difference exists, it should weigh heavier against the Congressman because he may not have an immediate responsibility to the people of the community where the college is situated.

Both these gentlemen are exposed to partisan political pressure by reason of their present connections. I do not intend to be a big enough fool to think that men in politics will not utilize political avenues to sustain their political life.

I will vote against the confirmation of Congressman J. Buell Snyder because I think a Congressman should be subject to the same rule that renders ineligible members of the General Assembly. And I will vote against the confirmation of Ephraim S. Tyler because I know that receivers of closed banks, like many other political appointees under this or other Administrations, are constantly exposed to the possibility of partisan politics in the discharge of their duties.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Fayette, I explained as the Chairman of the Committee last Tuesday why we returned these nomination to the Senate after the roll call. We have done that o the advice of the Senator from Fayette. The majority o the Senate here did not want that, they wanted then sent back to the Committee, for the purpose of havin him or somebody else go to the Governor to withdra the names. The members of that body, the Committee did not feel that we should be used by him or any othe member of the Senate for the purpose of forcing the Gov ernor to withdraw those names. Personally I have noth ing against these two men, neither did my colleagues o the Committee. Whatever we have done we have done o the advice of the Senator from Fayette, and when th Senate did not want that, we purposely reported then out with a favorable recommendation for the Senate t act on them. Whatever they do will be satisfactory t the committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the pro visions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question o personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, last Monday or Tuesday when I questioned the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, regarding the subject matter upon which we had just voted, he made the gratuitous remark that the request to withhold the names came from the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, a "regular Democrat"; and to-night the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, in discussing a statement, the reason for which I tried to find during the reading, also offered the gratuitous remark that I had attempted to explain that there was no connection between WPA and SERB. He also stated that no information had been furnished to the members of the Senate regarding the amount of money necessary for relief. It is for the purpose of answering both those statements that I exercised my rights under personal privilege

I should say, with regard to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, that if he will have just a little patience I think I will be a regular Democrat. And if the rest of the members of the Senate will hearken unto what they have been doing—the Republican members, I think they will find there will be a great many more regular Democrats here at the next session. And there is a real reason why I am what my friend might call an irregular Republican, and a candidate now on the Democratic ticket,—in spite of the fact that for over twenty-five years I have been a regular Republican in the true sense of the word.

The reason lies in the record of this Senate—by the actions not recorded and thoses actions recorded in the Senate History. In the Senate History books you will find that on the 14th of January the first day under which we were permitted to introduce legislation, legislation was introduced in this Senate by Republican Senators covering every plank in the Republican platform. That legislation was drafted by a committee of five, of which I was one, and every bill that was introduced into this Senate was introduced with the consent of the so-called leaders of the Republican Party. Those bills covered every phase of social legislation which was discussed and you will look at the record you will find that those bills, promised by the Republicans in their platform, and if in the major portion, lie still in the same committees to which they were then committed—dead now.

And you will find that I am called an irregular Republican because when those same bills were introduced by Democratic Senators into the Senate and not acted upon I voted in favor of the discharge of the Committees that held them; and I did so because for years, in my private life and in my professional life, I have considered that a promise is a promise and that a word is a word and must be kept, and I see no reason why it should be different in political life. I was elected on a platform which promised these things. The Republicans protested that that was their promise, and they would not expect me or any other decent citizen elected to any office—and I consider this a high office—to do otherwise than I did,—and if that be treason, I challenge them to make the most of it.

I come from a people who have been too much oppressed not to realize that the election to an office of this kind is a privilege and an honor; and I do not propose by any act of mine to cast discredit upon a country which gives me that privilege; and I want to say now that I have watched, for ten years before I came into this Senate, the actions of the Senators here—for ten years back, and it was always my hope to be a member of this body, I always felt that it was an honor. And I say that I have watched the actions of the Republican Party for the last ten years, and the actions of the Senate for the last few sessions, and I have hearkened back with pleasure to the Senate of ten years ago, when the Senate was active and the party was behaving well, but I do not have such great pleasure in thinking over the last four years of this Senate's sessions.

I say, when the Senate of Pennsylvania convenes for purpose—when the Senators are elected—they have a serious task; and using these halls, in times like this, for political purposes is a violation of the obligation which we took when we were sworn in as members of the Senate.

My answer to the second gentleman is this: I never stated there was no connection between the WPA and SERB; I never dealt with anything but facts and figures, of which I had some information and upon which I had made some inquiry, and I gave those facts and figures with no statement that they were true but with the suggestion that I had received them from certain sources, the evidence of which I offered to the members of the Senate. I have for four years offered any information or help I could give to the members of the Senate, because I believe it was my duty. I came here with information which the Governor had received—from others, of course —which he transmitted to this Senate, and it was to the effect that we needed $71,000,000. The base of the information, the source of the information, was presented to every member of this body. I mentioned it, and it sounded reasonable to me, and I was willing to go along on this basis until other facts and figures were presented. Up until the present time I have not heard one single fact or figure from the other side of this Senate to warrant us in saying that so many dollars, instead of $71,000,000, is necessary; and when the Governor of this Commonwealth, after a trip to Washington—whatever his reason for it may be—came back and said that as a result of his investigation and his activities he finds that only $55,000,000 is necessary, then he is critisized for the fact that he first stated that $71,000,000 would be necessary, and he believed that was the amount; and the Republicans claimed the credit for saving $16,000,000, which was never spent and for which no revenue bills were enacted. And the Governor of Pennsylvania is criticised, and the President's words are used to further the criticism.

I said a year ago, when I was a Republican Senator, that the Governor was not my candidate but he was my Governor; that the President of the United States was not my candidate, but he was my President, and that I did not propose by any word or act of mine to insult or criticize or have disrespect from the high office which either of those two gentlemen occupied.

It is our duty to deal with the problem that is before us, and these gentlemen on the Republican side of this Senate have asked for time to investigate and find out how much is needed. No one in this Chamber has ever heard from the Republicans who have been investigating—whether it be WPA or Trenton, New Jersey, or the SERB or any other source of information—no one has yet heard them say,—you don't need $70,000,000, you don't need $50,000,000, you don't need $30,000,000, you don't need $20,000,000, you don't need $10,000,000 or $5,000,000; the only thing my friend has said is that we need only a nominal sum; and to the members of the Senate, particularly the Republican members, I repeat what I said last week—I challenge these members of the Senate to have the courage of their convictions, if they have them, and vote the nominal sum, and put themselves on record and say, "We won't vote another dollar," and then go home and let the people say whether they are right or chastise them for it .

I have great respect, as I have said, for every individual member of this Senate, but I repeat that when they become a Republican caucus they lose their individuality and the humaneness that goes along with individuals, and when they do that they cannot expect any other kind of a reaction than they are getting.

The Republican Party was a great party, but it has gone—because of the kind of conduct we have witnessed for the past ten years and the kind of speeches we have listened to for the past ten weeks in this session. Penrose and Quay would turn in their graves if they saw the kind of leadership is running the Republican Party today,—consisting of what would not amount to ward healers in their time.

They talk about chiseling in WPA. If the wishes of my friends, the Republican Senators, are gratified, the man who occupies my seat—we can talk about Republican chiselers—occupies a position in one office, his wife in another city office, his son in another county office, and some sons-in-laws in another office; and if that is not chiseling, then I do not know what the use of a chisel is. And it is because of that kind of leadership and because of that kind of conduct that I have felt it to be my duty to perform my duty regardless of party; and I did not care then and I do not care today what label a bill bears, whether it be the name of a Republican or of a Democrat, or of any one else, if it is a good bill and if the people whom I represent are entitled to the benefits of it, I will vote for it, party or no party; and I serve notice on all parties now that they can take the most of it if that be treason. That has been my conduct for four years and I am willing to stand criticism. And that is my answer to the gentleman from Allegheny,—that if he will have the patience, I will be a regular Democrat, and, along with me, we will have a lot more regular Democrats—who will be better than irregular Republicans.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be very glad to.

Mr. PYKTO. Mr. President, I gather that the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, knows I am a member of the Conference Committee wherein reposes the Mothers' Assistance Bill, known as the Brancato Bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I believe I do know that fact.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga kindly tell me whence comes the information that Dave Lawrence, or any man, had issued orders to the Democratic members of that committee, or any member of that committee, that a certain attitude should be assumed by those members?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, one of the members of the committee told me that some suggestion was made by one of the Democratic members of this committee that the three-three-three arrangement now in the bill should be changed so that the Governor would appoint the members of the Board; and I understand that the Democratic members of the committee thereupon proceeded over to the place from whence comes the orders, and were told to stick for the whole seven or none.

Now, if that information is not correct, why, I think the Senate will be glad to be informed. That is the information that one of the members, Republican members, of the Committee received.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, in other words, some member of the Committee told some other member of the Committee, which other member of the Committee told the Senator from Tioga that those orders were issued. It is rather nebulous, is it not? Just like the two cars in a garage, of which you had spoken last year.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, of course I assume that no Republican member of the Committee was present when the order was given by Mr. Lawrence, so the information could not come at first hand.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate. I am a member of that Committee, and I have certain opinions regarding the administration of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, which neither Mr. Lawrence nor any man connected with this administration can change. Long before I had an opportunity of even approaching Mr. Lawrence, or of being approached by him, I had made my attitude known in the Committee on State Government, and during our discussion of the amendments in that Committee the Republican membership had expressed a fear that the present administration is going to throw the administration of Mothers' Assistance into the mire of politics, and therefore they decided to amend the bill so that the Governor would not have the sole appointive power. In their pristine purity they feared that after three years an administrative agency of this State which had been pure and free from politics was now to be made a political football. I do not accuse my Republican colleagues of political dishonesty, but I do believe that their faith in political honesty is shaky. At the outset their contention was that the appointive power should be ripped from the hands of the Governor and placed in some other county of arrangement. They suggested the Common Pleas Courts and the County department. They expressed the fear that the present administration was throwing the administration of Mothers' Assistance into politics; and at the same time they had the brazen effrontery of suggesting the County Commissioners to appoint the personnel, or a portion of the personnel of those Boards. Where in the State can you find a body of men more susceptible to political suggestion than County Commissioners? I just wonder whether the gentlemen who made that suggestion did not keep their ears open to political expediency, and their eyes open to the political exigency of the element that might be served by giving these agencies the power of appointment. I just wonder whether the guilt of making an effort to throw these Boards into the political arena does not rest with the gentlemen to the left in this Chamber.

To give you an idea what your own Republican members think of this bill, there is on foot now a plan to throw Mothers' Assistance into the political arena, I would like to quote you now from the Washington Observer, a Republican organ, and it is reprinted in the Harrisburg Patriot, another Republican organ,—for I take it that any newspaper which quotes a newspaper professing a different political belief is the same belief as the newspaper that is being quoted. I know why the laughter.

From the Washington Observer I quote: "A special session of the Kansas Legislature has been called by Gov. Alf M. Landon to enact laws which will enable that State to benefit from the Federal social security program. The Legislature which will meet July 7th will also submit to the voters in the fall constitutional amendments to permit the establishment of a social program as a State agency.

"Here is a suggestion to the Republican leadership in Pennsylvania. The Republican platform adopted at the Cleveland Convention calls for effective relief of the unemployed and other social reforms.

"There has been before the present Special Session of the Legislature a number of measures designed to permit this State to share in the Federal social legislation program. Most of the bills have passed the House, but only a few have been approved by the Senate.

"Just now that body is holding up the Mothers' Assstance law by insisting on a revision of the make up of the Board. It has amended the House bill to increase the members from seven, now appointed by the Governor, to nine, providing for three to be appointed by the Governor, three by the Common Pleas Court of the Counties and three by the County Commissioners. The House refuses to accept the amendment.

"The present set-up of the Mothers' Assistance Boards was made by a Republican Administration and has been a satisfactory arrangement for a period of over twenty years. The Republican leaders have made no complaint of politics when the Boards were all Republicans, nor was there any objection offered when Governor Pinchot ousted several Boards named by Governor Sproul and Governor Fisher replaced many Boards named by Governor Pinchot.

"The political argument carries little weight The Senate, if it is wise, will not disturb the present plan which has been proven to work well. Anyway, why disturb it now when Governor is in the middle of his Administration and cannot succeed himself?"

That is from the Washington Observer, a Republican organ. Furthermore, to point out the foolishness of the argument advanced, that the present appointive power should be ripped out a new appointive power should be set up, I would like to point out to you gentlemen that if there is politics played by the Boards appointed by the Governor, you have one appointive agency to hold responsible; but if you divide the appointive power among three agencies you will not be able to place the blame on any one when Mothers' Assistance is drawn into the political arena.

I challenge the Republican members of this Senate to say that politics is not being played by them in their effort to tear out the present appointive power. They know well enough that the County Commissioners, political masters as they are, will keep their eyes open to political appointments rather than look for women who have given us such good service on the Mothers' Assistance Boards of this State.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I listened with great interest to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. I believe that it is my duty as Chairman of the Finance Committee to inform him of the activities of that committee. Last week we called Mr. de Schweinitz before us to gather from him some very necessary facts which were required by the Committee for us to know before we could arrive at an amount of money which is necessary to appropriate for relief. At the conclusion of that session, the members of the Committee, both Republicans and Democrats alike, thought that it would be proper to invite Mr. Edward Jones to come before the Committee this afternoon. He was invited but declined our invitation. We waited for more than half an hour for him, after which time I called him on the telephone. He informed me that he would not come before the committee, but he would reply to any communication sent to him by the committee. The Finance Committee was in session for three hours this afternoon and will continue their deliberations just as soon as time can be had. The Finance Committee has no differences at present. The Republican members and Democratic members alike are making an honest effort to determine the amount of money necessary for relief. The members of the Committee are not like the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. We want facts, we are not willing to take the word of anyone. We want to know how much money is necessary, because we realize that when that amount is determined it will be necessary for us to pass tax bills in the Senate to provide funds, and Republican and Democratic members of that Committee are hoping that the tax bills passed will not be in great amount. These differences of opinion concerning the amount of money for relief did not originate in the Finance Committee. We came here and were advised that the sum of $70.-000,000, was necessary for relief; we were later advised that $63,000,000. was necessary. I have not yet had time to read the report but I understand Mr. de Schweinitz says that $55,000,000. is necessary.

Mr. Edward Jones informed us that if proper cooperation is had with SERB that the relief rolls can be substantially reduced. We want to know how much these relief rolls can be substantially reduced. We want to know what cooperation is necessary between SERB and the WPA. When we determine these facts, it will probably be my duty as Chairman of the Committee to stand on the floor and inform not only the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and the members of this Senate, but the State as a whole of the sum necessary to be appropriated.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I wish to correct the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, when he made the statement that Gertrude Ely was getting a salary of $6000 a year; I am informed it is $5000 a year. I might also state that Gertrude Ely is head of The Women's Voters' League of Pennsylvania, and, of course, they are brilliant women, and she must be a good organizer to be the head of that organization and worth $5000.

We have heard here every Monday a harangue on the payrolls of Pennsylvania. It seems to be the only concern of the Republican side of this Senate that somehow, someway there are some Democrats getting on the payroll. At the beginning of this Extra Session there was a resolution offered to investigate WPA. We came here to raise money for the poor, for relief; but instead of going at that there was a resolution offered immediately to investigate WPA.

Now, the Federal Act provides that ten per cent of those employed on WPA can be picked by the Administration. In other words, ten per cent of them could have been picked, and properly so, by the Democratic Administration, in sympathy with the National Administration. It so provides in the Act, and under that provision 29,000 Democrats could have been picked in Pennsylvania to supervise WPA. Instead of doing that, what was done? Eight thousand were taken off the relief rolls, 8000 more were picked—if you want to call them Democrats, let us call them Democrats—but in stead of picking 29,000, as I think the Republican Party would have done if they had had charge of WPA, only 8000 were picked; and the other 8000 were taken off the relief rolls. Now, as to party affiliations of those 16,000 only 60% of them are Democrats; 40% are Republicans or belong to other parties.

Let me give you some more figures on the payrolls of Pennsylvania. There are 19,000—or were, when this Administration took hold—19,000 on the payrolls. The Emergency Relief, at its peak—I am giving the peak figures; there may be a variation of 1000 from the peak figures—there were 14,000 administering Emergency Relief. That makes a total of 33,000 on Pinchot's Emergency Relief and in the executive departments of the State Government of Pennsylvania.

Now, assuming there are 16,000 administering WPA, that make a total of 49,000 on the public payroll of Pennsylvania and of that 49,000 today 12,000 are hold-overs in the executive department,—12,000; 14,000 are hold-overs in the Emergency Relief. The Emergency Relief was not touched—not one of them, not even the Administrator,—or, at least, he was left as a Republican; so we had the same 14,000, without a single one of them being touched, something I am sure the Republican Party would never have done had they had charge of the WPA in Pennsylvania.

Then, of the 16,000 administering the WPA of Pennsylvania, 40% being not Democrats—perhaps not all Republicans— only 60% of the 16,000 are Democrats. So, assuming the other 40% are Republicans, or not registered, not in politics, makes the total today on the payrolls of Pennsylvania 32,400 Republicans.

On the payrolls of Pennsylvania today, after a year and a half of Democratic Administration, we have in the Executive Department only 7000 Democrats, and in WPA 8600, or only a total of about 15,000 or 16,000 as against 32,000 Republicans on the payrolls in Pennsylvania today. Does that look as thought we were scuttling the payrolls? Does that look as though this Administration was playing politics with poverty, or with the administration of affairs in this State? And yet if the president of one of our colleges is not re-hired there is an investigation started, and today I got figures from the Department of Education in this State and they show there has been no change in the Department of Instruction, in this Department of Education, except what was normal in the Department of Education; and yet, from what you hear from the other side, you would think we were scuttling our schools and our hospitals.

The same cry went up about the hospitals—"Oh, don't use the hospitals, don't play politics with the hospitals!" And yet Mr. Pennington has found it to be rotten to the core, found them to be fire traps, found one hospital in Shamokin where the superintendent was drawing $10,000, and found that he and his family were holding one-third of the positions in the hospital,—and the children were sleeping three in a bed. And yet to listen to our friends on the other side you would think we were scuttling the payrolls, and that WPA was doing nothing; but just let me tell you, I just got tonight from the paper what they are doing in Allegheny County. The WPA has built 25 miles of main highways in the County of Allegheny. It has sloped and drained one hundred miles of secondary roads. It has laid 26 miles of sewers in 28 different communities in Allegheny County. It has improve 17 playgrounds and athletic fields and 18 school properties. It has surveyed the property lines of 24 school grounds. It has made a study of school finances in Allegheny County. It has done emergency work during and after the March flood. Had it not been for WPA in Pennsylvania, after the flood, I say to you many of the communities would not be out of it yet. I just read the other day that 90,000 seats had been possible for school children in Pennsylvania through WPA.

And so, ladies and gentlemen, and Mr. President, it is about time that we quit talking here about payrolls, in view of these figures, and get down to the question that we came here for—to find out what was necessary to feed the poor and the downtrodden of Pennsylvania.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, from whom he obtained the information he has just given us.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have a number of these figures from the Personnel Department.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman whether they were furnished him by Mr. Jones.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I also received some figures from Mr. Jones as far as the WPA was concerned.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand he obtained the WPA figures from the payrolls of the WPA or from Mr. Jones?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, from Mr. Jones.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, apparently the Senator from Allegheny is more successful than the Senate Investigating Committee was in getting information from Mr. Jones. I am wondering whether the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, could not obtain for us, so we could check his figures, a list of all the predesignates appointed on WPA projects, together with their salaries and addresses. I would like to ask the Senator if he could get that for us?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am sure I could not get that. I do not know what good it could do even if it were furnished.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask tne Senator from Allegheny whether he checked the lists to see how many of these so-called Republicans had been compelled to register over when they got their WPA jobs?

Mr. McGINNIS. Well, of course, Mr. President, that is politics.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga in what way can that assist this Senate in ascertaining how much relief money is needed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that question can very easily be answered. Many of these $5000 and $3600 salaries—in many cases where the people are brought over from other States into Pennsylvania, for the purpose of having their personal friends here, I think it would be very enlightening to find out about these, because it would show the people of Pennsylvania that if this money were allocated to people on relief and not used to give jobs to switched-over Republican precinct leaders, we would have a much smaller relief roll in Pennsylvania.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, has the Senator from Tioga attempted in a gentlemanly manner tried to obtain that information from Mr. Jones in person?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator's question, the Committee made some very earnest attempts to obtain this information from not only Mr. Jones but from Miss Perkins, Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, and from every other source we thought from which we thought we might elicit this information, and we continued until Mr. Dickinson, the Deputy Attorney General from Washington, and four, eight or ten other attorneys brought up here, and the Federal Court issued a restraining order against us. We are waiting now until the Federal Court will loosen our hands and will permit us to go after this information in our own way.

That is why, Mr. President, I asked the gentleman from Allegheny whether he could get that information for us, as he was not on this investigating committee and he is very successful thus far in getting information from WPA.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga would do a lot better if he would not try to evade my question, which was, did he in a gentlemanly manner seek to obtain this information from Mr. Jones in person?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I thought I made my answer clear. I was at the meeting of the Committee on Finance today—came down to Harrisburg early, so that I would be here at the meeting and see Mr. Jones, who was expected to be at the meeting. At the meeting there were present not only Republican members of the Committee, but Democratic members as well,—and Mr. Jones would not appear before us.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, still that does not answer my question—whether the gentleman from Tioga, himself, personally, in a gentlemanly manner, as he says the gentleman from Allegheny asked for that information.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, after Mr. Jones signed a bill in equity for an injunction against our Committee, I certainly did not intend to go to Mr. Jones and ask him for any information.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Well, Mr. President, did the gentleman from Tioga ask for it before the bill in equity was signed by Mr. Jones?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have explained that we asked for it in various different ways from Mr. Jones and from any number of other employes in Mr. Jones' department. At the time of the first meeting we had in Philadelphia we went to a Mr. Sullivan, an attorney in Philadelphia, who told us he had been employed by Mr. Jones to protect his interests, so he would not get in hot water; and we went to Mr. Sullivan—Senator Bean and Senator Scott and I—to his office, and we were told that he had advised Mr. Jones not to give us any information.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, has been very persistent about finding out whether or not the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, has in a gentlemanly manner asked Mr. Jones to get this list. I would say that at a meeting of the Appropriations Committee, attended by the Senator from Fayette, and, if my recollection is correct, a motion was made by one of the Senators and seconded by the Senator from Fayette, requesting the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee to write to Mr. Jones for certain information. This was on May 19th, before the so-called Owlett Committee was formed. The Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee wrote to Mr. Jones, as follows:

Harrisburg, Penna., May 19, 1936.

"Hon. Edward N. Jones,
Works Progress Administrator,
47 North Cameron Street,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

"My dear Mr. Jones:

"Members of the Senate Committee on Appropriations would be glad if you could meet with the Committee today at 1:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, in the Senate Caucus Room. The Committee is desirous of obtaining information as to the names, addresses, work performed, and salary of persons employed in relief and WPA.

"I would be very glad if you could let me know at your earliest convenience if you could be present today and if not, would you suggest when you could meet with us.

Very truly yours,

FREDERICK T. GELDER."

We had a reply from Mr. Jones in which he says:

"This will acknowledge your request as Acting Chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations for 'information as to the names, addresses, work performed and salary of persons employed in WPA.'" And he says, "In conclusion, let me assure your Committee that WPA in Pennsylvania would welcome an impartial inquiry, but WPA in Pennsylvania cannot and will not be tried by a fixed jury."

However, Mr. President, we failed to receive the information, and I want to assure the Senator from Fayette that he tried to frame the request so that it would be courteous, as well as definite.

SENATE EDUCATION COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE STATE-AIDED EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Resolution No. 3, Printer's number 19.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 3, 1936.

Whereas, Reports have reached members of the Senate that active attempts are being made to interfere with the orderly management of educational institutions which have been receiving financial assistance from the people of this Commonwealth and notably the Indiana State Teachers College and

Whereas, These attempts are construed as merely the beginning of systematic efforts to debauch the educational system of Pennsylvania long distinguished for attainments made possible by complete freedom from political restraint and

Whereas, The selection of executives instructors teachers and employes of State Teachers Colleges of this Commonwealth has from the very beginning been free from partisan political consideration to the great benefit of the educational system and

Whereas, Dictation of the appointment of members of a faculty of a State Teachers College is only one step from dictation of what shall be taught bringing forcibly to the attention of every resident of Pennsylvania a threatened menace to the free public school system heretofore so sacredly safeguarded therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate of Pennsylvania that the President pro tempore shall appoint a sub-committee of five members of the Committee on Education who are hereby directed to conduct immediately a searching investigation of the situation in order that members of the Senate may be informed of the truth of the reports and the extent and character of the abuses alleged and be it further

Resolved that the sub-committee of the Committee on Education shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases be it further

Resolved, That the sub-committee of the Committee on Education shall report as speedily as possible to the Senate now in Extraordinary Session the results of its inquiry.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, it is with reluctance that I arise tonight when we are so tardy with the program that has to do with the issues of the Governor's Call, but there seems to me, coiled up inside of this resolution such grave and serious possibilities that I believe it is my duty to express myself thereon. This resolution had a peculiar origin in this Senate. It was offered on a certain day and shortly after the call went out to the Committee on Education to consider the resolution. At the same time there were many bills and many resolutions bearing directly on the issues of the Governor in the Call lying in the Senate Committees untouched and not considered. Now, this resolution, when I first read it, had certain specifications contained therein relating to two schools of learning in the Commonwealth, one my good old alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh, and the other the Indiana State Teachers' College, but shortly thereafter, sometime thereafter, the University of Pittsburgh was dropped from the resolution and then it began to appear to me that this was not a resolution to investigate institutions, it was a resolution to investigate personalities.

A short time ago, Mr. President, two members of this body rose and in positive terms criticized another member of this Senate for certain remarks which they claimed were not proper under the circumstances, and now tonight we bring out upon the floor of this Senate a resolution which I repeat seems to deal in personalities, and one of the persons, I regret to say, that is mentioned in certain evidence that has arisen since the introduction of this resolution is no other than a high and honorable member of this body, that is, Senator Bennett, of Indiana County, and that is borne out by a copy of a newspaper published out in Indiana County the Indiana County, and, on the headlines of that paper, Mr. President,—I think every member of this Senate had one placed upon his desk—appeared "Bennett Fights," and then if we read down, certain questions are put to Senator Bennett and the answers would appear to be very serious and very obvious. Mr. President, I repeat that this resolution will not do anybody in this Senate, in my opinion, any good. It is going to raise serious disputes over certain propositions in this resolution, and as set out in this Indiana County newspaper. I regret very much, and I notice that Senator Bennett is not in this Chamber, and if we start out to investigate every instance in this State where some public official happens unfortunately to be let out of his position, then I say we are going to get into very serious difficulty and create dissension and discord and disunion among our members, and, Mr. President if this resolution were conceived and fostered at the beginning by such information as is contained in this paper against Senator Bennett, then I would not want to see this fight when it has warmed up to a proper investigation.

Mr. President, I believe in all seriousness that it is a dangerous resolution, it has to do with personalities. It is not a resolution that intends to help or protect our institutions; if it were, I would be in hearty accord with the resolution, but as I see it, it is going to bring injury and harm upon a decent and law-abiding gentleman and upon Honorable Edward Bennett, of Indiana County, and I repeat, Mr. President, that I am against an investiagtion of this nature, and I believe it is the duty of this Senate to vote this resolution down.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President I have listened with a great deal of interest to what the Senator from Washington has just stated. I wish to make it perfectly clear that there is no intention on my part, or anyone else who is interested in this resolution, to do anything that in any way would reflect upon Senator Bennett, or in any way do anything that would meet with his disapproval. The Senator from Indiana told me some few weeks ago that he was in favor of this resolution. I am sure that it is farthest from my thought to do anything that in any way would injure any member of this body. I am certain that the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, has been very much misinformed if he is laboring under the delusion that I am attempting in any manner, shape or form to injure Senator Bennett.

This resolution aims to bring about fair, thorough and impartial investigation of the persistent rumors and charges that there is political interference at the State Teachers College at Indiana. Now I am sure that every member of this body who has a State Teachers College located within his district, knows that such rumors are flying thick and fast as to political interference in these institutions, in spite of the fact that the Attorney General has given out the statement that politics does not enter into this situation in Indiana at all. I am satisfied that there is plenty of evidence that will change the minds of the people of this Commonwealth who are disposed, if they are not told to believe that statement made on several occasions in the press.

A number of organizations have been after me very persistently for sometime to introduce this resolution, among them, I might mention the Kiwanis Club of Indiana, the County Grange of Indiana, the Chamber of Commerce, the Alumni Association of State Teachers College representing some ten thousand alumni, the senior class, the faculty, and other individuals, and I have simply been bombarded almost continually for months to introduce this resolution.

I am not attempting to condemn in any manner, I simply want the proof on that and I am satisfied countless other individuals over this State do, and I see no reason why anyone who wants to be fair and square has anything to fear. The only individual to whom this resolution may be dangerous, as the Senator from Washington has said, are those who have been and are guilty of political rottenness and corruption. Anybody who is fair and square and above board has nothing to fear. I will not ask that a special committee be appointed, but rather that a sub-committee of five members of the Committee on Education. As far as I am concerned it is, as I said, to be a fair and square and impartial investigation. Again I say that I see no reason why anyone can object to an investigation of this kind. If everything is all right and above board I should think they would welcome such an investigation, but throughout the State, the length and breadth of it, these reports are continuous and persistent that there is political corruption in practically all of our State Teachers Colleges, and I hope, therefore, the Senate will pass this resolution and that we may go ahead and bring this out into the light and find exactly what the condition is in Indiana.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, at the first meeting of the Committee on Education Mr. Bennett fought violently against the consideration of this resolution. I was not present at the second meeting of the Committee. I know from the first meeting that he was strongly against the consideration of this resolution by the Senate. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Armstrong whether that is not right?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I disagree with the Senator from Armstrong that there is no just reason why anyone should vote against this resolution. I say that in the light of what has already happened here this evening, the stamp of approval that the injection of politics has been subscribed to by the vote of the Senate and if the majority of the members of this Senate want politics in the administration of State Teachers Colleges, that is a good reason for voting against the resolution.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I recall the other night Senator Bennett made a speech on this floor and read a letter that I think he had written to the paper in his home town, which indicated very clearly that all this was an old fight between ex-Senator Fisher and Senator Bennett, and if you read the papers that were thrown on our desks here—I have three of them on my desk—just read the headlines and you will see incidentally, that this school was reeking in politics under Governor Fisher and under the previous administration, and I say to you, Mr. President, it is a splendid thing if that man is out of that school. Any man that will cause so much trouble in the community between two such men as Senator Bennett and ex-Governor Fisher and stir a community up so that it is seething and flaming in the papers, I say, Mr. President, if we fan it more here we will arraign neighbor against neighbor after the flame has died down and these men that have caused so much trouble in past administrations, I say it is time for the Senate of Pennsyvania to keep its nose out of it.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I do not want to inflict myself upon this Senate much longer. However, I do simply want to make this statement, that what may or may not have appeared in the Indiana paper, or any other paper, I have nothing to do with, I have no power to regulate that and I am not concerned with it.

In answer to the statement that the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Bennett, opposed this resolution at the first meeting of the Committee on Education, that is correct. Later on, after the meeting, he came to my desk we talked the matter over and he said I am with you one hundred per cent on it. I simply want to make these few statements and correct the impression that Senator Bennett is opposed to the resolution.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, there is another point that I do not like about this resolution in its language, and that is that in view of all this that was said back and forth, the resolution in the third "Whereas" clause, attempts to throw a cloak of purity around the past performances of this gentleman in Indiana. If it were a general resolution to investigate politics from the beginning of the institution or for sometime past I would be glad to vote for it, but I cannot vote for it in its present form,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. PYTKO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Aron,	Graff,	Pierson,	Shapiro,
Batchelor,	Harris,	Prince,	Sordoni,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BUDGET SECRETARY REQUESTED TO FURNISH SENATE LIST OF DEPARTMENTAL EMPLOYES ON PER DIEM BASIS.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Resolution No. 5, Printer's No. 20.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 22, 1936.

Whereas, It is common report that numerous persons have been appointed to departmental positions in various departments of the State Government under the Governor on a per diem basis and are now enjoying such employment on such a basis and that many of these per diem employes have been connected with the State Government service for months and

Whereas, It is to the best interest of the people of Pennsylvania that such a practice should cease and that employes now on a per diem basis either should be placed on regular salary or be dismissed therefore be it

Resolved By the Senate of Pennsylvania that the Budget Secretary is hereby requested to inform the Senate at the earliest possible moment the number names and addresses of persons on the departmental payrolls on June fifteen one thousand and nine hundred thirty-six on the per diem basis (other than persons customarily employed on a per diem basis like those in field work) and the amount of such per diem pay according to the departments in which such persons are employed and be it further

Resolved That it is the opinion of the Senate of Pennsylvania that employment of persons on a per diem basis except in the case of emergency should be discontinued as speedily as possible.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. THOMPSON (Westmoreland). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, if this resolution, in its language, includes the employment of per diem employes in other departments not under the Governor, the Auditor General's and State Treasurer's offices also.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I think we will be very glad to have that information.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, the reason I asked the question is that it is not in the original request, although later it asks for information as to all departments.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). The Senator from Mercer can read just as well as I can. I take it that all the departments of the State Government are included.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin, be willing to have an additional resolution if he finds it is not so considered.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will be very glad to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, agree to an amendment to this resolution, striking out on line 3 the words "under the Governor," the last three words.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I have no objection to that.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move to amend the resolution on page 1, line 3, by striking out after the word "government" the words "under the Governor."

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution as amended?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this resolution reads "resolved by the Senate of Pennsylvania that the Budget Secretary is hereby requested to inform the Senate." Does the Senator from Dauphin believe that the Budget Secretary can get the information from the Auditor General's office and State Treasurer's office?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I do not see why he could not.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have been informed that he cannot.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I do not think that is a very serious objection. If he cannot give it, and the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, wants that particular information, I would be very glad to aid the Senator in securing it.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, not unless the entire Senate wants it, I am not particular about it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution as amended?

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator fom Delaware, Mr. McClure, state his question of personal privilege?

Mr. McCLURE. I believe, Mr. President, we would rather not hear any more about the WPA tonight, but there seems to be a great desire here for information. I have here an editorial which appeared in the New York Herald Tribune, on Thursday, June 25th, which I intended handing to my colleague from Tioga, so that he could better understand the reason why he was unable to secure information from Administrator Hopkins, of the WPA, but I now believe it would be well to read this editorial, so that every member of the Senate can be more informed. It is headed "High-handed Harry":

HIGH-HANDED HARRY

That public works are of public concern is a proposition so obvious that no one, prior to 9:31 a. m. on June 13, 1936, had reason even to formulate the principle, let alone question it. But at that hour and minute of that day and year was filed F. R. Doc. 912, published in the Federal Register of June 16, under the heading of "General Letter No. 36" addressed to "All State Works Progress Administrators," which by implication proclaims a philosophy utterly at variance with the proposition above stated.

To all of his many minions Administrator Hopkins has issued the stringent warning that under no circumstances must they disclose any information or furnish any papers or documents about anything connected with the Works Progress Administration except to persons having official business with that organization. Furthermore, "in all cases where a WPA official or employee is requested to testify in regard to matters of an official or confidential character, knowledge of which was acquired in his official capacity, he shall respectfully decline to answer." Even if the courts intervene he is directed to state that the matter is privileged and cannot be disclosed without specific approval from the Federal Administrator.

Ostensibly, of course, this is to co-ordinate and centralize the giving out of information to the public. But in actual practice it is a muzzle of the tightest sort, and can only have the effect of still further embarrassing the efforts of the public to learn the unbiased truth about the waste, extravagance and inefficiency of the Administration's public works program. Already so many instances are locally reported of utterly unjustifiable use of public funds and of the increasing injection of politics into the whole relief administration that common sense would suggest a policy of complete frankness and openness. But Mr. Hopkin's repressive order takes the opposite course. It seeks still further to hide from the public what the public has every right to know. Worse, even, it smacks of the dictatorial spirit—of the desire to manacle government hirelings—not in the interest of the public but so as to help cover up the mistakes of stubborn officials.

The most that can be said in Mr. Hopkins' behalf is that this spirit did not originate with him. It has been obvious in all types of New Dealers, from the President down to the least of the "happy hot dogs." Its base is bitter resentment of criticism and a determination to stifle it by means fair or foul. Mr. Hopkin's latest attempt shows scant confidence either in his own personnel or in the American people from whom he seems so eager to hide what his hirelings are doing.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO REAPPOINTMENT OF SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, The Constitution makes it mandatory that after each decennial census that there be a reapportionment of Senatorial Districts into fifty senatorial districts of compact and continguous territory as nearly equal in population as may be, and each district shall be entitled to elect one Senator. Each county containing one or more ratios or population shall be entitled to one Senator for each ratio, and to an additional Senator for a surplus of population exceeding three-fifths of a ratio, but no county shall form a separate district unless it shall contain four-fifths of a ratio, except where the adjoining counties are each entitled to one or more Senators, when such county may be assigned a Senator on less than a ratio, and no county shall be entitled to separate representation exceeding one-sixth of the whole number of Senators. No ward, borough or township shall be divided in the formation of a district. The Senatorial ratio shall be ascertained by dividing the whole population of the State by the number fifty. And

Whereas, This provision has been ignored by the Legislature and

Whereas, Several attempts have been made to have this mandate carried out, therefore

Be It Resolved, That the President Pro Tem appoint a committee of six (6) members of the Senate and five (5) citizens of Pennsylvania and the purpose of this committee will be to make a survey of the State and to recommend to the next session of the Legislature a comprehensive plan of reapportionment to provide for fifty (50) senatorial districts in conformity with Article II, section XVI of the Constitution.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the Resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Legislative Apportionment.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will be glad to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Delaware read an editorial from the Herald Tribune. In order that we may be fully informed, I would like to inquire if he knows the publisher of that paper.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do not know who the publishers are.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest that he might look and try to find the name of Ogden Mills as the publisher of the paper.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, if Mr. Ogden Mills is the owner of the paper, I heartily approve of the article in it.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE STREET CAR FARES FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN IN PHILADELPHIA

Mr. McCREESH offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Whereas, The cost of transportation of pupils to the school districts in the City of Philadelphia is a matter of grave concern to its citizens and it is believed that it is far greater than the circumstances require, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania is hereby requested to make an investigation through its existing facilities with the view of ascertaining whether on the basis of valuation and income or on any other basis the street railway companies operating in the City of Philadelphia may be required to issue tickets for school pupils only at a rate not to exceed twenty-five cents (25c) per week.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I have examined the New York Herald Tribune, at the request of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and find he is confused, as he usually is. Ogden Reid is the President, Howard Davis, Second Vice-President, Robert Cresswell, Treasurer.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, of course, my friend was not confused, but when he says that I am confused, I am beginning to believe that they are all getting rather confused. What I said to the Senator from Delaware was that if he would examine the paper he would find it is published by the Reid family, of which Ogden Mills is a member. He is only confirming my statement.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, since the resolution I presented was objected to by the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, with whom I have disagreed very frequently, I desire to say that I find I am Chairman of the Legislative Apportionment Committee, and I will guarantee that this resolution will receive a respectful hearing.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understood when the resolution was referred to that Committee.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

RESOLUTION

THANKS EXTENDED TO THE MAYOR OF PHILADELPHIA

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1936.

Whereas, The Democratic party held its Presidential Convention in Philadelphia, the city of homes, known for its hospitality; and

delphia was most instrumental in having the convention meet in that city, and gave unsparingly of his time, ability and energy in making the convention a success; and

Whereas, The visitors and delegates to the National Convention were most pleasantly received; and

Whereas, Mayor S. Davis Wilson, his official family and citizens of Philadelphia, all cooperated in a real way to make all the delegates and visitors satisfied with their visits; and

Whereas, The police arrangements, superintended by His Honor, the Mayor, were most perfect from start to finish; and

Whereas, Mayor S. Davis Wilson, by reason of his efficiency, aggressiveness and ability, has materially helped the City of Philadelphia to be known throughout the length and breadth of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the United States of America and all its possessions, for its generosity, hospitality and efficient management; and

Whereas, His action enures to the credit of the city of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly extends its congratulations and thanks to the Honorable S. Davis Wilson, Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, for the official arrangements which were made to entertain the Democratic National convention, and for the able and efficient way in which they were carried into execution under his leadership.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I shall ask the Democratic members to vote for this resolution. I believe that the thanks of the Governor of this Commonwealth and the Democratic leader of the city of Philadelphia have already been extended to his Honor, the Mayor, but I feel that it is most proper that we should join in unanimous thanks to the mayor of the great city of Philadelphia for the wonderful manner in which he handled the crowds at the great Democratic Convention.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I want to thank the gentleman from York for his very complimentary remarks in honor of the best mayor Philadelphia ever had, who stands over there on my right.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia for calling the attention of the House to the fact that the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia is in the hall of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee to escort the Mayor of Philadelphia to the rostrum the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Witkin, and the gentleman from York Mr. Cohen.

REMARKS BY HONORABLE S. DAVIS WILSON

Honorable S. DAVIS WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the General Assembly, this is indeed a surprise, a pleasant surprise. I very deeply appreciate the unusual courtesy in passing this resolution. However, I merely did what I know Jack Kelly would have done if he had been elected Mayor, and as a matter of fact it was Jack Kelly who helped me all the way through to do the things that were done in the city of Philadelphia during the Convention. He and I worked together, hand in hand, to show not only the state of Pennsylvania but the entire country what a wonderful city Pennsylvania has in Philadelphia. I feel that we have spread good will all over the country, good will which will react to the benefit of the entire Commonwealth as well as the city of Philadelphia.

Of course, you know I am not a politician, but I think Senator Penrose, when the city charter for Philadelphia was prepared many years ago, must have had in mind that some day I might be Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, because he was good enough to have inserted in that document that the Mayor of Philadelphia should not be active in politics. I am thankful to him, because it leaves me entirely free to give all my time and attention to the administration of the important duties of my office for the benefit of all of the people of Philadelphia, the two million people, without regard to their political affiliations.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank his Honor, the Mayor of the city of Philadelphia for his remarks to the House of Representatives.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, page 681 of the Legislative Journal of last Monday, June 22, on the next to the last line on that page reads as follows: written by Dr. Shifferstine of Lansford, Pennsylvania." This should have read "written by Dr. Pounder of Lansford, Pennsylvania."

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. TROUT

Mr. TROUT asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there have been numerous proposals made in this body which violate an obligation assumed by the State. I refer to those tampering with motor taxes; the taxes which have already have been collected and deposited in the motor fund, as well as motor taxes proposed for purposes other than roads. I feel that we must assume a position on these proposals, which we can justify to our constituents. I, for one, am taking the stand that existing loans from the motor fund must be repaid promptly, and that further attempts to unload general burdens upon the motorist must be defeated.

From the inception of state highway activities in 1903, through the Sproul reorganization of 1911, and the further reorganization of 1921, until a short time ago, one basic principal guided highway construction. It was followed by such men as Bigelow, Sproul, Sadler and Fisher. It is simple, namely: a road must be built to last, and as Sadler expressed it, a road must begin somewhere and end somewhere. It must be built with an eye to future traffic.

Upon that principal our primary and secondary road systems were administered and built up. Upon that principal state aid was furnished for secondary roads. Township reward was provided to give fair and equitable assistance on strictly local roads. Roads were built which kept maintenance requirements at a low figure.

Throughout this same period one fundamental principle was followed in the collection of special taxes from motorists; namely, the creation of a trust fund for road improvements. From the inauguration of the automobile license fee in 1905, through the enactments of the various gasoline taxes, the two bond issues and the drivers licenses, it was agreed by the motorists who willingly accepted these special taxes, and the legislatures which enacted the laws, that the proceeds were to be held in trust for highway improvements.

Because of adherence to these principles and to wise administrative policies, our highway system grew in an orderly manner until, in 1930, it included 13,765 miles of primary and secondary roads, together with 2,127 bridges. Adequate and low maintenance surfacing had been placed upon a large percentage of the system.

In 1931 came the first change in the orderly development of state highways when 20,156 miles of township roads were added to the system. In 1934 came the first deviation from the fundamentals of highway or motor taxation, with the borrowing of $5,140,000 from the motor fund. A serious deviation because a large portion of this loan still remains unpaid.

Further additions were made during 1933 and 1935, when 3,079 miles of roads, 994 miles of streets and 8,240 bridges were placed upon the State system.

During the past five years a total of 24,297 miles of roads and streets, with 8,240 bridges, have been added to our State system. In addition, heavy allocations have been made to some 46,000 miles of strictly local roads; property damage has been assumed by the State in many cases. A tremendous financial burden has thus been placed upon motor taxes.

In spite of the overwhelming increase of the responsibilities of the highway department, the violation of the principle of motor taxation has continued. During the 1935 session of the legislature, $4,200,000 was borrowed from the motor fund. A one-cent gasoline tax for relief was imposed upon motorists. In February of this year, $5,000,000 more was transferred. During the present session, $5,216,211 more has been borrowed. To date, a total of $17,556,211 is due the motor fund. I repeat—$17,556,211—some of it outstanding for two years.

The principles of motor taxation have been violated not only in the overdue loans, but by the collection of $12,000,000 of gas tax for relief.

I call your attention to the fact that up to the beginning of this session every special fund had been repaid except the motor fund.

Inactive funds have received repayments totalling $15,700,000. The motor fund received during the same period a payment of only $2,000,000, which was followed almost immediately by borrowing for general purposes $5,000,000.

The motor fund provides employment for thousands of men on the roads and in the plants producing road materials. Properly expended, it reduces the tremendous loss of life and property in motor accidents. Yet that fund has been discriminated against, and the results are already apparent to anyone who travels our highways.

It is time, I say, to recognize our obligation to the motorists, to use motor taxes for the motorist's benefit and the employment of men upon worthwhile work. Every honest and upright American, able to work, wants a job—not a dole. Let's be honest with the motorist and give the laboring man a chance to keep his self respect.

If we do not need all of the income from motor taxes—that is gasoline tax and license fees—let's give them back to the motorist where they belong, and then levy general relief taxes which affect all taxpayers equally.

But let's be sure we're right before the state highways or their finances are further tampered with. Let me call these facts to your attention.

Since 1930 road and street mileage equalling the circumference of the globe has been added to the state system. Maintaining this tremendous mileage of dirt and low-cost roads will take $22,000,000. Repair and reconstruction of over 8,000 bridges has been turned over to the State Highway Department in the same period. Floods, frosts and winter snows have added $20,000,000 to maintenance costs. Snow removal alone cost $4,000,000 last year. Yet, in the same period $17,556,000 has been withheld from the motor fund. A one cent gasoline tax for relief bringing in $12,000,000 per year, has been saddled upon the motorist.

I say it would be better to use this money for sorely-needed highway improvements, giving employment through contractors, gravel, stone and cement plants, rather than to depend upon inefficient untrained WPA workers for highway betterments.

Unpaid loans from the motor fund total $17,556,000; add to this the gasoline tax of one cent paid for relief during the first year of the present biennium and the same tax continued for the second year of the biennium and to be paid into the General Fund makes a total of $24,000,000 in gas taxes, making a total diversion of funds of $41,500,000, which should have gone into the immediate construction and improvement of highways.

I ask you to pause for a moment and consider the employment this amount of money would provide. I ask you to consider the needs of our highways, the danger spots, narrow bridges and rough roads you see on every drive.

Our highway system is faced with two sinister threats. On one hand there is the tremendous and growing cost of thousands of miles low low-type construction which must be kept in repair. On the other hand is the gradual reduction in available road money, either through direct diversion to other purposes or by temporary loans. Highway ruin lies behind each condition.

Until these threats are removed, the investment of years is endangered. Motor taxes are collected as a trust fund for highway improvements. With ninety-one cents out of every highway construction dollar going to wages and salaries they provide the best known form of work relief. Every day newspapers record fatal motor accidents caused by dangerous road conditions. Let's keep the road funds where they belong—on the roads—and make a real contribution toward solving the whole problem.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in conclusion let me say, I have no connection directly or indirectly with certain interests in this Commonwealth that have been attacked on the floor of this House. As I stated before on the floor of the House, I am not in sympathy with the rise and fall of the price of gasoline. I am not opposed to a tax on gasoline for other purposes than the construction and maintenance of highways, for any other reason than that it is breaking faith with the motorists of this Commonwealth, and let me further state that neither myself nor any other member of the House can justify to his constituents any support for increased gasoline tax or diversion of motor funds for any other purpose except for that for which they were originally intended.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 105, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by authorizing the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to issue package retailers' licenses for the sale of malt and brewed beverages in limited quantities for consumption off the premises where sold; imposing license and filing fees, and providing for the collection and distribution thereof; regulating and restraining the traffic in malt and brewed beverages by such licensees, and restricting the use, ownership and interest in licensed places; imposing duties upon the courts of quarter sessions and the Department of Justice; and providing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. VANSICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for further study and amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLSTROM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose this, what I might term facetious, motion in view of the fact that this bill has been in front of all the members of the House for at least a month, printed in pink. It came out of the Committee on Law and Order, which Committee I hold in the highest regard. I feel that the members of that committee knew what they were doing when they brought the bill out on the floor of the House. We have held a public hearing on the bill, have listened to both sides of the story, and I would say let us have the courage of our convictions and either vote "yes" or "no" on this bill when it comes up at its third reading, which is the proper time. I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote "no" on this motion and I ask for a roll call.

Mr. VANSICKLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, bfore we have the courage of our convictions and vote "yes" or "no" on this bill, we should see that the bill is in proper form and proper shape in order that we may intelligently vote "yes" or "no".

May I briefly call to the attention of the members of this House the fact that there are many errors in the bill at the present time. There are a vast number of amendments to be presented in connection with this bill, and in order that the time of the House may be saved from the consideration of these matters, the proper place to consider the bill is in committee. I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote in favor of the recommission of this bill.

Mr. HOLSTROM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to say one short word on this motion. When this bill reaches second reading, I shall be very happy and very glad to entertain any amendments that will improve this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLSTROM and Mr. CHERVENAK.

Mr. VANSICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 110

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 25, 1936.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to call up out of order House Bill No. 63, Printer's No. 151, on page 2, of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to call up the bill at this time? Are there objections?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I object to the consideration of this bill at this time.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Parks, happened not to be in his seat when bills on second reading were called, will the gentleman from Allegheny not agree to withdraw his objection, so that he at least can call up the bill, and then, of course, any action that he may wish to take will be entirely within his prerogative. But it seems to me, that the courtesy, if I may make the statement, while I am asking the question, should be given to the gentleman who happened to be at the back of the House when bills on second reading were called.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answed to the gentleman from Philadelphia, my reason for objecting to the consideration of this bill at this time was for the simple reason I want to show the sponsor of the bill the courtesy of informing him that there was some sentiment on this side of the House that the bill should be referred back to committee, and I wanted the opportunity to confer with the sponsor of the bill before that motion was made. However, if the gentleman himself personally would request me to withdraw my objection, I would be very glad to do so.

The SPEAKER. The objection has been withdrawn, and consent to call the bill out of order is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 63, as follows:

An Act to amend section five hundred and one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and five) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the dispositon of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by requiring extra fees for the assignment of special registration plates

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill be recommitted to the Judiciary General Committee for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill has been in committee for a sufficient length of time for careful consideration, and I can see no reason why it should be sent back to committee at this time, as a sufficient length of time has been given in committee for consideration of the bill.

Mr. AUCKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might say that this particular bill was in the Highways Committee for quite some time, was thoroughly and honestly considered in the Highways Committee, was reported out on the floor of the House as a good bill, and I see no reason for recommittment of the bill at this time.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there was some question as to whether or not this bill was constitutional, and it was felt that the Committee on Judiciary General should have the opportunity of studying its provisions before it is voted on by the members of this House. That is the reason for making the motion to recommit.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I very frankly state that I am not thoroughly familiar with the provisions of this bill, but I do want to call the House's attention to the fact that his bill was introduced and referred to the Committee on Highways on May 12th. It stayed in that Committee until June 23d. There was ample opportunity for the Committee on Highways to refer it to any other committee, if it so desired. There was also ample opportunity for the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, to appear before the Highways Committee and make that request. The bill lay in committee from the 12th of May to June 23d, and having been reported out of that committee, I can see no reason for sending it back, because it certainly has been before the House for a sufficient length of time to have ample consideration, and I will ask the members of the House to vote down the motion to send it back to committee. Let us meet the issue when a bill comes up.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will have to admit, as the gentleman from Philadelphia admitted on his own behalf, that I am not very familiar with the provisions of this bill. However, it seems to me the way the bill is drawn that it provides special privileges to certain persons, and for that reason it is unconstitutional. It scarcely can be considered as a measure which would provide revenue, and so for that reason the suggestion was made that the bill be recommitted to a committee to study it in that aspect. If the gentleman who sponsored the bill, or any person who is in favor of it, will state on the floor of the House that he has an opinion, either from the Legislative Reference Bureau or from the Attorney General's Office that this bill comes within the call and is likely to be declared constitutional, I will very gladly withdraw my motion to recommit.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree with the statement made by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Aukerman, and if the Chairman of the Highways Committee were here he would agree with the minority leader of this House that this bill has been in committee for practically a month, and I think there is a diversity of opinion as to whether this bill is constitutional or not. It has been reported out and I think that this body should have the right at least to vote on this bill and let the Attorney General determine later whether it is constitutional or not. Due to the fact that there is a diversity of opinion, I ask the membership on this side of the House to vote down this motion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will endeavor to answer the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, when he states he is unfamiliar with the bill, I do want to call your attention to section 2, that apparently provides that the moneys collected under this bill shall be paid to the State's Veteran's Commission, through the State Emergency Relief Board. Page 5 of the bill, section 2, states that the money shall be used for the payment of the expenses of the Commission and to provide the necessities of life or other assistance to the needy Pennsylvania veterans or their dependents, and it therefore seems to me to come clearly within the call. At least, we are not saying that it does or does not when we pass it on to the Attorney General for his action.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the fact that we can obtain an opinion within a day or so from either the Attorney General or the Legislative Reference Bureau, and that the bill can be then considered on third reading, I will withdraw the motion to recommit to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1936. No. 26.

SENATE

TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1936

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Teach us, O God, the true meaning of prayer, so that our petitions may be freed from cold formality. To pray is to talk with Thee; to say things to Thee and then wait for Thee to say things to us. Prayer is asking Thee for blessings and thanking Thee for benefits bestowed. Prayer, O God, implies such real and abiding trust in Thee and love for Thee as to assure us that every prayer is answered even though our specific petitions are not granted.

Make us men of prayer, O Lord—men who submit their plans and aspirations to One who is all-wise, all-loving and all-sympathetic. May those who enact laws to govern our State receive from Thee the commandments which they hand down to our people, as Moses received the tablet of stone from the summit of Sinai and declared them to Israel. Bless and guide this Senate in its labors, we ask in the name of the Saviour of mankind. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, the first paragraph of the Democratic National Platform of 1936 proclaims:

> "We hold this truth to be self-evident—That the test of a representative government is its ability to promote the safety and happiness of the people."

This Special Session of the Legislature was convened because the New Deal Administration at Washington has failed to achieve this fundamental object of government. This fact is proven by the Goodrich Report, submitted to Governor Earle on May 4th, which says:

> "The total number of persons at present receiving public assistance and relief from nine types of assistance in Pennsylvania, reaches the staggering total of at least 1,850,000, or nearly one fifth of the total population of the State."

After three long years of New Deal experimentation and failure; after three long years of confiscatory federal taxation; after three long years of reckless federal spending, equaling the total amount expended by the first twenty-six Presidents of the United States during the first one hundred and sixteen years of our national history; the net result of accomplishment toward attaining the "more abundant life," and of securing the safety and happiness of the people of Pennsylvania is 1,850,000 Pennsylvania men, women and children in need of governmental aid.

According to the Goodrich Report, of this 1,850,000 1,645,000 come under the classification, "Assistance to ıe unemployed," and this figure of 1,650,000 is further roken down into two groups as follows:

"State Emergency Relief Administration 624,000; Federal Works Progress Administration (net number of persons in relief cases closed because of jobs on this program) 1,021,000."

It is manifest, therefore, that the group under State mergency Relief Administration, numbering 624,000, :presents the employables of Pennsylvania the group to hich President Roosevelt referred when he said:

"With them the problem is different and the responsibility is different. This group was the victim of a nation wide depression caused by conditions which were not local but national. The Federal Government is the only governmental agency with sufficient power and credit to meet this situation. We have assumed this task and we shall not shrink from it in the future."

We may overlook the inaccuracy of the President in scribing the industrial depression which set in during 29 as only nation wide, because every one knows that was world wide. We may likewise overlook for the oment the President's lack of candor in ignoring the vious fact that, while in many nations recovery was hieved shortly after 1933, by reason of the devasting fect of New Deal Policies, recovery in America has been markably delayed. I have quoted from the President prove that it was on behalf of the vast army of the employed throughout the nation, numbering 624,000 in nnsylvania, that President Roosevelt made his promise d pledge that employables would be taken off direct ief and given work before January, 1936. Furthermore, solemnly pledged that having assumed this task he uld not shrink from it in the future.

Can it be that repudiation of a promise to extend aid the victims of a nation wide depression and to cast em adrift and cooly wash his hands of any responsibil- for their continued well being, is President Roose- lt's idea of the practical application of his much her- ed governmental policy of the "good neighbor?"

On last Saturday evening when speaking in Philadel- a, President Roosevelt admitted that:

"Governments can err—Presidents do make mistakes—but the immortal Dante tells us that divine justice weighs the sins of the cold-blooded and the sins of the warm-hearted in different scales."

We wonder in what scales divine justice will weigh sins of an administration which with over a billion lars in the federal treasury appropriated for relief to several states and unexpended up to this time, re- es to grant aid to 624,000 Pennsylvanians, the victims a nation wide depression?

When, by reason of President Roosevelt's repudiation his promises, Pennsylvania relief funds reached the ishing point during the month of May, five practical rces of revenue were open to Governor Earle, as fol- s:

First. To secure additional federal grants. Because of provision of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act 1935, the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933 was tinued in force to June 30, 1936. It has been possible President Roosevelt, up to the present moment, to nt additional relief to the several states in whatever portion he chooses. A determined effort should have n made by Governor Earle, by United States Senator fey and by Democratic State Chairman Lawrence, to secure further grants from Washington in order to relieve the overburdened taxpayers of Pennsylvania of the necessity of further taxation. Let me repeat and emphasize that, today, June 30, 1936, is the deadline, according to the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935, for federal grants for direct relief. By letter, Republican Senators advised the Governor of the fact that June 30, 1936, is the deadline and the membership of this Senate and as well the taxpayers of Pennsylvania will await with interest Governor Earle's answer to the question "What efforts have you made, or what efforts will you make, prior to June 30, 1936, to secure further federal relief grants for Pennsylvania, to the end that Pennsylvania may have a more equitable proportion of Federal relief funds, and to the further end that unnecessary taxes may not be levied upon the people of Pennsylvania?"

Second. To secure $25,000,000 in additional funds to which SERA is justly entitled from the following sources: $15,000,000, the balance owing to SERA from FERA under Harry Hopkins' agreement to carry the relief load of Pennsylvania above $60,000,000 during the fiscal year ending May 31, 1936; and the $10,000,000 advanced by SERA to WPA workers, a sum which we feel certain would have been promptly returned had Governor Earle made a timely request to his friend and political ally, Mr. Edward N. Jones.

Third. To compel SERA, which since January, 1935, has been completely under the control of the Guffey-Lawrence-Earle political machine, to reduce relief costs and expenditures and to cooperate with WPA; instead of adopting the extravagant relief program advocated by Mr. de Schweinitz and the Goodrich Commission.

Fourth. To compel WPA to fulfill the purpose of its existence, as defined by President Roosevelt, of putting to work all employables upon relief rolls.

Fifth. To compel economies in government, thereby diverting large sums of money to the unemployed, now used in maintaining useless bureaus and padded payrolls.

Has Governor Earle made any attempt to solve Pennsylvania's relief problem through any of these five obvious solutions? We have not heard of any. With a callous disregard of the economic structure of Pennsylvania, with a wilful contempt for the overburdened taxpayers of this State, he proclaimed $70,991,000 as the minimum amount to be provided for in new taxes for relief to February, 1937, and proclaimed this to be the only solution. In this ultimatum, he had the backing of Mr. de Schweinitz and the Goodrich Commission.

In the light of subsequent events we now read with wonder the statement of Governor Earle, made less than two months ago, that "The estimate of unemployment relief funds made by Karl de Schweinitz, State Emergency Relief Director, is based upon a minimum amount to provide for comfort and decency. You can reduce it only by causing great suffering to the unfortunate men, women and children on our relief rolls and the more you reduce it the more they will suffer."

But Governor Earle has since stated that after a conference with United States Senator Guffey and State WPA Director Edward N. Jones, concessions had been secured from the Federal Government which will permit the employment of 30,000 persons now on relief rolls, and that there will be no suffering caused to the men, women and children on relief rolls, if the Senate lops off $16,000,000 from the tax bills so gaily and eagerly passed by the Democratic membership of the House of Representatives.

But the final blow to the exorbitant claims of Governor Earle, Mr. de Schweinitz and the Goodrich Commission came from one in high favor with the Guffey-Lawrence-Earle machine, from WPA Director Edward N. Jones himself, when he publicly said:

> "The direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables in a very short time, if there were some state organization that would consistently cooperate with WPA."

I heartily concur in Mr. Jones's conclusino that proper cooperation of SERA with WPA would have caused a reduction in relief rolls and would thereby have considerably reduced the amount needed for unemployment relief. When making that statement, Mr. Jones merely reiterated a charge which I made upon the floor of this Senate on May 12th. At that time I said:

> "I think a second mighty important thing we all want to know is why, only 54 days from the time when every dollar of WPA money was to have done its promised work of taking every employable off direct relief, only 25% of this State's allotment as of December 31st, last, have been put in circulation among those needing WPA work in this state. * * * Relief in Pennsylvania has provided soft berths for welfare workers upon a scale never before dreamed of, and all hands are doing everything possible to keep Relief at a peak and thus retain their jobs. In effect, if not actually, they are saying to the people on Relief: 'Stay with us and you won't have to work. True, WPA pays more, but we are constantly raising our standards, and soon we will have you up to WPA. Stay on Relief.' The Governor seems to be with them. I think we should ask him to tell us all about that."

I am glad that Mr. Jones has sustained my proposition that a proper administration of SERA would have so reduced relief rolls that additional taxes would not now be necessary.

But I cannot agree with other conclusions contained in Mr. Jones's letter; neither can I permit them to go unanswered. Mr. Jones argues that the present controversy over relief in this Legislature is "A sham battle" between "two Republican subsidiaries of big business." When Mr. Jones assumes that SERA is an organization controlled and administered by Republicans, he makes an assertion which defies human credulity. Mr. Jones ought to have knowledge of the fact that during the regular session of 1935, when the Bill introduced by the distinguished Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, was before the Senate, a bill which ripped SERA out of existence and placed relief back in the poor boards of Pennsylvania, that twenty-eight Republican Senators voted for the measure and seventeen Democratic Senators voted against it. Mr. Jones, also ought to have knowledge of the fact that since January, 1935, SERA has been controlled and dominated by three distinguished Democrats, Governor Earle, Lieutenant Governor Kennedy, and Speaker Sarig, who was succeeded upon his lamented death by Speaker Furman. These distinguished Democrats may affirm or deny at their convenience, whether they are controlling a Republican relief organization.

They may, at their convenience, affirm or deny the charge of Mr. Jones that under their administration of SERA, "those actually getting socked are the WPA and the Democratic party."

Likewise I trust that either Governor Earle, or Lieutenant Governor Kennedy or Speaker Furman or Mr. de Schweinitz or the Goodrich Commission will answe the charge of Mr. Jones that "the people of Pennsylvani must not forget that the estimates for direct relief ar the estimates furnished by a Republican staffed organi zation," and that "what is taking place in the special ses sion actually is but a sham battle, both sides intent onl on discrediting WPA and through it, the administratio of Franklin Roosevelt."

I am certain that Mr. Jones will find little support i the Senate for his suggestion that the State Departmen of Welfare take over the functions of SERA. That ver suggestion shows the political character of Mr. Jones' letter. Every one knows that relief handled by the De partment of Welfare would be as political as is the pres ent administration of WPA. The words which the im mortal Dante saw over the portals of the lower region "All hope abandon, ye who enter here," will be discerne by every Republican applicant for relief to be over th portals of the Department of Welfare, exactly as the sam words have been discerned by every needy Republica who has sought work relief from WPA.

Almost nineteen hundred years ago a certain Roma Emperor was accused by his subjects of having wilfull caused a fire which raged for days in the "Eternal City; a fire which resulted in great loss of property and untol suffering. When confronted with that charge, the Roma Emperor replied that the fire was caused by the Chris tians. And now, in the year 1936, with an exhibitio of consummate gall never exceeded since the days o Nero, Mr. Jones would have the people of Pennsylvani believe that the relief crisis in Pennsylvania has bee caused by the Republican party.

Let me assure Mr. Jones that the Republican membe of the Senate of Pennsylvania are interested in two thing and in two things alone; first, that no man, woman o child in Pennsylvania shall go hungry, and, secondly tha the overburdened taxpayers of Pennsylvania shall b relieved as far as possible from further taxation. Sinc January, 1935, SERA has been as much a Democrati organization as is WPA. In the battle now raging be tween WPA and SERA it is immaterial which is th pot and which is the kettle, because we know that the both are black. This controversy between SERA an WPA is actually a battle between two Democratic group because SERA and WPA alike are dominated by th Guffey-Lawrence-Earle political machine. Denied th right to investigate WPA as we have been by interferenc from Washington and by a Court decree, in the equit suit brought by Mr. Jones, we have no intention of pullin Mr. Jones's chestnuts out of the fire by investigating SERA All that we can do is await detailed information fro Governor Earle. Almost two weeks have passed sinc Governor Earle received a letter from five Senators, rep resenting the Republican membership of this body. W have had no answer to our six questions. Likewise o the charges of Mr. Jones, the Governor is strangely silen

The Chief Executive has promised to make two hun dred and one speeches on behalf of President Roosevel in the sixty-seven counties of Pennsylvania. I hope tha he will use one of these speeches to answer the si questions put to him by the Republican members of th Senate, and particularly that he will tell the people o Pennsylvania why he is using the SERA to hamstrin

WPA in order to discredit President Roosevelt's Administration.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the Senator from Dauphin is a member, is he not, of the Committee appointed under authority of Resolution No. 9 to investigate WPA?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I am.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, and one of the attacks in the resolution now pending is against the constitutionality of the entire WPA organization; is that not correct?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I did not recall that that was in the resolution—as to constitutionality. I may be wrong; I have not read it recently.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in the litigation that is now pending in the Federal Court, and in the answer of the Committee, is not the constitutionality of WPA itself attacked?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I have not carefully read the brief of counsel for the investigating committee; and I will say frankly that I am not equal to answering the Senator—whether it is a fact or not.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, believe in the Federal levy of taxes for the relief of the nation's unemployed?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I have never objected to the levying of taxes. Neither do I object to the policies of President Roosevelt.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Dauphin believe in the levying of State taxes for the relief of the State's unemployed?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I believe in the levying of taxes if taxes are necessary.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in view of the answer by the Senator from Dauphin, that he believes in the levying of taxes if taxes are necessary, I desire to ask the Senator, if he believes these taxes should be levied to relieve the poor, what plan he has to offer as to how it should be administered.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, means what?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, after the taxes are levied and collected, how would the Senator from Dauphin have them administered for relief in Pennsylvania?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I have always believed that the only constitutional way to take care of relief in Pennsylvania is by appropriations to some agency for allocation among the Poor Boards, as was done in the first Talbot bill. If that is impossible, then I believe—that is, if it is impossible to secure sufficient funds—then I believe some other local agency should be set up for their administration.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, of course, then, the Senator from Dauphin knows that practically two-thirds of the Poor Boards in Pennsylvania are Republicans; is that not correct?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I cannot tell the gentleman the number.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Dauphin doubt it?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny says that two-thirds are Republican?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I did not believe that it was as high as that. It may be correct. I do not know the figure; I never investigated it.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin admit that the majority of the Poor Boards in Pennsylvania are Republicans?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I believe that is correct.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, it is, then, the policy of the Senator from Dauphin to have this money, after it is collected, turned over to these Republican local boards for distribution to the poor?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I believe it should be turned over to the local boards because I believe it is the only constitutional way it could be done.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the Senator from Dauphin believes, then, that that would be an improvement over the present system of distribution?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I certainly do.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 50, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to limit the amount of moneys allocated to and expended in counties by the State Emergency Relief Board for the maintenance of unemployable residents to amounts expended by political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor for the maintenance of unemployable residents and requiring such political subdivisions to make certain reports be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in moving to recommit Senate Bill No. 50, I wish to state that I am in sympathy with Senator Thompson's bill, and that I would like to explain my motive in moving to recommit it, and also have an opportunity to make a few remarks. Having taken the vow never to rise to a question of personal privilege or to offer a resolution, the only chance I have is in making a motion of this kind. I regret the emptiness of the galleries.

Yesterday was Monday—wash day, when several of us hung out our family wash. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, had exposed a hair shirt, and there were other washes hung out; Mr. Jones's wash was there, —I think Mr. Jones had nothing left but his shirt. Well, the family wash was exhibited on Monday, and the wash was put out for the pleasure and interest of the galleries,

Today is ironing day, which is a very quiet day in this legislative laundry, when we try to iron out difficulties with very few spectators. I am rising especially to say something about Mr. Jones—if you understand whom I mean.

I had the privilege yesterday of a heart-to-heart talk with Mr. Jones on the relief situation, and I think perhaps, Mr. President, you will be interested, and all the members of the Senate will be interested, in knowing what conclusion we reached, and that I may have as much influence as the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, in determining Mr. Jones's policy.

I took with me, as a bodyguard, the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman; and the proceedings were entirely peaceful. I read a letter to Mr. Jones—tried to be complimentary—reading as follows; "Dear Mr. Jones: You are quite the important man in Pennsylvania relief. SERB has 173,000 cases on direct relief. Six per cent of these are unemployables. If, therefore, you do a little mathematics and multiply by six, you get 10,000. You subtract that from 173,000 and you get 163,000 now on SERB relief. Can you, and will you, take over these men? If you can and will do so, we can and will adjust our tax bill against our constitutients, Democrats and Republicans alike, and close this extra session—to the relief of all concerned, including ourselves. Therefore, Mr. Jones, allow me to suggest that for the good of the Commonwealth we discard every personal equation involved in WPA versus SERB, that we forget at this critical time our political strategy, and that we sincerely try to get together to serve Pennsylvania first and foremost. Therefore, how soon can you take over the 163,000 employables now on direct relief?"

Well now, Mr. Jones rang the bell and asked for a copy of his release of a week ago—Sunday, June 21st—and he marked, himself, this paragraph: "Weeks ago SERA"—that is confusing—"SERB was told that an investigation by WPA had indicated that there were over 50,000 WPA cases that could be exchanged for larger family units on direct relief, with the resultant saving to the taxpayer of Pennsylvania of $2,500,000 per month; but SERA was not interested."

Now, when I returned to the Capitol I went into the gentleman's retiring room and got this piece of paper, and made this little calculation—and I am not a certified public accountant—I have got one heading "Single Men"—but, first, I should say, I think, that Mr. Jones explains to me—I mean, he made a direct offer, and Senator Huffman was there and he heard it, that he could save us $1,100,000 a month if he will do—that is to say, if we can can make SERB do what he suggests.

That is the reason I am speaking this morning. I think it is worth saving—$1,100,000 a month. The proposition is, an exchange of married men with single men. A single man on direct relief gets something like $4.00.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his point of order.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I do not think the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, is speaking about anything that is before us.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, is not sustained. The Chai believes that the Senator from Philadelphia is speakin on the bill that is before us.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am speaking a briefly as possible; I have not made any reference t Emperor Nero, and I am getting along as fast as I ca If you will allow me, I will be only a few minutes mor

Well, the proposition is an exchange—that Mr. Jone will take Mr. de Schweinitz's married men, 25,000 o them, and put them on WPA. They cost—the marrie men cost $15.00 a week; the single men cost only $4.00 week; and Mr. Jones proposes to trade 25,000 singl men for 25,000 married men, and then Washington ha to pay for the married men and Harrisburg has to pa for the single men.

Now, this calculation seems to be perfectly correct—if you multiply 25,000 single men by $4.00 a week, yo get $100,000; and if you multiply one week by four weeks calling that a month, you get $400,000. If you multiply 25,000 married men by $15.00 a week, you get $375,000 and if you multiply that by four weeks you get $1,500,000 from which you get, by subtracting the $400,000 $1,100,000 to be saved the taxpayers of Pennsylvania i we adopt Mr. Jones' suggestion.

Now then, we cannot take Mr. de Schweinitz by th scruff of the neck or the seat of the breeches and mak him do this, but—and now here is the important part the reason I am recommitting Senator Thompson's bill I did not wish it to interfere with this idea, and I asked Mr. Fertig to prepare a bill which I introduced thi morning, and in Section 9 it reads, "As soon as practic able after their appointment, each County Assistance Board shall, from time to time, transfer all employable married men from the relief rolls for employment unde the Works Progress Administration, in exchange for a like number of unmarried men who are at such time em ployed under the Works Progress Administration, and shall forthwith grant relief to such unmarried men s exchanged."

Now, that is the modus operandi and the reason I am recommitting Senator Thompson's bill is, I was afraid the bill would interfere with that arrangement. Otherwise I am for his bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, has surely laid the foundation for a most pertinent question, and that question is this: How did the 25,000 single men get over in the WPA in preference to the 25,000 married men? I hope that if this bill is recommitted, that the committee that will receive it will try in its able way to answer that question.

The PRESIDENT. The Senators will conform their discussions to the motion to recommit.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia appreciate the purpose o Senate Bill No. 50?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, well, not altogether.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, has the Senator from Philadelphia read the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am looking forward to reading it tonight.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia realize that there are some counties in this State where a large proportion of the unemployed are maintained by the SERB, and that the SERB refuses to maintain any unemployables in by far the largest group of counties in this State?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am sorry I did not know that, but I would be very happy to discuss it in the committee in this little room here.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia realize that the purpose of this bill is to prevent the SERB from contributing * * *

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, my point of order is that a motion to recommit is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is sustained. The Senators will kindly conform their remarks to the motion before the Senate.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I do not believe that my interrogation is in the nature of a debate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the remarks were in the nature of debate.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and Mr. FREY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Aron,	Gelder,	McGinnis,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Miller,	Shapiro,

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 4, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was defeated on June 24th.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, I would say that this is a constitutional amendment offered by Dr. Woodward, relating to the qualification of electors, where the payment of taxes is required as a qualification for voting. I make this explanation in order that the Senate may know what this bill is about.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the question is how long after a bill has been acted upon may a motion be made to reconsider.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that the bill was defeated on June 24th.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, five legislative days may intervene.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to hear the Rule read.

Rule 16 was read as follows: "When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any two members of the majority, or when the Senate has been equally divided, or a bill shall have failed to pass, by reason of not having a constitutional majority, for any two who voted in the negative to move the reconsideration thereof; but no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, report, amendment, or motion, upon which the vote was taken, shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate; nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless made on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the next five days of actual session of the Senate thereafter; and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn, and no member shall speak on the question more than once, or for a longer time than five minutes."

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE, and Mr. FREY and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does not this motion require a constitutional majority?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that it requires only a simple majority of the Senate members present.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?
The motion was agreed to.
And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 4, on final passage, be postponed for the present.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 74, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eighth section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, from what I have learned since I am a member of this body, I am somewhat fearful to start out so early in the session to speak, I have no dirty linen to wash; I have some ironing to do, and I feel that since I have been elected to represent a quarter of a million people of the State of Pennsylvania, I should at least bring their thought before the Senate on this bill. I believe that this bill is bad from the standpoint that in our county all our voters pay taxes, and all taxes go to the municipal treasurer from which the loans and interest on loans are paid. If this bill should become a law, then only the real estate owner would be permitted to vote on municipal indebtedness, and every voter would have to pay taxes on it, therefore, it would be taxation without representation. Furthermore, I am committed to the idea of reducing the real estate tax burden, and placing a large proportion of the real estate taxes upon other forms for taxation, and I am sincerely convinced that within this next biennium that is going to take place. Therefore, a minority of the people of the municipality would be entitled to vote on municipal loans, and the majority, who would not be entitled to vote, would have to pay the taxes; therefore, I feel that we should vote this bill down.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, a suggestion has been made to me regarding amendments to this bill, which I believe would improve the bill, and for that reason I ask unanimous consent that it go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I ask unaminous consent that Senate Bill No. 76, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to authorize the Board of Revision of Taxes in cities of the first class to classify the real estate situated therein so as to discriminate between those parcels employed exclusively for manufacturing purposes and other real estate in such cities and to provide for carrying such classification into effect go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 83 (House Bill No. 46), on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the purpose of repairing existing dikes and river bank protections and building and constructing new dikes and river bank protections along the Delaware River at Matamoras and Milford Pike County be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 84 (House Bill No. 60), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for the purpose of rehabilitating and replacing real and personal property of free public nonsectarian libraries Pennsylvania State Library public nonsectarian libraries and public school libraries damaged or destroyed by flood and providing procedure to ascertain the amount of damage

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for further study and amendment.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to state to the members of the Senate that the reason for the motion is that in the Appropriations Committee we were told that this was a method to replace books of learning which had been damaged by the flood, in various public libraries, and that this money would be used for the expense of binding and the restoration of these books, and unless these books were bound immediately and cared for, there were some that could not be saved and would be entirely destroyed. As I read the bill, I see nothing in this bill that relates to books except for the fact that most of them are personal property, but under this bill chairs, wall paper, and so forth could be repaired by any library institution. There is nothing in the bill about books, and for that reason, and in view of the fact that most of us voted this bill out on the proposition that it was for the care, re-establishment and repurchase of new books, I ask that it be recommitted so that it be restored for the purpose for which it was voted out by the committee.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I can see no good reason why this bill should be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations. It was brought up in the committee, carefully considered, and it is a very simple bill. It makes an appropriation of $100,000. to the Department of Education. The Act provides that the Trustees of various institutions make up a list of their losses and submit it to the Department of Education, which makes a thorough and complete survey of their list, certifies it to the State Council of Education, and they arrive at the conclusion how much each institution is to receive. If we have any confidence in our educational department, we ought to have confidence that they will do the right thing and award money to the institution where it belongs, and, therefore, I oppose its recommitment to the Committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have no objection to voting for a bill which does not concern my particular district, because, as I have frequently stated, I believe that I am Senator from all the districts in Pennsylvania, not for any particular district; but I would without hesitation vote for a bill of this kind in view of the flood situation we have had, but I call attention to the fact that I am going to vote against this bill because the members of the Senate seem to feel that there is no merit in the proposition. I suggest to them that I think they do not realize that this bill will come back and haunt them. There is nothing in the Call which warrants the passage of this bill, appropriating $125,000, or $100,000; as amended—the bill I have before me does not have the Senate amendments in it—"for the purpose of replacing real estate," because that is what this bill reads. Money is appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the purpose of rehabilitating real and personal property of three public libraries, damaged or destroyed by floods in this Commonwealth during the year 1936. There is nothing in this bill which gives the Department of Public Instruction authority to award money, the amount appropriated, to rehabilitate real estate property, and the only jurisdiction the Department of Instruction has over the funds is to see that the estimates suggested are proper, and it seems to me that the Senate, which is engaged in haggling in questions on relief, and in awarding a million dollars for relief, should not, with a wave of the hand, appropriate $100,000 to do something about which there is not sufficient information before the Senate and also to go beyond any intent or purpose of the Call, and I shall vote against the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will read paragraph 2 of the Call:

"Authorizing the Commonwealth and its various political subdivisions and their agencies or instrumentalities, either together, alone, or in cooperation with the Unted States Government, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, to extend relief to the victims of the recent calamitous floods, including the rehabilitation of property damaged or destroyed and the restoration of the flooded territories to a wholesome and sanitary condition."

It does not confirm itself to personal property as distinguished from real property.

Now, Mr. President, in my district there were no libraries damaged by the flood, but I know that throughout Pennsylvania many libraries have suffered serious damage, and it seems to me that the libraries of the State are educational institutions for the various people of the State. It seems to me that we should support this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion

It was not agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 4, postponed for the present, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have the greatest respect for the sponsor of this bill but not for the purpose of the bill. The argument, of course, for the bill is that to be a good citizen you ought to pay tax. I will say to you that in this state, as well as in every other state, the tenant pays all the tax. Every owner of property figures out his tax and the return on his investment and after he figures that out he figures his rent. I will admit that in the time of depression that may not hold good, but in the long run, on the whole the tenant pays all the taxes. Then too in this state we have, for instance in Allegheny County, the City of Pittsburgh at least, permanent registration, so that if a voter who is registered can vote forever after if he votes every year. If he ceases to vote for two years then he has to go back and register. That has been working in the City of Pittsburgh, and if this bill is passed it will throw an additional burden on the Registration Commissioners and the Election Board, and there will be an additional qualification. A man comes to vote on permanent registration in the City of Pittsburgh they will have to check up and see if he has paid taxes in those two years. But the real vicious thing about this bill is this: it is not intended to raise revenue, it never did raise any revenue to amount to anything, when we did have the bill on the books, but it allows a splendid method for the machines to acquire and own voters. I am thoroughly convinced that that is the purpose of this bill. In the City of Pittsburgh and the City of Philadelphia, and I assume the City of Scranton, especially in the thickly populated centers, it has been the custom under the old bill, for the machine to go around in the different districts and find out the poor that did not pay any tax and get a list and go down to the City Treasurer and County Treasurer's office and some man that has money pays the tax for those people. They then go back election day and say go down and vote here is your receipt to vote, we paid the tax for you, you ought to go down and vote for us."

Now that applies to any machine, I am not complaining about the Republican party, because it has been in power in Pennsylvania so long, I say to you that the temptation is so great that any party that will be in power long enough will use that same effort.

Mr. President, therefore, I feel that this bill should be defeated for those reasons, that it goes on the theory that a man who does not own real estate does not pay tax, Secondly, because the effect of it would be to allow the machine to pay the tax for a certain voter, throwing restrictions around him, so that he will not be able to vote unless some politician who has worked ahead of time goes around through all these districts, and therefore owns the voter on election day.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I had always understood that the Democratic party was the party in favor of taxation. Surely in the session of 1935, and during this Special Session, they have been the party that has been putting the taxes on the people. Here is a tax that would probably amount to fifty cents a head, they are not willing to put this tax on the people. Furthermore, I call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this is not a bill that will place directly any tax on the people, but a proposed amendment to the Constitution. It would have to pass this session both Houses, the Democratic House as well as this Republican Senate, and would then have to be passed by another session and then would be referred to the people for their final decision as to whether or not they want to amend the Constitution in this particular. In other words, this is the first step for referendum. This is not a bill to place a tax on anyone as it stands now, it is a referendum to the sovereign people of Pennsylvania to say whether or not they want to adopt this amendment, and I have always understood that the Democratic party, as well as some of our more independent Republicans, were very strong for referendum. I have not always been so strong for it myself, but I am for this bill and independent thinking Senators, whether they are Democrats or whether they are Republicans, cannot justify, in my judgment, a vote against this bill at this time, and I, therefore, hope that the bill will pass the Senate today and will go to the House, and the Democrats over there, who are in absolute and uncontradicted control, will see the light of day, pass this and let the sovereign people of Pennsylvania say whether or not they want to put this twenty-five cents or fifty cents tax on the people.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I regret to find my distinguished colleague from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, guilty of what is called obsolescence. If he does not know I will have to instruct him that the Democratic party has become Hamiltonians, that they have deserted Thomas Jefferson, but he does not seem to know that. They no longer are going to have Jefferson County in Pennsylvania and Missouri is going to change the name of its capital from Jefferson City to Hamilton City. I am invited, and perhaps you are, to the home of Thomas Jefferson in Monticello on the Fourth of July, to hear President Roosevelt explain how the Democratic party happen to have given up entirely their ancient god, Thomas Jefferson. This bill is a Hamiltonian measure, and, therefore, all Democrats in the New Deal ought to vote for it.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, with much pleasure.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I understand this provision in the Constitution was repealed under the Pinchot Administration, I would like to inquire of the Senator from Bucks how he voted on that bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny Mr. McGinnis, mean how I voted at the polls or on the floor of this Senate?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would certainly not ask how the Senator voted at the polls.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, if that were the case I would give an appropriate answer. If the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, wants to know how I voted when this resolution came before the Senate on two occasions, my best recollection is that I voted against the repeal. That is my best recollection.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, have any positive recollection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, when the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, considers that we vote at least twenty-five hundred times at each session and I have been here over a quarter of a century, I would not want to be positive.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

MEMORIAL SERVICES ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE JAMES E. NORTON LATE SENATOR FROM THE ELEVENTH DISTRICT

The Senate met at two-thirty P. M.

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR (Honorable Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by resolution for holding memorial services on the death of Honorable James E. Norton, late Senator from the Eleventh District, the Senate will be in order and will be opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our God, the relationships established by Thy Providence among men mean much to us all. In the home, in our varied fields of human activity and by social intermingling we are brought together and come to know, to trust, and even to love each other. Some of the men whom we meet on life's highway, by their personalities and sterling characters, bind themselves to us with bands of steel. Such a man was the member of the Senate of Pennsylvania in whose memory this service is being held.

How familiar was his figure in this Chamber; how faithful was he to every duty imposed upon him; how patiently he bore the burdens incident to public office, whether here or in his other fields of social and fraternal activity.

His passing from our midst leaves in the ranks of this legislative body a vacancy which will long be keenly felt. His co-Senators stand before Thee today, O God, with bowed heads and sorrowful hearts. Comfort as Thou alone canst comfort his bereaved companion and every member of his family. Enable them to say, as sorrow sweeps over their souls, "Thy will be done."

Strengthen him who has succeeded to his legislative responsibilities so that he may worthily follow his honored predecessor.

Lead us all by Thy hand until we reach the end of our earthly pilgrimage. Then guide us through the Valley of the Shadow and over the turbulent River of Death to the peaceful shore on the other side, where we hope to meet our brother and to look upon Thy face, O God. May this hope become so strong an assurance to each of us that we may be comforted in this hour of sad remembrance and be able to say:

"There is no death,
What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but the suburb of the life Elysian
Whose portal we call death."

We make this petition in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord, who sent the Comforter to abide in our midst to sustain us in such an hour as this. Amen.

Whereas, the Honorable James Edward Norton, member of the Senate of Pennsylvania from the Eleventh District, in the full strength of his manhood, and at the zenith of his career as a public official and fraternal leader, was suddenly called to his eternal reward on December 9, 1935, thereby completing a career which in all likelihood would have risen to still greater heights.

Whereas, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and this Senate has lost, through his death, the services of a conscientious public servant, an advisor who had the best interests of the citizenry at heart, a man who was loved and trusted by his fellow Senators, as well as his constituents in the Eleventh District, because of his clean and Christian manhood,

Therefore, be it Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania give formal expression of the deep loss it has sustained, through his death, and, be it further

Resolved, that the sincere sympathy of the members of this Senate be extended to the bereaved members of his family, and be it

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Senate, and a copy thereof, properly engrossed and attested, be forwarded to the family.

FRANK W. RUTH, Chairman
CHARLES H. EALY
CHARLES W. STAUDENMEIER
FRANK J. HARRIS
WARREN R. ROBERTS

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, Gentlemen of the Senate and Friends:

Senator James E. Norton was a native son of Berks County, the District which he represented in this Honorable Body for almost sixteen years. He was of sturdy pioneer stock, born in Reading, Pa. on February 23, 1872, a son of James H. Norton and wife Adelaide nee Albright. His father was a pioneer in railroad circles, and an early executive for the Philadelphia and Reading R. R. Company, he established the express office system for this carrier.

On his parental side, he is a descendant of representaives who played an important part in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. His grandfather, James Norton, was a veteran of the latter struggle and took an active and keen interest in the affairs of his surroundings. Through his mother he was a descendant of Aaron Albright, who during the middle portion of the 19th Century was surveyor of Berks County.

His chief virtue was in his moral influence and Christian manhood. Senator Norton took an active interest in Church work and taught a large class of men in the Olivet Presbyterian Sunday School. Perhaps the Olivet Boys Club was his greatest delight and interest. Founded by Wm. McCormick for the boys who needed recreation and help, this Club grew into one of the most helpful institutions in Reading. Senator Norton considered the members "his boys" and was always willing to help them in any way possible. He served as the Treasurer of this Club for many years until his death. He was a Charter member and Trustee of the Olivet Presbyterian Church.

While he was on a business trip to Boston, Mass., death came to him suddenly on December 9, 1935, but it did not meet him unprepared, for all his life had been a preparation, so living here as to deserve a higher and better life. Our friend has gone, and his untimely taking reminds me of these words:

Death takes us unawares
And stays our hurrying feet,
The great design unfinished lies
Our lives are incomplete.

Mr. President, I look upon that man who thus passed beyond the veil as a fortunate individual. I see nothing to desire in length of years—in the years that come when the strength fails, when the vigor departs, when a man becomes more or less of an onlooker by the roadside, past whom the great active procession runs and leaps.

For myself, I would prefer to die as he died, before the first touch of age, before the first disappointment that must come when one realizes the failure of power—to go out at the summit and amid the successes of victorious life, to die in the harness, when all men looking on, regret the loss.

He has gone beyond, we of the Christian faith believe, to a future of added usefulness, where the power and strength he has laid down here will be taken on again under better conditions, to be used in greater fields of usefulness than is possible in this temporary existence of ours.

After all, to die a Christian's death should be the great purpose of every man. Honors and riches and all else desired by mortal man shall perish away with generations and be forgotten amid the centuries, but the soul that has put its trust in the Conqueror of death, the Redeemer of the world, shall live forever. Whenever human intellect has existed there has been an earnest desire, a silent prayer, for immortality—for an eternity of existence.

We peer into the impenetrable shadow, but we do not see; we listen in the infinite silence and there is no sound; but the cable of human hope stretches from shore to shore. Over it we whisper our messages of love to those who have gone before, and with the ear of faith wait the answer to our prayers.

The kindness and mercy of an all-wise Creator has answered that universal prayer, and so, in accordance with the blessed doctrines of the New Testament and his faith in them, we believe that the spirit of our friend is destined to eternal happiness. As we have by his death been reminded that Father Time is ever ready with his scythe to strike us down, let us take the solemn lesson ever impressed upon us and renew our devotion to the best principals of every great and worthy existence, right and justice to all and by all, strict performance of duty amid all temptations, and never-failing kindness and charity to all of God's creatures. Then may we, Mr. President, when the dread summons calls us from loved ones into unknown darkness, go not alone—terrible thought, alone —but be, as we believe our friend was, accompanied by the Prince of Peace, whose mercy, love and sacrifice are sufficient for us and shall ever bless us.

Senator Norton was born in Reading, Feb. 23, 1872, son of James H. and Adelaide (Albright) Norton. On his paternal side he is a descendent of representatives who played an important part in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. His grandfather, James Norton was a veteran of the latter struggle and took keen and active interest in the affairs of his surroundings. James H. Norton his father, was a pioneer in railroad circles and as an early executive for the Philadelphia & Reading R R. established the express office system for this carrier. Through his mother he was a descendant of Aaron Albright, who during the middle portion of the 19th century, was surveyor for Berks Co.

Senator Norton received a general education in the Public Schools of Reading, graduating from the Boys High School June 28, 1887, in the role of class orator.

For some years he was manager of the Coleman Printing House which later was known as the Norton Printing House. He entered the insurance field in 1913 and maintained a General Insurance Business until the time of his death. He was widely known in Insurance circles and was Chairman of the Senate Insurance Committee.

In 1916 Senator Norton was appointed Coroner of Berks County by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh. He served in this capacity until Jan. 1, 1918. During this period he was asked to serve as a member of the District Board for Division No. 3 of the War Dept. Eastern Judicial District of Penna. On this body which functioned during the World War he served during 1917 and 1918, until it was abolished at the conclusion of the war.

In November, 1918, he became the Republican Candidate for the House of Representatives and won by a substantial majority. In 1920 he was elected as Senator, the first Republican to serve in the Senate from Berks County. He was elected four consecutive terms and at the time of his death was finishing the 16th year as a member of that body.

Mr. Norton took an active interest in church work and taught a large class of men in the Olivet Presbyterian Sunday School. Perhaps the Olivet Boys Club was his greatest delight and interest. Founded by Wm. McCormick for the boys who needed recreation and help, this Club grew into one of the most helpful institutions in Reading. Mr. Norton considered the members "his boys" and was always willing to help them in any way possible. He served as the treasurer of this club for many years and was holding that office at the time of his death. He was a Charter member of the Olivet Presbyterian Church and a trustee.

Senator Norton was widely known in Fraternal circles. He was a member of Lodge 62 Free and Accepted Masons, Excelsior Chapter 237 Royal Arch Masons; Reading Sovereign Consistory, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite in which he held the 32nd degree.

He was a member of Friendship Commandery No. 247 Knights of Malta, a trustee of Wyomissing Council 1584 Royal Arcanum, was past Grand Regent for the State of Penna. and from 1933 to 1935, was Supreme Regent of the Royal Arcanum for the United States and Canada. In 1935 when his term expired as Supreme Regent, he was elected Supreme Treasurer of the Royal Arcanum with offices in Boston.

Senator Norton was married twice. His first wife was Fannie M. Coleman daughter of William N. Coleman a well known business man of Reading Pa. To this union was born three children: James C. Norton who served in the U. S. Marine Corp. as 1st Lieut. in China during the World War, now a business man of Erie, Pa.

Paul R. Norton, graduate of Princeton and Oxford Universities now a member of the Faculty of Princeton.

Ruth Virginia, graduate of Wellesley College, a teacher in the Junior High Schools of Reading.

In 1933, Senator Norton was married to Mrs. Mattie T. Raudenbush, daughter of Isaac F. Thompson, of Coatesville, and widow of Dr. Charles H. Raudenbush, who survives him.

Senator Norton died very suddenly in Boston on December 9, 1935.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, when last the Senate met in a similar session a little over a year ago, one of those who spoke in memory of our deceased associate was Senator Norton. How little did any of us know or suspect that he would be the next one called from service in this body.

Only a few days before he died, I had the privilege of sitting with him here at Harrisburg in a meeting of a special committee of this Legislature. To me he seemed to be in his usual health and bodily vigor. I had no foreboding of what was so soon to happen and I was most deeply shocked and grieved when the news came of his sudden and untimely death.

When I first came to the Senate, ten years ago, Senator Norton was here—an important member. His voice was seldom heard in debate on the floor but he had a full grasp of the many perplexing questions presented to us and his views on controversial subjects were definite and positive. These he would never compromise for political expediency. He believed that he owed it to those who had elected him and to the State to exercise his best judgment and not to be swayed by passing fancies or ideas that seemed to have temporary popular support. He was intellectually honest and his constituency must have recognized his ability and integrity in returning him repeatedly to this body.

Here in the Senate he was known as a solid and substantial member who could be depended upon to do the right thing according to the best of his knowledge and judgment. He was not shallow as a dashing brook but rather deep and broad as a quietly flowing river.

Conscientious public service seldom receives its full reward except in the knowledge and satisfaction one has of a duty faithfully performed. Senator Norton might well have rejoiced in that respect. But I feel that perhaps we have been somewhat remiss in that we did not during his stay among us more frequently and strongly express to him the deep appreciation which we all felt for his sterling worth and character.

The biography of Senator Norton which now comes to us shows that he took a leading part for many years in all kinds of civic, fraternal and religious activities in his home community and elsewhere. This is in keeping with the man as we knew him.

With our finite minds and limited knowledge we can not pierce the future. Many believe that over yonder there will be work to perform. Tasks will be allotted to all in accordance with their several abilities. If that be true Senator Norton will be charged with important duties for which he will be most splendidly equipped.

To us who remain, he, although dead "yet speaketh." His life and work here will be to us an example and inspiration to carry on the work with the loftiest motives and purposes and for the best interests of all the people of the Commonwealth.

Service in the State Senate these last years has been arduous but a recompense comes to me through the association with the men who have filled these halls during this period. Though I should live many years after retirement from this Senate, I shall not forget the days spent in their company. Among them all, I shall ever remember that true citizen and statesman, Senator James E. Norton.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, we meet here today united in a common sentiment and a common sorrow. I am reminded of the words of the French essayist Montaigne, who one time stated that he sometimes liked to wrap himself up in the memory of his father. So may be said of us today that we are gathered here for the purpose of wrapping ourselves up in the memory of Senator Norton. We could very well show our honor to him by wetting his grave with our tears, but it seems to me that we could pay a greater honor by considering here, during these brief moments, some of the outstanding qualifications of the man.

Senator Ruth very aptly said that Senator Norton had a high sense of justice. It seems to me that no finer thing could be said of anybody than that he had a high sense of justice; and in Senator Norton that sense of Justice was developed to the nth degree. Addison, in one of his essays, says, "Justice is the greatest and most God-like of all virtues." And Edmund Burke, in his speech on American Conciliation, said, "Justice is the greatest friend of mankind."

Senator Norton's example, his inspiration, his statesmanship, his very method of conducting himself, all those did not go to the grave; they are beyond the reach of rust and decay, but they are a part of Senator Norton. And I could not help thinking of the words of our Chaplain here, who said Senator Norton would be a light to us in the other world; and it just reminds me of a little poem which I think is apropos here today:

An old man going a lone highway,
Came at the evening cold and gray,
To a chasm vast and deep and wide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim,
The sullen streams had no fear for him;
But he turned when safe on the other side,
And built a bridge to span the tide.

"Old man," said a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your time with building here,
You never again will pass this way,
Your journey will end with the closing day;
You have crossed the chasm deep and wide,
Why build you this bridge at eventide?"
The builder lifted his old gray head,
"Good friend, in the way that I've come," he said,
"There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way;
This stream that has been as naught to me,
To the fair-haired youth might a pitfall be.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim.
Good friend, I am building the bridge for him."

I think that Senator Norton, during the many years he spent in this Senate, built a bridge for the Senators who are here today, and for the Senators that are to come.

In conclusion, the only thing I can think to say—and I believe it is true—is that the very winds that are blowing over his grave are blowing, and will continue to blow, the requiem Requiscat en Pace,—May He Rest in Peace.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President,

A flash of the lightning, a break of the wave,
Man passeth from life to his rest in the grave.

With like suddeness the many friends of the late Senator James E. Norton were saddened at his untimely passing. We knew Senator Norton as an honest Christian Citizen.

He moved in the even tenor of his way with a kindly word for all with whom he came in contact. My first meeting with the Senator was many years ago when he addressed a men's meeting at the Presbyterian Church in Bethlehem. At that time I was impressed with his keen interest in the brotherhood of man and the development of Christian citizenship.

In this noble effort he never faltered. And at this time when we meet to honor his memory is it not a fitting tribute to his own devotion that we urge a more general activity in religious, civic and social life. The glory of our past and the hope of our future centers entirely on the individual efforts of the individual citizen. Let us be inspired to take time out of our busy lives to unselfishly support all that seeks to move effectively "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

In no better way can we honor the memory of our departed friend. That Senator Norton had the confidence of the people of his district is best demonstrated by his continuous public service in a county of opposite political faith to his own. To be loved and respected by those who know us best is a far greater honor than the possession of accumulated wealth. James E. Norton will ever be remembered for his humble kindly spirit as demonstrated in his Christian, family, social and civic life.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, members of the family, and friends of the late Senator Norton: The last time we saw Senator Norton, the most of us, at least, was in this very Chamber, when we all wanted to bid him bon voyage on the trip he was making. He was smiling and happy, and I believe that every member in this body bid him good-bye and wished him a safe journey. He was a popular man, and as was said here today, his popularity was shown by the fact that he was repeatedly elected to this body in a district which at times the opposition party controlled. He was a man of fine courage not a courage that was demonstrated by flamboyant actions or words, but a quiet courage, a courage of his convictions, that when he knew he was right he had the courage to stand by a principle. He had ability, a splendid ability, as had been demonstrated during his life and during his many terms in this body. He made a success in business. He was a fine legislator. He handled the committee of which he was Chairman with great ability. He was a man whom we might say was a steady man, a man whose feet were on the ground at all times. He knew exactly what to do at the right time.

And then he had a fine human side, a fine understanding of the problems of those who were less fortunate than he, and he gained this human side not only because he had it naturally, but because of his contact with men. He was a fraternal man, a man who liked to meet people, and knew that this was an education in itself; and he made friends wherever he went.

Now, in these days of economic depression, many of us when we make an inventory of our assets try to decide how much we have in material wealth, and I wonder if we do not stress that side of life too strongly. If we should not add to our assets the friendships we have made, the contacts we have made that were pleasing and wholesome, and they to my mind are more valuable than any material wealth we may gain—and if we measure Senator Norton's wealth by his friends, we can certainly call him a millionaire. He had a host of friends and he made them because of his splendid character and his courteous manners and when he left here he left with a smile, and then we were all shocked to hear of his sudden death—he passed away in almost a second.

To the family of the deceased, of course, it is a great shock. Some of the older members here can recall and would know that I can realize more than most people what a shock that would be, because it was in this building that my late brother passed away. But I wonder sometime if grief is not selfish. We grieve for ourselves, we grieve because we have lost something that is fine, a friend or a relative, but when death comes so suddenly as it did to Senator Norton, it does this for the departed: He doesn't have to go through many weeks and months of pain and illness; he is taken away in the prime of life, right in the happiness of life, with none of the long lingering illness that comes to some of us, and after all, when one is prepared, if we are ready to go, if we are ready to face our Maker, it is not a finer way to go, not from those left after, but for the departed? And his was a peaceful death, so that while the family may feel the shock, we should bear in mind that the one who has passed away was saved much suffering. And Jimmie Norton was such a cheerful man; wherever he went there was a smile and a happy handclasp, and you know that I think the best proof of his popularity was the way we all saluted him. I never heard anyone call him Senator Norton, or James Norton; we all addressed him as Jimmie Norton, and I think that is evidence of his popularity. You know we sometimes wonder why men in the prime of life, with everything to live for, are taken away, but it is not for us to question. It is the work of God. We simply have to bow our heads in submission and say "Thy will be done."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yea and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this morning I moved to recommit Senate Bill 50, the bill of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, and I want to offer an apology to Senator Thompson for so doing, and since he is not here, I hope that some friend will tell him that. I was in error, I got the bills mixed. I had not read either of them, to tell the truth, and I thought that Senate Bill No. 50 was appropriating $60,000,000 for relief. I now find that it does not do that, and therefore, I will use my best efforts with the Chairman of the Committee to re-report the bill, and apologize to the Senator from Centre.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 74, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1, page 2, line 10, by striking out the word "electors" and insert in lieu thereof "elector"; also page 2, line 11, by inserting after the word "thereto" the following: "the elector and his or her spouse"; also page 2, line 12, by striking out the word "owners" and insert in lieu thereof "owner"; also page 2, line 13, by striking out the word "subdivisions" and insert in lieu thereof "subdivision."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to the question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, it is with extreme regret that I learned that the conferees appointed to adjust the differences on the Mothers' Assistance bill between the House and the Senate has failed to agree. Last week, when a motion was made to recede from amendments, I voted to recede, and what I say now will be, in part, a repetition of what I said last week. I was prompted to vote for the amendment to provide a change in the way of appointing the Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, because I was deeply interested in this legislation, and I said with pride that in 1911 I had a part in the passage of this bill, and as Treasurer of Allegheny County, I signed the first check that went to widowed mothers under this Act. I have continued my interest in this legislation during all these years, and, as the older members know, I handled the appropriation bills for mothers assistance. It is natural then that I would be concerned about the proper administration of this law, and when I heard current rumors that there were wholesale dismissals being made of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, I predicated my vote upon this information, that there should be a change, and so voted, but I voted to recede because I felt that by not receding, it might create a condition where the State would not be able to take advantage of the Act of Congress, and receive enough money to clear up the waiting list. Now, upon further investigation, and upon very reliable authority. I have been furnished with facts and figures that are amazing. It might be well to explain this Act, particularly the provisions relating to the appointing of the Trustees. The original Act provided that these Trustees would be appointed by the Governor, and that they would continue in office, and would be a self-perpetuating body, that upon a vacancy in the Board, that the Board would fill that vacancy, if it was necessary to make any dismissal for failure to perform their duty, the Board would so do. From 1911 to 1923 there was no change in the Act, and during those years there was very little change in the personnel of the Trustees, but in 1923 there was an amendment, and that amendment provided that the Governor would make the appointments, and also that the appointments would be for two, four and six years, so that they would overlap, and the members would not all be new. I call your attention to the remarkable thing that in spite of the fact that some remark was made that previous Governors made wholesale dismissals, according to the figures I have, during all those years there were only two removed, from 1923 to 1935, only two dismissals from those Boards. There were a number of changes because of the expirations of terms, but not many.

Now then, we come to 1935, the beginning of this Administration, and my figures show that 153 changes were made because of expirations of terms—one hundred and fifty-three. But the serious part is this: that 125 changes were made where the terms did not expire, 125 dismissals where the terms had not expired, and in some cases resignations were requested, and in many cases these women did not respond to the request of the Governor to resign, and they were dismissed, thrown off the Boards. Now, gentlemen, those of us who have had something to do with the administration of this law, know that there were many women who had given years of their best service to this work, that were intensely interested in it, they had a deep and earnest interest in the proper administration of this work, and many of those people were removed after they had given service without a single penny of compensation, many I know personally, and one in particular in my own county was removed before the expiration of her term.

If these figures and facts are correct, then I submit to you that there is necessity for some change in the matter of appointments, but I desire to be perfectly fair, I desire to have these figures checked, and, as I say again, these were given to me by the best information obtainable, but I understand there are different figures.

Mr. President, I think the Senate should have the facts. If these wholesale dismissals are taking place, that women who have given years of their lives to this work are being removed for political reasons, we ought to know it. Now then, the argument might be used that this is a new Administration and changes should be made, and that the Democrats are now in control and they should have the appointments.

If that argument is used, then I submit to you that is a political argument. Before the Democratic Party came into power we had factional troubles in the Republican Party, and bitter factional differences, but in spite of these differences three successive governors—three governors—thought so much of this Act—they regarded it as sacred—that they did not make wholesale removals.

Now, Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, and in order to find out the facts with regard to removals, I submit the following resolution, and ask its immediate consideration.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE TO FURNISH INFORMATION RELATIVE TO REMOVALS OF TRUSTEES OF MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE BOARDS

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, changes having been made and current rumor exists, that trustees of Mothers Assistance Boards have been removed in great numbers, that resignations have been asked and were refused, these members were summarily dismissed, and

Whereas, it is the desire of the Senate to ascertain the accuracy of these reports,

Therefore, be it Resolved, That the Department of Welfare be requested to immediately furnish the Senate with the following information:

(a) The number of dismissals of trustees whose terms had not expired from 1923 to this date

(b) The number of changes of trustees whose terms had not expired during the present Administration

(c) The number of resignations asked during this period

(d) The number of trustees who refused to resign

(e) The number who were removed after their failure to comply with the request to resign

(f) The names of the trustees affected in all these cases

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolution to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, for information I wish to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I shall be very pleased to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does not the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, feel that the question of whether or not an appointee to any of these Boards of Trustees is a proper matter for investigation and consideration by the Committee on Executive Nominations of this Senate, before reporting any appointments of that character to this Senate for its advice and consent?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am glad the man from Fayette asked that question, because there was no charge made by any member of this body against any appointees of the governor. Personally, I think most of them are very high class women, and have the interest of administering this law at heart; and I also say that the women who were deposed were fine, splendid women; but that has nothing to do with it at all. The question as to the character of these women is not involved; I have nothing against any of them that were appointed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does not the Senator from Allegheny feel that on appointments to any of these Boards, so made by the Governor and sent to this Senate, it is the duty of the Committee on Executive Nominations to inquire and consider whether political considerations have entered into the making of the appointments?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I think that every appointment that the Governor has sent here, of trustees to Mothers' Assistance Boards, have been reported out of committee to the floor of this Senate.

And the question recurring,

Is there objection to the suspending of Rule 39, in order that the Senate may now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. RANKIN,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. RANKIN,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, so that there may be no question hereafter as to the executive nominations reported out and now before us for advice and consent. I wish to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee that reported the nominations out.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, did the Committee on Executive Nominations consider whether or not any political influence or consideration was involved in the making of these appointments by the Governor.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, yes, that question came up and we considered it; but felt that the man who did the appointing did not know anything about politics, and, naturally, would not appoint anybody by reason of the activity of a politician.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I understand, then, that the Committee reported them out because there was no objection, and there isn't any objection, that these appointments were made through any political consideration.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, no, we generally, as I told the Senator from Fayette last week, consult the Senator from whose district the appointments are made, and if he has no objection we report them out and have them confirmed. We generally submit them first to the Senator from the district,—the same as we did last week.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, then I take it there are no objections of that character against these nominees?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, no there are not.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Allegheny.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette is welcome; it is a pleasure at any time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Aron,	Harvey,	Pierson,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Homsher,	Prince,	Scott,
Baumer,	Howell,	Pytko,	Shapiro,

Graff,	Miller,	Rupp,	Woodward,
Harris,	Owlett,	Ruth,	Ziesenheim,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MALLERY, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 103, entitled:

An act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Act No. 3), entitled "An act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county, city (except city of the first class), borough, town, township, school district (except school district of the first class), and poor district taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period; and preserving certain tax liens, and providing for the extension thereof," extending the provisions of the act so as to abate penalties and interest also on taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that all bills reported from committees at today's session be read the first time.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

RESOLUTION NO. 29

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 29, Printer's No. 162.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 15, 1936.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has for many years appropriated substantial sums of money for the operation and maintenance of the Pennsylvania Working Home for the Blind, located at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The said Pennsylvania Working Home for the Blind also receives substantial sums from the city of Philadelphia and from the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, The said institution has sixty inmates who reside there permanently and who are the recipients of State blind pensions; and

Whereas, The said institution coincidentally with the beginning of the blind pension payments, substantially increased the rates charged for boarding these inmates so that these inmates are obliged to pay over to this institution a large part of their pensions; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be named by the Speaker of the House of Representatives to investigate the use of those funds as appropriated by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to determine whether or not those funds are properly used and to ascertain whether or not the present increase of the boarding charges are warranted, taking into consideration the additional funds received by said institution from the city of Philadelphia, the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia and from private endowments, and it is further

Resolved, That the committee shall make a report to this extraordinary session of the House of Representatives and it is further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman in a position to advise the House as to the appropriation that was made to this Home by the state of Pennsylvania?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, yes, the Legislature last year appropriated $45,000 for the biennium.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what is the amount of the appropriation from the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, the United Campaign of 1935 allowed $11,700 for the Home.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is that for one year or two years?

Mr. OMINSKY. One year, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask regarding the people at the Home, do they go there voluntarily or are they committed to the institution?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, they come there voluntarily.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, then they can come and go as they please?

Mr. OMINSKY. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am opposed to this resolution merely because I do not think it is within our province to endeavor to annoy and harass the blind people who live in this institution. We have no right to say to these people where they shall live, and if they do not want to live at an institution they can leave.

I am in sympathy with the purpose of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, that we ought to safeguard the interests of the blind people, but this resolution is an endeavor by an investigating committee to interfere and harass this Home. If this Legislature does not want to appropriate any money to this Blind Home at the next session, the Appropriations Committee will have ample power to study the situation, and if anything is being done in the Home that would deprive it properly of an additional appropriation for the next biennium, we are in a perfectly proper position so to do, but to go down there now within the next two weeks or four weeks and endeavor to conduct an investigation seems to me to be far out of place.

I am sorry that I was unable to discuss the matter with the gentleman from Philadelphia, because perhaps there is something in his mind that may make this a good resolution, but on the face of it I can not see it. It seems to me to come with rather improper grace to endeavor to investigate a Blind Home where we appropriated $45,000 for the biennium and leave a good many other things that we want to investigate, dealing with millions and billions of dollars uninvestigated. If this Legislature stands for the proposition of making an investigation where there is a small sum of money appropriated to a State Institution, then you may be right, but in the same breath you ought not to refuse an investigation where millions and billions of our tax-payers' money is being expended.

However, that is not the reason that I oppose the legislation. Just because you refuse to investigate things that ought to be investigated is no reason why we should refuse to investigate that which should be investigated, but unless the gentleman from Philadelphia can state more specifically why this Home in Philadelphia should be investigated other than the whereas clause, that they have raised the rates, would indicate, it would seem to me to indicate that this resolution ought to be defeated. We ought to know how much the rates have been raised; we ought to know whether people are being taken advantage of. This resolution to investigate the Home of the Blind seems to me to be in ill grace, and I suggest to the members of the House to let the blind alone up in that particular shelter. There is only six months time to go and then you can appropriate or not as you see fit.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not thought that anyone would oppose a resolution of this kind, since it aims to aid a Home for the Blind in Philadelphia, especially in my district. This investigation was requested by a committee of the inmates of that Home, in the form of a resolution sent to me. All of the inmates were in favor of this investigation. The Pennsylvania Federation for the Blind have endorsed this investigation, and in addition to that I have a resolution from the Board of Managers of the Blind Home which is to be investigated, welcoming it. I wish to read the resolution passed by the Board of Managers of the Blind Home, welcoming this investigation. Following is the resolution:

Whereas, the Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men especially for the past two years has been in great need of additional income to meet current expenses, and

Whereas, under existing conditions it has been impossible to obtain larger appropriations from the State, the City or the United Campaign, and

Whereas, for 62 years the beneficiaries of the Home have been given employment for which they have received wages, and those desiring to live there have been provided a home for which they have paid board, and

Whereas, the board paid by the beneficiaries residing at the Home has been only $4.00 per week, although the cost has been more than $8.00 per week, and

Whereas, a State Pension system has been inaugurated under which our beneficiaries are receiving now, or will shortly receive the $30 per month pension paid to the blind, in addition to the care of their wants by the Home, as heretofore, and

Whereas, under these circumstances it has seemed to the Managers fair and just to ask the recipients of such pensions to pay $2.00 per week more board, same to begin with the pay roll on June 25, 1936, and

Whereas, upon complaint being made by the Pennsylvania Federation of the Blind to Honorable Joseph Ominsky, the Representative for this district in the State Legislature, he has moved that a Committee of the State Legislature be appointed to investigate the Home, and

Whereas, Mr. Ominsky has asked that the Managers defer the inauguration of this added charge of $2.00 per week until the needs of the situation can be surveyed by his Committee, and

Whereas, the Managers welcome such an investigation and desire its speedy accomplishment, and will gladly cooperate therein, and

Whereas, the Managers hope that such investigation will be properly made, and believe that it will reveal to all concerned, including our own beneficiaries, the needs of the Home and the justness of the additional charge of

$2.00 to be paid for board, from those who are receiving pensions,

Now Therefore it is Resolved, that the Managers under these circumstances are willing to comply for a reasonable time with Mr. Ominsky's request that the date of the inauguration of the added $2.00 charge be deferred from June 25th, and Further it is Resolved that every effort be made to welcome the Legislative Committee and to facilitate and hasten its investigation of the Home.

Under the circumstances Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe there should be no opposition to this resolution because everybody concerned is welcoming it.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, what I said before the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky spoke turns out to be true. Had I known the facts as just stated by the gentleman from Philadelphia I would not oppose this resolution. I think the explanation made by the gentleman from Philadelphia justifies his position, except that even though I withdraw my opposition to the resolution, nevertheless I want to make two observations.

The first one is that this resolution should not have become necessary because the Pennsylvania Working Home for the Blind is under the Department of Welfare. The Department of Welfare is the administration body for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with reference to the proper maintenance and operation of the home, through the appropriations given by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and should have ample jurisdiction to correct any improper conditions that may exist. However, this investigation is wanted despite the Department of Welfare or it is because the Department of Welfare is or is not performing its duty properly, then I have no objection to the resolution.

Second, I want to observe to the gentleman from Philadelphia that we on this side of the House, when we feel that an investigation ought to be made will vote for the investigation. We believe that where the taxpayers pay money they have a right to bring every thing to light. and we only hope and trust that when any other resolutions come before this House the gentleman from Philadelphia will do in the future, not as he has done in the past, and that is not to assist the Democratic party of the State of Pennsylvania in stifling investigations where millions and billions of dollars are being squandered, where they refuse to investigtae. We are willing to investigate the Pennsylvania Working Home for the Blind, to whom the sum of $45,000 of the State Department's money is appropriated, and I will ask the members of the House to vote aye on this resolution.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to add one thing. I wish to state that any time the Republican side of the House will present a proper and meritorious resolution for an investigation I will be only too glad to vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was informed by a colleague of mine from Allegheny County that I was not recorded as voting on House Bill No. 105 on the calendar last night. On the contrary, as some of my colleagues can attest, I voted "no" on recommitting the bill back to the Committee of Judiciary General. This does not mean that I am for or against this bill, but I want to be consistent in that I am opposed to sending any bills back to committee, and I did vote "no" on the recommittal of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny on his question of special privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, it is estimated that th gross receipts will approximate $300,000, which woul net $4,000,000 to the disabled veterans in whose favo the bill is drawn.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House I am askin you to support this bill, in fact I hope it goes over wit a bang, as a tribute to the disabled veterans and the dependents, the boys who have given their health fo the defense of their flag. The bonus, after all, has no meant much to many of the veterans. Many of the have paid their bills and have had their credit establishe and it had amounted to much less with the disabled ve erans, with men whose earning capacity has gone, whos health has been taken away from them. A lot of thes men are in the middle age in life and the future doesn look any too bright to them, and we have a right to re spect and provide for them. I doubt if we can find an other source of revenue for bringing in this vast amoun of money without taxation, as this is. This money wi come in voluntarily. It comes from those who are abl and willing to pay, and will save adding additional taxe on to the already overburdened taxpayers. Anothe thing, it takes the automobile license tags out of politic In years past we have seen the operation of political pu in an effort to obtain special kinds of automobile licens tags. It will relieve a lot of you legislators of worr in taking care of such cases, and it also should be a hel in solving your financial problems. I hope to get you support.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING HON. JOSEPH D. BURKE

Mr. WEISS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 30, 1936.

Whereas, The press has announced that our colleague, the Honorable Joseph David Burke is about to take unto himself a wife; and

Whereas, The Special Session has unduly delayed this happy event, but further delay will not be tolerated for any reason; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives hereby extend to Honorable Joseph David Burke and to the bride, Miss Roseanna A. O'Hara, their felicitations and best wishes on the approaching marriage on Thursday, July 2nd, and express the fervent hope that many years of happiness may bless the event;

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the bride and bridegroom by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,
Will the House adopt the resolution?
It was unanimously adopted.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BARBER asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I might preface this interrogation by saying that I did not know how long this session would last, but I do have a few questions which I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, and with your permission I will proceed.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether I am correct in assuming that he is one of the conferees on the part of the House in the matter of the Brancato Mothers' Assistance Bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that assumption is quite correct.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether I am correct in my understanding that unless this committee is able to agree today with the members of the Senate committee, we will lose the advantage of the Federal law—the Federal Social Security Act.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if a bill is not passed by the Assembly, which would meet the requirements of the Federal Social Security Act, the appropriation for the quarter beginning July 1st—or rather the contribution for the quarter beginning July 1, 1936, to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the Federal Social Security Board will be lost.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether or not the committee on the part of the House has or has not been able to agree with the committee on the part of the Senate in the details of this bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the committee on the part of the House has agreed in part possibly with all of the amendments that have been inserted by the Senate, with the exception of the amendments which would change the methods of appointment that have been in existence for the past twenty years in this Commonwealth.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, if since the committee which has been appointed has not been able to agree with the committee on the part of the Senate that they should not today tell this House that they are unable to agree and ask for the discharge so that another committee may be appointed?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Erie is questioning me relative to the procedure as to the discharge of a committee of conferees, I know of no such procedure under our parliamentary rules. As I understand, the parliamentary procedure in the committee on conference, the conferees will confer until such time as they can report back to the House, either a conference committee report, or report that they have been unable to agree on the nature of the bill to be submitted.

Only last night I was over in the Senate in an attempt to effectuate a further conference with the Senate. The Senate was busily engaged in their apparent duties of the session. This morning I was again over to the Senate, in an effort to ascertain the proper time at which the House conferees and the Senate conferees could meet in consideration of this bill, and they were still engaged in their deliberations, and now we are engaged. It is my contemplation, if we recess, to again renew my efforts for the meeting of minds between the Senate conferees and the House conferees.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether in the event that we recess today without the committee on the part of the House agreeing with the committee on the part of the Senate on this bill, we will lose the Federal contributions for the first quarter?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I believe that these contributions are already lost. I cannot see how we could consistently agree to a bill today, have the bill transmitted, after signature by the Governor, to Washington, have the bill studied by the Federal Social Security Board, have them ascertain whether or not it complies with all the requirements of the Federal Social Security Board, and have that done before July 1, 1936, which is tomorrow.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether or not that is the only impediment in the way of our participating in the contribution of the Federal Social Security Act.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the bill legislation has been enacted. The only obstacle to the participation on the part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the benefits of the Federal Social Security Act is the inability of the conferees to agree as to the change of the method, which has been in existence in this Commonwealth for twenty years. I might point out to the gentleman from Erie that the method of appointing the members of the Mothers' Assistance Boards have been established by the Republican Party when they were in control of both legislative branches of the House and the Senate and the executive branch. That the high water mark of administration and social security enactment is reflected in the administration of the Mothers' Assistance Fund; up to the present time there his been no greater

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The Speaker. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, the responses of the gentleman from York are far afield from the questions and he is indulging in a debate on the propriety of the various methods of appointment. The gentleman should confine himself purely to answering the questions propounded and nothing more. We are not debating the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the merits of the bill cannot be discussed until the bill is properly before the House, and the bill cannot be properly before the House until the Conference Committee reports. Therefore, the point of order is well taken. The gentleman shall confine his remarks to the questions of the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Barber, and not discuss the merits of the bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Erie, I might state that all disputatious matters in the bill have been agreed upon by the conferees with the exception of that part of the bill which seeks to change the trend of the Commonwealth, nich seeks to change the activities of the Commonwealth, at have been indulged in for twenty years.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of der.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of der.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman appar-tly has not listened to the ruling of the Chair, and is ain indulging in his personal opinions upon the method appointment, upon disputed matters of conference be-een the House and the Senate. I think it is irregular en to question a member on the floor of this House to matters that right now belong only to the com-ttee and not the House, and I ask the Chair again to le on my original point of order so that the gentleman m York may understand it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already ruled upon the int of order. The Chair feels that the gentleman from ie is out of order in his interrogation. The merits of is bill should not be discussed, interrogation relating the merits of this bill should not be carried on until e conferees have reported to the House.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state that I do t believe that I have been discussing the merits of the ll or asking questions relative to the matter of con-rence between the committees on the part of the House d of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of rliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Erie will state s question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether not I may interrogate the gentleman from York on tters that have taken place in the conference committee.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule on the inquiry of e gentleman from Erie, Mr. Barber, and will read Rule of this House, which is as follows:

"All reports of Committees of Conference shall be pre-ted after having been signed by a majority of the com-ttee of each House, and be printed and placed upon e files of the members before the same shall be con-dered by the House."

Therefore, the gentleman is out of order in interrogat-g any member of the conference committee relative to e proceedings of the committee or the merits of the bill.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interro-gate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentle-an from York, Mr. Cohen, whether the time being immi-nt in which we must either agree or disagree or agree least if we are to get the benefits of the contributions the Federal Government, should not the committee on e part of the House report to this body that it is unable agree, so that another committee may be appointed at will attempt to agree?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that the com-ttee will not be able to agree. I do not know that the Republican Senate is going to adamantly stand by in their unconscionable requirements.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman has no right to refer to the acts by description or otherwise of the members on the committee of the Republican Senate in this conference committee.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. Unless the interrogation is confined to matters other than the procedure of the conference committee and the merits of the bill, the Chair will be compelled to rule the interrogation out of order.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, will you tell me wherein I have transgressed the rules of the House in my interrogation?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the questions have been trying to ascertain what took place within the committee meetings and for that reason has so ruled.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire further to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether or not he will report to this House today and let us know whether or not the Committee on the part of the House is able to agree with the Committee on the part of the Senate on the merits of this bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I have already informed the gentleman from Erie, that for the past few days I have been endeavoring to meet with the Republican conferees. I have already reported to the gentleman from Erie and to this House that it is my intention to immediately after this session again renew my efforts in order that the Republican conferees may sit down with the Democratic conferees. As to whether or not we will be able to agree, I still reiterate that that depends upon the action of the Senate, it still depends upon whether they are going to stand by—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise o a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has no right to make the statement as to whether they are going to stand by,—referring to the Republican conferees,—any more than he has a right to state that the Democratic conferees refuse to permit politics to get out of this bill. He must confine himself in his answers merely to matters not pertaining to the actions of the conferees of either the Democratic or the Republican side.

POINT OF ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my point of order.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as it appears that any further interrogation will undoubtedly lead to debate bordering upon the merits of the bill, I yield any further interrogation.

STATEMENT BY MR. HOOPES

Mr. HOOPES asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to apologize to the House. I find that some of the figures which I gave you last week and the week before are not correct. I was laboring under the misapprehension that the figures which had been given out for the amount necessary for relief were to cover the period beginning July 1 and ending January 31 of next year. I now find that instead of covering that seven-month period they are supposed to cover the nine-month period, beginning in May and ending on January 31, with the result that the break-down of the various figures showing the amount necessary for each item is correspondingly wrong.

I want to briefly call your attention to what the result is, using the figures as they are now corrected by the information received from the SERB just a few minutes ago.

We have heard a great deal about how little we can get along on, and the purpose of these remarks is to call the attention of the House to the standards upon which the people upon relief are being compelled to live at the present time. The figures that I am going to use are those for the month of May, which is the last complete month's figures that are available, and which are for the 65 counties outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, the reason for using those figures and not for the entire State of Pennsylvania being that they have cash relief in those two counties, and the relief is given in a lump sum, and the individual is permitted to spend it as he sees fit, but in the 65 counties outside there are definite allowances made for each case, for each item, and we are in a position to see just how much is allowed to the persons on relief to live.

The Board tells me that the average number of cases in those 65 counties for the month of May was 86,350, made up of 321,132 persons. The total allowance per case for the month of May was $27.73. If you will divide the 86,350 into the 321,132, you will obtain the average number of persons per case. I haven't had the opportunity to do it but I think if you do it you will find that it runs something like 3.6 or 3.7 persons per case, almost four persons per case,—$27.73 for a family of four persons to live for a month of 31 days. That is something to stop and think about just a little bit. That is eighty-nine and four-tenths cents per day for a family of nearly four persons for all purposes. That includes food, fuel, clothing, rent, water, light and medical care. Administration costs are not included in these totals. That was an additional item, but so long as a person on relief does not receive that amount I am not considering it in this discussion. Eighty-nine and four-tenths cents per day for a family on relief for all purposes or an average of twenty-four cents per person per day. Just stop and think for a minute what that means. What will twenty-four cents buy? How many of you folks would like to see your families compelled to exist on a living standard of twenty-four cents per head, particularly if you happened to have three or four children. That includes milk and everything else, or rather it is supposed to.

Let us break it down a little further. The allowance for food per case per month was $20.45 including milk. That is $5.50 per person for thirty-one days, including milk. If you divide that to find out how much per meal, you will find it runs something like six cents per meal per person, including milk. The figures that I gave you the last time had a special allowance for milk. When we add that allowance to the figure, it makes the allowance for food substantially more than the figure that I have obtained by taking the total which I thought was different from what it was, and deducting the other item. But the figures which I am giving you this afternoon are received directly from Mr. Welsh, who is the director of Research and Statistics of the State Emergency Relief Board.

For fuel during the month of May these families were allowed seventy-six cents per case, or twenty cents per person per month. How many of you can cook for a family of four for seventy-six cents per month, using any kind of fuel? You cannot buy kerosene to cook for a family of four at that rate, let alone gas or electricity, at the rate that the utilities charge for it.

Clothing, we have $3.76 per family per month, or $1.01 per person for thirty-one days. I don't know what kind of clothing you could provide a family with on that allowance, but I doubt if there are very many of you who would like to set out to do it.

Then we come to rent. Gee, they were generous when they go to that item. The landlords certainly must have not gotten wealthy off it. They allowed the amount of $1.77 per month per family. Now, do any of you wonder that the landlords are evicting the unemployed? They certainly cannot pay taxes or anything else on an allowance of $1.77 per family. I don't know of any landlord that wants to rent a house or an apartment at that munificent sum. I know mighty well it wouldn't pay the taxes. Yet, that is the amount that the Relief Board averaged per case in the sixty-five counties outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny for the month of May.

The next to the last item is water and light. That was put down as a separate item, in some cases it was included with the rent, but the average was twenty cents per case for water and light for a month of thirty-one days. That certainly would not provide a munificent supply of water and light. You cannot even buy water from the municipally owned plants at rates about one-quarter of what the privately owned ones charge, at that rate.

Medical care, they allowed the munificent sum of seventy-nine cents per month. Living on those standards, and in the kind of houses that they could rent at that rate, I suspect that they have more than the average amount of sickness, and certainly I pity the doctors who have to take care of them at that rate,—seventy-nine cents per month per family. Doctors say they are against socialized services, but I cannot imagine it getting that bad. Those are the standards which the people on relief are forced to endure at the present time. That required an appropriation for relief purposes, for direct relief alone, during the month of May, according to a statement made by Doctor de Schweinitz, of $5,301,487.87. That includes also the figures for cash relief in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties. For indirect relief, which is providing for the homeless and transient shelters in cities and things of that sort, they add another $55,000. For administration $801,514.41, which brings the total for the month of May to $6,164,002.28. An amount of over six million dollars was necessary in May in order to provide the kind of standards that I have just been reciting to you. For the number of cases that were on relief during the month of May, and the statement which was produced gave the average number of 176,000. Now we were told that the number was going to be reduced steadily. As a matter of fact, it went down to a low figure of approximately 173,000 the first week in June and then went up to about 1,000 the next week and this week I believe it dropped about 200. In other words, it seems to be levelling off under present conditions and not going down very rapidly. However, we have the promise of the WPA that they are going to take over some 30,000 which will reduce the number, but even making allowance for all of that, they figure out that there is going to be an average on relief during the nine-month period of about 165,000 persons. If you are going to provide relief for those persons, even at the standards that I have just read to you, you are going to require about six million dollars per month, or, as Doctor de Schweinitz says, a total figure of about $54,294,000 to provide those standards without anything else. It does not provide for an increase to any extent for rent. There is a certain allowance for a little increase in it for some months. It does not provide for any increase in fuel. Certainly I don't believe that any member of this House would argue that a family could maintain itself on a fuel allowance of seventy-six cents a month when you have to heat the house during November, December and January, which months are included in this period for which we are asked to provide relief.

Those are the kinds of standards that we now have, those are the kinds of standards which certain people are trying to break down, are trying to lower, those are the kinds of standards that the people are talking about when they get up here and say that some people are living better than they ever did. That may possibly be true of some shiftless bums, but Members of the House so long as you have a social order which will not give work to everybody, are you going to say, "We can't get you a job and we are not going to give you relief either?"

As a Socialist I am very much in favor of the principle that he who will not work neither shall he eat. But in order to put that principle into practice you must have a social system under which you can offer everybody a job at a decent wage. If you are able to do that, and Mr. "Bum" says "I won't work," then, I am whole heartedly in favor of saying, "Neither shall you eat, you can starve for all I care." But so long as you are unable to do that, it is the bounden duty of society to provide for those for whom you have no jobs. You cannot merely turn them out on the street and say, "get along as best you can." I do not believe that the members of the House want to license begging as they have done over in New Jersey. I don't believe that you want to establish a system where you are going to fingerprint all of the unemployed before you give them relief. I do not believe that you want to inaugurate the principle of having every person before he can get relief declare himself a pauper, and then having on their relief order when it is handed out, "I have declared myself a pauper." I do not believe that you want a system that is deliberately arranged so that any self respecting person will starve rather than accept relief. But it seems to me that there are some people that want that system. In spite of the figures which have just been given by the relief board, in spite of the fact that these figures demonstrate clearly that in order to maintain the present standards of relief, it is going to require between five and six million dollars per month at least, yet, one of the leaders in the Senate this afternoon in private conversation made a statement that they were going to pass a resolution in which they would say the Senate would appropriate two million dollars a month for relief and no more, "You can take it or leave it." This statement coming from one of the responsible members of the Senate, in the face of the propaganda that has been spread up and down this State, and throughout the press, to the effect that they have go tto reduce the standards of relief, I think should give pause to every self-respecting citizen of Pennsylvania, certainly to every member of the Legislature who seriously takes the responsibility of providing for the needy at the present time. In other words they propose to provide about one-third of the amount that the figures show will be necessary, and say, "You take that or you don't take anything, you can stay here all winter." I don't believe the members of the House are in favor of that. I know you are not in favor of staying here all winter. I know very well we would all like to go home very promptly, but I believe that most of us are here to do our duty, and we are prepared to stay whatever time is necessary in order to provide the necessities of life for those unfortunates who are unable to obtain employment, due to the economic depression.

One more thing I want to say in conclusion, all of this propaganda for reduced relief costs is being made in the name of the taxpayers. What taxpayers are they talking about? I am afraid a good many of you are laboring under the delusion that they are talking about the small home owner and the little business man that is now oppressed with real estate taxes back home and needs a reduction in order to exist. If you stop to think a minute you must realize that the more you reduce the State appropriations for necessary relief costs, the more you are going to increase the relief costs of your poor board at home, and you are going to increase the burden upon the real estate taxpayer rather than decrease it. The taxpayer that we are talking about is not the small home owner, not the little business man, but he is the big fellow that would be hit by corporation taxes, by income taxes, by personal property taxes and other measures that we have proposed to shift the burden of taxation from the little fellow to the big fellow.

They have carried on this propaganda consistently until they have won over a lot of the little fellows who do not realize that they have been taken into camp, and if they succeed in putting over this program you know mighty well it is going to increase the burden of your Poor Board at home. They say, "take all of the unemployables off the relief rolls." That sounds pretty good, but how are they going to do it? They have to go to the Poor Board if they are unemployables and unable to work, the only place that they can go. Where does the Poor Board obtain the funds to keep those unemployables? By taxation, upon real estate and upon the little fellow. By shifting the burden from the SERB to the Poor Board you are not helping the little fellow back at home but you are helping the big fellow to escape the taxes that he would otherwise have to pay.

I make this statement at some length because of the continual barrage of propaganda that is being sent out all over the State to the effect that there is not needed as much as is being appropriated for relief. So long as you talk in figures of millions of dollars, whether it is thirty-five or forty-three or fifty-five or seventy-one million dollars, it does not mean very much, but when you break those figures down, when you get the allowances for each particular item from the SERB in each case per person, then you realize what it means to the people who have to live on these standards.

For that reason I hope that the members of the House will consider these figures carefully, I hope you will take the trouble to verify them, I hope that you too will go to the SERB and get the figures, I hope you will be able to find fault with them, I hope you will be able to find out whether they are correct or not. Make a study of the situation, inform yourselves, and then you will be in position to vote intelligently and to represent your constituents back home, in taking care of the problem for which this special session was called, namely relief for the unemployed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ANDREWS. What is the outside sum, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman from Berks believes should be appropriated for emergency relief at this time?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer that question by asking the gentleman what does he mean by "outside sum."

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I mean the total that the gentleman from Berks would deem sufficient appropriation until such time as the regular session might supplement the appropriation made at this time.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would say that I have introduced a bill appropriating one hundred million dollars for the period of from July until January 31st. That figure is based upon an increase in the living standards. It is also based upon what I believe to be probably an increase in the number of persons on relief. These figures which I have given you, and the suggested appropriation which has been made by Dr. de Schweinitz, are based upon the promise of the WPA to take thirty thousand persons off relief and put them on the WPA. It is also based upon the probability that the persons who have obtained casual employment in private industry within the past two months will continue to be so employed until January 1st next.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentleman from Berks to say that he has introduced a measure making an appropriation of one hundred million dollars. I would like now to ask the gentleman from Berks what tax legislation he has introduced designed to raise that one hundred million dollars.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I will say that at this particular session I have not introduced any tax bills, but I have offered an amendment to the personal property tax bill, which was later passed,—that is, the bill was passed by the House,—the House measure providing for an increase of three mills on the present rate on personal property, estimated to yield forty million dollars. I added to that an additional two mills, which on the same basis, it seems to me, should provide another twenty-five million dollars, making a total of sixty-five million dollars. I have voted for a number of the administration tax measures, which will provide most of the remainder of the one hundred million dollars, which has been suggested, and as a last resort, I am prepared to vote for a flat income tax to raise the balance.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I shall treasure the statement of the gentleman that he will vote for a flat income tax in memory very carefully, and I thank you.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentleman from Cambria to say that I desired to vote for a flat income tax. I said that I would vote for it as a last resort. I consider a flat income tax better than a sales tax, because at least it makes the fellow with the big income pay relatively more than the little fellow, whereas the burden of the sales tax rests far more heavily upon the little fellow. Of course, a flat income tax is unfair because it makes the fellow with any income at all pay a tax in many cases where he is not able to do it. It is not a desirable tax. A graduated tax would be better. I had in mind a bill which would provide an exemption for dependents and an allowance for preparing and filing a return, my idea being to put in that bill a definite constitutional clause which would say that if the Supreme Court should declare one of those things unconstitutional, the other would take effect, and if it went the whole limit and declared the other unconstitutional, then we would be up against the wall of having to take a flat income tax as a last resort, as a means of preventing the unemployed from starving.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Berks to say that he will assist in an attempt to get the income tax bill out of committee and back on the floor of this House for amendment and passage?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, when he says to get it back on the floor of the House, I suppose that he is referring to the bill that was on the floor of the House and was so amended that it would not help the unemployed at all and was then sent back to committee. I said I was in favor of such a measure being used as an unemployment relief measure, a tax raising measure, as a last resort. I am well aware of the fact that our distressed school districts are also in dire need of relief, and I even go so far as to increase the rate so as to take care of them.

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I imagine there would be no reason why the gentleman from Berks could not frame a flat income tax measure to meet the legal requirements as he might see them. I am certain that in view of his parliamentary ability and his popularity in this chamber, that if he did introduce such a measure he could probably get it out of committee, and if he will introduce such a measure I will endeavor to get it out of committee, and I assure him that in such small way as I can I will help him get it out and finance the one hundred million dollar program that he is talking about.

RESOLUTION

160TH ANNIVERSARY ADOPTION DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

Mr. FINNERTY. Mr. Speaker, I ask the unanimous consent of the House to offer a resolution, and for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the offering of a resolution at this time? Are there objections?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the resolution be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 30, 1936.

Whereas, July 4, 1936, will mark the 160th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence of the United States; and

Whereas, An examination of that great document, clearly indicated the vital necessity in 1776 of the severance of political bonds between our country and Great Britain; and

Whereas, An examination of that great document also suggests the vital necessity of the severance of the present day economic bonds placed by the privileged classes around the lives of the masses so that they can no longer enjoy the heritage which was to be theirs—of Life, of Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness; and

Whereas, The language of the Declaration of Independence on this point is as follows: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed"; and

Whereas, The framers of the Declaration of Independence anticipated what might happen to the Government which they were establishing when they made the following statement: "That whenever any form of Government becomes destructive of these ends (of Life, Liberty and the pusuit of Happiness) it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such forms, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness"; and

Whereas, The rights of the people of this country have been specifically, courageously and gloriously set forth; and

Whereas, The millions of American citizens who have lost their employment, their homes and their farms know that the Declaration of Independence was for their protection. That the Declaration of Independence speaks for them. That under it, economic opportunity and freedom must be given to them. That legislative bodies in the several states and the Congress of the United States must act for them. That there must be returned to them that which was their rich heritage; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall meet on Monday, the 6th day of July, 1936, at 10:00 o'clock in the evening, in the Hall of the House of Representatives for the purpose of rededicating itself to the spirit, intents and purposes of the Declaration of Independence of the United States of America; and be it further

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall name a committee of five to prepare a fitting program for the occasion; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the Senate shall be invited to participate in the celebration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unaimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, while I am in thorough accord with the resolve clause of the resolution, that we might by appropriate exercises celebrate the Fourth of July, yet I object very strenuously to a number of the statements made in the whereas clauses, and for that reason I object to the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, is not this resolution considered a privileged resolution, and we don't need unanimous consent for immediate consideration?

The SPEAKER. In reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, the Chair wishes to read Rule No. 84:

A resolution originating in the House (except those privileged), shall be introduced by Members filing four typewritten copies thereof with the Chief Clerk, signed and dated, to be numbered by the Chief Clerk and handed to the Speaker, who shall refer all such resolutions, including all Senate Concurrent Resolutions, (not privileged), to appropriate committees in the same manner as bills.

The following resolutions are privileged for the immediate consideration of the House:
Recalling bills from the Governor.
Returning bills to the Governor.
Recalling bills from one House to the other.
Those emanating from the Committee on Rules.
Those discharging committees.
Those placing negative bills on the calendar.
Those relating to joint sessions of the Senate and House.
Those relating to condolence or congratulations.
Those relating to adjournment or recess.

RESOLUTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. FINNERTY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to withdraw the resolution for the time being.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. We expect to take a recess for a short time, after which we hope to have an important announcement to make to this House. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess until 6:00 P. M. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 6:00 P. M.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 6:00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1936

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou God of the Universe, as a nation we are approaching the annual observance of our natal day. On this occasion give unto us thoughtful minds and grateful hearts. May this day mean to us more than feasting, merry-making and enjoyment of athletic sports. Above the noise and clamor of our usual celebration of Independence Day, quicken our ears to hear, echoing down the years, the ringing of the historic bell which swung from a tower in an historic city of our own Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, proclaiming liberty to all our land and the inhabitants thereof.

We thank Thee that the cradle of freedom lies within the confines of our great State. Make us worthy sons of our heroic sires, facing the problems of today with the same courage displayed by them one hundred and sixty years ago. The crisis of that day was indeed serious. Perhaps equally serious is the crisis of today. Oh God, give us men brave enough to face every issue arising from the surging confusion of twentieth century life. In the name of Thy Son we ask it. Amen.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, there are certain questions in my mind which, it seems to me, deserve some consideration, questions that are not complicated or involved, but questions in pure and simple arithmetic.

Ten days ago, on Sunday, June 21, Edward N. Jones, State WPA Administrator, released to the press, for the benefit of the people of Pennsylvania, a statement in which he said: (I quote):

"The direct relief rolls can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables, in a very short time, if there were some state organization that would conscientiously cooperate with WPA."

On the following day, Mr. Jones caused mimeographed copies of his statement to be placed upon the desks of the Legislators of the Commonwealth. So that added emphasis was given to his point that the State relief rolls, which now include about 175,000 cases, could be, "in a very short time," trimmed down to just the 22,000 cases of unemployables. In other words, that the WPA could, "in a very short time," take on an additional hundred and fifty-odd thousand cases.

By the process of simple arithmetic, I learn that Mr. Jones is able and willing to remove approximately 88 per cent—nearly nine-tenths—of the cases from our SERB rolls.

Do you realize what an enormous saving this would mean for the taxpayers?

It is rather staggering. We are now spending about $6,000,000 a month for direct relief. When Governor Earle demanded almost $71,000,000 in new taxes for nine months' relief, he was asking nearly $8,000,000 a month.

Now let us see what would happen if—as State WPA Administrator Jones points out should be—the WPA and the State Relief Board were both operating under the proper degree of amicability and efficiency. A condition which it is obviously up to Harry Hopkins, Federal WPA Administrator, and Governor Earle to effect.

Well, with 88 per cent of the relief burden transferred to WPA, there would remain but 12 per cent—the unemployables. And 12 per cent of the present monthly $6,000,000 expenditure would be only $720,000 a month. Or, to put it differently, instead of having to levy taxes for $71,000,000 or even $55,000,000 for nine months, the Legislature would have to provide only $6,480,000—enough of a difference to take one's breath away.

Now, this special session of the General Assembly was summoned to provide direct relief money for the unemployed. But I can't recall anything in the Governor's call to the effect that we were to gouge our taxpayers for the purpose.

Republican legislators are not lacking either in human sympathy or in an understanding of the relief needs. But we likewise insist that these needs be cared for with the absolute minimum of new tax burden, for it is a fact that many of those who must pay a measure of the taxes are not a great deal better off than the beneficiaries of such taxes, which makes the figures I have given above so glaring and important to the conscientious legislator.

It was pointed out on the floor of this Senate, last Monday night, that Mr. Jones obviously knew, for a long time before he made it public, what the real facts were and that (I quote him) "The direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables in a very short time, if there were some State organization that would conscientiously cooperate with WPA."

It was further pointed out that Mr. Jones must have discussed this matter with Governor Earle—probably a good deal more than once. So that the natural queries arose: Why didn't the Governor himself reveal these facts? Why did he conceal them? Why did he insist that unless his demanded $71,000,000 in new relief taxes was approved without curtailment by the Legislature, suffering would immediately result? (Those were Governor Earle's words.)

And why—why—did not Governor Earle, instead of trying to load us down with these new taxes ... why didn't he attempt instead to bring about such a smooth cooperation between WPA and SERB that the SERB rolls would be reduced from 175,000 to 22,000 cases?

Such a reduction was promised by President Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins. Such a reduction is what the Republican members of the Legislature have been demanding all through this session ... yes, and for months before this session was ever convened. That such a reduction is entirely practical "in a very short time," Mr. Jones has finally admitted.

And such a reduction is the right of every taxpayer of Pennsylvania who needs relief from additional unnecessary taxes, just as much as the unemployed need their relief!

But, as I said a moment ago, all of this was pointed out on the floor of this Senate last Monday night. I merely mention it in passing.

I am interested, primarily, not in what was done about Mr. Jones' information before he made it public, ten days ago ... but what has been done since.

What is being done now to bring about a transfer of some hundred and fifty-odd thousand relief cases from SERB to WPA—"in a very short time."

Last week, the State's direct relief bill was approximately $1,500,000. Under the proper set-up, with the employables all removed to WPA, the cost would have been only $180,000—a saving of $1,320,000 a week.

This week, there will be another $1,320,000 in unnecessary tax money spent on relief; and, next week, still another $1,320,000 wasted that could be saved by proper management and operation of WPA and SERB in this State. And the same thing is true for the week after, and the week after, and the week after.

How long will this go on? That is what people want to know. They want Governor Earle to tell them what he has done in the past ten days toward purging the SERB rolls of all but the unemployables.

This is the most important order of business in Pennsylvania today. This is the real solution to the relief session of the Legislature and to the relief problems of the people. For, every week that the Governor delays effecting this transfer from the relief roll is one more week in which the taxpayers are "socked"—yes, advisedly, "socked"—for $1,320,000 in unnecessary taxes.

There can be no quarrel with Mr. Jones' figures. He knew what he was talking about when he said (I quote again) "The direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables, in a very short time."

Let me point out that both the WPA projects and the money for them are available, while, each week, the taxpayers of this Commonwealth have been paying out an unnecessary $1,320,000:

First, I quote Francis H. Dryden, regional director of WPA for Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia. In a newspaper interview, in Philadelphia on June 15, Mr. Dryden said: (I use his exact words):

"Pennsylvania's WPA office has more than 1000 projects in reserve on which people will be employed."

Let me repeat:

"Pennsylvania's WPA office has more than 1000 projects in reserve."

He didn't say 1000 jobs. He said "projects" ... "more than 1000 projects in reserve." In reserve for what? What are they saving them for, when the need is here now ... when there are more than 150,000 employable cases on the direct relief rolls?

Money for the projects? That is available, too! Plenty of it. Last December, approximately $320,000,000 was allocated to Pennsylvania for its WPA program, for the period ending on July 1, 1936. That is today!

State Administrator Jones issued a statement to the ublic at the beginning of June in which he said that, up ll the beginning of that month, the entire WPA program n Pennsylvania had expended only about $95,000,000. I on't know what the June bill has been, but I do know nat WPA in this State has been trimming its sails and aying off relief workers ... some 55,000 of them altoether.

Let us say, however, that WPA expenses for June were 10,000,000. That would make a total of $105,000,000 pent in this State up to July 1, although the State's allottment was actually $320,000,000. Thus, somewhere—omewhere—is a balance of $215,000,000. Money that the ederal Government promised would be spent here by uly 1, by today.

Can't you see the set-up? It is clear as crystal; simple s A-B-C.

Here are more than 1,000 WPA projects in reserve, on ne shelf somewhere, tucked in somebody's pigeonhole nd good as new. Never been used.

Here is the money for those projects . . . $215,000,000 ledged and committed to Pennsylvania, but never spent, ever used. And don't forget the additional PWA money ast appropriated by Congress to be spent for the fiscal ear after July 1.

Here is Edward N. Jones stating:

"The direct relief rolls of Pennsylvania can be substanially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables in a very short time."

And here are the people of Pennsylvania, the taxpayers -not composed exclusively of silk-hatted millionaires and iant corporations whose coffers bulge, . . . but comosed mainly of hard working thrifty farmers, of laboring nen in factories, of clerks, of typists, of mechanics, of iners, of the thousands of small business men. . . .

Here are the people of Pennsylvania, the taxpayers, hom the Earle-Guffey leadership seeks to saddle with 55,000,000 of new taxes for relief, when by the public tatement of Edward N. Jones, approximately $6,500,000 ould do the entire job if WPA and SERB were properly, moothly and economically administered.

Now, I yield to no one in feeling that a busy man ought o have a good time once in a while. Certainly I don't egrudge the Governor his shouting and cheering and arade leading at the political convention in Philadelphia ast week. And I congratulate him heartily that the apers say he is now being "built up" by his party as a otential candidate for United States Senator in 1938, and s a potential candidate for the even greater honors in 940.

But I submit, that no matter what he may become in 938 or 1940, he is today the Governor of Pennsylvania.

I submit, that, since Mr. Jones issued his statement, he Commonwealth's taxpayers have expended $1,500,000 er week for direct relief.

I submit, that $1,320,000 of this sum could have been aved by transferring all employables to WPA.

I submit that we are now in a second week, spending a econd $1,500,000, of which $1,320,000 could be saved, since he Jones statement, and I point out that there are still ther weeks ahead of us.

And I ask the Governor . . . Tell us what you have one in the past week toward relieving our people of this nnecessary tax burden. Tell us what you are doing about t now. When do the six weeks begin?

And how soon will you revise your relief estimates sharply downward, in conformity with what can be done to aid the taxpayers?

You were, after all, elected Governor of those who pay taxes, as well as of those who do not.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Washington). From the elaborate discussion of the Senator from Erie, I take it that he has studied the problem of relief very carefully.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I have studied it the best I can from the rather hazy and dizzy figures received, and which were given us at different times.

Mr. REED (Washington). From your study of the figures, what is the minimum requirement per month for relief in the Commonwealth?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, that would depend upon how many of our people are on the relief rolls, as I have pointed out, and how many are taken care of by WPA.

Mr. REED (Washington). Have you any figures?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, the figures of Mr. Jones, which I have just quoted.

Mr. REED (Washington). Do you have any figures of your own from your study?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, where would I get any figures other than from Mr. Jones?

Mr. REED (Washington). Where did you get your figures from in your report?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, from Mr. Jones, in his statement of June 21.

Mr. REED (Washington). Then you have no concrete figures as to how much is needed in the Commonwealth every month to take care of relief?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, the only opinion that anybody can form is what might be based on the very few figures that have been given us.

Mr. REED (Washington). But you have no amount fixed in your own mind as to what it would take per month to run the relief in Pennsylvania today?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I would be forced to be guided by the opinions of people like Mr. Jones, who have all the figures at their disposal.

Mr. REED (Washington). What, if you have any opinion, are the figures, per month, required to take care of relief in Pennsylvania?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I do not know why I should question Mr. Jones' figures, when he is in charge and in a better position to know the facts than I am.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, then Mr. Jones would have to answer that proposition?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I have nothing to base the figures on except Mr. Jones' statement.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator from Erie to say that he is willing to rely upon the ability of Mr. Jones—

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, upon the what?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, upon the opinion of Mr. Jones in this matter.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I do not believe I said I relied upon it, but I said that it is the only thing we have before us, the only figures we have.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Erie give his basis for that?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, it is contained in a letter from Mr. Jones to the Chairman of the Committee on Finance in the Senate, Mr. McClure, in which Mr. Jones says: "Therefore, in my opinion the estimate of $55,000,000 for direct relief needs now before you seems justified on the basis of sound judgment, which must take into consideration all possible contingencies."

To my mind, this letter merely substantiates what I have previously stated, the only thing in here which might be of a clarifying nature is, Senator, he says that it might take six or eight weeks, an estimated time. As far as the closing paragraph is concerned, it does not hitch with paragraph 3. What he says today is somewhat of a reversal of what he said on June 21. If the number of relief cases can be reduced, why does he not reduce his estimate of $55,000,000?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does he not state in his letter why he does not reduce his estimate of $55,000,000?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, yes, he says this: "which must take into consideration all possible contingencies." What that is I do not know.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, then do I understand that the Senator is willing to accept the opinion of Mr. Jones in some matters, but not in his opinion in arriving at an estimate of how much money is going to be needed for relief in this State up until January 1, 1937?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I believe I said that we have accepted his figures, not necessarily his opinions.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I understand then, the Senator to say that we must accept his figures?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, until we get better ones.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Does the Senator from Erie believe in continuing the embarrassment to the counties, to the boroughs and to the townships, and to the school districts of this State, by continuing the policy of robbing their funds?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I think we have about reached the end of that.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, then do I understand by the remarks of the Senator from Erie that he is against all further robbing these municipalities of funds?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I think we have made enough transfers, but I do not see where that is pertinent to this question.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not a fact that if we cease robbing their funds, it will be necessary to levy taxes?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, it has been assumed from the time the Special Session was called, that it was called for the purpose of levying taxes, and not just for the pleasure of it.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, and that is the purpose of this session, to levy taxes, that is what this session is for, just to levy taxes.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, apparently the Session was called for the purpose of levying new taxes.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, what new taxes would the Senator from Erie be in favor of levying?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I do not know of any good taxes.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, then do I understand the Senator from Erie to say that he is opposed to any taxation?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, of course, if we are to go at this thing in an intelligent manner, if the Call for the Special Session had been properly drawn, there has been a question in my mind that the needs of the people on relief rolls could have been met by economies in government, but since the Call for the Special Session was so poorly worded that cannot go into that, I suppose, of course, that we are faced with the necessity of levying new taxes.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, has the Senator from Erie by voting for the robbing of these funds effected economy in government in our townships, counties and school districts?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, there was no opportunity; the wording of the Call for the Special Session was set; it is not within the Call.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand the Senator's remarks to reach this conclusion—after taking into consideration what Mr. Jones has said—that the relief rolls in Pennsylvania are excessive by 150,000 cases, approximately, leaving only, as those necessary to be taken care of, the 23,000 so-called unemployables.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, that is sort of in line with Mr. Jones' statement.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, and that is the conclusion the gentleman from Erie has reached?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, that seems to be the intent of his statement of January 21.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that means according to what the Senator from Erie has said in his statement, that there would be necessary some $650,000 a month only, for purposes of relief, to take care of the 23,000 cases. Is that correct?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, according to Mr. Jones' estimate, about $700,000 a month, I believe, would take care of the unemployables. I believe that is the statement.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would ask, then, if the Senator from Erie is ready and prepared to vote that there should be appropriated for purposes of relief only the sum of $700,000 per month from now on.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I do not think we should make any appropriation of any size—that amount or any other—until we have more information on the subject.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand the Senator from Erie to have reached a conclusion on the information he has. He has made a statement here to us, and he has, in answer to my question—

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, is the Senator from Philadelphia making a speech or asking questions?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will have plenty of opportunity to make a speech, if I want to; but I say, the Senator from Erie has answered my question by saying he has reached the conclusion, based on the information given by Mr. Jones, that only 23,000 cases need be cared for, and these 23,000 cases would cost $650,000 or $700,000 a month. I want to find out from the Senator whether he has the courage of his convictions and will vote for no more than $700,000 a month for relief. I think that is a fair question.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, is the Senator from Philadelphia asking me the question?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I am sorry; I thought the Senator from Philadelphia was making a speech.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, a lot of people misunderstand me, and I will forgive the Senator from Erie.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, it does not seem to me that we have before us at this time complete enough information upon which to make any estimate of the amount of money that might be needed. I quoted Mr. Jones' statement because it seems to be the only statement we have around here this week.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, now I want to make a speech. I do not think anybody on the Republican side would care to listen to these things, because then they would be obliged to admit they are facts and figures on which they should act; and I think there are Republicans who are embarrassed by them. I make it for the record.

To those Republicans who are willing to listen, I am going to give figures from things that have actually occurred—no guesses at all. I am willing to listen to any statements any of the Senators care to make, and I give the Senator from Erie credit for having made a conscientious effort, for having tried to help to solve the problem; and I give him full credit for having read the statement of Mr. Jones, and I do not criticize him for having relied upon it. I say that anybody that takes the figures and statements of Mr. Jones literally has the right to reach the conclusion the Senator from Erie has reached. I have said so before and I repeat it. But I say that does not solve the problem—because the Senator from Erie is honest enough to say, "I am not prepared to do that, because I am not sure those figures are correct or certain."

There are only two ways upon which this proposition may be solved: One, by past experience; and, the other, by future possibilities.

The Senator from Erie, in answer to another question—as to how much will be needed—said, "That depends on how many cases the WPA will take over." Now, I suggest another contingency—how many cases business will take over if it continues to be good.

Reverting to the original statement I have made, that we have only two bases upon which to argue—past experience, and future contingency—I refer the members of the Senate to the records of the Relief Board, which appear in the Unemployment Relief Report, the exact wording being Third Annual Report of the Executive Director.

In December 1935, the end of the year,—January 1, 1936 was the day the new director, Dr. de Schweinitz took over, there were 249,597 cases on the relief rolls. If you will refer to the Goodrich report, page 32, you will find that in January 1936 there were 216,618 cases on the relief rolls. If you will refer to the same report you will find that in February 1936 there were 206,728 cases, and in March 195,561 cases. If you will refer to the letter which Dr. de Schweinitz sent us dated June 29—addressed, rather, to Honorable Frederick T. Gelder, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, you will find that in May, 1936 there were 173,000—176,000 cases, in June 1936 there were 173,000 cases. Now, that is approximate, because the figures have not been actually finally tabulated.

Now, those are facts, those figures are experience. Dr. de Schweinitz has sent us a statement in which he says that is possible under the new ruling—to transfer 30,000 more cases to WPA. Then my estimate, based upon two factors—one, that there will be no further increase in unemployment, and, two, that WPA will be able to absorb as it has in the past, a certain amount of cases monthly—in addition to the 30,000 cases—so that, my bases will be correct and established.

In view of that 173,000 cases for June, this is what is likely to occur: It is likely that in July we will be able to reduce our rolls to 167,000; it is likely that in August we will be able to reduce our rolls to 150,000; in September we will be able to reduce them to 140,000; in October—approaching winter—it will probably be 145,000, based upon the fact that last year in October our rolls increased from 344,000 cases in September to 355,000 in October.

Based upon that experience I say it is likely that in October we will have 125,000 cases; and in November, based upon similar experience of the previous year, it is likely that we will have 155,000 cases, in December 165,000, and in January 165,000.

Now, from that you will see that up until July we have experience, and from July on we must estimate. Everybody will admit, who knows anything about business, that assuming that 30,000 cases can be transferred, there will certainly be necessary time and effort and examination to do it, and that it cannot be done overnight. That, it seems to me is the first answer to the suggestion reported in the newspapers that this Senate—at least the Republican members—are prepared to cut relief from the six million three hundred odd thousand dollars requested, and estimated by Dr. de Schweinitz, to the arbitrary figure of $3,000,000 each month. Business men, taxpayers who have the interest of the citizens at heart, will prepare themselves to bear the burden, and, if honest, will admit that no business, and certainly no relief board, could accomplish that so quickly; it seems to me a sufficient answer to give those figures to that proposition.

These figures which I have read are estimated figures, and may become less or more depending upon the two contingencies I have referred to. If business gets better, the relief rolls won't need it; if it gets worse, they will need it. I have enough confidence in the people in this Senate to think and to believe, and to state, that as human beings, individuals, they will not be willing to do anything, by their act, which will bring suffering unnecessarily to deserving and helpless people; and it is upon that basis that I make my argument, because if upon any other basis my argument must be purely political, and nothing else. I am trying to avoid that; I am trying to submit to the members of this Senate information which they, so far, do not have, and to make the point that the other information they are talking about will be impossible to get—that nobody has any control over it except some individuals in business and the God in Heaven. And upon that fact, and because of that reason, much of our action must be estimated, and must be—not ungenerous and not generous, but careful.

Upon this basis there is $55,000,000, according to Dr. de Schweinitz necessary for the total period which we have been discussing. That takes into consideration allowance can be made for the nine million seven hundred and odd thousand dollars already appropriated. It means we must pass appropriate legislation for $55,000,000 unless we want to say this: First, "If we give him $55,000,000, he will spend it"; and, second, "If we give him less, we are sure he can get along," or, "he must get along."

I want to point out to the members of the Philadelphia district that this burden on Pennsylvania taxpayers is heightened and increased to a sum which is at least, if not in excess of, the sum of $600,000; because there are on the rolls, and being paid by the State of Pennsylvania for the care of 13,000 people who are not strictly unemployables but are unemployed—to put it that way—but what we call unemployables—a county task, and the only two counties in the State, as I recall it, who receive preferential treatment on that basis are Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties.

I point out to this Senate that if there should be an arbitrary cutting from the relief rolls some $3,000,000 each month, isn't it logical to suppose that the first cases to go off the list are the unemployables in those two counties? In Philadelphia, I am prepared to state as a fact, it will throw on the streets of Philadelphia 13,000 homeless people—homeless and starving, because the City of Philadelphia has not a dollar to pay toward their relief; and I am only making this statement because I am not willing to believe that up-state Senators are willing to inflict that condition on the City of Philadelphia and some of its individual citizens, in spite of their feeling that they will be given a preference in any event.

I do not pretend to hold any brief for the system which has been in effect for the keeping of those people on the lists, but God knows you could not throw them on the street until some form of help for them was furnished.

That means $600,000 per month that we have lost. My informaiton is not exact—I am informed that it will be in the neighborhood of $700,000, which would mean some $400,000 in Allegheny County; and I am sure the Allegheny Senators cannot be willing to throw those people on the streets.

Now I answer another question which has been raised—about giving money generously, or more than enough having been spent. The only way you can answer that question is by doing what you do with a man who is a candidate for office. If he has any record, you will look it up—if you want to see what the possibility of his keeping his promises is.

The members of this Senate know that on two occasions monthly allowances were given to Dr. de Schweinitz, and on each of those two occasions the amount spent was less—$350,000 in one month and, I think, some $700,000, or more, in another month—than the amount accorded to him; and that is an answer, in my opinion, to the objection that we are not dealing with an honest and conscientious man.

Assuming that $54,000,000 or $55,000,000 may be needed, it is not safe, in my opinion, to deal with a problem like this by providing only $41,000,000 or $42,000,000; there must be some confidence in this situation, and there must be no chance taken that because of any act of our people will walk the streets starving.

Therefore, I make the suggestion, and I contend, that while I agree with the Senator from Erie that there is no good tax—I agree with that, because I am one of those who do not feel we should tax people—because a tax, in my opinion, in the true sense of the word, is a burden; that is what it means—to tax is to burden, and no one wants to burden anyone, and any burden is not good; but some of us have to bear burdens, and there we are, and those who can bear them will have to bear them for those who cannot, and that is why we are here; and I suggest this, as has already been suggested—and I do not proclaim it as an original idea: We have no proof and will have no proof of the situation, actually to the dollar, as to how much money will be needed, but we have statements, based upon past experience, by people who know more about this than we—because it is their business, who say it is likely that $55,000,000 will be needed. We can protect ourselves by, instead of giving this money for any definite period, passing appropriate legislation for $55,000,000 from now until such time as it shall be necessary to expend it.

If we are fortunate enough to procure what I think is necessary to procure, and, which is evidenced by a letter on my desk, I think already exists,—cooperation between these two gentlemen who have been at loggerheads, namely, Mr. Jones and Mr. de Schweinitz, we can get, probably, a substantial reduction, and that will allow for contingencies that might occur also. And I point out the fact, also, that Dr. de Schweinitz has taken into consideration, in his estimate, the 30,000 cases; and I point out, therefore, to the members of this Senate, that our job is in front of us now.

There will be no more money for relief after Saturday. Possibly, according to Dr. de Schweinitz' statement, there may be some money, that may be left, to go out, in part, for Monday. That means the appropriations thus far have been consumed, and we are thus faced with the problem: What are we going to do from now on?

I think about all of us have reached the point where we are satisfied that it is not the solution to the problem to transfer funds. I call attention to the fact that any further transfer of funds from the Highway Department, according to the information I have received—and I made it my business to find out—will mean that the usual activities of the Highway Department which go on in the summer months will have to be curtailed because there will not be funds there, which will mean there will be an added list of unemployed sent to the SERB. I suggest you cannot take any more money from the Liquid Fuels Fund, because the City of Philadelphia itself is in a situation where its Council faces a contempt of court order for robbing the Sinking Fund of a million and some thousand dollars. I suggest you cannot take any more money from the Liquor Fund, because, for the first time in its existence, the Liquor Fund has at its head a man whom I know personally to be an excellent business man, who, by his handling of the organization, has shown that he knows what it is all about, who has used funds, cash on hand, to anticipate bills, so take the discount—which resulted in a saving of some $760,000 last year for that organization. And therefore, every time you transfer a fund you interfere with a government function; every time you proceed upon the basis I have discussed you do one of two things: You either cripple the city or state, or cost either or both money.

And therefore I suggest here that we take these figures—the only available figures we have—and see whether or not we want to do one of two things: Give the $55,000,000, or give a lesser sum, and pass appropriate legislation. And I make the statement now that I am firmly convinced that there may be a saving of money in relief. I am convinced that there will now be a greater saving than there ever was. I am not certain, and cannot estimate, the contingencies, and therefore I am in favor of the $55,000,000 appropriation.

I will vote for any sum, any general total sum, that the Republican members of the Senate will say is their final dollar, and I will vote under protest. I will explain myself and say that my reason for so voting is because I realize they have the majority here, and that there is a majority on the other side, over there, and that there will be a deadlock, and, rather than there be a deadlock, I will assume that these gentlemen, by giving their final figures, and saying, "This is what we will do, and no more," mean what they say, and are willing to take the responsibility. And, since it will be their responsibility, all I can be asked to do, and all that can be expected of me by my constituents, is to express my views, to give whatever information I have to my fellow Senators, and not be in an arbitrary position, and not to take a stand by saying, "I will stop voting for relief because I do not agree with them, and theirs will be the responsibility,"—and will be theirs; but I have come to the conclusion that I will not vote piece-meal for anything, I will vote for no more transfers, I will vote for no more temporary resolutions; but I will vote in favor of any proposition that these men honestly say is their last word. When they have done that they will take the responsibility which they should take, and until they do it they are shirking their responsibility.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President and members of the Senate, I desire to call the attention of the Senate that thirteen days ago a committee of five Senators, representing the Republican membership of the Senate of Pennsylvania, sent a letter to Governor Earle containing six very pertinent questions. As far as I am concerned, until we have an answer from Governor Earle, I do not propose to vote for one tax bill in this Senate. Governor Earle, at the beginning of this Session, stated that he would present any additional facts or figures which this General Assembly would desire. If certain of these questions are answered, this Senate will be in a position to determine with some certainty what is the amount required, but I say that until Governor Earle answers that letter, that it will be only a guess.

I have listened to my distinguished friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, as I have listened to him repeatedly, in quoting the Goodrich report and the estimates of Mr. de Schweinitz. I will agree that until we have complete information we cannot successfully dispute those figures, but there is considerable money which is owing to the SERA, and large sums of money, and the only one who can answer those questions is the Governor of this Commonwealth, and I wish now to express the hope that the Governor of Pennsylvania will promptly give consideration to that letter, and give to the Republican membership the courtesy to which it is entitled, of a complete, full and frank answer.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to answer the Senator from Dauphin. I think all of us here realize that the Senator from Dauphin is sincere in what he says and I give him full credit for that, but I venture this: I am a member of this body, and the Governor of Pennsylvania appeared before a Joint Session of the Senate and the House and he made a request. He said, "I will appreciate it very much if you people will appoint six people from each side of the House and come and see me and talk this question of relief over, so that we can get some good solution of the problem." I say again that I agree with the Senator from Dauphin that we are entitled to respect from the Governor, but when we violate the rules with respect to which the high office of Governor is entitled, I question whether we have the right to complain if we do not get an answer formulated from the gentleman who occupies the office that this man does, if we do not, in answer to his invitation, come and discuss the problem with him.

I, for one, want to say that while I do not question the sincerity of the Senator from Dauphin, I do protest that five members of this Senate took upon themselves to speak for me and the rest of the Senators in not giving me an opportunity to vote upon the question that the Governor put to us, which was, "will you come and meet me and talk these things over?" Until we have done that, it does not lie in our mouths to talk about respect from the Governor.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will with pleasure.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the questions asked the Governor in the letter mentioned, did the Senator from Dauphin ask them on behalf of and by authority of this Senate, and were the members of this Senate deliberating as a parliamentary body, or were the questions asked by the five gentlemen merely to satisfy their own curiosity?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, in answer to that, I would say that at a meeting of the Republican members a committee of five was appointed representing the Republican membership of the Senate, and they sent that letter. I wish to state to the Senator from Fayette that those questions were not asked to satisfy any idle curiosity; they were asked so that the Republican members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, at least, could determine the amount needed for relief.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Dauphin feel that the minority membership of this Senate should be at least entitled to the courtesy of knowing what those questions were before submitting them to the Governor?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will say very frankly that I do not see any reason why any Senator, or any five Senators, or any group of Senators, may not address a communication to the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Dauphin know that there are many Senators of the minority at this time who do not know what those questions might be?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I cannot answer that. The letter was printed in the newspapers, but I do not know whether it was officially handed to any Democratic Senator.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am asking the Senator from Dauphin if he knows that there are Democratic members of this Senate who do not know what these questions are. Does the Senator from Dauphin think that we should be given a copy of those questions, so that we might agree with the Republican membership in asking those questions and helping to obtain the answers which the Republican members of the Senate might want.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will say that at least several of those questions cannot be answered by the Senators. They can only be answered by the Governor.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do the questions ask for the opinion of the Governor, or are the answers to the questions to be based upon facts in the possession of the Governor, or in possession of the departments of the State government?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will say that several of the facts are peculiarly in possession of the Governor of Pennsylvania. I further desire to say that if the Senator from Fayette, or any other Senator, desires to have copies of that letter, I will see that they receive one.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would say that the Senator from Fayette would appreciate a copy.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, we have seen time and time again on the floor of this Senate when anyone or more of the Senators, or any group of the Senators, or in committee, wanted information from any department of the State Government, that the same is requested by resolution of this body. That is the ordinary way of going about getting information from any department of the State Government for the use of the Senate in its deliberations. We have seen here, as has been related by the Senator from Erie, and the Senator from Dauphin, how a group of Senators have gone, so to speak, behind the backs of the other members of the Senate in requesting information on an important problem or deliberation before this Senate. We have seen this thing carried to the possible logical extreme again in the last few days, when one member of the State Senate requested again important information which would have probably not been disclosed to the Senate as a whole, unless the answer to that letter had not been laid upon the desks of the Senators this morning. We have had no information in the Senate about any of these negotiations, or about any of these efforts to procure the information, and I say to you, Mr. President, that this communication that was addressed to the Governor, and this communication which was addressed to Mr. Jones, the answer to which is on the desks this morning, has not been, in my judgment, aimed absolutely in an attempt to clarify this relief situation, but these communications have been intended to put the Governor, Mr. Jones, and these other people on the spot for political reasons. It makes me laugh when I hear the Republican side of this house accuse the Governor of political malingering. If there is political malingering in this State it is the Republican side of this Senate. Let me read to you, from the Legislative Journal of the 4th of May, the first day of this session, not fourteen or fifteen days ago, but the first day that we convened, I am reading from the Governor's message: "I shall be happy to meet with any committee of your honorable body at any time to discuss the entire subject. I am perfectly willing to accept any tax substitutes that you may propose on two conditions. One is that such substitutes do not fall upon necessities, the other is that they be based upon ability to pay."

Mr. President, I ask you who are the political malingerers, in view of this statement. The Governor upon the very first night of this session—we had hardly shaken hands with each other—when the Governor said "I will be glad to meet with any committee that you may appoint and discuss the matter of compromise or substitute." We have wasted two months, and to this day the Republican Senate of the State of Pennsylvania has not afforded the Governor the courtesy of a reply, not only to this invitation, but to his invitation of two weeks ago, when he again asked for the appointment of a committee to discuss with him the ironing out of these problems. Mr. President, I say to you the Republican side of this State Senate does not want to iron out these problems. What have we done in these two months? We have crippled every township in the State of Pennsylvania, we have taken their funds; we have crippled every borough, we have crippled every county in this state, we have crippled every school district, not only crippled the school districts with respect to the appropriation for distressed school districts, but we have crippled the ordinary appropriations, and I say to you, Mr. President, that if the policies of this Republican State Senate are followed out, that seventy-five per cent of the school districts in this state this fall, when they convene in September they will not have money enough to pay the teachers' salaries, and the political malingering on the Republican side of the Senate will be responsible for it. We have crippled every state-aided hospital in this state, we have crippled our highway department, we have today prejudiced the jobs of eighty thousand persons in the highway department on account of the malingering of the Republican side of this Senate and will further cripple it by their policy that has been ept up. If we continue these policies what are the ext funds to be attacked? Our game and fish funds, he firemen's fund, those will be the next funds which ill fall under the axe of the majority of this Senate, f we persist in allowing this political malingering to con-nue in this Senate.

Mr. President, I say to you, as I said last week, I will ever again vote for another transfer of funds unless here is a constructive, concrete transfer programme to andle this question and to pay back these funds on the oor of this Senate when a resolution for transfer is pre-ented to us. We have regarded the transfer of these nds as an emergency matter, we started out that way. What is it today? Today the transfer of these funds has ecome a reality, and I say to you, Mr. President, that he ordinary functioning of the State Government and he functioning of every county, borough, township and chool district of this state and state-aided hospitals in his state, is being impaired by the Republican policies n this Senate. I think it is time now that we cease lot of this monkey business, this malingering that has een going on here for two months. It has been two nonths since the Governor extended his invitation to s and we have not done anything about it. It is time hat we extended the Governor the courtesy of an an-wer to his invitation. I think it is time to quit all this nonkey business and formulate a comprehensive pro-ramme to settle all these problems and to pay back to hese boroughs, townships, school districts and state-aided ospitals the funds we have deprived them of.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of ersonal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, ill state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is rather amusing to ear the Senator from Centre talk about the transfer of nds by the Republican majority, because all of these esolutions were passed by the House, as well as the enate. We had exhibited to us the complete control ney have in the House. I just want to add, however, ne more thought to this long drawn out discussion. We ave been told how much concerned our friends are for he unemployed. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. hapiro, just described how the unemployed would be alking the streets of Philadelphia if this relief money ould be taken from them. I would like to call the at-ntion of the Senator to the evidence which I and all the her members of the Senate investigating committee now with reference to the conditions in Philadelphia, nd tell the Senator from Philadelphia how they can give bs to the needy in Philadelphia who are now merely eeing out an existence, a mere existence on the relief lls. There are plenty of WPA jobs in Philadelphia if r. Kelly and Mr. Stack did not have the jobs to de-ver for political reasons only. Just let me read part of he affidavits filed in Federal Court, with reference to he situation in Philadelphia, concerning which Senator hapiro is so much concerned.

"Congressman Stack was very sore; he bullied and hreatened Mr. Rankin and called him a rat. The Con-ressman said he had been promised one-third of the jobs nd that he was going to get them. He stated that he as compelled to come to Philadelphia from Washington every week-end to make sure he was getting his allot-ment of WPA jobs. He waved a letter under Mr. Rankin's nose which was signed either by President Roosevelt or by Harry Hopkins, stating that Mr. Stack was to have one-third of the predesignated jobs. Mr. Rankin tried to calm Mr. Stack. Mr. Rankin patted him on the arm and said: "You are getting them. You are getting more than your share." The Congressman told Mr. Rankin he would take all his patronage in what he described as "Airport stuff." This referred to the airport project which em-ploys 6000 people in Philadelphia. Mr. Stack indicated he wanted control of all the airport jobs, including the relief jobs." * * * * * "Mr. Kelly told me that Congress-man Stack was getting too much WPA patronage. He said that Congressman Stack was going to be fired out of the party. Then Kelly asked me for lists of all the pre-designations in the recreational and educational jobs, so that he could determine the percentage of jobs he had received as compared with the percentage which Con-gressman Stack had received."

And then the Democratic members of this Senate how their hearts bleed for the unemployed and the people on the dole. If they clean up this mess, and give these jobs or money which is sent into for the care of the unfortunates, instead of passing it out for political pur-poses, and then trying to mulct the people of Penn-sylvania with burdensome taxes that are driving out our industries and making more unemployables, we could listen here with a greater degree of confidence to the ravings of these gentlemen on the left.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my name has been men-tioned in the speech made by Senator Owlett and I want to exercise my right of personal privilege to answer it.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I agree that there are probably some political positions in WPA, I do not know anything about it; I imagine the gentleman that took the affidavit was probably fired for telling some State secrets—that is possible. I say that they in some measure may reduce the amount that is necessary. I suggest, however, this situation meets the test: That it is not purely a political condition, but that in the City of Philadelphia there are on the payrolls of the City of Philadelphia a number of persons, running into the thousands, who are friends or relatives of politicians, or they are brothers, sisters, cousins or fifty-second cousins—or farther re-moved—who are on the payrolls and do not turn in a dollar's worth of service for it—and have been for years. And yet every year the Council of the City of Philadel-phia sit down and make out a budget, which includes all the funds that it will be necessary for them to pay out. And it does not follow, because I resent it, that I feel the City of Philadelphia should not be supplied with money to run its government.

I want to say paranthetically here that I do not have, and have never had, a friend or brother, or fifty-second cousin on the payroll of the State or City since I have been in politics, and nobody in my office, or associated with me, has a job or has received any job, so I can talk freely and frankly and let anybody examine the record. And I want to say frankly that because that condition exists, either in the WPA or in the City of Philadelphia, is no reason why money should not be appropriated to run the government of Philadelphia, and it is no reason why arbitrary figures should be used to furnish money for relief. It may be true, what the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, says—I am not getting into that controversy, I have tried to keep out of the political situation, I have refrained from saying that the Republican Party is politically dead—but I do want to say this one thing, that while that cannot be saved, respect for the members of this Senate can be saved by getting down and doing, in a fair and concrete way, the job that we were sent here to do.

RESOLUTION EXTENDING THE CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE TO PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE JOHN G. HOMSHER ON HIS SEVENTY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Mr. WOODWARD offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, July 1, 1936.

It is with a feeling of reverence that we as members of the Senate of Pennsylvania tender to the Honorable John G. Homsher, President Pro Tempore, our congratulations on this the seventy-seventh anniversary of his birth.

Senator Homsher is the oldest member of the General Assembly in point of continuous tenure in the history of the Commonwealth. Entering the activities of the House of Representatives as a member more than 35 years ago he has rendered invaluable service to the people of the State by his intelligent consideration of public affairs, his fidelity to duty, his strict adherence to the most lofty principles, his sound judgment and his patient and courteous relations with all with whom he has come into contact.

Senator Homsher has endeared himself to several generations of law makers by his kindness, his fairness and his constant effort to do right. His elevation twice to the highest position of honor within the gift of the Senate is evidence itself of the esteem in which he always has been held by his associates.

In extending our felicitations to Senator Homsher on this memorable occasion, it is the fervent wish of the members of the Senate that he will be spared for many more years of achievement to the people of Pennsylvania, and to us who have sincere love, admiration and respect for him.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair join in extending congratulations to the President Pro Tempore and thank him for the many acts of cooperation and kindness that he has extended to me as the President of the Senate. I wish for him many happy returns of the day.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was unanimously agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair present to Senator Homsher this engrossed testimonial just adopted by the Senate.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, and fellow members of the Senate of Pennsylvania: You have been much more considerate of me than I deserve, and feeling this most humbly, I can do nothing else than express to you my heartfelt appreciation and gratitude for the friendship and goodwill you have shown to me.

Looking back over more than a quarter of a century of association with the members of this Senate, fifty picked men from all sections of the Commonwealth, student of government will find an experience and knowledge that should bring to him some knowledge and wisdor

Material changes in government do not come in a yea or in a few years, but in the course of thirty-five yea comes a knowledge of the trend of public thought an affairs.

When I was a young man and went to school, we wer required to learn the Declaration of Independence and th Constitution of the United States by heart, so that we coul stand up and say it article by article and section by sec tion. The school books of that day were full of extract from the speeches and writings of eminent statesmen- Washington, Jefferson, Webster, Marshall, Burke, Lor Chatham—men who understood the governments of th world and were the founders of this government of our I remember many of them, here is one: Lord Macaula writing to a friend in this country shortly before his deat in 1860, said: "So long as you have a wide expanse of chea land and a small population, you will be prosperous; bu the time will come when America will have its Birming hams and its Manchesters, as England has them now, an then will come the test of your institutions."

We had confidently hoped that this new governmer of ours, formulated only one hundred and fifty years ag would be able to meet all difficulties. Our government not old. One hundred and fifty years of existence is onl one in the galaxy of nations of the world that have su vived that span to time. But ours was new governmen The statesmen who drew the Constitution knew the hi tory of the thousands of governments that had existed an passed away and to avoid the pitfalls that had been th cause of their downfall, invented a Constitutional Repr sentative Government, something new under the sun. is the only new thing distinguishing our government fro those that existed before and on that hangs our hop that it can be made to endure.

Few of us stop to remember that of all the myriads governments whose growth and passing crowd the pag of history, only one has lasted as long as twelve hundre years. Rome lasted only a thousand years and half of th was in her decline. It is doubtful if the most of the endured two hundred years. Our ancestors planned an we have been born to think that ours would last i definitely. It did withstand the shock of the Civil Wa and now we have come to the situation described b Macaulay—we now have our Manchesters and our Bi minghams, and the test is whether instead of gropin and fumbling among the many times tried-out experimen of the numberless nations that have rose and fell, meet the problem under our constitutional representativ government of fewer imitations and fewer enterprises an again show to the world that a government conceived liberty is strong enough not to perish from the earth.

There is a tremendous responsibility upon the peop of this nation and particularly upon the people of Pen sylvania, here where the principles of the new governmer was first put into being and where they still obtain their fullest exemplifications.

Man is full of imperfections and all his works. wi dom and unselfish patriotism are like gold and diamon in the mine, mostly found among much that is dross an when we do find these qualities in men they shine lik the incandescence film that make the name of Edison im mortal.

In their extremity to escape from the despotism of all former governments and knowing thoroughly the history of their failure to make for human freedom some forefathers mounted and put into operation the government we inherited from them. Let us in the same spirit hope that we have also inherited their wisdom and unselfish patriotism and that we may meet all our problems without destroying the inestimable freedom they gave to us.

America and the world again look to us for the decision.

Again I thank you.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, this morning the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, evidently referred to the Finance Committee and myself when he said that he understood that any information desired from any department should come by way of resolution in this body. I have been a member of this body for nearly eight years, and never knew that. I have visited the heads of departments through all administrations since I have been here, including the present one, and have been treated in a very courteous manner. Sometimes I believe the Chairman of Committees can secure more cooperation with the heads of departments if resolutions are not presented in this body, because sometimes their replies might be embarrassing. That was my thought when I addressed a letter to the Secretary of Revenue several weeks ago, asking for information which would assist my committee in arriving at an amount of money necessary for the purpose of relief. The Senator from Centre would no doubt like to hear the reply received to this letter. It is not a great credit to the Department of Revenue, but it might explain to him and other members of this body, and to the public at large, why hospitals and other institutions have not received their money.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

Harrisburg, June 16, 1936.

Honorable John J. McClure, Chairman,
Committee on Finance,
Senate of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your request dated June 8th regarding certain specific data, the following is respectfully submitted:

1. Q. Number of corporation tax settlements made by your Department from January 1 to May 31, 1935?
   A. 44,444 corporations tax settlements were made from January 1 to May 31, 1935.
2. Q. Number of corporation tax settlements made by your Department from January 1 to May 31, 1936?
   A. 28,158.

I call the attention of this body to the two figures, 44,444 in 1935 and 28,158 in 1936.

"Explanation: In the beginning of the year 1936 there were only a few unsettled reports on hand and these reports were for the years 1934 and preceding years. As the Capital Stock and Foreign Franchise Reports are not due until March 15th, it was impossible to settle any 1935 reports until after that date. As a whole, settlements for the first five months in 1936 exceeded those in 1935 by approximately $2,000,000. The month of May, 1936, alone running in excess of $6,000,000 from that of 1935."

Of course, the explanation to that is that there is more money to collect. We have more taxes.

3. Q. "What was the amount of your estimated revenues for the General Fund for the first year of the 1935-37 biennium?
   A. The budget estimate, excluding unemployment relief, for general purposes for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1936, was $96,594,646.
4. Q. What was the amount actually received?
   A. The actual collections for the fiscal years ending May 31, 1936, were $75,721,307.
5. Q. What is the estimated revenue of the General Fund under the present revenue laws for the second year of the 1935-37 biennium?
   A. For the fiscal year ending May 31, 1936, the budget estimate for General Fund purposes was $133,490,354.
6. Q. Was there a delay in sending out corporation report blanks for the tax year 1935?
   A. In 1936 the corporation report blanks were mailed approximately one month later than in 1935.
7. Q. If so, what was the reason for this delay?
   A. The delay was necessitated by the fact that many changes in the form had to be made to give effect to the new tax statutes, that were enacted during the 1935 session of the Legislature, and upon which no plan had been formulated until after the turn of the year."

Members of the Senate will recall that we adjourned in June, and until the beginning of the next year no effort was made to prepare the forms.

8. Q. "Is it true that the blanks had been sent out earlier a greater amount of revenue would have been received during the first year of the biennium?
   A. The lateness in mailing the blanks could not have possibly resulted in a lesser amount of revenue as every corporation received tax blanks in sufficient time to file its reports within the time prescribed by the statute.
9. Q. Manufacturers Exemption and Foreign Franchise Tax?
   Q. (a) Number of domestic manufacturing corporations liable for filing reports with the Commonwealth under the provisions of Act 86, 1935?
   A. (a) 10,081.
   Q. (b) Number of domestic manufacturing corporations which filed reports with the Commonwealth under the provisions of Act 86, prior to June 1, 1936?
   Q. (c) Number of domestic manufacturing corporations liable for filing reports under the same Act for which reports have not been settled as of May 31, 1936?
   Q. (d) Number of domestic manufacturing corporations for which settlements have been completed under the above Act of May 31, 1936?
   Q (e) Names of domestic manufacturing corporations for which settlements have been completed under the above Act of May 31, 1936?
   Q (f) Names of domestic manufacturing corporations for which settlements have not been completed under the above Act as of May 31, 1936?
   A. (b-f) The bookkeeping records of this Department contain all of the information requested in the foregoing questions, namely: 9 (b-f). The letter from the Senate Finance Committee requests this information by June 17th. I have been informed that it will take one month to compile all this data and in order to do so, it would be practically necessary to suspend all other transactions during the course of the preparation. Due to our anxiety to put through as many corporation tax settlements as possible so that revenues may be received, I am not attempting to furnish the information requested in the above questions; however, if the Senate Committee on Finance insists that this information be furnished, I will be glad to issue the necessary orders without delay although it is dubious if the best interests of the Commonwealth should be suspended to compile this data."

It is my information that this data could have been gathered in ten days by three people. However, the Secretary of Revenue suggests that the best interests of the Commonwealth could not be served by supplying this data, therefore, I have not further requested it.

Q. (g) "Number of foreign corporations liable for filing reports with the Commonwealth under the provisions of Act 86?
A. (g) 8,122.

Q. (h-i) I respectfully refer in replying to these questions to the answer under 9 (b-f).

10. Q. (a) Number of corporations subject to Net Income Tax under the provisions of Act 91, 1935?
A (a) 34,241.

Q. (b) Number of corporations that filed reports and paid the tax as of May 31, 1936?

Q. (c) Number of corporations which have not filed or paid the tax as of May 31, 1936?
A. (b-c) It is impractical to make an actual survey to furnish this necesary information as we are now engaged in carding the Capital Stock, Corporate Loans, Franchise Tax, Foreign Bonus, Gross Receipts, Gross Premiums, etc., reports, as we are giving preference to those reports that are not self-assessing. A survey shows that eliminating those corporations that file on a fiscal year basis, less than 5% of corporations filing under this Act will be delinquent.

11. Q. (a) Number of corporations subject to tax under the provisions of Act 89 of 1935?
A. (a) 988.

Q. (b) Number of corporations that filed reports for the year 1935 and paid the tax as of May 31, 1936?
A. (b) 859.

Q. (c) Number of corporations which have not filed or paid the tax as of May 31, 1936?
A. (c) 129—composing in the majority non-incorporate telephone companies.

12. Q. (a) How many were liable for filing reports for the year 1935, under the provisions of Act 182 of 1935?
A (a) There is no liability under Act 182 to file returns for the year 1936 as the listing date for this Act was January 1, 1936. It is estmiated as per the previously required report submitted to the Senate that there are approximately 500,000 to 600,000 persons liable for filing reports under Act 182.

Q (b) How many reports were filed as of May 31, 1936?
A (b) To May 31, 1936, 500,160 reports have been filed.

12. Q (c) How many were settled as of May 31, 1936?
A (c) 42,833

Q (d) How many were paid as of May 31, 1936?
A (d) 13,335

13. Q. Inasmuch as the revenue from the Cigarette Tax is in excess of the estimate by approximately $4,300,000 for the year, is it not reasonable that the revenue from this tax will continue on the same basis during the next year?

A. In reply to this question may I quote the reply submitted to the Senate Resolution of May 26, 1936, "The Department of Revenue estimates that the total amount of tax collected from this Act will be approximately $8,500,000 for the first year of the biennium and $10,000,000 for the second year of the biennium."

Very truly yours,

S/ Raymond E. Evleth
Deputy Secretary of Revenue for John B. Kelly
Secretary of Revenue."

I regret having to read this letter, and would not ha read the letter because it was for the information of committee, but it occurred to me that the Senator c an undue reflection upon the integrity of the commit and myself; however, the committee and I want to st to this body that information from the Finance Commit will be available at any time, but the Finance Commit still believes that it has the privilege of directing co munications to any Department heads in this State.

I want to go on a step further. The Committee on nance addressed the following letter to Edward N. Jon Administrator, Works Progress Administration, Harr burg, Pennsylvania, under date of June 29, 1936:

"My dear Mr. Jones:

When the Senate Finance Committee met this afterno to consider revenue-raising legislation for unemployme we were disappointed that you were not in attenda in accordance with the invitation of the committee. your public statement of June 21, 1936 you stated that y had offered to appear before the Senate and 'give answ to any questions they cared to ask'. In view of this f we had hoped that you would have been glad to m with the Committee for this purpose.

We appreciate, however, your statement in response my telephone call, to the effect that you would be gl to answer my letter addressed to you by the membe of the Committee.

On behalf, therefore, of the Senate Finance Committ I now submit the following inquiries:

1. In the statement above referred to, you point o that there are approximately one hundred seven five thousand cases on the direct relief rolls and th this number could be substantially reduced if t S. E. R. A. would cooperate with the W. P. A. It is our desire to promote this cooperation in ord that the relief rolls may be speedily reduced and t tax burden borne by our citizens be lessened, a while we recognize our duty to provide relief for tho in need we also recognize that the tax burdens in t State are heavy and should only be increased t positive necessity. We quote your statement of Ju 21, 1936 last, as follows:

'The direct relief rolls of Pennsylvania can be su stantially reduced and even cleared of all except t unemployables in a very short time if there were so State organization that would conscientiously c operate with W. P. A. If the liquidation of direct r lief in Pennsylvania were transferred to some agen such as the Department of Welfare under Command Pennington, I am sure that the tremendous cost the dole in Pennsylvania could be speedily and su stantially reduced.'

If the requisite cooperation can be secured, how so can the relief rolls in Pennsylvania 'be substantia reduced and even cleared?' It is necessary for us have an approximate date, otherwise we cannot d termine the sum of money to be appropriated whi will meet relief needs until January 31, 1937.

2. If the S. E. R. B. is limited to unemployabl what is your estimate as to the number of cases whi this would involve in Pennsylvania?

3. Have you any other suggestions to present the committee which would enable it to determi the amount of money which should be provided public taxation in order that the State may perfor its part in the present emergency.

The Finance Committee desires to act promptly on t tax bills now in Committee, and desires a reply, if po sible, to this letter not later than Tuesday, June 30, 193

Yours very truly,

John J. McClure, Chairman"

The members of the Senate this morning had on the desks the following letter:

"46 North Cameron Street,
Harrisburg, Pa., July 1, 1936.

orable John J. McClure, irman, Committee on Finance,
ate of Pennsylvania, risburg, Pennsylvania.

dear Senator McClure:

eplying to yours of June 29th, wish to advise that no tantial reduction in the cost of direct relief which it result from WPA taking over increased numbers vailable relief employables can be effected for some to eight weeks.

ne reason for this is the time element involved in ing these employables on projects. Materials must urchased, and those so employed must work for two ks before being eligible for pay, while another week uired for pay rolls to be cleared and delivery of pay ks.

r. de Schweinitz informs me that his estimates, as nitted to the Governor and to the General Assembly, emplate a reduction of present relief rolls through A cooperation from 173,000 this month to an average 40,000 for the month of September.

nquestionably, as I have already pointed out, subtial reductions in present relief rolls can be effected ugh proper SERA-WPA cooperation. The actual reions cannot be determined in advance.

nerefore, in my opinion the estimate of $55,000,000 for ct relief needs now before you seems justified on the s of sound judgment, which must take into considera- all possible contingencies.

Yours very truly,
Edward N. Jones
State Administrator"

r. President, I observe that Governor Earle and Mr. es are in accord that 30,000 cases will be taken from direct relief rolls, and placed on WPA.

r. President, I now desire to interrogate the Senator n Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

ne PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

r. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will be glad to.

r. McCLURE. Mr. President, will the Senator from adelphia tell me how he arrived at the amount of 000,000 as necessary for relief?

r. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the Senator from aware will look at the letter, which I assume he also ived from Dr. de Schweinitz, he will find that at- ed to that letter is a compilation which is the basis the computation of figures, as follows:

rom the month of May, 1936, $6,164,000 was spent.

or the month of June, 1936, $6,296,000 is the estimated unt to be spent.

the figures I have made up there is the possibility a difference of $10,000. That does not appear on the ement but has been told to me by Dr. de Schwein-or the month of July, 1936, it is estimated that 46,000 will be spent.

or the month of August, it is estimated that $5,420,000 be spent; for the month of September $5,300,000; for th of October $5,561,000; for the month of November 57,000; for December $6,651,000; for January $6,170,- addition you will find that in order to equalize the tment of all persons throughout the State with those he few counties that get rent and clothing there will needed an additional sum of $2,576,000. The total unt, to be exact, is $54,294,000. That maintains an allowance of $792,000 for another item which he refers to, and that is included in the $55,000,000, which may be excluded. That is the basis of my figures.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I understand the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, makes the basis of his figures a letter he holds from Dr. de Schweinitz, of which I have a copy.

Dr. de Schweinitz was called before the Committee on Finance. The figures I hold in my hand were submitted to him for his consideration. At the conclusion of the hearing I asked Dr. de Schweinitz, more than once, if he could take any exception to these figures, and the only exception he took to the figures was the possibility of 30,000 cases being taken from direct relief and placed on WPA.

I based these figures on Dr. de Schweinitz' own figures and Governor Earle's own statement that 30,000 cases would be taken from relief; and I have that statement substantiated today in the letter from which I read—I will repeat the paragraph substantiating it, which paragraph reads as follows:

"Mr. de Schweinitz informs me that his estimates, as submitted to the Governor and to the General Assembly, contemplate a reduction of present relief rolls through WPA cooperation from 173,000 this month to an average of 140,000 for the month of September."

Now, for the week ending May 30, 1936, there were 174,209 cases on relief. Thirty thousand cases represents 17% of that amount. During the last week of May, 1936, there was expended for direct relief $1,248,305. I have taken 17% of that and it gives me $212,211,85. This represents a reduction per week, when the 17% are taken from direct relief rolls and put over to the WPA rolls. I have taken $212,212. from the money expended the last week in May, $1,248,305, and it gives me $1,036,093 per week. I multiplied that by 30½ weeks, from July 1st to January 31st, and that gave me $31,600,867.

It has been determined, by an investigation made through the Department of the Auditor General, that at least 5%, when this calculation was made by me, of those on the relief rolls were ineligible; and I can now state that the continuing investigation shows that there are 8% on relief rolls who are now ineligible. This present figure has the support of names and addresses of those on relief, and in practically every instance when this condition has been called to the attention of SERA those same people have been removed from relief, which is most convincing to me that they should never have been on relief; but deducting only 5% as ineligible, it gives me the sum of $1,580,043. I deduct that from $31,600,867, and it gives me $30,020,824 for 30½ weeks. I have added to that 8% for overhead, and Dr. de Schweinitz agreed with me that that was a fair amount, considering the overhead which we have had during the last year and a half. I have added the May and June sums which we have transferred, of $7,716,211, and it gives me the sum of $40,138,700, exclusive of commodity distribution and special programs.

When Dr. de Schweinitz was before us he gave me those figures—not figures of the past but what he had calculated for the future—and I can assure you that that amount is not large; in fact it would not be more than $500,000 a month. So, until Dr. de Schweinitz again comes before our Committee and successfully contradicts these figures, personally I am not going to vote for any relief measure in excess of them; and, indeed, when the figure is finally reached it will not amount to this much, because I have not yet calculated the number who will be taken off relief through Mothers' Assistance, Old Age Assistance and the Blind. It is my hope that I have replied to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until five o'clock this afternoon.

An Act to provide for the public sale by cities of the first class of tax anticipation certificates representing registered delinquent taxes and authorizing the appropriation for current or other purposes funds realized or estimated to be collectible from the sale thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to make a statement on behalf of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, who is absent today and who is the sponsor of a similar bill which is on the postponed calendar. Senate Bill No. 67 will permit the City of Philadelphia to issue tax anticipation notes on the security of their delinquent taxes, which years of experience have shown to be a valuable asset. This bill will permit the city of Philadelphia to borrow money on these assets and apply the receipts to the current needs of the city.

One section of the bill, permitting the appropriation of the estimates of these receipts before the notes are sold, might at first glance seem injudicious. However the sponsor of the companion bill has been assured by Mayor Wilson of the city of Philadelphia that no more than eighty per cent of the reasonable amount estimated shall be subject to appropriation prior to the actual receipt by the city from the sale of these anticipatory notes of eighty per cent of such estimate. Consequently, any doubt that might exist on the advisability of this provision is readily dispelled by the above promise of Mayor Wilson. He has asked the support of this House for the bill.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is rather refreshing to have one of my colleagues on the opposite side of the House speaking in favor of a bill sponsored by a Republican senator. It bears witness to the fact that this bill is completely nonpolitical in the city of Philadelphia, and is an attempt on the part of the Mayor to keep down the tax rate and to relieve the already heavily overburdened taxpayer, th real estate taxpayer in Philadelphia. So, I ask, in a spirit of complete nonpartisanship that you give this bill a unanimous vote.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE

MONDAY, JULY 6, 1936

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou eternal God, in comparison with Thy power how weak are we! In comparison with Thy wisdom, how ignorant are we. Thou dost uphold the mountains and valleys of earth. The billows of the sea roll and surge in the hollow of Thy hand. The stars and planets above us move in their courses at Thy command and Thou dost call them all by name. True are the words of the ancient poet, "The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmanent showeth His handiwork; day unto day uttereth speech and night unto night showeth knowledge." Standing in Thy presence, we are impelled to say with this same poet, "Such knowdelge is too wonderful for me."

Thy power and wisdom are placed at the disposal of man, the only living creature upon whom Thou hast stamped Thy image and who can talk with Thee and conceive Thy being and majesty; yet he too frequently takes counsel from his fellowmen rather than from Thee. These legislators face the task of unraveling the tangled mesh of our social and civic fabric. Give them the vision of Thy all-seeing eye that they may grasp these threads aright and weave a beautiful pattern. Amen.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE LUZERNE COUNTY UNEMPLOYED LEAGUE INCORPORATED

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication:

LUZERNE COUNTY UNEMPLOYED LEAGUE
INCORPORATED—1934

July 3, 1936.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Senate of Pennsylvania
State Capitol Building
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Honorable Members of the State Senate:

At the regular meeting of the Luzerne County-Unemployed League, Inc., held Friday evening, July 3, 1936, the delegates who constitute the Unemployed League and its affiliated Branches in Luzerne, Lackawanna, Susquehanna, and Wyoming Counties, adopted the following resolution, and ordered it sent to the Senate of Pennsylvania, to be read into the record at the reconvening of the Senate, this Monday, July 6, 1936:

Whereas, For the past few months of the present Special Session of the State Legislature, it is quite evident that the political jockeying of the Republican Senators has caused much suffering amongst the people of this Commonwealth who are dependent upon Direct Relief for their bread and butter, and

Whereas, Nothwithstanding the fact that upon the request of the Republican members of the State Senate, the State Relief Director, de Schweinitz, has submitted every particle of information that was necessary to bring about an adjustment of the relief problem, the Republican Senators have ignored the facts, the pleas of the hungry, in their miserable game of politics, and

Whereas, The State Legislature have been requested from time to time by the Unemployed themselves for increases in relief rather than decreases, and the Republican members of the Senate are wrong when they state they have not the proper information, for the information has been granted to them from many a source, they have received information from the various Legislative inquiries held in the various counties, and the Republican Senators are hereby charged with deliberately ignoring the terrible conditions that they have found within the home life of the relief recipients, and

Whereas, This deliberate attempt to reduce the desired and proper appropriation for Direct Relief will bring about more undernourishment, and hunger to our people, and result in terrible suffering upon the people who have been starved for the past few years, by the political partisanship of the Republican members of the State Senate, who through their selfish attitude to the present administration, have caused relief families to become the prey of hunger, starvation, severe privation, to lose their faith in man and his kind, they cannot be expected to live for ever upon the miserable pittance that they have received up until the present time, and now they will receive no relief unless the Republican Senators, ignor the orders of their masters, and grant to their constituents, the bread of life, and bring security to their homes, and

Whereas, The plea of our beloved Governor, George H. Earle, for decent relief is being ignored, by these same Republican Senators, and insults are ever being imposed upon our sincere Governor, for his humane activity for decent relief, and the Republican Senators should be ashamed that they do not show more respect for themselves, their party, and for their Chief Executive of this Commonwealth, and we hope that they will cease their activity against our Governor, and at this Special Session, they will grant to the relief families, the proper relief appropriations needed for the upkeep of the home life of our unfortunate people, and

Therefore, Be it resolved by the Assembled Delegates of the parent body, representing five (5) Counties in the State of Pennsylvania: That we will lend our every effort to support the Governor of Pennsylvania in his fight for decent relief for the unfortunate people of this Commonwealth, and we pledge ourselves, to carry our message to the voters of this state and do our utmost to defeat the election of any Senator who has been part or parcel of the humiliating drive to refuse decent relief appropriations, and who has contributed to the defeat of the "Unemployment Insurance Bills" now in Senate committee, and to this end we will assist our Governor in his humane attempt to end all suffering within the State of Pennsylvania, and

Be it further Resolved, That we demand that this resolution be read into the records of the Senate, and that immediate action be furthered by the Senate of Pennsylvania, for the comfort and Security of the distressed citizens of Pennsylvania.

Passed by a majority vote, July 3, 1936.

RECESS

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate ıo now take a recess for half an hour.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, ıe Senate will be in order.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like ı interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. IcClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, last week ıe Senator from Delaware proposed a plan for the finan- ing of our relief problems, involving approximately the ım of $41,000,000 or thereabouts. Is the Senator from)elaware, as Chairman of the Finance Committee of the enate, or any member of his committee, ready at this me to report our tax bills to finance this $41,000,000 rogram, or any comprehensive program for the financing f relief?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, a meeting of the Finance ommittee has been called for tomorrow for ten o'clock, hen the tax bills which are in the committee will be con- idered.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, do I understand by the Senator's answer that the Finance Committee is not ready to report out any tax bills at this session tonight?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Senator is correct.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, do I understand that this situation exists in the face of the fact that relief stops in Pennsylvania today?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, there are no bills in the Finance Committee which would produce immediate revenue, so that the question of relief stopping tonight does not enter into the reporting of bills from the committee.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, on behalf of the Democratic side of this House, I wish to serve notice upon the Chairman of the Finance Committee that immediately upon the convening of this Senate tomorrow, the Democratic side of the House will propose motions to discharge the Finance Committee from further consideration of these tax bills and to propose a comprehensive program of relief.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, was the Finance Committee in its deliberations tonight informed that there is no money for relief after today and that outside of the City of Pittsburgh relief is stopped in Pennsylvania, and that tomorrow there will be no money for relief all over the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Finance Committee was so informed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, was the Finance Committee informed that this information was stated by me last week? I was informed by Dr. de Schweinitz, and so stated in the Senate, that after Saturday most of the State would be without relief, and after Monday all of Pittsburgh would be out of funds for relief, and that tomorrow there would be no money for relief for any city?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I restate what I have just told the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, that there are no tax bills in the committee which will produce immediate revenue, this week, this month, nor within several months, and that the question of reporting bills to the floor of this Senate is not of immediate importance to meet the problem of providing money for relief at this time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware a further question, if he does not remember that in one of the discussions I had with the Senator some two weeks ago, I called his attention to the fact that there would be no money for relief even if these bills were passed, and that in the decision in the case of Kelly vs. Kalodner, that tax anticipation notes could be used against tax levies, and in that way money could be raised?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it not true then, that if tax bills were passed by the Senate within the next three days, that thereupon we could raise money sufficient to carry us through whatever program is suggested, that is, by tax anticipation notes?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is true.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, and is it not true that the longer we delay passing this legislation, the longer it will take to get the money by tax anticipation notes?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is so.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware whether or not the Committee on Finance, or any other committee of the Republican organization, have agreed upon any program, I mean an amount which has been agreed upon for relief.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, will the Senator state that again?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to know whether the Republican caucus has agreed upon an amount for which they will appropriate funds?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, they have agreed upon an amount * * *

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am willing to wait until the gentleman interrogated secures the necessary information.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Republican caucus has agreed upon an amount of $35,000,000.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I assume that this $35,000,000 is to be charged with the amounts already appropriated for relief?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, so that for the period beginning June 1st to January 31st, the Republican caucus has agreed upon $35,000,000 for relief?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is the sum agreed upon.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, has the committee agreed upon any bills by which this $35,000,000 can be raised?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, they have not agreed upon any bills.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the Unemployment Insurance Bill passed the House on May 19th. It was transmitted to the Senate and has been in the Committee on Insurance since that date. The Federal Social Security Bill was passed by the Federal Government last August, nearly a year ago. I have always contended that this Senate, whatever it has given in social or humane legislation, has given it grudgingly; the social legislation that has come out of this Senate has come out only after repeated requests, and the demand of the public. If we on this side of the Chamber were desirous of playing politics, we would encourage the pickleing of this bill in the Committee on Insurance, especially since we have our affable Senator Coyne from Allegheny County acting as Chairman of that Committee.

The action of this Senate in the past in pickleing the Old Age Pension Bill, and only bringing out the Old Age Assistance Bill after repeated requests, was one of the things that turned Allegheny County, my county, upside down politically. Two years ago 60,000 Republicans in Allegheny County left the Republican Party and joined the Democratic Party, and one of the real reasons they did that was the action of this Senate in pickleing social and humane legislation. Even now, in the first three weeks of June ths year, 1840 registered as Democrats in the City of Pittsburgh, whereas only 920 Republicans registered. During that same period 710 Republicans changed to Democrats, the first three weeks of June, whereas only 111 Democrats changed to Republicans. So that, because of the attitude of this Senate on social and humane legislation the Republicans have been leaving the Republican Party in our county, and I take it the same in all the counties, like as if they were leaving a sinking ship.

The Republican National platform at Cleveland declared for social security. Now it is apparent, from the way this bill is being held in committee, and from the hearing the other day, that was held in this Chamber, that it is the purpose of our good friends on the other side of this Chamber to kill this bill.

Governor Landon has called a Special Session of the Legislature of his State not only to pass a social security bill but to change the Constitution of Kansas so that they can pass a social security bill. Now, from the hearing the other day it is quite apparent that there is a ganging up on this bill; and the purpose is apparent: If enough States can be induced, enough corporate-ridden States can be induced to gang up on this bill, and kill it in enough States, it will have a very serious effect on the national administration of this bill, and perhaps have an influence on the Supreme Court when that bill comes up before that tribunal for a decision.

In view of what the workers in Pennsylvania have gone through in the last several years, they are concerned about this bill perhaps more than about any bill that has come up in this Senate. What haunts every working man in Pennsylvania tonight and has haunted him for the last several years is that when old age creeps up on him all his savings will be swept out from under his feet, like it has been for the last several years. And I give warning to the Senators on the Republican side that unless they bring this bill out of committee, or vote to bring it out of committee, and pass this legislation, that this fall the contest will not even be interesting for the Democrats.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I therefore offer the following motion: That the Committee on Insurance, of this Senate, be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 41 (House Bill No. 55), so that the same may be returned to the floor of this Senate for constitutional consideration.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny County what was said at the meeting on last Wednesday that would indicate they were going to gang up on that bill and keep it in committee.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I gather from some of the questions that were asked, that the intention of the epublican side of this Senate was to postpone action i this bill.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Algheny, Mr. McGinnis, remember any of the questions at were asked?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, there were a number questions asked,—a number asked.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, by whom,—by Democrats?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga, r. Owlett, I believe, asked a question, or, at least, put it the form of a statement, that he felt that there would e no harm done if the bill were delayed; that if we did ot pass it until next year we would not lose anything y it.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, if I remember right, we ad a stenographer take those notes. Will the Senator om Allegheny please tell us the question that Mr. Owlett sked, and who answered it?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have just stated what Ir. Owlett said—whether in the form of a question or statement—I don't care which it was.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I do not know of any good eason why the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Mcinnis, should protect the Republicans from the loss of otes. At the last election, and the election before last, Allegheny County any votes lost by Republicans were benefit to the Democrats; and in the future any votes ost in Allegheny County to the Republicans will make ne Democrats better off, and any mistakes along those nes that the Republicans should make—that he referred o—surely will be to the benefit of the Democrats in Alegheny County.

I do not know if he is going to discharge the Committee, rom further consideration of this House Bill No. 55 on he question of lost votes in Allegheny County; but, if o, I think it a very poor reason to discharge a Committee.

Now, last Wednesday afternoon we held that meeting—re started at 2:30, and went on until 6 o'clock. The Demcrats and Republicans alike were very anxious to adourn until tonight, and everybody left for home on Wedesday afternoon; nobody wanted a meeting of that Comnittee at that time. We came here this evening at 9 'clock, and we have been considering other bills in comnittee,—we have no time to call a meeting of the Comnittee to consider the bill on Unemployment Insurance. intend to call a meeting of this Committee tomorrow fternoon to consider this House Bill No. 55.

I was surprised that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, would be in such a hurry about this bill. It as only been in Committee for a very short time, and ve certainly gave it all the attention we could, and we ad several people before us and we heard all of their rguments for and against the bill. I will assure this ody that I have no intention, on my part, to deny anyody a hearing at a meeting of the Committee, and there vill be a meeting of the Committee tomorrow or the day fter in case this motion does not go through.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he is in favor of civil service.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I certainly am. I want to state to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, that this administration is the first administration in the State of Pennsylvania—when it was in power only six months, after we had elected a governor and the House—that a civil service law was passed for the employes of the Liquor Board, having over 2000 of the employes of the Liquor Board under civil service rules.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, know that House Bill No. 55 has no civil service provisions in it?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I knew that, yes.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that there is no civil service provision in House Bill No. 55?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I know that.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there is no civil service in it.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, no.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, knows that?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, is the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, in favor of the Ohio plan or of the Wisconsin plan?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I do not know what the Ohio plan or the Wisconsin plan is.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there is a great deal of controversy about the Ohio plan and the Wisconsin plan, and does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, know that the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, has introduced a bill tonight that contains the best features of those two plans, and it will have civil service rules, and is therefore a much better bill than House Bill No. 55.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, I wish to say this, that the Federal bill was passed, as I said before, nearly a year ago. The Social Security Bill has been discussed in this Senate, individually, and by the people throughout this State ever since—it is on every man's and woman's tongue; and to think that we have been in session here for ten weeks and have done practically nothing in this Senate on relief,—we certainly have had time to consider and bring out a proper bill; and to offer a bill at this late date convinces me, individually, that it is offered merely for the purpose of confusing, and to help kill the Social Security Bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator to say that the civil service bill, or the provisions of the Liquor Board relating to civil service were passed during the Democratic Administration?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, Yes, sir.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, does not the Senator from Allegheny know that that was passed in the Session of 1933, under the administration of Governor Pinchot?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I know this, that the administration of Governor Pinchot did pass a bill giving an examination to all employes of the Liquor Board, and that ended it; there was no civil service after the examination, and they were just on the same footing as every other employe in the State of Pennsylvania. But last year this administration—this House and this Senate, and the Governor signed it, passed a civil service bill putting all employes except the Board under civil service, and provided for the discharge and promotion of the employes under civil service,—the most complete civil service bill that was ever passed in Pennsylvania.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in order to set the Senator from Allegheny straight, I am sorry he was not here in 1933, for he would, then, know that a bill was passed at that time providing for civil service for the Liquor Board. There may have been some amendments passed to it in 1935; but, I repeat, that bill was passed in 1933, and was in effect when the Democratic administration came in.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I disagree with the Senator from Bucks. As I stated before, the bill under the Pinchot administration provided for the examination of prospective employes merely—and let them in, perhaps, on a meritorious basis; but after they were in they were on the same footing as every other employe of the State, without any provision under civil service for discharge or promotion or anything else; and the first civil service law applying to State employes was passed under this administration, and it is a complete one.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, from what the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, said about the bill, I assume that is the bill sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Is that true?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, no, I introduced the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the Senator from Delaware introduced the bill. Is he familiar with the plan under this bill?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I am.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it not true that it provides for a contribution both by the employer and employe?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it does.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, and doesn't that bill provide for a contribution by the employer according to what is called the merit system?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it does.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, and does it not provide for what is called a special pool fund?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it provides for a reserve fund for industries, separate and apart from the pool.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in other words, it is true, is it not, that this is a bill that provides that the employe shares in the unemployment insurance only so far as the fund goes in his particular factory?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is not so; it provides that the benefits shall be first taken from the Company, which provides the reserve account, but after that account is exhausted the pool is drawn on for the balance.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is exactly what I am saying; in other words, each concern is to take care of its own employes.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is not what it says.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, let me repeat the question. It is true, first of all, that each concern pays its contribution into a fund, which belong to the particular employer, and from which his employes draw, and no other employes draw from that fund?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, and subsequently, if there is any shortage it is drawn from what is called a special pool, and after that is exhausted the employe gets no compensation?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is so under any bill,—when the pool is exhausted there are no benefits for the employes.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair observe that the parliamentary status has been changed somewhat from that of special privilege, in view of the motion now pending—as made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, following his special privilege talk.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to speak on the motion to discharge.

Mr. PRESIDENT. The Senator will proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, some two or three months ago the Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia sent out a pamphlet discussing the question of unemployment insurance, and advocated what is know as the Reserve System, which is the system incorporated in the bill introduced tonight by the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

On May 4th there was introduced, into the Senate, Senate Bill No. 7, which I introduced, and which is based on what is known as the Pool System.

On May 19th House Bill No. 55 came over to this Senate, and it took No. 41 under the Senate numbers; and that also is based on a Pool System.

For the purpose of properly discussing this motion, I should like to call attention to the fact that the Pool System is nothing more nor less than an adaption of what is in vogue in insurance companies to spread the risk and minimize the loss; and under the Pool System those who participate in the Pool Fund,—that is, each employe contributed to a fund which is called the Unemployment Insurance Fund, and that fund is used for the benefit of all employes in the State; and it is only when that fund, plus the accumulations realized on investments, is exhausted that the employe gets no compensation.

In view of the fact that this fund has been established on an actuarial basis, and that the contribution exacted from employers will of itself, all things being equal, and if the experience of the past is any guide, the statute will raise a fund which will not be exhausted—under the amounts allowed under this Act.

It is interesting to note that tonight, after these two bills have been in committee almost three months, a new bill is introduced which sets up what is known as a Reserve Fund, so that only the fund in each factory, each manufacturer's fund, will be available to the employes; so that the districts in the coal-mining region and districts having a larger unemployment rate, will within a very short period of time exhaust both their original fund in the employers' hands as well as the special so-called pool, to which all employers contribute by a small percentage. There is no question about it, that from the experience of those countries which have adopted unemployment insurance, that the pool fund is the safest on an actuarial basis. There has been no experience which would give us any information on the value and the safety of the reserve fund, none that can be a safe guide. In addition to that, it is interesting to know that we have been told that the committee may have a hearing on Wednesday, but when we look at the fact that these bills have been in the committee's hands since May 4th and May 19th, and all we have listened to in the committee meetings has been the unconstitutionality of the Act, of this Act which is now proposed, and about which the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, speaks so favorably, and contains two of the provisions which raised two of the most important questions.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the point of order is that a motion to discharge a committee is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McGINNIS and Mr. FREY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Baumer,	McCreesh,	Reed,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	McGinnis,	(Washington)	Shapiro,
Frey,	Miller,	Rice,	Sones,
Harris	Prince,	Roberts,	Staudenmeier,
Huffman,	Pytko,	Rodgers,	Thompson,
Kahle,	Rankin,	Rupp,	(Centre)
Law,

NAYS—22

Aron,	Ealy,	McClure,	Scott,
Batchelor,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Thompson,

Buckman,	Homsher,	Reed,	Trainer,
Chapman,	Howell,	(Dauphin)	Woodward,
Coyne,	Mallery,	Salus,	Ziesenheim,

So the question was determined in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. The number required by amended Rule 42 is a majority vote of all the members elected to the Senate. The motion is not agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is something that may be stopped by a point of order. You can stop the invasion of an army, but you cannot stop the invasion of an idea, and I think it is pretty nearly time some people realize that there has been an invasion of an idea in this Commonwealth.

I want to continue to discuss that bill, because I think it is very important and I think the people should know just what is going on in this Senate with regard to social legislation. We listened for two hours and a half on Wednesday of last week to an important lawyer to tell us about the constitutionality of a law which we were about to propose, and we listened for fifteen minutes, or less, to the proponents of the bill, who were told that we had no more time to listen to them, because it was five o'clock and we had to go into executive session. We listened to this gentleman from Virginia, who spent a great deal of time in the Senate of Virginia to point out to them that the bill was unconstitutional, and then he came here and he read us his brief which he had submitted, apparently, to the Senate of Virginia. We listened to one man who came from an industry in Philadelphia, and who said that so far as he was concerned, whilst the constitutionality might be of some importance, he thought that it was time that when ameliorative legislation was offered in the State of Pennsylvania, that the benefits to the individual, the human interest and the human importance of that legislation should be given some consideration, and that then you could go at the constitutionality of it, and at the hearing which was held in this Senate, we got fifteen minutes of information from those who knew the human side of it, and two hours from one who knew the constitutional side of it, and I venture the opinion that if this bill is so unconstitutional, that there is no question about it, as the gentleman from Virginia told us, and the best thing for these Senators to do would be to pass the bill, and they would have no further trouble from it, and when the Senator from Delaware introduces a bill which contains two important points they have admitted to be unconstitutional, then I question the necessity of listening to imported lawyers on the unconstitutionality of Senate Bill 41, House Bill 55. The bill suggested provides discrimination in taxation. That is the bill that was introduced tonight, first in its merit system, which gives one man less tax than another, and, secondly, the fact that it grants exemption to people who employ less than eight, and violates that well-known and much discussed provision of the constitution which states that all taxation shall be uniform. If there is any civil service provision to the bill which is before the committee, and I am not talking about my bill, because I have neither pride of authorship, nor desire to foist my opinion on others, and I am perfectly satisfied when Senate Bill 41 comes out, that it may be amended properly on the question of civil service, but I do not think that a committee which had had a bill for two months, of such importance as this one, should attempt to becloud the issue by hiring constitutional lawyers and having people come here who will tell us that which we were told in the committee, which is shocking to anyone who has any intelligence, if not insulting to his intelligence, and that is, that it is better to lose the $20,000,000, which will go into the Federal Treasury if we do not pass an act providing for unemployment insurance, better to lose that than to pass a bill that has not been well considered.

Unemployment insurance is not a new matter. It has existed in England since 1919, it has existed in Germany since long before the war, it was adopted two years ago by Switzerland, and it has existed in at least 15 countries in the world, all of them have had varied experience in it, and now we listen, in Pennsylvania, to an argument from people who should know better, who will be obliged whether we pass a law or not, to pay one per cent this year and two per cent next year, and three per cent the following year on a total payroll which has been estimated about $25,000,000 for the first year, $50,000,000 for the second, and $75,000,000 for the third, who very well know that if that money is paid and no Act is passed, according to the Social Security Act, it falls into the General Fund of the Federal Government, and no one will receive it, and, of course, it is well to know that the manufacturer and employer will never see it, because once he pays it, it goes to the employe. But the important thing is that if it goes to the Federal Government, the employe does not see it unless we pass an Act, and while this motion to discharge was defeated, not by a majority vote, but by a rule invoked by the Republican members of this Senate, which requires a constitutional majority for a motion which otherwise does not require it, a majority which is only required for appropriation of funds—while it was defeated by that rule, it was not defeated by a majority, and the majority of this Senate is on record tonight that the Senators want an unemployment insurance bill brought out on the floor, so that its merits and demerits may be discussed openly, and it seems to me that ought to be due notice to any organization Republicans or otherwise.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, a short while ago, in the discussion of a motion to discharge the Commmittee on Finance from further consideration of Senate Bill 41, House Bill 55, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, asked the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, whether he believed in civil service, and then from the following remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, I gathered that he is in favor of civil service, and the reason why he is opposed to the unemployment insurance bill, House Bill 55, was that it did not contain a provision for civil service. On those remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, I would like to interrogate him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that there is nothing before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that under the question of personal privilege, the interrogation results from that question. I think it is perfectly in order. I see no objection.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, sometime ago the Senator from Philadelphia introduced a bill in the nature of an amendment to the relief appropriation bill providing for the creation of a Board in the counties to administer relief funds. I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, if in that bill creating those boards he provided for civil service in the selection of the members of the Board and the employes under them.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Board was selected by the Governor, the Courts of Common Pleas and automatically the Chairman of the County Commissioners makes the fifth member of the Board. Is that what the Senator from Fayette means?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, no, it is not. I mean that I want to know from the Senator from Philadelphia whether in his bill he provided for civil service for the selection of those Boards and the employes under them.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there were several amendments in the bill and that is one of them, civil service for the employes.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I understand now that the bill introduced by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, does contain a provision for civil service?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it did.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does it now?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it does now.

RECESS

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I do not like to cut off the flow of oratory, but if we have been sufficiently warned, I would like to move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, and perhaps we can put out a bill that will assist those in distress.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELDER, from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 105 (House Bill No. 154), entitled:

An Act ratifying, confirming and validating the transfer of money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund and the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund, and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Also, from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 104 (House Bill No. 153), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief, work relief, and expenses, defining the purposes for which such moneys may be expended, and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State Departments, and ratifying, confirming and validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making moneys available for unemployment relief prior to the adoption of this act.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 6, 1936.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, July thirteenth, at 9:00 o'clock Eastern Standard Time, and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it recovene on Monday evening, July thirteenth, at 9:00 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE PRINTING OF MEMORIAL SERVICES IN HONOR OF THE LATE HONORABLE JAMES E. NORTON

Mr. RUTH offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 6, 1936.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That five hundred copies of the proceedings of the memorial service, held in honor of the late Honorable James E. Norton, be printed for the use of the Senate.

CONSIDERATION OF THE CALENDAR

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the calendar.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 74 as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 2 The provisions of this amendment shall not become effective until the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate: I am still of the opinion I was last week, that this bill would set up class legislation, and I cannot agree to the bill in its present form for the reason that it would permit some people to vote on increase indebtedness and other people would have to pay for it, so that I ask the members of the Senate to vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Aron,	Graff,	Prince,	Staudenmeier,
Batchelor,	Homsher,	Reed,	Thompson,
Bean,	Howell,	(Dauphin)	(Westmoreland)
Buckman,	Mallery,	Rodgers,	Trainer,

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 98 (House Bill No. 143), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by prohibiting the employment of miners in the bituminous coal mines, unless certificated after examination by a miners' examining board and the payment of certain fees; providing for the appointment of such boards, and defining their powers and duties; and providing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special for the purpose of a public hearing.

Mr. PIERSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I always favor public hearings on bills of importance. I now favor a public hearing on the Miner's Certificate Bill, House Bill No. 143, Senate Bill 98, and if the Senator from Dauphin will withdraw his motion to recommit his bill, I will substitute a motion which will provide for a pubilc hearing. I am fearful if this bill is recommitted to the committee that that will end it. I think this motion is a motion to kill the bill and not a motion for a public hearing, if the gentleman will withdraw his motion I will move that this bill be made a Special Order of business for Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, and at that time I will ask that the Senate go into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of a public hearing. In doing that it will keep this bill on the calendar, it will prevent it from going back into the committee, where I think it will be killed. I request that the Senator from Dauphin withdraw his motion and substitute the one which I have suggested, which will give a free and open hearing on this bill.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, I desire to say that that is the most unusual suggestion I have ever heard, and I also desire to say that I do not understand why the Senator has made the statement that the purpose of this motion is one to kill this bill. This bill was reported to the Senate on Monday evening of last week, brought out from committee on the following day, and many of those interested in this bill desire that it have a public hearing. I am sure that the committee on Judiciary Special, to which this bill was referred, and which the committee reported to the Senate, will, after a public hearing, give the bill fair consideration.

I cannot endorse the suggestion of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, which I believe is contrary to all practice in this Senate. When public hearings are held, they are held by a committee having the bill in charge, and I hope therefore, that this motion will be adopted by the Senate to the end that those vitally interested in his bill, both for and against it, may have the opportunity of presenting their reasons before the committee on Judiciary Special.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair might say relative to the parliamentary question raised by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, that his suggested motion is strictly in accordance with parliamentary usage under the manual invoked by this Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Center) and Mr. FREY.

Mr. THOMPSON (Center). Mr. President, I would like to have verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

FEDERAL EMERGENCY ADMINISTRATOR OF PUBLIC WORKS

Washington, June 29, 1936.

Honorable Roy E. Furman,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My Dear Mr. Furman:

The President has referred to the Secretary of the Interior Resolution No. 25, passed by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania on June 15, 1936, memoralizing Congress and the President to pass the Wagner Bill No. S-4424, for slum clearance and low rent housing. I am acknowledging your Resolution in the absence of the Secretary.

As you undoubtedly know, the Bill passed the Senate but was not reported out of the House Committee before adjournment.

It is, however, most gratifying to have evidence of the approval of your legislative body. The future housing activity of the Federal Government cannot now be predicted, but past indications have been that the greatest benefit of a continuing program would accrue to those States best equipped with legislation enabling them legally to exercise local initiative as well as to receive Federal aid. I hope that the interest of your body in this truly important problem of housing will continue and increase in the future.

Sincerely yours,

HORATIO B. HACKETT,
Assistant Administrator.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. POWERS offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

CONGRATULATING HON. LLOYD M. SCHAEFFER

Mr. LaRUE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 6, 1936.

The personnel of the membership of the House of Representatives for 1935 and 1936 has undergone an unusually large number of changes. Among those who, for the first time at this extraordinary session, enjoy the honor and have assumed the responsibility of lawmakers, is a gentleman from the County of Berks, whom we have gladly welcomed as a fellow member, albeit his advent signified the loss to the General Assembly and to the State of Pennsylvania of the Honorable Wilson G. Sarig, late Speaker of this House, whom we so dearly loved and highly honored and respected.

On the fifth of July, some years ago, a child was born in the Schaeffer family. The child grew to manhood, and, along the way, acquired knowledge and developed ability, both in the legal profession which he now follows, and in the general and specific interests and activities which constitute the life of the individual and of his community. He has served well as Secretary of the Democratic County Committee of Berks County, and in his first few weeks as a legislator, has already given promise of great things to come; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the fellow members of the Honorable Lloyd M. Schaeffer, do hereby express our hope that he enjoyed a happy birthday, and wish him many more to come, together with health, prosperity, honor and accomplishment, both in his public and his private life; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Schaeffer, by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

STATEMENT BY MR. HOLLAND

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent o make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the members f this House received in their mail today a letter from he Pennsylvania Retail Malt Beverage Association signed y Rubin H. Miller, President, in which he refers to this House as "a saloon controlled Legislature" due to the fact hat his association is interested in passing House Bill No. 105, giving the right to grocery stores, drug stores, delicatessen stores and with the possibility of bootblacks, garages, filling stations and what-not to sell beer.

In answer to Mr. Miller, I wish to state on behalf of he members of this House that no one controls the indiidual member whether it be brewery, liquor dealer or is own association, which has been organized for his own ersonal gain.

In further answer to Mr. Miller's concealed threat of aving the retail merchants of Pennsylvania organize to defeat the members of this House who are seeking-reelection, I wish to state that he only represents a very small minority. The grocery and drug trade of this Commonwealth as a whole do not want to dispense beer.

When Mr. Miller states that the members of this House are disregarding the public demand for beer service in grocery and drug stores, he is insulting the public of Pennsylvania. A good bill for the benefit of all will always be given consideration as far as I am concerned and I need not have the advice of the paid lobbyist. I vote as my constituents back home want me to vote and no influence exercised by these lobbyists asking for special legislation will be considered by me, and I know I speak for every member of this House.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL INQUIRY

r. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I desire to rogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

ıe PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, McClure, permit himself to be interrogated.

r. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will be glad to be rogated.

r. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, will the tor from Delaware kindly inform me as to whether ot the Committee on Finance is prepared at this time eport out tax legislation?

r. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Senate Committee on nce will have reported to the floor this afternoon House Bill No. 43 and House Bill No. 100. Sub-committees have been appointed this morning to amend House Bills Nos. 19, 26, 27, 28, and 88. The Committee on Finance was in session from ten o'clock this morning until one o'clock this afternoon. The sub-committees met and went into conference until two o'clock.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President will the Senator from Delaware inform the Senate as to what is anticipated as the return from House Bill No. 19?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President if the increase is from six per cent. to ten per cent., the income would be $10,-150,000.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, what is anticipated as a return from House Bill No. 26?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, House Bills Nos. 26, 27 and 28 are included together. The revenue from those measures would be $40,000,000, and there is no subdivision of the revenue by the Department of Labor, in connection with these bills.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, what is the anticipated return from House Bill No. 43?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, there will be practically no revenue from House Bill No. 43.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, what is the anticipated return from House Bill No. 88?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, there is no estimate of revenue, from the Department of Revenue, on House Bill No. 88. In fact, for some reason, they did not include it in their letter to me.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, what is the anticipated revenue from House Bill No. 100?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, House Bill No. 100—it is estimated by the Department of Revenue the tax will be $1,000,000 per biennium.

You understand, that is a half million for twelve months, and about $460,000, probably, for the ten months remaining of the present biennium.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President and the estimates concerned with these other taxes are for the remainder of the present biennium; is that correct?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Centre ask that question in another way? I did not quite understand it.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the estimated yield from the other taxes, under House Bills Nos. 19, 26, 27 and 28, is for the balance of the present biennium; is that correct?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, those taxes are paid once a year, and will be on a yearly basis.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, on a yearly basis?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, do we understand that we have reasonable assurance that such bills will be reported out as promptly as they can be handled by the Committee and corrected by the subcommittees; is that correct?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I am not committing the Committee on Finance to any definite action, but it was evident this morning that it was their intent to report these bills out after they are amended.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the conferees appointed to adjust the differences between the House and Senate on the question of the Mothers' Assistance, and also dealing with the question of the right to appoint and the complaint on the part of many about the manner in which a number of the Trustees have been removed.

The City of Pittsburgh has three daily newspapers, one morning and two afternoon. One of these papers is strongly a Republican paper; the other two had been for many years, but since the incumbency of the Governor, they are strongly in favor of his policies. They have been pro-Democratic in reference to the present administration; they differ perhaps in national politics.

I desire to read into the record, or have read by the Chair and written into the record, three editorials dealing with this very important issue. I exhibit the editorial from the Pittsburgh Press, pro-Roosevelt and pro-Earle. In this editorial they strongly advise the Democratic Party to accept the amendment proposed by the Senate. They state this in the editorial very strongly. I will read only the last paragraph:

"And so, we urge Governor Earle and Administrati leaders to ask the House to recede from its present po tion and agree, if necessary, to the Senate amendment the mothers' assistance bill. Final enactment of the b is the major issue, not the method of appointing boar By permitting the quarrel over the latter to delay t former, the Administration only is putting the cart b fore the horse."

That is the Pittsburgh Press.

The Sun-Telegraph prints a lengthy editorial along th same line. They criticize the state government placin the sole appointing of the Trustees in the Governor, an recommend that the Democratic Party recede from the position and agree to the change.

AID FOR MOTHERS

Responsibility for Blocking It Rests on the Democrat House

The Republican Senate and the Democratic House Harrisburg are deadlocked over the enabling act whic would permit the Commonwealth to receive Federal con tributions to the Mothers' Assistance Fund.

If the Democrats follow the course that they have pre viously pursued in similar controversies they soon will b charging the Republicans with "playing politics with hu man misery." But in this case the shoe is on the othe foot.

The bill has failed of final enactment because of the re fusal of the House to accept a Senate amendment whic would change the system under which the trustees of th Mothers' Assistance Fund are chosen.

Under the terms of the Mothers' Assistance Fund law a it now stands, the Legislature appropriates a certai amount for the aid of mothers with dependent childre whose husbands are dead or confined in a mental hospita The money is granted to counties on condition that th County Commissioners appropriate a like amount.

Notwithstanding that the county has to match the State appropriation, the local authorities have no voice in th selection of the trustees who administer the fund. All the seven members of each county board of the Mother Assistance Fund are appointed by the Governor.

Now the Senate proposes to change that by having th board consist of nine members, of whom three will b chosen by the Governor, three by the County Commission ers, and three by the judges of the Common Pleas Cour

This would give the local authorities the voice that the now lack, and would be in keeping with the principl laid down by Gov. Earle for the selection of the trustee of the University of Pittsburgh. Because the universit receives State aid he demanded the right to be allowe to appoint some of the trustees.

The House refuses to accept the Senate amendment be cause it would take some patronage away from the Gov ernor.

The trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund receiv no salaries, but they employ the board's paid workers an also pass on applications for mothers' assistance.

In recent years their authority has been extended, s that they now also pass on applications for old age pen sions and pensions for the blind.

The trusteeships are potentially valuable, therefore, i the hands of spoilsmen, for political purposes.

Not much attention was paid to the political value these positions until the present administration came int power at Harrisburg. According to Senator Frank Harris, Gov. Earle has dismissed 125 Mothers' Assistanc Fund trustees whose terms had still some time to run, an replaced them with trutees of his own choice. From 192 to 1935 there were only two such dismissals, Harris says.

Moreover, under this administration the political affilia tions of the Mothers' Assistance Fund workers are receiv ing an amount of attention that we believe was neve given before.

The Senate amendment, by giving the County Commis sioners and the judges of the Common Pleas Court, as we he Governor, a voice in the selection of the trustees ld help to take the Mothers' Assistance Fund out of spoils system and make its administration less a mat- of partisan politics.

is the Democrats, opposing the proposed change, who playing politics with human misery.

lso the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette (July 6, 1936), a Re- lican paper, and in their editorial they point out that two papers which have been pro-State and pro-Ad- istration, advise that the Democrats recede from their tion and agree to the amendments of the Senate. In of the paragraphs they criticize severely the dismis- and asking for the resignations for many members he Boards of Trustees.

AME PLACED UPON DEMOCRATS FOR DELAYING MOTHERS' AID

n the deadlock of the Republican State Senate and the nocratic House over the bill to enable the Common- lth to receive Federal contributions to the Mothers' istance Fund, public opinion is placing the responsi- y for delay upon the Democrats. This is shown by the that newspapers that ordinarily support the Earle ninistration are now joining in urging it to compromise. he Senate charges that the House is clearly putting poli- above the interests of the needy mothers through hold- out against an amendment designed to prevent patron- raids or political interference in the administration nothers' assistance and pensions for the aged and blind. or a quarter of a century members of the county boards rusted with the administration of mothers' assistance e appointed by the Governor. Their apparent free- n from politics until recently was indicated by the fact in 1934 they were called upon as well to look after pension interests of the aged and the blind.

is stated that in the 12 years up to 1935 only two hers' assistance trustees were dismissed. Then sud- ly in the Earle administration changes in board mem- ships were started upon a wholesale basis. The Sen- was told that in 18 months under Governor Earle 125 tees were removed.

he trustees draw no salaries, but they appoint paid kers of the boards. It was charged that the adminis- ion made changes in the trusteeships to open the way a patronage rush on the paid jobs, just as in the in- ces of State Teachers Colleges and some other institu- s in which the boards were changed.

he amendment proposed by the Senate would have lt with this condition and would at the same time have ognized the right of the counties, which contribute to fund, to a voice in the administration of mothers' as- ance. It would enlarge the boards to nine members distribute the appointing power—the Governor to ne three members, Common Pleas Court three and the nty Commissioners three.

s that would come as close as possible to the elimina- n of politics, putting the interests of the needy upper- st, the Democratic House has been put in a hard posi- n to explain its opposition, its insistence that the ap- nting power be left wholly with the Governor.

Ir. President, I ask that these editorials be read and ted in the Journal.

he PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the edi- als will be spread upon the Journal. The Chair hears e.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Ir. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question ersonal privilege.

he PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. odward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Ir. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I also have an edito- , appearing in a Republican newspaper, and request that it be printed in the Legislative Journal. It is the leading editorial in today's Harrisburg Telegraph, calling for the merit system in Pennsylvania. I have notified Republican caucus that unless the Committee on Constitutional Changes considers this bill seriously, I will try to get 26 men to vote for the discharge of the Committee from further consideration of the bill, and I am now standing up in the Senate to invite the coadjutators for this purpose. I hope all the Democratic Senators sign up, and enough Republican Senators to make up the 26 names, in case the Committee does not send out the bill. I understand there is no particular malice on the part of the Committee, but the unfortunate fact is, the chairman of the Committee is so engaged, his time so occupied by serving on sub-committees that he has no time to give to this measure; therefore anybody who thinks as I do on this measure—that civil service should be made part of the law in Pennsylvania—will sign up. Any subscriptions will be thankfully received.

The PRESIDENT. What was the request of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that if the Committee on Constitutional Changes will not report out the amendment to the Constitution, to set up civil service in Pennsylvania I would like to get 26 names to discharge the Committee from further consideration.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the request for leave to print is granted. The Chair hears none.

CHISELING PUBLIC FUNDS

Upwards of one-half of all the money that government spends goes for the salaries and wages of officials and employes. Offices and jobs therefore comprise the largest and most productive field of operation for the spoilsman. A substantial turnover in public employment follows every election, national or local, as those belonging to the defeated party are turned out to make room for the victors.

No one contends that the persons turned out are less efficient than their successors. The employes thus evicted from public jobs owed their own appointments to the earlier operation of the spoils system, and they yield to the inevitable with not much more complaint than was raised by the slaves of oriental potentates when diversion was provided for visitors by cutting off a few heads.

All beneficiaries of the spoils system realize that their jobs depend on political victory and they work zealously for the party. Indeed, they sometimes do far more work for the party than they do for the public. The whole point of the spoils system is that they shall first serve the party and then, as convenient, serve the public who pay their salaries.

The common sense remedy for this abuse is the merit system. In order to understand the proper sphere within which the merit system should apply, it is necessary to grasp the distinction between the function of policy determination and that of administration. The business of government involves both—policies must first be determined, and then carried out. In a democracy the people decide what the policies shall be, and it is proper that candidates for office should seek to influence the popular opinion and decision. This is the field for the politician, who tries to persuade people that his ideas and plans are superior to those of his opponent.

Since the function of the politician is to represent the people in the formulation of their policies, he may change his tune if he finds that the people prefer another. No really good politician ever blushes for changing his stand after learning what the people want. He would not be a good politician if he could not do this gracefully.

After a policy is determined upon, its execution must be performed by expert administrators. There is no room in administration for the politician or his methods. Competent impartial administrative capacity is what counts. Our mistake has been that we have permitted the politician to extend his influence and control far beyond legitimate limits, with the result that administration is incompetent, expensive and at times corrupt.

The distinction can be illustrated in the case of a bridge. The decision to build one and the purposes it is to serve, whether for pedestrians, vehicles, rapid transit trains, or all three, are questions of public policy. Such decisions the people can make and it is proper for politicians to argue the pros and cons in reaching a decision.

Neither the politicians nor the people can build the bridge. This is a job for experts. There is no such thing as Republican or Democratic steel, cement or bedrock. It is all very well for the politician to use blarney or any other shafts from the quiver of persuasion during the campaign to settle the policy. If the engineer tries such methods in building the bridge he will have a wreck on his hands. When the politician insists on contaminating the efficiency of administration by filling administrative or employe positions with his henchmen, without regard to their qualifications, the public gets less and pays more for it. This is what happens when the spoils system is the basis of selecting large numbers of the public personnel.

Under the merit system all strictly administrative positions would be filled on a merit basis. In the few places where a good civil service system is found, this has proved to be the best method yet developed to select the most capable persons for many ordinary types of public service, whether for routine operations such as clerks or foremen, or for the minor administrative posts such as bureau chiefs.

One of the most important first steps that we can take toward the improvement of our public administration and the reduction of its cost is to establish clearly the boundary between policy determination and administration and then keep all political influence out of the latter. The best assurance of accomplishing this is through a sound, strictly applied merit system.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 87, as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, it seems to be sort of a field day in regard to editorials.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair might suggest a new rule, providing for leave to print.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I have an editorial before me from the Daily Intelligencer of Doylestown, Pennsylvania, under date of Wednesday, June 3, 1936; and I observe on page 2 of the Doylestown Daily Intelligencer that the ownership and management of the paper is declared as follows: President, Joseph R. Grundy.

This article is entitled Haycock's Road Improvement Job, and proceeds with the most laudatory statements and praise for the work that the W. P. A. is doing in Bucks County. I would like to have this editorial spread upon the Senate Journal; and, in pursuance of the praise Mr. Grundy has allotted to W. P. A. in his newspaper, would call upon this special committee to withdraw their harassing of such a splendid institution.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the editorial will be printed in the Journal of the Senate. The Chair hears none.

HAYCOCK'S ROAD IMPROVEMENT JOB

W. P. A. Workers Face a Test in Blasting Rocks Out of Roads—Some Curves Removed and Grades Improved

Applebachsville, June 3—Haycock township, under the W. P. A. project is getting road improvement. Here the majority of the roads of the township—and all those listed as projects—are picturesque in their naturalistic setting, but dangerous narrow twisting trails running over terrain where the resistance was least, rock bottom and rock-bound on either side.

In a trifle over five months a group of one hundred fifty men, later weeded out to one hundred men, have accomplished 30 percent of the work that had been outlined, it is claimed.

When the first draft of labor from relief rolls reported, some difficulties were experienced; some men didn't care to work at any job; others disliked discipline or supervision, others refused to obey safety regulations, and others were plainly not physically fit for the work. Old men were given lighter work.

A noticeable divergence from regular procedure is apparent all along the line on these projects. Admittedly one of the largest in the State for rural relief, one of the farm-to-market projects, involving an expenditure, estimated, of over $147,000, these workers are at work in groups ranging from three, a drill team, to eight or ten men. Industry has been rewarded and the men who have persevered have been advanced to $71.50, the top for common labor, and those especially efficient in their work have been made foremen, at $90 a month. From a low of 36 to 50 inches per day, the drill teams have worked up to an average of close to eighty inches, the record going to a team composed of Harvey Slifer, Rudolph Chassar and Gabriel Gubich, with the high of 154 inches for the day. One of the best drill teams, Edward Frey, Calvin Styer and William Transue, average between 108 and 112 inches daily, through a heavy hard type of rock.

This work involves not only the straightening of roads and necessary fills, but drainage, scraping and the ultimate covering with crushed stone.

In spite of the large number of men engaged on it, compensation for injuries has been held at a minimum, less than seventy-five dollars having been paid out for this work, and about half of this going to one man who had the only serious injury. Each man is equipped with shatter-proof glasses and woe to the man who refuses to wear them!

Masons and carpenters drawn from the ranks have partly constructed a bridge on the road leading from Applebachsville school house to Richlandtown, and this will eliminate one of the worst Winter hazards of the children attending this school. After every heavy thaw or storm during the Winter and Spring months, children had to wade through water over shoe tops to reach the school, but a 300 feet fill is being made here and a bridge four feet over the normal water level will care for the flow of water. Nine feet stone wings will divert the water and prevent washing of road bed, while the heavy plank bridge, treated with macadam, will care for all traffic. On the overflow side of the road, a further fill has been made and huge boulders will prevent washing of the road-bed and help to divert water to the under-bridge channel.

In 1880 A. Peterman decided to see to the matter of a tombstone for himself, but a return to health prevented the use of the stone he carved and this was later placed in a stone fence, and when he died some time later he was buried in the Catholic Church Cemetery, near Nockamixon. The farm is now deserted and in eliminating a curve this stone was removed and carried by the superintendent to its new resting place, a rock in the wing-wall of this bridge.

Credit should be given land-owners in general for their co-operation in this work. A specially large strip was given by Norman Snyder in order to eliminate a dangerous curve, the new road-bed running through the Snyder woodland. Another good-sized grant was made by the Federal Land Bank, and this permitted running the road about twenty-five feet outside of the property line on one side of the road, making for greater safety to the children of the family inhabiting the house which the road passes at this point. This grant also provided many loads of fill material, badly needed.

The only equipment so far used are a grader and large scarifier, all other work being hand work, men breaking blasted boulders with 16 pound sledge hammers and using six pound hammers for drilling. Perfectly synchronized this hand drilling is a pretty piece of work and under the system this work has advanced rapidly. A long strip of road side is already drilled and waiting for the blasting which is under the supervision of Jacob Kramer, an expert powder man. He has blasted, with the aid of a crew of three men, all boulders on the construction and has been called on for help with other P. W. A. projects where great difficulty was involved. Blasting within eight feet of a house is a job requiring care and shows good workmanship.

Poles belonging to the Bell Telephone Company will be removed, as they are in many cases, now in the center of the new road-bed. Naturally only the worst of these curves have been eliminated as the cost would have been prohibitive but the new roads will be hard surfaced with comfortable grades, winding enough to retain the rural charm but straight enough so as not to present a hazard to the driver.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By MR. POWERS. RESOLUTION No. 35.

In the House of Representatives, July 6, 1936.

Each general election brings about a more or less extensive change in the membership of the House of Representatives. New faces appear in the places of experienced members at the opening of each regular session of the General Assembly. Practically all of these new members are unacquainted with legislative procedure and practices, and ofttimes with the structure and operation of the government of the Commonwealth and its municipalities.

Much time can be saved, and smoother and more efficient work can be accomplished during the early period of deliberations, if the members without previous parliamentary experience could be trained, before taking their seats, in the methods and practices, established by law and by rules and custom, that are essential for a prompt and effective carrying out of the functions of legislators; therefore be it

Resolved, That during the month of December immediately preceding each regular session of the General Assembly, the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives provide instruction in parliamentary procedure as it is applied in this House, and in the details of the system of State and local governments as they exist in this Commonwealth; such instruction to be given on such dates and at such places as shall be most convenient to the newly elected members who are about to enter upon their first term as members of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill providing for an appropriation of $40,577,000 and some dollars, together with the previous appropriations that we have made in this House, to wit, nine million, two million, and four million, provides for unemployment relief the total sum of $55,000,000.

There is controversy presently existing as to whether or not this figure of $55,000,000 is the correct figure. I am frank to say to the membership of this House that I do not think it is. However, it is important that this legislation be speeded, and with the knowledge of the fact that the members of the Senate, and particularly the Republican membership of the Senate, are giving careful study to the figures that they believe in their judgement to be correct, I intend to vote in favor of this bill in order to expedite its passage and enactment into law.

In so doing, I do not subscribe to the fact that the figure of $55,000,000 is the correct figure—I definitely state that I do not think that it is, but I am going to vote in the affirmative in order that the bill may go over to the Senate, and if it is amended or changed, a conference committee will then undoubtedly be appointed and I trust that the conferees, which will then be appointed, will endeavor to reach an amicable solution so that the unemployed in Pennsylvania may not be affected improperly.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia for the kind aid he is affording the Democratic majority in the passage of this bill. However, our best available figures indicate that the total of this appropriation, plus the appropriations that have already been passed by this House, which approximate the figure of $55,000,000, in reality and actually $54,294,000, represents the best available study of relief requirements from now until sometime in the middle of next year. You will notice that we have taken from the bill the restricting clauses that relegate or restrict this particular appropriation up until January 31, 1937. It is our hope that these moneys will last longer, but upon the available information supplied to us from all reliable sources available, the figure that is presented to this House represents the least adequate amount for relief requirements that can be appropriated at this particular session.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not feel that I would be true to the groups that I represent if I did not say something on this bill.

As has been said by the majority and minority floor leaders, it provides an appropriation, together with what has already been appropriated, of fifty-five million dollars to cover a period from May of this year until at least January 31st of next year, or possibly longer; I understood the majority floor leader to say until about some time the middle of next year. That is a very general statement and something which I think should be analyzed to some extent before we rush this measure through.

On several occasions, during the past few weeks, I have given some figures to the House to indicate the standards of relief which are being handed out at the present time by the SERB. I think it is generally agreed that the figures which are included in this bill will not permit of any substantial improvement in the standards of relief. According to the figures which were given to us by Dr. DeSchweinitz last week, the average for all relief purposes, except administration, during May was twenty-four cents per day per person, which is certainly not ample to live upon at the present time, in view of the fact that everybody agrees that the cost of living has increased seventeen per cent during the past year.

In that connection there is one feature to which I want to call particular attention to those members of the House who may not be primarily interested in the welfare of the unemployed, but are concerned with their local taxation problems back home.

If we are only going to allow for rent the sum of $1.77 per family per month, which is what the SERB figures for May shows was allowed, I think it should be obvious to everyone that it is impossible for families on relief to pay a rent sufficient or for the landlords to pay their taxes, with the result that your local communities are going to have increased difficulties in collecting your local taxes.

It also should be obvious that if you are going to limit the appropriation for relief to such an extent that you will have to take off of the SERB direct relief rolls a large number of persons and families and shift them to the poor boards and other local agencies, you are going to increase the burden upon your real estate taxpayers who pay the expenses of those agencies.

It, therefore, seems to me that before we rush this bill through, we should have a thorough discussion of just what it involves for the unemployed of Pennsylvania. This is the tenth week of this legislative session. I am sure that we all want to get through and go back home; the prospect of staying in Harrisburg through July and August is anything but inviting, but I do not believe that the majority of us are so anxious to get back home that we want to go before we have done the job for which this special session was primarily called, namely, taking care of the unemployed for the rest of the biennium, or at least until such time as the regular session next year will have the opportunity to carefully study the situation, and make the necessary appropriations and provide the taxes necessary to raise the funds. If we pass this appropriation bill, and I understand that there is going to be substantial opposition to it on the other side, but if we do pass it and go home, I am here today prophesying that one or two things will have to happen. Either the unemployed of Pennsylvania will not be adequately cared for or we will have to have another special session, and I do not believe that any of us want to come back to Harrisburg again for another special session before this year is out.

Now, just for a minute, let us look at these figures. I am not going to tire you by going into the details as I have done on a number of previous occasions, although I feel it is most important to a true understanding of this relief problem. Just let us consider the probabilities of the situation, dealing in the large figures, as we have been doing during our discussions of this matter in this special session. Dr. De Schweinitz tells us that the need will be approximately six million dollars a month. That is based upon several assumptions. The first is that the number on relief at the present time will not substantially increase or change during the next seven months, except that WPA has promised to take over thirty thousand which will supposedly reduce the relief rolls substantially during that period, and such a reduction is necessary if we are going to continue to maintain relief in Pennsylvania on the present standards. Mind you, when I say the "present standards," that means $1.77 per month for relief, it means clothing at the rate of $3.76 per month per family, and it means a food allowance of $20.45 per month for a family of nearly four persons.

Now, members of the House, I submit that those standards are insufficient, and they will not bear any further reduction, that any attempt to lower the standards below what they are now, is going to mean actual starvation, particularly for the children, and an investigation of the figures will show you that a great majority of the persons on relief are children. They are the ones that can least stand a reduction in standards, they are the ones who will suffer the most if those standards are cut down, and I do not believe that is what you want.

Ever since I have been in this House we have been told "it is no use treating this relief as a permanent thing, as a permanent problem; prosperity is just around the corner, everything will be all right in a short time."

Now, right on that point I think I should call the attention of the members of this House at this time to some of the figures that have been given out by the Relief Board within the last few days, at least within the past week. I have here the Pennsylvania Relief Bulletin for the first quarter of 1936, and I think every member of the House has received a copy of this bulletin, both here and at his home. According to the figures published in the appendix, table 1, the number of persons on direct relief in Pennsylvania in May, 1933, was 449,743. By May, 1934, one year later, this figure was reduced substantially, about 100,000, and it looked like we were getting somewhere, but then when we come forward another year, to May, 1935, we find the figure back up again to 447,125, or within two thousand of the number at the lowest period of the depression. In May of 1935 the figure was slightly over 447,000, and if you will remember, that was before the start of the WPA. Now, then, there has been a great deal of propaganda to the effect that we are recovering from the depression, that we are on the way back to prosperity. Figures have been broadcast, saying that production is back to normal, even a little bit above the normal for the ten-year period prior to 1929, and there is no question about the truth of those figures, but what has been the effect of this return to prosperity on unemployment in Pennsylvania, and that is a question which I think every member of this House should consider seriously in voting upon this measure. If you will get the figures from the Relief Board for May, 1936, you will find that there were 176,000 persons on direct relief. If you will compare that figure with the figure of May a year ago, you will find a difference of about 273,000, and that seems to bear out the impression that we are on the way back to prosperity, but then, on the other hand, if you will consult the WPA figures,—Dr. De Schweinitz states in a letter to Senator Gelder last week that the number of cases being cared for by the WPA in Pennsylvania was 272,000. If you add that to the 176,000 that are on direct relief, you get a figure of 448,000, which is approximately the same that it was in May, 1933, which is supposedly the bottom of the depression. In other words, direct relief and work relief in Pennsylvania will have about as many people to care for as they had at the worst period of the depression, and then when we consider those figures in the light of further information given to us by the Director of the Relief Board, namely, of the many thousands of cases which in 1933 were on the direct relief, have been transferred as unemployables to your poor boards and other agencies. We do not have the exact figure for the number, but they say many thousands, and if you add the many thousands to the 448,000, to total on direct relief and WPA, you get a figure which is even higher than that which we had on direct relief at the worst period in the depression.

I bring these figures before you members of the House, because they show conclusively that the problem of unemployment has not been solved, that private industry is not putting the unemployed back to work, even though they are producing practically as much as they did in the period of prosperity. The increase in the use of machinery has displaced workers to the extent that something like a half million less men produced in Pennsylvania as much as they were producing before, when those persons were employed. So we have to face the problem of the probability that private industry is not going to take very many off relief during the next seven months. We have faced it with the further fact that at this period of the year in any parts of the State there are quite a number of persons who are unemployed during the winter months, that have casual jobs in private industry. Those persons are going to become unemployed during the next few months. We have to face it further, and I feel this is more important than any of the others, with the certainty of the fact that as the winter months approach, many of the WPA projects have got to close down, they cannot operate through the winter on many of these outdoor projects, which are employing 272,000 in Pennsylvania at the present time. When those projects close down for the Winter, and when these persons casually employed in private industry are laid off, your direct relief rolls are going to increase, and the amounts which you have proposed in this appropriation bill are going to prove to be entirely insufficient, and then we are going to be up against the situation that the unemployed in Pennsylvania are either going to do without relief or we are going to have to have an increased appropriation which at that time will mean another special session of the Legislature.

Members of the House, we have had five special sessions during the past three terms of this Legislature. Do we want to add the expense of another one this year? Would not be better judgment for us to appropriate a larger sum of money without indication of how long it must last, but with the understanding that it is to be used properly and without waste and without extravagance, to take care of the unemployed as their needs show that it is necessary? Would it not be better to appropriate on that basis, and then if it proved that the figures that the gentlemen have estimated are sufficient, there would not be anything wasted? It would only mean that the next Legislature would have a little longer breathing spell, that they would not have to jump in and take care of the unemployment relief appropriation at once, when they came into session in the beginning of next year. I can see no disadvantage in increasing the appropriation, either from the viewpoint of the taxpayer or the Legislature or any one else, when you look at it from a long range view point, in taking care of the social problem we are met here to solve. If we do not do it that way and have to come back here, then we are certainly convicted of being inefficient and failing to do our duty, and we will be more unpopular than if we acted it boldly and bravely at the present time, and at the same time give the unemployed some assurance that they are going to have relief.

In conclusion, I want to make one other point. Do you think that it is fair to those persons who are involuntarily unemployed, who through no fault of their own are never able to obtain employment, to be continually faced with a dead line, beyond which there is no money for relief? How would you like to be on relief and have your family dependent for food, clothing and shelter and the other necessities of life upon a relief voucher, which you expected to get in this morning's mail, and then learned from the papers ithis morning that that voucher had not been mailed because the Legislature had made no appropriation? Now, that is what has happened to thousands of unemployed in Berks County and to thousands in the other counties throughout the State of Pennsylvania. That is what has happened repeatedly during the past month and what will likely happen again, unless we treat this problem on the basis of a long term program, rather than on the basis of trying to cover up for a few weeks.

Members of the House, we have been in session here since May 4th. When we started, relief was cared for one week in advance. They did not need any until May 11th. We have been here now ten weeks, and relief is exhausted. We are falling behind, it seems to me, rather than gaining. Are we going to consider this problem carefully or are we just going to rush this measure through, and go home and just forget about it until they are exhausted again, and then be forced to come back here again, and compel the taxpayers, whom some of you seem to be concerned about, to pay another half million dollars for an unnecessary, another special session of the Legislature. I appeal to you to consider this problem before you rush this bill through.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I intend to vote for this measure in view of the fact that I am happy to hear that both sides of the House have agreed on $55,000,000. However, I still believe that the $55,000,000 is inadequate to take care of relief until the 31st day of January next year. However, in order to continue relief I am going to vote for this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1936

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Father in heaven, what possibilities and potentialities are wrapped up in man! He is Thy child, sprung from Thy loins, bearing Thy likeness, inheriting Thy kingdom. True, he has wandered far from home and wasted his substance with riotous living. He has clothed himself with the rags of sinfulness and engaged in labor unworthy of his high estate, even striving to satisfy his hunger with the husks of selfishness and greed. Yet the image of his Father, covered by the stains of waywardness and the filth of sin, still persists. If he will but arise and go back home, Thou wilt meet him on the highway, give him a new robe, put shoes on his feet and a ring on his hand and spread a royal feast in his honor. Then the Father's image will again flash from his countenance.

Lead all of us, O God, to return to Thee, and abide in our Father's presence, under the influence of His love. In the name of our Elder Brother, we ask it. Amen.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 50

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 50, entitled:

An Act to limit the amount of moneys allocated to and expended in counties by the State Emergency Relief Board for the maintenance of unemployable residents to amounts expended by political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor for the maintenance of unemployable residents; and requiring such political subdivisions to make certain reports passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his point of order.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, my point of order is that there is not a quorum present.

The PRESIDENT. The point of no quorum is raised. The Clerk will call the roll and ascertain whether there is a quorum.

The roll was called, and the following Senators responded to their names:

Aron,	Harvey,	Miller,	Scott,
Baumer,	Homsher,	Owlett,	Shapiro,
Bean,	Howell,	Pierson,	Staudenmeier,
Buckman,	Huffman,	Prince,	Thompson,
Cavalcante,	Kahle,	Pytko,	(Centre)
Frey,	Law,	Rice,	Thompson,
Gelder,	Mallery,	Rodgers,	(Westmoreland)
Graff,	McClure,	Ruth,	Trainer,
Harris,	McCreesh,	Salus,	Woodward,

The PRESIDENT. Thirty-three Senators having responded to their names, a quorum is present.

And the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to explain this bill in brief fashion. In the first place, in consideration of this bill, we must divorce our minds of any question of the relief employables. This bill has nothing to do with the class that are known as employables. This bill is calculated to create an impartial administration of relief for unemployables throughout this State. The opposition to this bill which has just been voiced, and which has not been voiced heretofore, has come principally, if not entirely, from Philadelphia County. In every other county in the State except Philadelphia County, no county has been able to receive any assistance from the State Emergency Relief Board for the relief of unemployables. Now, I say that, and I want to emphasize that because I want to distinguish between relief for employables and relief for unemployables. In my county, while we have tried for years—ever since there has been an Emergency Relief Board—we have been unable to get one cent for relief of unemployables, and practically every other county is in exactly the same position. I have no quarrel with the City of Philadelphia having maintained by the Emergency Relief Board its 13,000 cases of unemployables, but I say to you, Mr. President, if Philadelphia can get that, there is no reason why other counties in this State cannot have relief for their unemployables. The Poor Districts throughout this State whether they are township, county, or divisions of counties, or the larger percentage of them, are busted, just the same as the City of Philadelphia, and yet when they have come to Harrisburg, time after time, there is not one of them that has ever been able to get a nickel out of the State Emergency Relief Board for the relief of their unemployables. Let me give you an example of what I mean: The small town of four thousand from which I come spends annually $7,500.00 to $8,000.00 a year for outdoor relief and maintenance, and poor houses in addition to that. In 1935 the budget of the City of Philadelphia for poor relief was $3,500, and yet the State Emergency Relief Board maintains 13,000 cases.

Now, we have no quarrel, we in the up-State, but we do want a situation created so that we can get help for our unemployables in other parts of the State as well as the City of Philadelphia, and it isn't fair to us, to every county in the State, to permit this situation to exist without some rectification.

Now, this bill is perfectly fair to everybody. It allows the State Emergency Relief Board to appropriate in each county as much as the Poor Districts in that county appropriates for poor purposes, and equalizes this burden of maintenance of unemployables. We have had to tax real estate in every other portion of the State right up to the limit for poor purposes. Our poor taxes are distressing to everyone, and yet we have not been able to receive any help from the State Emergency Relief Board, and I say to you, it is time that there is legislation passed in this Senate and in the House to correct the condition that exists in the distribution of relief to unemployables; and I question whether any Senator from up-State and from Philadelphia dares go back to his constituents and say that he has voted against a bill which will correct this discriminatory condition that exists all over the State on this question of unemployables.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I can talk freely on this bill because I was the only member of the Senate to vote against it. This bill was passed this morning without due regard to the effect on the rest of the State, indicating, to my mind, the fallacy of attempting to correct in this fashion a condition that cannot be corrected piecemeal. What the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, has said —that Philadelphia does have the largest share of unemployables—is true, but that is no reason why those unemployables should be dumped over night back on to the City of Philadelphia.

I might say that Philadelphia pays the largest portion of the taxes for upkeep of the State highways in Pennsylvania, and gets the smallest amount in return on its investment; and I say that in times like this, when we have all we can do to take care of our employables, there should not be a sudden change. After all, these citizens are not only citizens of Philadelphia but citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and the Mayor of Philadelphia came here yesterday in an effort to help solve the problem on which we are engaged—on the question of relief, and is seeking to stop $600,000 of expense being saddled on the City of Philadelphia, and the members of the Senate should not seek to saddle the people of Philadelphia with an expense of $300,000 per month, because the City of Philadelphia could not afford to assume the burden.

Now, so far as taking care of unemployables is concerned, it is not that Philadelphia has neglected it. Philadelphia this year is spending $200,000 on a shelter home, which has been built, and through the efforts of Mayor Wilson it is functioning. So that, Philadelphia has already appropriated $50,000 for that; it is all the money it can give; and because it makes a large expense on the Commonwealth so far as unemployment relief is concerned is no reason, I say, why they should be dumped at this time.

I agree there should be equalization, but certainly not equalization in one form and not in another form. If we could get back in road money the proper portion of what we pay, we will be able to take care of this situation; and I object at this time to such a condition being created as would be brought about by the passage of this bill.

Now, I have some figures with regard to unemployables that are being taken care of in the different counties. They are as follows: Allegheny County 3,690; Cambria County 546; Fayette County 1758; Philadelphia County 13,000; Westmoreland County 937; and the remaining 62 counties 2422 cases. I want to call attention to the fact that the figures I have read are December 1935 figures, because new figures are not yet available.

Under these circumstances, while the Senator from Centre, in theory, may be correct, practically it would be the worst thing to do—to dump these 13,000 cases on the streets of Philadelphia. If that is done there will be repercussions throughout the State; and I think on this motion to reconsider, the Senate should vote in favor of it.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to vote for reconsideration of this bill. It develops now as a most important question. But I do believe, if the motion for reconsideration is carried, the bill should be immediately placed on the postponed calendar, to give the Senators an opportunity to study it. I will vote for reconsideration, but I will follow it with a motion for postponing action.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think it has been an amazing development to learn here that Philadelphia has been getting the support of about 50,000 people while the people throughout the State otherwise than in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have received no support for this class. I think this bill is perfectly proper. It may be stated that Philadelphia pays more road money and gets less appropriation to take care of its streets; on the other hand, this is the richest community in the State of Pennsylvania, and is more able to pay more money, and more able to take care of its unemployables than they are in the country counties.

I think the State will be surprised to learn that the State Emergency Relief Board has been paying for the support of unemployables in the City of Philadelphia and in the City of Pittsburgh when the greatest objection we have had to the appropriations has come from some of the members from the City of Philadelphia—I refer to the appropriation for relief. They have been as strong as any other members here in trying to cut down the amount demanded by the Relief Board—a Relief Board made up of Republicans as well as Democrats, made up of men such as Mr. Waters, the State Treasurer, and Frank Baldwin, the Auditor General. Those two State officers, Republicans, are in accord with the amount that this Administration is asking to be appropriated at this time, to wit, $55,000,000; and I think it comes with poor grace from the City of Philadelphia, rich as it is, to ask the State's poor counties to continue to support these unemployables.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I do not have much to say in this proposition. You have heard pro and con, but these are days of adversity. In the days of our glory, when we lived in prosperity, when we knew nothing like want, when there were no people on the breadlines, and when our friends through the country lived in the sticks, away, far away, from the highways and byways that led to Philadelphia, Atlantic City and places of pleasure, we in Philadelphia who had money and were living prosperously, paid for the roads that dug them out of the sticks and brought them into daylight, into happiness and into contentment, so that they might live like human beings before God Almighty. And now, in the days of adversity, when we are on our knees praying to God Almighty and the world at large, that prosperity and happiness may once again dawn on our unfortunate neighbors and companions, we are down on our knees begging you people from the country to look God Almighty in the face, to look adversity in the face, to look these poor unfortunates in the face, forget your selfish interests and help us to redeem our unfortunates. May God show them the light of day; they are crying now as everybody else is crying, "Help these downtrodden people, my good friends. When you were in the sticks, we dug you out. For Gods sake, and for your own sake, dig these poor people out in Philadelphia now; give these white men a chance. That is all we ask of you."

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I do not unduly want to protract debate on the reconsideration of this bill, but I do want to call the attention of the Senate to the report of the Pennsylvania Relief Board, which we all have had before us for the last two or three days; and I want you to turn to page 20, and I want you to look at the counties in this State which have had the heaviest relief burden. You will see blocked out there, in the heaviest relief class, three counties—Philadelphia County, Clearfield County and Allegheny County. Those were the counties that had the heavy burden. If you will look at that chart, or map, in addition to that you will find that the next fifteen counties with heaviest relief burdens are what we might call, for lack of a better term, substantially rural counties. Out of these three counties which have had the heaviest relief burden, Philadelphia County has had 13,000 or has today 13,000 unemployables on relief. Admitting these figures of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, Allegheny County would have 3,000. Clearfield County, likewise in the same class, has not had one case, not one. Every other county included in the next groups, likewise has had not one case.

When the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, appeals to the charity and the generosity and the humanity of the other counties in the State, I say that we, from the up-State, appeal to the charity and generosity and humanity of the other members of this Senate. One would think there was no poverty, no distress or anything of that kind, from the Senator's speech, except in Philadelphia County. Mr. President, I say to you within the coal-mining districts of this State there has been equal distress, that those counties are loaded up with taxes on their real estate, and yet they cannot get any help. And you see from this chart, Mr. President, that one of the counties, which, according to the figures of the State Emergency Relief Board, one of the three counties with heaviest loads in this State, has not been able to get one penny of help from the State Emergency Relief Board.

Mr. President, I say to you that is not fair, that is not just; that the other counties are entitled to equal treatment. I agree with the Senator from Monroe that it comes with bad grace from the Senators of Philadelphia County, who are working day and night to cut down, to chop to pieces, the appropriations for relief for every other part of this State, and seem to be proud of it. Then they say to us in the country districts, "You cannot have a cent for your unemployables, and we have had 13,000 cases." Mr. President, I say to you there is nothing just about the attitude of the Senators from Philadelphia who do that, and there is no justice about the fact that we must be deprived in the up-State of getting any of this help which has been so lavishly spent in Philadelphia County. I appeal to this Senate to defeat the reconsideration of this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre has said that the Philadelphia Senators are engaged in trying to cut down the appropriations for relief. Does he include me in that group?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, no, I did not include Senator Shapiro in that; I said, "The Senators from Philadelphia County who are engaged in trying to cut down relief."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the proposition was a little weak, and I wanted the record corrected.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

Aron,	Graff,	Miller,	Ruth,
Batchelor,	Harris,	Owlett,	Salus,
Baumer,	Harvey,	Pierson,	Scott,

NAYS—4

Present and not voting: Law.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I shall be glad to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to know why the motion is made to place this bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, for the purpose of studying the bill, so we will all understand what it really means.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny whether he is aware of the fact that this bill has been on the Calendar since May 7th, has had three readings and has been before the Committee on State Government, and everybody in the Senate has voted for the bill except myself.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am aware of the fact, and the Senator from Philadelphia knows what I am going to answer him—and he expects this compliment—that he studies the bills thoroughly, and knows more about them than we do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is no compliment to me; I think that is rather a reflection on the rest of the Senators. I consider it no compliment.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I intend it as a compliment.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ARON and Mr. HOWELL and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Baumer,	Harvey,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Buckman,	Huffman,	Miller,	Staudenmeier,

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. ARON, from the Committee on Constitutional Changes re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 6, entitled:

Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, last week the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, though not speaking for his colleagues of the Republican majority, advanced his personal figures upon the amount of revenue necessary for relief needs from July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937.

It may be well for this Senate to do a little reflecting over those figures. The formula adopted by the gentleman has the earmarks of fairness and the figures used display an honest effort on his part to fairly solve the relief problem.

The formula appears to be as follows:

1. Find a basic and typical weekly relief expenditure upon which a fair relief estimate can be predicated with some degree of accuracy.

2. Accept, as fair and honest, the offer of Mr. Jones to take 33,000 direct relief cases from the rolls of the SERB, and

3. Allow a fair percentage for administration costs and purging of ineligibles from the relief rolls.

Following this formula, the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, has selected the week ending May 30 as a typical week of relief expenditure. The amount spent during that week was $1,248,305. This was the lowest weekly expenditure for this year.

One may well ask, without reflection upon the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, why select this week ending May 30th as the basic and typical weekly expenditure? Why not the week ending June 6th, 13th, 20th or 27th? Why not the week ending May 23rd, 16th, 9th or 2nd?

We may honestly differ with the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, in his selection of this particular week as a basic and typical week of relief expenditure. There should, however, be no difference of opinion among Republican and Democrat alike upon the fairness of the formula, and both should welcome it even though we must reject the week ending May 30th as a basic and typical week of relief expenditure.

The deduction of 17% and 5% for the transfer of 33,000 relief cases to WPA and the purging of ineligibles from relief rolls may appear slightly excessive. The allowance of 8% for administration costs is generous and ample. This administration cost should have been reduced long ago. The fault has been with this Senate and the House of Representatives.

But all in all, excluding the selection of the week ending May 30th as a basic and typical week of relief expenditure, the formula of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, is fair and, if accepted, will hasten the end of this special session. If we accept it the only problem before us will be the selection of a basis and typical week of relief expenditure. This basic and typical expenditure we will multiply by 30½; deduct 17% and 5%; deduct $1,000,000, and the result will be the amount needed for relief from July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937. In the selection of a basic and typical week we should have in mind our inability to presage the future with dogmatic precision. We must allow for providential and unforseen emergencies.

I think the basic and typical figure should be ascertained in this manner:

The total relief expenditures for the first quarter of 1936 amount to $22,976,292.98. There are 13 full weeks in that quarter. If we divide this expenditure by the number of weeks we get the average weekly expenditure of $1,767,407.15. This should be accepted as a basic and typical weekly relief expenditure by both Republican and Democrat. The figure is based on something tangible. If this is multiplied by 30½, the result will be $53,905,917.07. We then deduct 17% or the sum of $9,164,005.90 to allow for the transfer of 33,000 cases of direct relief to W. P. A. and remainder will be $44,741,911.17. From this the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, would deduct 5% or $2,237,095.56 to allow for the purging of ineligibles from the relief rolls, and the remainder will be $42,504,815.61; then add to this 8% or the sum of $3,400,385.25 and the total is $45,905,200.86. The amount of relief estimate necessary for the period July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937. In rough figures this is $46,000,000.

This sum, of course, includes the $1,000,000 already appropriated for the first week of July.

If we accept this estimate of 46 millions, when we meet again in General Session in January 1937, there will still remain an approximate period of four weeks before the end of the 30½ week period. Using the same basic and typical weekly figure of $1,767,407.15 there will still be $7,069,628.60 remaining of the 46 millions. On the other hand, should our estimate be wrong and that of 55 millions proposed by Dr. de Schweinitz be correct then the 46 millions will be exhausted. This will not necessarily result in hardship to the needy for we will then be in General Session and additional funds can readily be appropriated to meet the emergency.

I am not in accord with the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, that a deduction of 5% should be made for purging ineligibles from the relief rolls. This class of relief recipients includes all those cases where application for Mothers' Assistance, Old Age Assistance and Blind Pensions have been made but have not been taken care of due to our failure to provide sufficient funds. I would disallow this deduction and fix the actual relief needs from July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937 at $48,142,296.42, or roughly speaking, 48½ millions.

I make these remarks of my opinion and in the belief that the estimate of 35 millions allegedly offered by the Republican caucus is plainly inadequate.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered. To be laid aside for second reading.

STATEMENT BY MR. DENT

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement.

A recent United Press dispatch discloses the story that the Moomaw-Dent Unemployment Insurance Bill, House Bill 55, appears to be doomed in the Senate Insurance Committee which can be better called the Senate Vengeance Committee. This Bill was originally designed to meet regulations of the Social Security Act passed by Congress. Fourteen States and the District of Columbia now have Insurance Compensation Laws.

It is the attitude of the opposition that this Bill will be declared unconstitutional and therefore should not take up the time of the present Legislative Session. The proponents of the Bill advanced the thought that the enactment of this type of legislation will eventually strike a deathblow at the ever increasing unemployment; this unemployment being caused primarily by modern productive machinery and high speed methods. The fact that many of our industries are operating at a pre-depression rate of production, and the equally well known fact that the unemployment figure has not materially decreased is a convincing argument for the passage of this particular Bill. Under this Act no additional tax is placed on Pennsylvania employees. Any argument that this Act did cause Pennsylvania employees additional money is ridiculous in the face of the fact that the Federal Government is now collecting the necessary moneys to make this Act effective. The Federal Government will also provide the money for the administrative cost of this Act.

Unemployment insurance is a vital part of this Special Sesson. We are gathered here solely because of the unemployment question. We are entered into the tenth week of this Special Session without any particular beneficial measure being enacted. We find the arguments on this Bill the same stubborn do-nothing attitude of the Senate, acting as a stone wall between the needs of the people on one side and the will of the corporation on the other. It is high time that the citizens of this State take into consideration that the many taxes imposed at the last Regular Session as temporary measures will become permanent measures unless the Senate takes a different attitude and of their own free volition discuss such important questions as unemployment measures conscientiously and for the benefit of the greater number of our peoples.

The major features of this Act have been outlined in a summary issued by the Attorney General for the information of the General Assembly. This summary was given to every member of the House and a careful study of the facts disclosed will convince any Member of the House or the Senate that this Act is carefully drawn, meets all the requirements of the Social Security Act passed by Congress and will function for Pennsylvania, the enormous sum being deducted by the Federal Government from Pennsylvania payrolls. This is a serious feature of the proposed killing of this Bill. The fact that not only do the employees lose the benefits of the social security embodied in this Act but that enormous sums of Pennsylvania money will be lost to the citizens of Pennsylvania. The attitude of the State Senate is well outlined in a recent editorial in the Labor Record published in Philadelphia. This editorial states that during the hearing on the Bill the opponents were given a private hearing the day previous to the public hearing and that at the public hearing one hour and thirty minutes was allocated to the opposition while fifty minutes was allowed the proponents of the measure.

We find also that one of the men who spoke against the Bill admitted to the Committee that he was a professional paid representative, and another was a citizen of the State of Virginia, a traveling speaker sent forth to help keep unemployment compensation out of the States where such laws have not been enacted. As has been stated, fourteen States and the District of Columbia have already passed unemployment acts. It is interesting to note that these States represent 38% of the workers in America. We find on the opposition many of our large corporations and coal companies; while in favor of the Bill we find the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, State Department of Labor and the Pennsylvania Security League with its numerous affiliations. We only ask that the Senate be fair not only to the employees of this State, but to the employers as well. In their misguided judgment the majority members of the Senate, may believe themselves to be favoring Pennsylvania industries but in the face of the present Federal legislation, which deducts money from Pennsylvania payrolls, we believe the employers are being virtually defrauded while the employees are positively being deprived of that enjoyed by toilers in other States and to which they are justly entitled.

I want to say that I just received a copy of the new unemployment insurance bill introduced in the Senate by one of its worthy members. After looking the bill over I discovered that he has misinterpreted the idea of social security and unemployment insurance entirely. Instead of passing legislation to guarantee sort of a pay to the unemployed worker, the bill that has ben introduced in the Senate is an unemployment insurance bill for the corporation itself and not for its employes. We must and should use every bit of influence we may have with any of the members of the Senate in order that Pennsylvania does not lose the enormous sums of money that we stand to lose if we allow this bill inactivity to continue. Let us be decent and honorable citizens, and as such let us appeal to the Senate to do something on this particular bill. We believe the bill to be right. If it is not right, let us amend it to make it right, but do not let us sit idly by and watch our money being used by other states.

I want to thank you for your consideration.

RESOLUTION

Mr. MOOMAW offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

INTERROGATION

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREARY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Erie whether or not, under the provisions of this bill, all shares of stock or securities that are transferred or traded in in any brokerage house in Pennsylvania, will be taxed under this bill?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, by saying that he came to me this morning and wanted to add some further amendments that were not prepared. I just simply told him that this bill of mine had been delayed for weeks, and if he desired any further amendments, he should go to the Senate and have his amendments prepared and added there, to save time. So far as answering the technical question of the gentleman from Delaware, and I am free to confess I am unable to answer it, especially since I can understand only part of what he said.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I inform the gentleman from Erie that the amendments I suggested have no reference at all to the question which I asked him. May I repeat my question? My question was, are not shares of stock transferred, sold or exchanged in any brokerage house in Pennsylvania taxable under this law or this proposed bill. This has no reference to the amendments to which I referred this morning.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I will say, I don't know.

STATEMENT BY MR. SPROUL

Mr. SPROUL asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I understand the provisions of this bill, especially since I have talked to Mr. McCreary, all shares of stock traded in or transferred in any brokerage house in Philadelphia will be taxed. That means that all of that business in such brokerage houses shall be shifted to New York in order to avoid the Pennsylvania property tax, which would mean taking out of employment many hundreds of people already employed there. I ask the gentleman if he will not postpone the bill so that we may have a chance to look into the matter further, if he does not know.

Mr. McCreary. Mr. Speaker, I make the same answer—

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I want to answer the question of the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware has the floor for the purpose of making a statement.

Mr. McCREARY. He is asking a question, Mr. SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Delaware wish to further interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCREARY?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I do.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. McCREARY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Erie if he will not postpone this bill further until we have a chance to look into the question that I suggested to Mr. McCreary, regarding brokerage houses, so that it may properly be amended?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I have answered that question before by simply asking Mr. Sproul to have those amendments added in the Senate, if this bill got through this House. The bill has been delayed now for weeks and the time is altogether too short to hold it over any longer for further amendment in the House. It could just as well be added in the Senate, if and when the bill goes through the House. I still make the same answer.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Erie any guarantee that the Senate will make such amendments?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I do not see why they would not. They would be just as apt to make them as the House if the amendments are for the benefit of the State of Pennsylvania.

STATEMENT BY MR. SPROUL

Mr. SPROUL asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the answers of Mr. McCreary, I will have to exert my efforts against the final passage of the bill.

STATEMENT BY MR. McCREARY

Mr. McCREARY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want for a moment to have the members of this House think that I am trying to hurry anything through here that should not go through the House. I just feel like saying to you that this bill was introduced on May 18, 1936. It was, therefore, in a way, before the committee, if not before the House, for about seven long weks, and during that time all of the members of the House have had time to read it and investigate it, at least since it came out of committee. I have had several people come to me and ask for amendments, and I have taken them over to Mr. Fertig's office, and compared this bill with the bill of Mr. Harkins that went through this House a few days ago and have adopted amendments. Objection was made to that. We had a man come over from the Revenue Department and ask for some further amendments. We delayed the bill to add this amendment, and now for the third time the gentleman from Delaware asks to have it further amended. I told him frankly this morning that I thought they had better allow this to go through the House, if it were going through, and get over to the Senate and be amended there. I still think that that is the proper and reasonable thing to do. If there is to be any hope of getting this bill through during this session, it should not be delayed any longer. Therefore, I feel justified in continuing my request to the gentleman from Delaware to permit this bill to go through the House now, and have whatever amendments he wished to add, included in the bill when it gets over to the Senate.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. MOOMAW. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 37.

In the House of Representatives, July 8, 1936.

Whereas, The raising of revenue to provide funds for continuing relief in Pennsylvania is of great concern to all members of the Legislature and citizens of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, It is the desire of the members of the Legislature that of all moneys provided for disbursement by the State Emergency Relief Board, the very minimum should be expended for administrative purposes so that every possible dollar can be used for furnishing actual relief or providing administrative or other employment for persons in whose families such employment will further the use of the relief money, and

Whereas, It is clearly evident that many persons are employed by the SERB who are members of wealthy families or families with large incomes from other sources and such positions could be filled by qualified persons in need of such employment, and

Whereas, The SERB has in the past required most persons, whom they employ, to have training in social service work or related fields including settlement house work, camp counseling, boy scout work and club work and it is common knowledge that persons from families of only average income can not afford to educate their children along these lines; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the State Emergency Relief Board be directed to place in effect the following to minimize administrative costs and where possible provide employment only in families where needed,

1. That, on and after the first day of the month immediately following the passing of this resolution, no salary, wages or other compensation shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated to more than one person from a family consisting of his or her wife or husband, parents, children, brothers or sisters, who occupy the same domicile, and no salary or wages shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated to any person hereafter employed unless he or she has been a resident of this Commonwealth for at least six months at the time of employment.

2. That, on and after the first day of the month immediately following the passing of this resolution, no salary, wages or other compensation shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated to any person, other than the director and six other employes selected by the director, if the combined total net income of such person and his or her wife or husband, parents, children, brothers and sisters, who occupy the same domicile with such persons, from sources other than such salary, wages or other compensation exceeds two thousand one hundred dollars ($2,100) annually.

3. That no moneys appropriated shall be paid for salaries, wages or other compensation to any person selected to fill any position after the passing of this resolution if a certain amount of scholastic training was required of the person as a prerequisite to qualifying for the position, unless such qualifications are specifically designated by act of assembly, nor to any person selected by written or oral examination to determine qualifications of applicants for such position, in which examinations questions having no direct bearing on the duties of the position are used.

4. That, commencing with the first day of the month immediately following the passing of this resolution, all salaries paid out of the moneys appropriated and made available for the payment of salaries, shall be limited as follows: The director only may receive a salary at a rate higher than five thousand six hundred dollars ($5,600) annually. Three (3) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than five thousand six hundred dollars ($5,600) each annually. Three (3) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than four thousand eight hundred dollars ($4,800) each annually. Three (3) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than four thousand two hundred dollars ($4,200) each annually. Four (4) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than three thousand eight hundred dollars ($3,800) each annually. Five (5) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than three thousand four hundred dollars ($3,400) each annually. Six (6) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than three thousand one hundred dollars ($3,100) each annually. Eight (8) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than two thousand eight hundred dollars ($2,800) each annually. Twelve (12) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than two thousand six hundred dollars ($2,600) each annually. Twenty-five (25) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) each annually. Forty (40) other employes may receive salaries at a rate not higher than two thousand two hundred dollars ($2.200) each annually. No other employes may receive salaries at a higher rate than two thousand one hundred dollars ($2,100) each annually.

5. That in no event shall over seven per centum of the total amount appropriated for use by the SERB for any month after thirty days after the passing of this resolution, be used to pay all administrative expenses of any kind whatsoever.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. WEISS. HOUSE BILL No. 161.

An Act making an appropriation to the Water and Power Resources Board for payment into the Flood Control Fund for flood control purposes.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

RESOLUTION REFERRED

By Mr. FITCH. RESOLUTION No. 38.

In the House of Representatives, July 8, 1936.

Whereas, The Constitution of Pennsylvania makes it mandatory that after each United States Decennial Census, there shall be made a reapportionment of the State Representative Districts so that there shall be one representative for each ratio of one-two-hundredths of the total population of the State; and

Whereas, In the City of Philadelphia there are twenty-seven Representative Districts having a total of forty-one Representatives; and

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia had at this last United States Decennial Census, a population of approximately two million people there should be one Representative for approximately each fifty thousand persons; and

Whereas, In the City of Philadelphia at the present time, there are a number of Representatives who represent a district having a population of only fifteen thousand; and

Whereas, In other Representative Districts in the City of Philadelphia, there are Representatives who represent as high as one hundred and fifty thousand persons; Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of five (5) members who are from the City of Philadelphia, to make a survey and plan of reapportionment of the Representative Districts of Philadelphia and to submit such survey and plan with their recommendations to the next session of the General Assembly.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHORTZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 2 of title, by striking out the word "erect" and insert in lieu thereof "provide for protection against floods by erecting and constructing certain works and improvements located within or without their territorial limits and within or without the county in which situate; and to expend moneys and incur indebtedness, to assess benefits against property benefited to issue improvement bonds imposing no municipal liability, and to acquire, take, injure or destroy property for such purposes"

Amend title, page 1, line 5 of title, by striking out the words "dykes, river bank pro-"

Amend title, page 1, lines 6, 7 and 8 of title, by striking out all of said lines

Amend bill, page 1, by inserting after line 5, the following sections: "Section 2. Any municipality may erect or construct dykes, river bank protection and other flood control works, and may widen, deepen, straighten and otherwise improve the channels and banks of creeks, streams and rivers within or without its territorial limits, and within or without the county in which such municipality is situated, if such works and improvements will be of benefit to the municipality providing the same, and to the inhabitants thereof."

Any two or more municipalities may jointly erect, construct and provide such works and improvements within the territorial limits of any municipality joining or within the territorial limits of some other municipality and within or without the county in which such municipality or municipalities are situate.

No such works or improvements shall be erected under the provisions of this act in any municipality not joining in the erection or construction thereof, unless such municipality shall first consent thereto.

Nothing contained in this section or in this act shall be deemed to authorize any municipality to erect or construct any dam for flood control or other purposes.

Section 3. No such works or improvements involving an expenditure by any municipality or municipalities of more than three hundred dollars ($300) shall be erected, constructed or provided, except by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder after due advertisement once a week for two successive weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation: Provided, however, That no contract shall be required to be let for the performance of the work on any such work or improvement where the cost of the labor shall be paid by the Federal Government or any agency thereof, without cost to the municipality or municipalities.

Section 4. Any municipality may expend public moneys and may in accordance with existing law, incur or increase its indebtedness for the purpose of erecting, constructing and providing such works and improvements in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Section 5. Any municipality shall have power to acquire any private property, easements or rights of way deemed necessary for the erection or construction of any such works or improvements by purchase or by the right of eminent domain, and shall have power to enter upon, injure and destroy any private property deemed necessary. The proceedings for the condemnation of property and for the assessment of damages to property taken, injured or destroyed shall be in accordance with existing law providing for the assessment of damages and benefits where property is taken, injured or destroyed by such municipality for municipal purposes.

Section 6. Any municipality shall have power to provide for the assessment of benefits against private property located within its corporate limits, benefited or to be benefited by such works or improvements. No assessment of benefits shall be made against private property unless, in the opinion of the board of viewers making the assessment, such property will be benefited by the prevention or lessening of future flood damage. The fact that private property has been damaged by flood, arising directly or indirectly from the waters of the creek, stream or river on which the work is being done or improvement provided, shall be conclusive evidence that benefit will accrue to such property by reason of the works or improvements to be provided under the authority of this act. No exemption from benefits shall exist for any private property by reason of the fact that the same does not abut on any such work or improvement or on the creek, stream or river carrying the flood waters.

Section 7. The court of common pleas of any county shall, upon the petition of any municipality located within such county, appoint a board of three viewers from the county board of viewers, whose duty it shall be to assess all benefits to private property to be occasioned by such works or improvements after the same are completed. It shall be the duty of the authorities of any such municipality to furnish to each board of viewers so appointed, a complete set of any official plans which it may have adopted, showing the proposed works and improvements and the private property within its corporate limits which will be benefited by such proposed works or improvements.

Section 8. The viewers having been duly sworn or affirmed, faithfully, justly and impartially to decide and a true report to make concerning all matters before them or to be submitted to them, and in relation to which they are authorized to inquire, and having viewed each parcel of private property which it appears will be benefited, shall hear all parties and their witnesses, and shall determine the benefits, if any, to accrue to each such parcel of private property, and shall prepare a schedule of such property, showing the amount of benefits assessed against each parcel of property.

Section 9. The viewers shall give notice to all persons against whose property benefits have been assessed of a time and place when and where the viewers will meet and exhibit their schedule, and hear all exceptions thereto. Such notice shall be given by registered mail, addressed to the last known post office address of the owner or reputed owner of the property, and by publication once a week for two weeks in at least two newspapers of general circulation in such municipality or in the county, if so many be published therein. The failure of an owner to receive the registered notice shall not be deemed to invalidate the proceedings, but in such cases the notice by publication shall be deemed sufficient.

Section 10. After hearing all parties and their witnesses and after making whatever changes in their schedule are deemed necessary, the viewers shall prepare a revised schedule of benefits to private property and file a copy of the same in the court of common pleas of the county. When the report of viewers is filed, it shall be confirmed nisi, and notice thereof shall immediately be given by the board of viewers by publication once in the newspapers in which the notice of the hearings before the viewers was published. Such notice shall state the date of the filing of the report, shall contain the schedule of property assessed, and shall state that unless exceptions are filed thereto, or an appeal to the court of common pleas is taken therefrom, within thirty days from the filing of the report, the same will be confirmed absolutely.

Section 11. Within thirty days after the filing of the report of viewers, any person interested may file exceptions to the same or may appeal to the court of common pleas and demand a jury trial.

Each person filing exceptions or taking an appeal, shall except to or appeal from so much of the report only as affects property in which he has an interest, and the part of the report of the viewers not excepted to or appealed from, shall be confirmed absolutely after said thirty day period.

Section 12. Where exceptions to a report of viewers are filed, the court shall proceed to hear and determine the same in the manner exceptions to reports of viewers are generally proceeded with within the county. Where an appeal is taken, it shall state the grounds upon which it is taken and shall be accompanied by an affidavit that it is not taken for the purpose of delay, but because the appellant believes that injustice has been done.

Upon the trial of any appeal, or the hearing of any exceptions, in case the appellant or party excepting does not obtain a verdict or decree more favorable than was the report of viewers, he shall not recover any costs.

The court of common pleas shall order what notices shall be given in connection with such proceedings, by exceptions or appeals, and may by rule or otherwise, prescribe the form of the pleadings.

The court may also, in proper cases, consolidate proceedings by exceptions or by appeals, into a single proceeding.

Section 13. Any person aggrieved by an order of court upon exceptions filed or the determination of the case where a jury trial was demanded, may, within thirty days after such final order or determination and not thereafter, appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court, as the case may be.

Where an appeal is taken to the Supreme Court and an appeal is also taken to the Superior Court, and the appeals in both cases are substantially the same or involve the same questions, the Superior Court may certify such appeal to the Supreme Court to be heard with other appeals from the same report.

The Supreme or Superior Court shall consolidate all appeals coming before it from the same report and hear them as one case except that cases arising from exceptions shall not be consolidated with those arising from appeals.

Where an appeal is taken to the wrong court, such court shall certify the same to the court to which it should have been taken.

Section 14. All assessments of benefits shall become due and payable to the municipality when the works and improvements have been completed, which date shall be fixed by the official order of the corporate authorities of the municipality, notice of which order shall be published by the board in the newspapers in which notice of the hearing before the viewers was published, by one insertion.

Any person may pay any part or all of the benefits assessed against him to the municipality before the due date thereof. If such payment is made within one month after the amount of the benefits have been finally ascertained, a discount of ten per centum of the amount thereof paid shall be allowed. All benefits or any part thereof, paid after such one month period and before the date of the completion of the works and improvements, shall be subject to a discount of five per centum of the amount paid. All assessments of benefits or parts thereof, remaining unpaid when the improvements are completed, shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of the completion of the works or improvements until paid.

The municipality shall send by registered mail, addressed to the last known post office address, a statement of the amount due by each person, after the same has been finally ascertained, together with a notice of the discounts allowed by this act for prompt payment, and when, or approximately when, interest will be added to the amount due.

Section 15. All assessments for benefits against private property shall remain a lien thereon from the time the report of viewers is filed in court until paid, unless the liens thereof be lost by failure to revive the same. It shall be the duty of the municipality within six months after its order that the works and improvements have been completed, to file in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county, liens for all benefits assessd which remain unpaid. But no such lien shall be filed unless the municipality shall first notify by mail, addressed to the last known post office address of the owner or reputed owner of the property against which an assessment has been made, of its intention to have said lien filed if payment of the amount due is not made before a time prescribed by the municipality. Such lien shall be filed in the same manner as is provided by law for the filing of municipal claims and shall have priority over all other liens, except taxes and other municipal claims, and except also mortgages and judgments of record prior to the time the report of the viewers was filed in court.

Such liens shall be revived, prosecuted to judgment, executed and collected by the municipality in the same manner in all respects as is provided by law in the case of municipal claims.

Section 16. In order to enable municipalities to erect and construct the works and improvements authorized by this act, if benefits are to be assessed against private property as herein provided, the municipality may issue improvement bonds based solely upon the assessment of benefits made or to be made by reason of such works and improvements and imposing no municipal liability.

Section 17. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to repeal the provisions of any law, the enforcement of which is vested in the Department of Health or the Sanitary Water Board, or the provisions of any law, the enforcement of which is vested in the Department of Forests and Waters or the Water and Power Resources Board.

REQUEST TO MAKE STATEMENT

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask the unanimous consent of the House to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Dauphin to make a statement? Are there objections?

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a member of this House, I feel that I might be open to serious criticism on the part of the people living within the district that I represent who are on relief and without funds if I did not make every effort within my power to provide some immediate relief for them.

I understand that this House is about to adjourn in a few minutes without doing anything today for the immediate aid of those who are in distress and are without any funds.

Now, this House can and should do something, and the only thing that this House can do is to transfer some funds for the immediate assistance of those on relief.

I want to point out to you that even if the House and the Senate immediately agreed upon a tax program there could be no money made immediately available for relief without transfers, that no money could be made available, because it was only yesterday that a Democratic member of this House introduced a bill to provide for tax anticipation notes for—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair will state his point of order.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the gentleman is speaking under the question of personal privilege. I request that the Chair read the rule in this matter.

Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my objection.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair withdraws his objection. The gentleman from Dauphin will proceed.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is my purpose to make my remarks as nearly non-political as possible.

I have no desire to attempt to place the blame for the present situation on one party or the other. I have no desire to place the blame on any individual member of this House. My only purpose is to try and provide immediate relief for the people in my district, who are cut off and who have been cut off from their food orders all of this week, and the only way I see that I can be of any help to them is to try and persuade this House to transfer sufficient money to tide over until this compromise, which now seems very imminent, becomes a fact, and I regard that as my duty.

RESOLUTION

TRANSFERRING FUNDS

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the introduction of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman is asking unanimous consent to have the resolution read?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has asked unanimous consent to offer a resolution?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I will change my request and ask to have it read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is not a privileged resolution.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

RULES SUSPENDED

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, in order that this resolution may be considered immediately, I move that Rule 84 and Rule 14 be suspended so that this resolution may be given immediate consideration. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I second the call for a roll call.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my objection to having the resolution read.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, asks unanimous consent to offer a resolution and have it read for the information of the House. Will the House give its unanimous consent? Are there objections?

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, is it a privileged resolution?

The SPEAKER. It is not a privileged resolution.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections, and consent is not granted. Does the gentleman from Dauphin insist upon his motion to suspend the rules?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. I do, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion to suspend the Rules 84 and 14?

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to say that I do not think that this is any time to play politics. The treasury is empty. We have a lot of people in this State that need something to eat. Now, for God's sake forget politics, and if the gentleman from Dauphin has some method whereby we can get the money to take care of these people, why, vote for it, and put it across, and forget the politics.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to ask the Democratic majority to vote to suspend the rules of this House, which will enable the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, to have his resolution read.

I feel sure that by the presentation of this resolution and the opportunity for this House to express its vote upon the resolution, when it is presented to this House for that purpose, we will then have a clear cut issue presented to this House and to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, whereby they can decide how the problem of relief can be met. I ask the membership of this House to aid in that effort by suspending the rules.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my request for a roll call.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my second for a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to suspend Rules 84 and 14?

On a rising vote, one hundred and sixteen members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative the motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 8, 1936.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby authorizes the Governor and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth to transfer to the General Fund from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, the sum of $1,000,000 for the purposes of making the same available for expenditure for unemployment relief purposes.

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby pledges that it will pass at this session of the General Assembly appropriate legislation, (1) validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making the transfer authorized by this resolution; (2) appropriating to the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes the sum of $1,000,000; and (3) providing revenue by taxation or otherwise to repay moneys transferred under the authority of this resolution from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund.

Mr. WICKERSHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution.

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House,

We have been session nearly two months. When we came here we were told an emergency existed. We met that emergency temporarily by transfer of funds from various special funds available.

This House has passed revenue raising measures sufficient to carry the State safely into January or February, when the next regular session of the Legislature will meet. If these measures are not satisfactory to the conservative and reactionary Senate, then let them bring these measures out of committee and defeat them on the floor.

The apparently extremely conservative Senate has met this situation only by the transfer of funds, showing their willingness to deplete the State Treasury to the last cent. Should we continue to transfer funds, the State Treasury and all special funds will become exhausted and cause a complete breakdown of our various agencies, such as Mothers' Assistance, Old Age Assistance, and pensions to the Blind; also appropriations to our hospitals and school districts.

Surely these agencies are just as important and deserve as much consideration as unemployment relief.

The blockade by the Senate, under disguise, to save the taxpayer money is, in reality, a blockade to break down the present Administration.

I, therefore, feel justified in taking the stand that this emergency is to be prolonged indefinitely, a selfish motive by the so-called conservative Senate, for political purpose only.

I hereby serve notice that I will not support future transfer of funds in this session, and strongly urge the membership of this House to give this matter serious consideration, keeping in mind the motive of the reactionary Senate in back of it all.

Let's force the issue and compel this Senate to take action one way or the other, and not use the taxpayers' money and time by prolonging this session.

This situation can be met. Let them offer a compromise, as has been offered by Governor Earle and flatly refused.

I leave this matter to your judgment. Is the Pennsylvania Senate a legislative body or a body trying to build up a Fall campaign at the taxpayers' expense, when they refuse to consider or duplicate the program offered them and frankly admit by the passing of resolutions transferring funds that revenue raising measures are necessary.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, ever since we convened this session, we have been confronted with the same Republican stop-gap measures that we are confronted with at the present time, namely, the transfer of special funds to meet the emergency of the relief crisis which the State of Pennsylvania is now facing.

We have gone along with these measures up until the present time, until the special funds have been practically entirely exhausted. At the present time we are facing a crisis because the Highway Fund has been robbed. Measures have been introduced but no measures have been enacted by the Senate which will provide for the repayment of these funds.

I feel very strongly that we should not go into any further robbing of special funds, because it affects every citizen of our Commonwealth. It not only affects the people here in Harrisburg but our local school districts, our Mothers' Assistance Fund, our road building funds, and things of that kind.

I am asking the members at this time to join with me in voting down such a resolution, and thus put the Republican members on the spot and show exactly where we stand: we stand for the raising of taxes to provide for relief for the State of Pennsylvania and not for any further transfer of funds.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, during the ten weeks that we have been here we have heard many discussions on the problem of relief.

However, the person most vitally interested in relief is the person on relief. It means his sustenance, it means his living, it means whether he shall exist in misery or whether he shall exist on the government requirements set forth by our State Emergency Relief Board.

It is about time that we took into consideration how these people who are on relief feel about this stop-gap legislation we have been indulging in. It has been my good fortune to talk with leaders of the unemployed movement, the members of the Workers' Alliance, the Unemployment League and other organizations representing the unemployed. They have this to say: they say that they would rather starve for three, four or five days or even a week than slowly starve over a period of six, seven or eight months. And my friends, that is the word of the people who are on relief. They have had a fine example during these past ten weeks of what they must go through. They must from day to day face the spectre of hunger and starvation in their homes. They have actually at this time been facing this prospect for two or three days without relief of any kind in sight.

My friends, if you vote for this piece of stop-gap legislation, you are simply putting that same problem before them. There is not a man in this House who would want to live from day to day, with that prospect always present before him, that perhaps tomorrow or perhaps next week it shall stop altogether.

It is not any fault of theirs that they are on relief; the work is not here. I am not going to enter into politics by saying that it was the Republican party that brought on the depression or that it is the Democratic party that is bringing us out of the depression. I am here to treat the facts as they exist. The fact is that these people need relief, they do not want the relief coming to them day by day, week by week, with three or four days without any sort of relief whatsoever. In other words, they are anxious to have a showdown, and so are we anxious to have a showdown.

Many of you men get on your feet and you say how you feel for the starving and how you want to feed the people back home, but I notice that many of those same men who get on their feet with sympathy for the starved, when it comes time for to vote for relief, they vote "no."

My friends, don't serve with the lips, serve with the heart if you intend to serve. If you do not intend to serve with the heart, don't try to serve with the lips. These people are the people who are interested. They are willing to have a showdown right here and now as to what they are going to get and when they are going to get it.

I think it is the duty of every member of this House, regardless whether he is a Republican or a Democrat, to fulfill the wishes of the people who are vitally interested in relief, namely the people who are on relief.

I, therefore, ask the members of the House to vote against any further transfers and insist upon a showdown and tell them exactly what they may expect.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose this resolution. I voted for the bills that Mr. VanSickle spoke about to raise revenue to take care of the hungry, the starving and the suffering.

I have heard a great deal of controversy, both pro and con, as to the amount of money that should be given over for taking care of the unfortunate people of the State of Pennsylvania, but I would very, very much rather vote for a few extra million dollars than see one person in our state starve. I think the transfer of these funds is only adding oil to the fire, because in the transfer of the motor and liquid fuel moneys you are stopping one of the greatest works within the confines of the Keystone State, and that is the building of country roads for the farmers of our state, and it is about time you stop putting the Highway Department in the red.

Indeed the members of this House have been going so far in the transfer of these sacred funds that they have transferred money from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund. They have, of course, repaid all these funds that they borrowed with the exception of the money from the Motor Fund.

I think it is about time that this House and the Senate get together, not only to give sufficient money for relief purposes, but to raise sufficient money to repay money that we honestly owe the Motor Fund, so I ask the members of this House, the Republican members especially, to vote against any of these resolutions that take out these funds that were raised for particular purposes; let us stop this fooling and get down to hard work.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am opposed to this resolution not because it transfers money from one of the prohibited funds or specialized funds, I, for one, believe that no funds in the hands of the Treasurer of the State of Pennsylvania are so sacred that they cannot be given to those who are starving.

On the other hand, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am fully conscious of the fact that hundreds, thousands of people in the state of Pennsylvania tonight have their eyes turned toward this General Assembly, and rightfully so.

For ten weeks we have heard speeches and figures on top of figures. We have been here and we have accomplished practically nothing.

We do not need to be disturbed about the starving people, for I am firmly of the opinion that when people feel that those who are representing them have failed to represent them, they will take the government in hand and put others in who will represent them. I feel that the verdict in this matter is entirely in the hands of the people, so that they will render a true decision and the decision will be something like this: There is sufficient money in the State of Pennsylvania to feed them, and they will find out why that money has not been forthcoming.

When they render that verdict the handwriting on the wall will show those who are guilty of withholding these funds, and I am firmly convinced that they would rather see us stay here until the General Assembly meets in January than to put them in the position of looking forward every week to find out whether or not we are going to transfer from week to week and from day to day the money to meet the needs of the starving people.

I say to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that I, for one, have firmly made up my mind to vote for no more transfers, and I am going to go back home and face the starving people in my community, and I believe they will agree with me when I say we have stooped low enough because of this industrial autocracy, that we have to depend upon assistance from the state, but we will not stoop low enough to return to this Hall those who are responsible for this situation, and as a result we do not know from day to day where our sustenance is coming from. In fact, Mr. Speaker, I think that I voice the sentiment of the people when I say that we should stay here and that we should not vote for any more transfers, and if we do not get the tax bills out of the Senate, then the people will come here and get them out themselves.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I arise in opposition to this resolution, and in doing so I want to further bear out my colleague, Mr. Gates, in the statement as to how it affects the counties in their present road building programs.

Last week I spent fully two hours with our board of commissioners, discussing a subject that is very vital to Mifflin County, and that subject was that we have the opportunity of spending in our county $41,829 on a piece of road, which is very necessary in our county and which will be financed by the Federal Government along with State funds. There is a measly $2000 damage to be paid by the County Commissioners of our county and we will receive in return, a piece of road that will give to us $41,829 in value.

The County Commissioners were fair, and they produced at that time a letter from the Liquid Fuels Tax Board, in which it was stated that it was absolutely impossible for the county of Mifflin to receive the funds that it is entitled to out of the Liquid Fuels Tax and inasmuch as our county has already established its budget and is working on that budget, with the amount of money included in that budget to be received from the Liquid Fuels Tax Bureau, they are absolutely unable, financially unable, to furnish the necessary funds to expend in our county the sum mentioned.

Now, we can't continue on indefinitely transferring funds. That is the situation in Mifflin County, and I dare say if each and every one of you will meet with the board of commissioners in your home county, you will find exactly the same financial condition in which they find themselves.

We are not only not helping permanently those who are on relief, but we are making it impossible, through the continuous transferring of funds, for the unemployed to have any work, because of our continually setting aside funds out of special funds. It is absolutely necessary right now for the House to go on record and make it known definitely to the citizens of Pennsylvania that they are not any more interested in transferring funds; that they are absolutely going to face the issue as it exists and act accordingly, like men, not like children afraid to face the issue. Let us stand together and defeat this motion and in doing so we are placing ourselves once and for all before the citizens of Pennsylvania as a body capable and well able to do the job for which we were sent here.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not one those members who has more concern for an automobile than for somebody who is hungry. The only issue that is before us tonight is whether or not you want to let the people of Pennsylvania who are on relief starve. Your vote tonight will be an answer to those people, whether or not you want them to starve for the next week.

There has been a great deal of talk about stop-gap legislation, but I want to point out to you that even if the Senate and the Governor agree immediately on how much shall be appropriated, and even if they pass these tax bills as speedily as possible, there can be no relief until late next week without transfers.

There can be no relief because we have just begun to start in motion the machinery for selling tax anticipation notes and until that act passes this House and passes the Senate and is signed by the Governor, no money can be raised through the sale of those notes, and until that time, unless you transfer the money, there won't be any food for the people of Pennsylvania, who are starving, and that is the issue which is before us.

It does not require any great foresight to see that that figure is about to be agreed upon between the Governor and the Senate. The evidence of it is practically before us. The Senate is going to stay here all week, and I for one feel certain that in a very short time the Democratic Governor will agree with the Republican Senate on what the amount is that is needed. The question now is, what are we going to do until that money can be given to the people, the only thing that we can do is to transfer sufficient money to tide over that period. As soon as those tax anticipation notes are sold, that money can be returned to the Liquid Fuels Tax and within two or three weeks that should be done. And no automobile is going to be cut off the highways in that short time.

I have also heard a great deal said by the other side of the House about stop-gap legislation, about the fact that we have been here for ten weeks. Surely, it is just too bad that we have been here for ten weeks in trying to solve a very important problem like this one. If we had passed what the Democratic Governor wanted in about two weeks, we would have appropriated seventy million dollars and if we could have relied on the Democratic Administration and its leadership, we might have been justified in accepting their figures, but the uncontradicted facts show that the Democratic Administration in Pennsylvania when it called this special session did not know anything about the relief problem. The Governor himself came in some time afterward and admitted that his figures were too high, and he agreed that they could be cut down to fifty-five million, and now, if the newspapers quote him correctly, I believe he states that even that figure is wrong and that forty-nine million and some hundred thousand dollalrs will be enough. Is it any wonder with an administration like that, we have to stay here for ten weeks to try and solve the problem.

And now, you men may like to pass tax bills, you may like to stick unnecessary levies and unnecessary burdens upon the people of Pennsylvania, but there are other men who do not. I, for one, am ready to support a tax program as soon as we know what amount is needed for relief, but that is not the question that we are called upon to decide in this resolution. The thing that we are called upon to decide is, are we going to take care of the people that are hungry for the next week, until we can get together and finally solve this matter. If you vote "no" on this resolution, you will say to the people in your community that you are going to let them starve until the compromise is reached. I, for one, submit to this House that we should pass this resolution and take care of the needy in Pennsylvania pending final settlement of this dispute.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it was my portion some three years ago to rise on the floor of this House upon a somewhat similar occasion. The majority members of this Assembly had defeated measures designed to install an old age pension system. The question before the House was the appointment of a commission to study the situation. I said then that the hour of retribution had arrived and I said that we were witnessing the passing of power from what was then the major group to what was the minority group. And that prediction came true. We have likewise tonight arrived at the hour of retribution. Just as three years ago, it was proposed to establish a commission to assist the aged, it is now proposed to toss them a million dllars and it is proposed to toss them a million dollars as the foretaste of the program of unemployment relief, based upon what? Upon anything from twenty-one million dollars to fifty-five million dollars, with the controlling opinion in one branch of this House apparently veering in the direction of twenty-one millions. I said to some of my colleagues several weeks ago that we were not fighting the issue of transfers, that the question pending before the General Assembly was properly the entire amount, and that by a system of transfers, it was being proposed that the entire amount be cut down. If the gentleman from Dauphin was prepared to come before this House speaking with authority, if he and those who serve with him would enact legislation in a certain definite amount, we could go along with his proposition if the amount was within reason, but there has been no such proposal.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin made some reference to tax anticipation notes. Against what would he issue the notes?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria I would say that it is my impression that there are a number of revenue raising bills held within the Senate and the tax anticipation notes will be against these revenue raising bills that are passed by the Senate when concurred in by this House.

Mr. Andrews. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what revenue measures now pending in the Senate received the benefit of the gentleman's support.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, I will be very happy to make my position clear on the revenue bills to which he refers. I consider that the Democratic majority in this House put the cart before the horse. I think the proper procedure is to first decide definitely and finally the amount that is due and then have revenue bills passed to raise that sum, and when the same is agreed upon, I can assure the gentleman from Cambria that I will support the tax program that is agreed upon between the two Houses.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin takes the unusual position that until a definite amount has been agreed upon no tax legislation could be passed, and since we have been in an impasse as to the total amount of tax legislation necessary, evidently his program would call for a continual session of this legislature from now until next Christmas, doling out a milion dollars a week to the suffering and the unemployed.

I wish to repeat, Mr. Speaker, that we are not taking this stand against transfers lightly. We are taking the stand against transfers, I repeat once again, because of the issue involved in the total relief program. If we can have from any source authoritative assurances that the total program will be adequate I could see some sense in continuing piecemeal allotments. We have to face the issue as to whether the level of relief is to be reduced, we have to face the issue as to whether the amount is to be reduced, and the only way to compel action as to the amount of relief in specific cases, the level, the standard of relief as well as the total amount—the only way in which it is possible to get a speedy decision is to stand against transfers, because the gentleman from Dauphin knows there is not a single bill on the Senate calendar that cannot be sent back to committee, and he, as well as I, is aware of the interests that within the last few days have arrayed themselves against specific bills on the Senate calendar, and he knows now that the other chamber of this Legislature is in serious doubt as to whether there is a single one of those tax bills that can command a majority. So until the gentleman from Dauphin and his colleagues can come with some assurance as to the total amount and the standard, he can come with some expectation that his program will receive consideration.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had hoped that the debate on this subject tonight would be confined to the real issue and to the statement of the gentleman from Dauphin and perhaps an answer on the other side. I can see no reason why in the determination of this question we should stray away from the real issue, which I think the gentleman from Cambria has stated in part, when he said that on his side of the House, the majority in this House felt that they should stand and oppose any transfers of any kind, even if the people in Pennsylvania did not receive their checks for their relief. I will not go so far as to say, "to starve", because I do not believe the people of Pennsylvania are going to starve, no matter whether they receive their checks or not, but we have been served notice by the relief administrator that all the moneys have been exhausted and that all relief in Pennsylvania has stopped, and the issue, therefore, is whether the democratic majority in this House, following the statements that have been made here upon this floor, are going to let relief in Pennsylvania stop and continue in that condition not for tomorrow or the next day but for a number of days—I am not as optomistic as the gentleman from Dauphin, that this question can be solved as quickly as the next week—or whether you are going to do as the gentleman from Dauphin proposes: Make an appropriation that will at least carry us through the next week, until we see what the real picture is.

I said I would not want to debate this question upon any other issue, but there have been certain issues raised here in the remarks that have just been made. I agree with the gentleman from Dauphin that not only had you the cart before the horse but that you have not undertaken the very fundamental things that were necessary before you determined upon a tax program.

On May 12, 1936, I introduced a resolution in this House calling attention to the fact that the State Emergency Relief Board had paid out what had been estimated as the sum of $10,000,000 to take care of workers on WPA projects during the time that they were on those projects and until they had received their pay. I called to the attention of this House the fact that the Federal Government had said that they were going to take care of employables and that it was patent upon the relief rolls of Pennsylvania that there were thousands of employables that were being paid by relief checks gotten from the treasury of the state of Pennsylvania. If you take the figures for relief for the last year, you will find that we agreed to appropriate the sum of $60,000,000, or $5,000,000 a month, on the direct promise of the relief administrator in Washington that all sums in excess of that amount would be taken care of by the Federal Government, and yet after May, I think it was the middle of May, we had not only expended that $60,000,000 but we had expended something like $67,000,000 on relief in Pennsylvania and we still had six or seven weeks to go to carry relief in Pennsylvania. I suggested in my resolution that the Relief Board and the Administration in Pennsylvania go to Washington and see whether the Federal Government would keep its promise to Pennsylvania and return some of this money, which amounted to somewhere in the neighborhood of $25,000,000, to help us out.

The second thing that should have been done in this state since you are talking about things that should be done—the second thing that should have been done was to determine whether or not we could reduce the expenditures of the state. In other words, whether the budget for the biennium of 1935 to 1937 could not have been reduced, and I want to say to you that I think, without fear of contradiction, that it can be proven that the budget for the biennium of 1935-37 could have been reduced easily by the sum of $5,000,000. We know that the Administration is continuously adding employes to the rolls of state until the number is now beyond that which they had on the rolls when this Administration went into office.

This Administration could have done another thing that would have helped the situation and put this picture into proper shape. The revenues of this state, according to the report of the State Treasurer last week have not been collected as they should have been collected. I have forgotten the exact figure, but between the time of March 15th, when the returns were made on the Personal Property Tax, and the first of June of this year, something less than one million dollars have been collected under the one mill Personal Property Tax. Estimates for that tax for the year was something between ten and thirteen million dollars, and in spite of that and in spite of the fact that over three months have elapsed, something less than one million dollars have been collected by the Revenue Department of this State, and I know as a matter of fact, as hundreds of others know, that the statements that should have gone out from the Revenue Department after the fifteenth of March have not been going out and there are thousands of taxpayers in this state who have not received their settlements. Now, when we start to lay the blame at somebody's door, just consider the things that might have been done to relieve the tax load and get this picture in its proper shape before you begin to levy taxes upon the backs of the people of Pennsylvania.

The Governor has said in his radio address last Thursday when we think of the taxpayers we do not mean the same people that he does. Well, just consider the tax levies that have been made and find out if most of them were not consumption taxes that fall upon the backs of the average citizen of the state of Pennsylvania, and the measures that have passed through this House and the Senate—and the United States Treasury Department says that 50.3% of all the taxes levied are consumption taxes—so that they fall upon the backs of the average citizen.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I said in the beginning I do not think that is the issue before us tonight. There is no use of our trying to place the blame on the Democratic party or the Democratic party trying to place the blame upon us. There is no use of our calling the Governor names or saying things about his departments for their failure to collect taxes. And there is no use of my saying anything about the leadership in this House on the majority side, in that it has failed to do those things that should have been logically done, in order to efficiently and intelligently approach the problem before us. The real issue as I see it, which, I believe, you and I must decide tonight, is whether we are going to have relief go out to these people during the next few days or whether we are going to sit here and not only wait until the program is determined upon, but if you carry out your threats, and the gentleman carries out his threat when he says that he is not going to vote for any transfers of funds, then I say to you there will be two or three weeks before the people of Pennsylvania receive any relief.

Therefore, I want to state to the members of the House that without any question of politics or partnership, without any question of whether you are from the rural districts who feel that they ought to have this money for their roads, that it ought not to be taken away, that from my viewpoint the pure question is whether your people of this State are to have relief or whether they are not to have relief until such time as we can get through other measures, through the sale of tax anticipation notes and through the Treasury of the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this resolution how he voted on the transfer of $3,000,000, that was before this House on June 22nd?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman does not know how to use the House History and the House Journal, I would ask him to come over and we will look it up together.

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I anticipated such an answer from the gentleman, but I would like to state that sometimes the histories are in error, and I would like to have him tell the House how he voted on this transfer.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the interrogation of the gentleman from Clearfield is out of order.

The SPEAKER. It is entirely up to the gentleman from Dauphin whether or not he wishes to answer the question asked him by the gentleman from Clearfield.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I will be very glad to be interrogated by the gentleman. I would like to ask him to restate his question.

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, how he voted on the transfer of the $3,000,000 for relief when it was before this House on June 22d.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether or not that is the last resolution that was before the House?

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, that was the last resolution that was before this House transferring funds.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I will have to inform the House that I am not positive, but my recollection is that I voted "no."

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, according to the Legislative Record, the gentleman is right. Now, we have been going along here transferring week after week on stop-gap legislation, money for relief, and that is something I have never been in favor of at all, but I have gone along hoping that this problem would be solved long before this time.

On June 22d, Mr. Cohen, the majority floor leader, introduced a resolution transferring $3,000,000 to the General Fund for unemployment relief, but the watch dogs of the treasury on the other side of the hall saw fit to reduce that amount, and then the newspapers told the people of Pennsylvania how the Republican Senate had saved them another two million dollars or another $1,500,000. Therefore, this resolution, coming from the gentleman from Dauphin, who opposed at that time the $3,000,000 transfer comes with not very good grace, I think, because had the former resolution gone through in its entirety, this situation would not be before the House today.

Therefore, while my county has been one of the worst hit by the depression, it is one of the largest counties per capita on relief rolls, I intend to vote against any further transfers of funds. In doing so I realize full well that someone may go hungry, and some of those may be some of my own friends and relatives,—they naturally would be,—but I am willing to stay here. The Senate has not given us any comprehensive program, any idea of what tax measures they are going to pass. They may now have tax measures on their calendar, but we have seen too often tax measures go back to committee.

After standing in the Senate last week and hearing many honorable members of the Senate say what they thought of the Democrats, I can in very good grace vote against any transfers and allow them to find this money out of the bills that we have sent over to them for that purpose.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have heard so much about the cart before the horse that I just happened to think that in this modern day the drive on our vehicles is behind the motor.

It has been stated very emphatically awhile ago that the thing that was wrong was that we had not decided just how much we needed. May I say to you that when you state that you have saved sixteen million dollars, as I recollect very clearly from the statement, which I believe was also made by the gentleman from Dauphin awhile ago, that in a few weeks sixteen million dollars have been saved to the taxpayers: yes; you have saved sixteen million dollars in your own estimation, because that was the amount that the Governor himself said was not needed any more for relief, because the number of unemployed had decreased and it was not needed any more. But I would add seven million dollars to that, because the Senate has chiseled seven million dollars from their own program. So, seven and sixteen—you can take the credit for saving twenty-three million dollars.

I was in a moving picture theatre this afternoon and a news reel shown there was very enlightening to me. About a week ago we were presented with a little sticker. I preserved that sticker by placing it upon one of the desks in the House, where I could see it, and it says, "Retain America for Americans, buy American made goods and employ American labor," and then it goes on with some other story. This little news reel today showed one of the outstanding citizens of America, where he had spent four million dollars to bring back the ancient glories of a city in France with American money. We have fought here about tax bills and the men who fought those tax bills are very closely affiliated, I mean the corporations who have fought them are very closely affiliated with the companies represented by this American citizen, who has spent his money in France.

And now, gentlemen of the House, begging your pardon, and the lady from Philadelphia, we have heard something about a "long time" and I recollect the song. For ten long weeks we have been transferring funds, and for ten long weeks we have witnessed the boondoggling of the Senate, and I have come to the conclusion that maybe I might sponsor a project, a WPA project so that we can have a few new Senators to do some work. I honestly believe that the WPA workers contribute more for the money they get than the Senate has in the past ten long weeks. I am satisfied, if you are satisfied, that only a certain amount is needed, and if the Senate would have passed the amount that they say was required—if they think that only twenty million dollars is sufficient, why didn't they pass the twenty million dollars, and if they think that only fifteen million dollars is sufficient why don't they pass fifteen millions dollars worth of taxes and then say, "We will give you no more," but they won't give us anything. They want every week to deplete the funds in our Treasury, to deplete the special funds so that work may not exist on the highways, so that more men can be thrown out of work every week. Instead of decreasing unemployment, they want to increase it. It is a scheme. As the honorable gentleman from Cambria has said, it is a scheme, but it is deeper than what we really think it is. It goes to the point that they themselves are satisfied to create more unemployment by depleting the funds, so that we can't do honest work on the highways. Up to the present time we have not got a cent, the Senate has not given us anything, and there is no assurance that they will pass any tax bills. Last week they saved the taxpayers several million dollars, and maybe they will cut it down twenty-five million next week for no reason whatever except that they can still deplete the Highway Fund, cut out more work and stop particular projects on the highway and give more inducements to keep us in session, which is getting to be a long drawn out boondoggling project.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I, like my colleague from Delaware County, feel that we should stick to the pertinent issue in this problem, namely, are we going to feed the unemployed. The gentleman from Delaware possibly didn't want to go that far. I won't say, are those on relief going to receive their checks, I will go a little further. I will say are we tonight going to pass a transfer resolution which will enable the unemployed in this Commonwealth to be fed for one week?

Let us take the history of transfers as it has been established in this Commonwealth. In the extraordinary session of 1934 when the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was confronted with the problem of feeding their unemployed, we met that problem by transferring funds. At that session the then minority took the position that transfers should only be made when they were accompanied by tax legislation. The then Republican majority didn't see it that way, and as a result in the extraordinary session of 1934 there were transfers made containing therein a pledge of repayment by a General Assembly that passed out of existence in December of that year.

In the regular session of 1935 the membership of this House again, due to the depletion of the funds in the general fund, resorted to transfers, and those transfers also contained a pledge for repayment of the money, and mark you all the money that has been taken out of the special funds by the Democratic administration, since its inception in 1935 have been repaid, except the moneys that have been taken out in this session. The balance that is now existing is the balance that has been existing as a result of diversions that were made in the extraordinary session of 1934 plus transfers that have been made at this extraordinary session. So far in this session we have indulged in three transfer resolutions: One for $3,600,000; one for $4,086,000, and one for $2,000,000. Each and every one of those resolutions contained a clause to the effect that the General Assembly pledged itself to pass tax measures to return those moneys to the several funds, and in each and every instance the membership of this House has stood by that pledge. For ten weeks that pledge has been flaunted in the face of the special funds and the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Today we are again requested to indulge in the transfer of $1,000,000 to feed the unemployed. But the problem we have today is a deeper problem than whether the unemployed shall be or shall not be fed for one week. The problem we have confronting us today is the problem of whether the unemployed will be fed for seven months, and in order to get the unemployed fed for seven months the membership of this House will not allow a stop-gap program to satisfy the unemployed for one week so that they would starve in the next seven months by pecunious appropriation on the part of the Republican leadership. The Republican Senate even now has adjourned. The problem of feeding the unemployed is not of concern to the Republican Senate apparently. Their problem is to see how they can starve them for seven months rather than to feed them for a week.

The Democratic membership of this House will not be taken in. The issue is clear cut and definite. Are we going to meet it today; are we going to stand on our two feet and assume the responsibility of government; are we going to meet the issue as it is presented; are we going to give to the people of Pennsylvania, security, security to know that during the next seven months the money will be forthcoming without stop-gap appropriation, as if this House were to meet in the morning and appropriate for them every evening? The problem is security, security for the people in their positions, in their homes, not for one week or two weeks, but security for seven months.

I ask the entire membership of this House to tell the people in Pennsylvania, tell tonight by your vote on this resolution; we will stay here this week, we will stay here next week, but when we act we will act on a program of security that will allow the people to go to their homes and to their children with the knowledge that the Commonwealth has done its duty.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Do I understand from the remarks that the gentleman has just made that he concurs in what I understand is the general opinion expressed by the Democratic members of the House tonight that as stated by me a few minutes ago that you are opposed to any transfer of any money from any of the special funds?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the position that I have taken, and as I understand the position that the Democratic majority has taken is this; that when we know whereby these funds can be returned, when we know how the unemployed will be fed over a period of seven months, then the important problem is to feed them instanter, but to go into stop-gap programs without any definite knowledge as to when or where they will stop, or how long we will be able to continue, is in direct opposition of the sentiment on this side of the House.

Mr. TURNER. Will the gentleman from York please answer my question: Will you refuse to transfer any money from any special funds?

Mr. COHEN. We will oppose the transfer of any funds until tax measures have been passed that would compensate for those funds, the moneys that have already been transferred, and for the moneys that will be transferred by the instant resolution.

Mr. TURNER. Then do I understand that your answer is that you will agree to transfers when the tax bills have been passed, the appropriation bills likewise have been passed to provide for such moneys, that will have to be taken from the special funds.

Mr. COHEN. That is correct. That is absolutely correct, and we ask you to provide those bills.

Mr. TURNER. If the tax measures have been passed by next week will the gentleman still refuse to transfer moneys from the special funds?

Mr. COHEN. In answer to the gentleman from Delaware, I will say that until this General Assembly assumes its responsibility of government this House will not aid them in evading that responsibility which they are indulging in through transfers.

Mr. TURNER. I take it then the gentleman's answer is, "yes."

Mr. COHEN. Irrespective of how the gentleman desires to take it personally, my position is that this House will insist that tax legislation be passed to provide a permanent program of relief, to give the recipients of relief a certain amount of security not for a week, not for a month, but until the next General Assembly meets. When that program is fulfilled the majority in this House will gladly go along to meet the immediate requirements.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in a few moments I am going to be asked to vote "yes" or "no" on a resolution, and I have just about decided now how I intend to vote. In justice to myself it is only fair that I state some of the reasons why I vote as I do.

My mind goes back and so will yours if you will stop to think or rather better, turn back the pages of history, and you will find that about two thousand years ago there was a great multitude gathered to hear a great Teacher. The time came when they became hungry, and a search of all the resources at hand disclosed five loaves and three fishes. That great Teacher had the power to divide those five loaves and three fishes so that all that multitude was fed, and there were some fragments left over. Those fragments were gathered up so that nothing was lost.

If the members of this House draw on their imagination a little bit and picture 567,000 hungry people out in front of this Capitol, with a loud speaker out there, so that they were hearing everything that was said in this House, and remember that they were hungry, would they listen quietly to all this argument about the pro and con of the Democratic House and the division in the House—part Republican and part Democratic, and the Senate over on the other end of the House,—would they stand quietly by and listen and listen to all of this argument pro and con and be still while they were listening, if they were hungry? Can you imagine that great multitude of 500,000 standing out there quietly and listening? Not American people. That might have been done years ago in Jerusalem, but it wouldn't do in America today, with all of the evidence of the resources at hand to feed them.

Now, members of the House, I think it is time that we should just forget these little, petty differences of opinion, politics and all of that sort of thing, and that is what I am going to try to do. Years ago there rang out over this world a cry, "Am I my brother's keeper?" and you and I know what the answer was, and that cry is just as insistent today as it was then. But you know now that that cry can be answered right here and now by the members of this Legislature. How are you going to answer that cry? You know and I know that there is only one honest way to answer it and that is to furnish the food for these people, so that they need not go hungry. I am not thinking or talking about starving people, I do not think they will starve in a week, but they may be hungry, they may be half nourished, especially the children, and they are looking to this House for an answer to that question: "Am I my brother's keeper?" The way you vote on this resolution right here and now is going to be your answer, and that, members of this House, is why I am speaking or thinking about the 567,000 people out in front of this Capitol, with their arms upraised, asking for bread. Are you going to blame it on the Senate because they haven't got it? No. You do not need to blame it on the Senate. There is bread for them to have, and it depends on you how you are going to vote on this resolution. That is one of the reasons why I decided to vote "aye" on this resolution. If there is not another man in the House who votes "aye," I will vote "aye."

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, may I first say to the gentleman from York that I am not interrogating him as the majority floor leader but as the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.

Will the gentleman from York state whether or not, if this resolution were passed tonight by the House and passed tomorrow by the Senate, whether or not there will be sufficient funds immediately available to meet the entire one million dollars called for by the resolution?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I have not seen the figures of the fund from which the resolution calls for a transfer. However, more than two weeks ago, when I presented the original resolution calling for the transfer of $3,000,000, at that time there was sufficient money in the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund. However, that fund, the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, are the moneys which are returned to the local communities for work in the local communities, on the local community roads and streets, and are contributions by the Commonwealth for that purpose under the acts of Assembly. Whether in the present instance there is that money available in the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, I cannot definitely state to the gentleman from Luzerne.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York state that if the money is in the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, whether or not it could be used for the purpose of relief?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would say that if the money is in the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund it could be utilized for the purpose of relief, and I will further state that is not the problem with which this House is confronted.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York state what estimated revenue is supposed to come from the act proposing an excise tax upon liquor?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the estimate upon that particular bill is $7,500,000.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York state what the estimated amount of revenue from the increase in the personal property tax is?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the estimated amount of revenue from the increase in the personal property tax, as estimated by the Department of Revenue, which composed one of the Administration's estimates was forty million dollars.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York state what is the estimated amount of revenue from the increase in the corporate net income tax?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the estimated amount of revenue which is based upon the same authority is ten million dollars.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from York familiar with the fact that those tax bills are now upon the Senate calendar?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York state whether or not the revenue estimated from them, namely, the personal property increase plus the increase in the corporate net income would bring approximately forty to fifty million dollars?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, it will not.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman how much will be received from the bills as they are now on the Senate calendar?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the amendments that have been inserted by the Senate into the personal property tax bill, the estimated income has been so amended as to reduce the available income to the Commonwealth from forty million dollars to twenty-four and one-half million dollars and I further understood that the corporate income tax has been decreased from a gross of ten percent to a gross of eight percent, which cuts down that particular source of revenue for the Commonwealth from ten to five million dollars.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from York has stated that the Senate had adjourned without doing anything this evening. I ask the gentleman whether or not those two bills passed first reading in the Senate today?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that they did.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from York one more question? Will the gentleman from York state whether or not all of the transfer appropriation acts passed by the special session do not have a provision therein for the repayment of the moneys taken from the special funds by the passage of this tax legislation?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I thought I clearly enunciated that in the valedictory. I said that at that time, in the special session of 1934, that those transfers did contain that particular clause, namely, whereby the General Assembly pledged themselves to return those special funds. I further stated that that was a pledge of the General Assembly that had passed out of existence, and I further explained that since the advent of the present Administration in 1935, all the transfers that had been made by this General Assembly, containing the pledge to return those moneys, have been met.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to make a few brief remarks with reference to the passing of the present resolution. First, I call your attention to the primary fact that at the present time the present session of the Legislature is approaching, whether rapidly or not, an agreement as to the amount of taxes that are to be levied for unemployment relief. There is a discrepancy now between the Administration's figure as set at fifty-five million dollars and the figure as set by the Republican Senate, so called, of approximately forty-five million dollars. Included in the forty-five million dollars there is the excise tax on liquor. Let me likewise call your attention to the fact that the Democratic Senator for Fayette County in a speech before the Senate tonight, submitted his estimate as to the approximate amount of money needed for relief, and we hope and believe that he spoke for his Democratic members in the Senate, and his figure approached a sum between forty-eight and forty-nine million dollars. So that you can see that we are rapidly approaching an agreement on a figure. Now, because of the fact that this is a so-called stopgap piece of legislation, some of the members of this House perhaps feel that the resolution should not be passed, and I speak frankly not as a Republican, but as a member of this House, when I call your attention to the fact that there are some six hundred thousand people in the State of Pennsylvania on relief. I cannot believe the statement of the gentleman from Northampton, when he says that he spoke to the men who represented the six hundred thousand. I do not question his statement that he spoke to the men who represented unemployed groups, but I cannot believe that there are any men or women in this Commonwealth who can speak for those six hundred thousand who are on relief, and say they are willing to starve or they are willing to go without clothing, just because this resolution is a stopgap. That does not sound sensible and it does not sound sane. Why, our own daily papers are telling us that the Salvation Army Headquarters are now facing thousands of people today who have been cut off of relief and are coming to them asking for aid, until the Legislature does something. This may be a stopgap piece of legislation as you say. This may be only a temporary means. This may be a method which we should not follow as a normal course, but, nevertheless, facing the situation where there are bills totaling $35,000,000 on second reading in the Senate tomorrow, facing the situation where there are $7,500,000 of estimated receipts from the Liquor Excise Tax, which right now is a fact—and we say that we cannot pass stopgap legislation because we don't know whether any tax measures are going to be passed. That is not a sensible argument because it cannot answer the 600,000 who have been cut off relief. I do not believe that there is a single member from any rural county here, who can speak for all of the unemployed in his county, and say they prefer new road building while people go hungry. But I can point out to the gentleman from York, when he says, "Ah, no, we will pass such legislation after tax measures have been passed, we will then take it from the Motor Vehicle Fund, we will then take it from the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund." It does not apply to the rural counties that way at all, and you will have to face that situation at the end of the week again.

Let me call your attention to the fact that the remarks which have been made before are absolutely correct. If we pass tax measures tomorrow, these tax anticipation notes cannot be sold, so that money cannot be realized for a week or so. We must pass a transfer resolution then. Whether or not the cart is before the horse is not of any consequence at all. We have to get money for relief, we have to get it now, and anybody who votes, "No" on this resolution is not voting that way because this is a stopgap, but he is voting against those 600,000 who have been on relief and who have been cut off.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hesitate to say anything on this subject because of the fact that a week or so ago I stated my position very definitely on any further transfers of funds either from the Motor Fund or the Liquid Fuel Fund.

I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, if I understood him properly when he said that the $3,200,000 that was transferred at the regular session of 1935 from the Motor License Fund, and the $1,000,000 transferred at the same session from the Motor License Fund, and the $2,000,000 transferred from the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund, have all been repaid.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I did not particularize as to the particular amounts. I generalized in the statement by saying that the moneys that had been transferred from the special funds in the regular session of 1935, which amounted to some $9,200,000 were repaid by this General Assembly either by taxation that had been created in the 1935 session—in the 1935 session we transferred to the special funds $9,200,000; we have repaid $15,703,000 to special funds from tax revenue measures that have been passed by this House in the 1935 session.

Mr. TROUT. In other words, Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman from York means, is that $15,000,000 was repaid to all other special funds from which we had transferred, but that only $2,000,000 was transferred to the Motor Fund or the Liquid Fuel Fund.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, as I said I don't know exactly where and to what particular funds moneys repaid were applied. The point that I wanted to make was this: that this General Assembly has provided funds whereby the inroads into the special funds have been repaid out of tax measures that have been passed in this General Assembly.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to know whether or not the gentleman from York would not be more specific, whether he would not admit that out of the funds that we transferred out of the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuel Fund in 1935, in the regular session, only $2,000,000 was repaid.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Lancaster undoubtedly has made a very intensive study on this particular point, I would be only too glad to accept his statement. But that is not the point that I desire to make. I desire to again reiterate what I presented to this House in response to possibly three or four interrogations, namely, that the total amount of moneys that have been diverted from special funds during the 1935 session, that total amount in dollars has been more than repaid to all special funds out of taxes created in the 1935 session.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I accept that statement as being correct. The only point I wish to make is that today in this motor fund there is a default of approximately $20,000,000 that has not been repaid.

Mr. SPEAKER, I would like to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether or not it is correct that on July first there was remaining $3,316,211 that had been authorized to be transferred from the motor fund and has not been used for relief?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I don't know. I don't have that information available, but I would be more than glad to get it for the benefit of the gentleman from Lancaster.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't believe that in discussing this question it becomes a matter of whether we would see people go hungry, or whether we would not. I am of the opinion that there is not a single member of the House that would do that if it could be avoided, but I want to further say on this particular resolution, taking into account the fact that I believe there is a practical solution in the making, that from my attitude of years standing I cannot vote to further transfer funds.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Simon, McCreary, Coakley, VanSickle, Haberlen, James W. Patterson, Moomaw, LaRue, Eberharter, Andrews, Homer S. Brown, Finnerty, McHenry, Mooney, McElroy, Sarraf, Piole, Pearson, Coolahan, Stank, Pfaff and others.
